To Whom It May Concern

RE: Inquiry: Australian Capital Territory (Self-Government) Amendment (Disallowance and Amendment Power of the Commonwealth) Bill 2010.

I would like to express my concern and disagreement with the above inquiry being placed before the Senate.

It is inconceivable that a committee of 17 people can consider and overturn federal constitutional clauses based on what they believe and perceive to be applicable to their own territory.

The constitution was set up for the whole of our country to live by. It is based on biblical principals which are still relevant to today's society. It is what makes our country what it is today.

I do not believe that a particular group of people should have the right to disregard our federal constitution under any circumstances regardless of who they are or what the issue is at hand.

Shame on Mr Brown to believe that he can hoodwink our citizens into allowing this.
