To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my support for the "Health Insurance (Certain Types of Abortion) Amendment Bill 2013".

I believe any decent person would be horrified to learn that defenceless young females in this country might be denied the most basic of human rights simply on the basis of their gender - much less that the Australian Government might be funding this practice through the Medicare scheme.

Therefore, this bill ought to be supported by all sides of parliament.

Yours Sincerely,
