
I have just watched an advert asking for donations for research for kids heart disease. Imagine if this funding was only to be used for boys-if every heart or organ transplant had to go to boys. It would be an outrage. Yet the government, and therefore the taxpayer is funding abortions so expectant parents can have the “wrong sexed” baby aborted. I can’t fathom how anyone would even consider that this is acceptable, so it’s hard to know what to say. It is a revolting practice that takes away from what should be unconditional love parents have for their kids.

Aside from the moral issue, I strongly object to money being spent on these abortions when so many people with legitimate, non self inflicted, health concerns are struggling to receive the care they need at a reasonable price.

Therefore I support Health Insurance Amendment (Medicare Funding for Certain Types of Abortion) Bill 2013

Yours sincerely, Kath Edwards
