

All over the world governments is talking about cutting CO2 with help from windpower. Raising windmills is defenently the wrong way. Energyprice will go up that means that the industry have to cut jobs, healthproblems for people who lives near windmills are a fact, the value of their homes will fall rapidly, it will take a lot of CO2 to bulid these monsters that is destroying your beautiful landscape, tourism will be badly affected, it is not a win-win situation for the nation, the only winners are the owners and the landowner no one els.

Windmills is producing more than dubble the amount of CO2 than water- and nuclearpower together according to the swedish goverment.

The goverment is putting so much money into the windpowerindustri so they dont care about anything as long as they get some 100.000 dollars per year per mill.

For once do not listen to windindustry, listen to the people that voted for a nice country and safe energyproduction that is not depending on wind that goes up and down out of your control.

Please stop building windmills in your country now.

Best regards
Henrik Wachtmeister