

---

I strongly believe that Medicare should not support people choosing to abort babies that are not the sex they prefer. In fact as a culture we need to reflect on how we see children and babies so that they are treasured as gifts from God and not things for parents to have.