

I do not support any amendments to change the power of the Commonwealth over the States – in this case the ACT.

It is clear that the objective is to enable legislation for future euthanasia and homosexual marriage by a stealthy way. This would then cause a ripple effect and other states would also follow. A minority group should not be allowed to bring in these changes not desired by the majority of Australians.