

I live in the bush and have raised my family here for nearly 30 years.
I have lived in three states and overseas, cities,towns and now the bush.
I teach.
I live as simply as possible.
I am very aware that the majority of our population live and work in cities and only really think about the effects of climate change when the media reports on bushfires, floods and wild weather.
Our Government has to be smarter and more aware so all of our grandchildren's grandchildren have a wonderful world - city, town or bush.
Please do the right thing for them.

Patricia Kowal