
It troubles me greatly when parents use abortion as a way of choosing the gender of their babies. I have seen it among my Indian friends. It tends to be in the form of husband saying 'I don't want that one because it is female' and the wife complying. We can also see the results of this in great imbalance of gender in China. I do not think that our government should fund that kind of domination of women nor encourage that kind of gender imbalance.

Sincerely
