

To whom it may concern,

I would like to make a submission to the inquiry. I am not an expert in the area of wind farms, but I am a strong supporter of renewable energy and I feel that wind farms have an important role to play in this. We need to be getting more of our power from renewable sources and wind farms are a technology that is ready to go now (unlike things like carbon sequestration which has never been shown to actually work). Wind farms would create jobs. Wind farms also have a sculptural beauty completely lacking in coal-fired power plants. They also do not cause toxic pollution. I do not live in an area with either, but if I had to choose I would definitely choose wind farms. I hope that you will support this important step to bringing Australia into line with other countries around the world in terms of moving to green energy.

Regards,
Rachel

--

If we amplify everything, we hear nothing.
Jon Stewart