
I was horrified to learn that there are many abortions performed on Australian women to select the gender of their babies.

And also that Medicare benefits are given to these procedures.

Medicare should be freely given to all needed medical health problems, and therefore these procedures , if 'needed' should not come out of the public purse.

I don't agree with any abortion, but people have choices, but it should be at their own expense.

I am glad to hear this issue has been brought up in our Parliament.

Yours,
Maudy Tiemens
