- (a) failing to allow the Parliament and the Australian people proper scrutiny of the bill;
- (b) ignoring the concerns raised in the Senate’s inquiry into this bill;
- (c) after nine long years, failing to implement real welfare reform that tackles the reason someone is not working and delivers practical solutions;

- (d) simply dumping people from one welfare payment to a lower welfare payment;
- (e) making extreme cuts to the household budgets of vulnerable Australian families;
- (f) decreasing the rewards for moving from welfare to work, to the extent that people may actually end up poorer from work than they would have been on welfare;
- (g) failing to provide any modelling to support their case for putting people on a lower welfare payment to help them gain work;
- (h) failing its own test of welfare reform by failing to address the growing number of people on welfare;
- (i) failing to provide adequate assistance for people moving from welfare to work, particularly for making insufficient investment in vocational education and training;
- (j) failing to guarantee in legislation that welfare recipients can meet their Newstart obligations by improving their job skills through training, and restricting access to the Pensioner Education Supplement;
- (k) implementing an unduly punitive compliance system;
- (l) failing to provide that parents can legitimately decline a job where the costs of child care would wipe out their income or worse; and
