Thank you for this opportunity to express my opinion. There is a surge in Australian society to stop discrimination, particularly on the grounds of gender. Well this needs to continue in the area of abortion. We should not be aborting babies because it is not the sex we prefer. And for Medicare to be supporting this is outrageous! 'Family balancing' is a politically correct word for genocide and should be stopped immediately. Having a baby is a precious gift and should not be equated with shopping for shoes. Each and every life is valuable and that is the underlying value and message we and our leaders should be sending out to the Australian population and beyond.

Thank you
