

Bruce Lang

Re Murray Darling Basin Plan

Dear Sir or Madam

This plan has taken into consideration environmental situations in extremes –socio economic scenarios have been under emphasised.

Water sellers will generally be desperate, backs to the wall –rather than “willing sellers”. General deterioration encouraging hardship in country communities will discourage decentralisation in future years.

Surely a realignment of this plan should be essential to preserving a reasonable way of life for country residents and businesses.

Regards

Bruce Lang