

Dear Senators

Why does the Australian Government show immaturity by being swayed by poor media journalism agendas as well as flip flop with respect to established International protection practices of parents Rights?

Why is the Australian Parliament so hell bent in continuing the poor practice of distracting its constituents and avoid its responsibility to properly govern by setting low community values with disruptive behaviour; that being sought by the sly personal radical agenda of a few misguided politicians seeking their own self interests at the expense of the wider Australian majority?

Money and Power as well as Ego hardens the heart.

I have seen enough of the homelessness and suicides brought about by bad laws and loss of proper governance.

Good parents know how to best protect their children.

Low community values have been caused by those in a position of influence (Party alliance which means selling out one's own belief/values to continue in Power is improper and immoral)

Politicians with low values and little regard for others for years have sought power to place change of laws for their own selfish personal interest agendas above other good people.

Personal bias leads to bad Governance placed wilfully by attacking the majority and seek to silence the truth and remove sound tested values established by good people that established our Nation.

Australians have lost their ability to speak up because of wrongly imposed Political Correctness laws and vehement abuse by the radical minority as well as journalist with personal bias and self seeking agendas.

As a responsible parent I will not be silenced and will oppose bad laws by educating my children of well founded respect to good established values based on rock and not the shifting sands of bad government.

- Removal of the current protections for faith based schools would mean they would not be able to preserve the beliefs and values of the school so that parents' right to choose the education they want for their child that accords with their convictions would be denied. This would be contrary to Article 18.4 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights which requires states signatories to the Covenant (which includes Australia) to "have respect for the liberty of parents ... to ensure the religious and moral education of their children in conformity with their own convictions."

Sincerely,

David Searles
