To Whom it May Concern,

I find it offensive on so many levels that people would choose to abort an unborn baby due to its sex. A child is a blessing whether it is a boy or girl and for parents to have the option to terminate a pregnancy on this basis is appalling. Males and females are not commodities to be disposed of when their gender is undesirable to their parents. I urge the Australian government to cease Medicare funding for all gender-related abortions.

Sincerely,

Hannah Tuton
