

Senate Committee Submission April 13th 2013

Dear Senate,

I am writing to express my full support for the "Health Insurance (Certain Types of Abortion) Amendment Bill 2013".

I am repulsed that as a tax payer I am contributing to people's abortions based on lifestyle choices and gender preference. I think it is unreasonable to expect government contribution toward abortion unless the procedure is medically indicated.

There are precedents from other countries that many parents prefer to have male children. This can lead to the selfish and needless killing of unborn baby girls. In Australia this practice should be clearly discouraged and the current underpinning of these abortions by the Australian government is inappropriate and disturbing.

I encourage the senate to support this amendment.

Yours truly,