

ABORTION: Gender Selection

- Evangelicals for Life

Sex selection abortion has become a form of war on women. In India and China, where it is widely practised, as something like 160-200 million female babies have been aborted. In addition, the gender imbalance is seriously skewed, and this must lead to terrible social consequences in decades to come. There can be no doubt that this is a practice that must be rejected completely. Those who have the best interests of women at heart ought to be in the forefront of opposition to this practice, which should be simply banned.
