Subject: FW: Update: RE: Review of flight crew fatigue aspects AO-2009-072 VH-NGA [SEC=UNCLASSIFIED]

Hi

I could use some mentoring considering [redacted] comments.

If I had more time, I would be inclined to take a closer look at the FRMS, and possibly re-interview the pilots involved....however, given that the report is at the final review stage, and [redacted] for the majority of next week, I'm in two minds about what should be done as well as what's achievable at this late stage.

I think we both agree, as does [redacted], that the evidence table I created is reasonable. However, when I read [redacted] comments, I'm thinking there was much more which should have been done with the FRMS side of things.

Based on [redacted] review, I'm going to suggest some rapid fire changes which would tidy up my draft Evidence Table. Please see my comments in red within [redacted] email.

Your thoughts?

Please note I'm out of the office tomorrow, so I would really like to get this completed today if possible.
