THE SENATE

Dear Sir or Madam,

With reference to the Telecommunications Amendment (Mobile Phone Towers) Bill 2011:

I personally endorse every detail of Senator Brown's proposed Amendments both to the Telecommunications Act 1997 and the Australian Radiation Protection & Nuclear Safety Act 1998.

However, in this context, I am impelled to raise the matter and the relevance of an earlier most excellent Senate Inquiry into these and related matters which must surely have been archived and are pertinent to this current Senate Inquiry. I do not have to hand the full record - but the outstanding witness was Dr Neil Cherry, since deceased, whose work and wisdom have not been surpassed. A world-class Scientist, truly Independent, honest and a philosopher.

Attached is a pdf of Dr Cherry's original submission - a document that I have read and re-read over the years regarding matters pertinent to low frequency electromagnetic fields, the human condition and life on earth.

It is a tragedy when such depth of knowledge and wisdom is neglected in the context of current events and pressure for 'economic' development at any cost to homo sapiens and other species. I trust my recommendation to this Senate Inquiry will be noted and Dr Neil Cherry's evidence come once again to the attention of your excellent Committee. We owe this information to the Australian electorate.

Kind regards and thanks for your consideration,

Margaret Bolster
