THE PARLIAMENT OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 2

WEDNESDAY, 13 NOVEMBER 2013

1 The House met, at 9 am, pursuant to adjournment. Madam Speaker (the Honourable Bronwyn Bishop) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 SUSPENSION OF STANDING AND SESSIONAL ORDERS MOVED

Mr A. S. Burke (Manager of Opposition Business) moved—That so much of the standing and sessional orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Watson from moving the following motion forthwith—That the House:

(1) notes that the:

- (a) Prime Minister committed to lead a Government which is transparent and open and the Coalition’s Real Solutions platform stated that the Coalition would “restore accountability and improve transparency measures”;
- (b) Leader of the House on 30 January 2013 committed himself to a parliamentary practice in Government to “allow any Member of any political party who has serious questions to answer, time to explain themselves through the Parliament to the Australian people”; and
- (c) Prime Minister and Minister for Immigration have adopted a new culture of secrecy and are hiding information from the Australian people. The Minister has repeatedly refused to answer questions at weekly Operation Sovereign Borders briefings. That failure to answer questions has led the Australian people to rely on the Jakarta Post for information about their own Government. Questions remain relating to attempted so-called turn backs of boats, buy back of boats and to the state of negotiations between Australia and Indonesia about a people swap arrangement with Indonesia; and

(2) calls on the Minister for Immigration to attend the House immediately and explain for a period not exceeding thirty minutes:

- (a) the status of all discussions with Indonesia about the progress of Operation Sovereign Borders, including those discussions relating to a people swap arrangement with Indonesia;
- (b) how the Government intends to pursue its election commitment to turn back boats to Indonesia and buy back boats in fishing villages; and
- (c) whether any of the measures which have been effective in reducing the flow of asylum seeker vessels to Australia are now in jeopardy as a result of the Minister’s chaotic handling of his portfolio including the Regional Resettlement Arrangements with Papua New Guinea and Nauru and the abolition of visa on arrival arrangements in Indonesia for Iranians.

  - (ii) in the House at any other time, by leave.

- (d) The Member presenting a report may move without notice, a specific motion in relation to the report. Debate on the question shall be adjourned to a future day and the resumption of the debate may be referred to the Federation Chamber.
- (e) Unless otherwise ordered, a committee report presented in accordance with this standing order shall be made a Parliamentary Paper.

41 Private Members' business

- (a) In the periods set for committee and delegation business and private Members' business under standing orders 34 and 192, private Members' notices and orders of the day shall be considered in the order shown on the Notice Paper. When the time set by standing orders 34 or 192 or determined by the Selection Committee ends, the Speaker shall interrupt proceedings and the matter shall be listed on the Notice Paper for the next sitting.

Private Members' bills—priority

- (b) The Selection Committee, in making determinations:
  - (i) shall give priority to private Members' notices of intention to present bills over other notices and orders of the day; and
  - (ii) shall set the order in which the bills are to be presented.

First and second reading

- (c) Subject to this standing order, the first and second reading shall proceed in accordance with standing orders 141 and 142. The Member who has presented the bill may speak to the second reading for no longer than 10 minutes at the time of presentation and 5 minutes on resumption of the debate. The Selection Committee may determine times for consideration of the remainder of the second reading debate.

Priority following second reading

- (d) If the motion for the second reading is agreed to by the House, further consideration of the bill shall be accorded priority over other private Members' business and the Selection Committee may determine times for consideration of the remaining stages.

Participation of Speaker and Deputy Speaker

- (f) The Speaker and Deputy Speaker may participate in private Members' business.

45 Order of government business and programming declarations

- (a) The Leader of the House may arrange the order of notices and orders of the day for government business on the Notice Paper as he or she thinks fit.
- (b) The Leader of the House or the Chief Government Whip may make a programming declaration in the House in relation to one or more items of government business.

The declaration may refer a government business order of the day to the Federation Chamber, or may require a government business order of the day to be returned from the Federation Chamber for further consideration in the House. The matter must be set down for consideration at a later hour that day.

55 Lack of quorum

- (a) When the attention of the Speaker is drawn to the state of the House and the Speaker observes that a quorum is not present, the Speaker shall count the Members present in accordance with standing order 56.
- (b) On Mondays, if any Member draws the attention of the Speaker to the state of the House between 10 am and 12 noon, the Speaker shall announce that he or she will count the House at 12 noon, if the Member then so desires.

- (e) If a quorum is in fact present when a Member draws attention to the state of the House, the Speaker may name the Member in accordance with standing order 94(b) (sanctions against disorderly conduct).

66A Interventions

During consideration of any order of the day a Member may rise and, if given the call, ask the Speaker whether the Member speaking is willing to give way. The Member speaking will either indicate his or her:

- (a) refusal and continue speaking; or
- (b) acceptance and allow the other Member to ask a short question or make a brief response immediately relevant to the Member's speech, for a period not exceeding 30 seconds—

Provided that, if, in the opinion of the Speaker, it is an abuse of the orders or forms of the House, the intervention may be denied or curtailed.

68 Personal explanation

A Member may explain how he or she has been misrepresented or explain another matter of a personal nature whether or not there is a question before the House. The following conditions shall apply:

- (a) the Member must rise and seek permission from the Speaker;
- (b) the Member must not interrupt another Member addressing the House; and
- (c) the matter must not be debated.

If a Member has given a personal explanation to correct a misrepresentation and another Member subsequently repeats the matter complained of, the Speaker may intervene.

101 Speaker's discretion about questions

The Speaker may:

- (a) direct a Member to change the language of a question asked during Question Time if the language is inappropriate or does not otherwise conform with the standing orders; and
- (b) change the language of a question in writing if the language is inappropriate or does not otherwise conform with the standing orders.

138 Initiation of bills

A House bill may be initiated:

- (a) by the calling on of a notice of intention to present a bill;
- (b) by an order of the House; or
- (c) without notice by a Minister under standing order 178 (Appropriation Bill or bill dealing with taxation);

A bill not prepared according to the standing orders of the House shall be ordered to be withdrawn.

140 Signed copy of bill presented

- (a) A Member presenting a bill must sign a legible copy of the bill and give it to the Clerk at the Table.

- (b) The title of a bill must agree with the notice of intention to present it, and every clause must come within the title.

141 First reading and explanatory memorandum

- (a) When a bill is presented, or a Senate bill is first received, the bill shall be read a first time without a question being put.

The explanatory memorandum must include an explanation of the reasons for the bill. For other bills, the Member presenting the bill may present an explanatory memorandum.

142 Second reading

- (a) If copies of the bill are available to Members, the Member presenting the bill may move immediately after the first reading, or at a later hour—

That this bill be now read a second time.

At the conclusion of the Member's speech the debate on the question must then be adjourned to a future sitting.

- (b) If copies of the bill are not available, a future sitting shall be appointed for the second reading and copies of the bill must then be available to Members.

143 Bill referred to Federation Chamber or committee

After the first reading but before the resumption of debate on the motion for the second reading:

- (a) a motion may be moved without notice to refer a bill to the Federation Chamber for further consideration as provided by standing order 183; or
- (b) a motion may be moved without notice or a determination may be made by the Selection Committee as provided by standing order 222 to refer a bill to a committee for an advisory report. The motion or determination may specify a date by which the committee is to report to the House. After an advisory report has been presented to the House, the bill may then be referred to the Federation Chamber under paragraph (a).
- (c) If, having considered a bill referred to it for an advisory report, a committee finds no issues requiring a formal report, the Chair or Deputy Chair may make a statement to the House to that effect. The statement, with the presentation of the relevant minutes of proceedings, discharges the committee's obligation to report on the bill.

146 Amendment to dispose of bill

An amendment may be moved to the question—

That this bill be now read a second time—

by omitting 'now' in order to insert 'not', which, if carried, shall finally dispose of the bill. No amendment may be moved to this amendment.

155 Question for third reading

- (a) When a bill has been agreed to, the House may grant leave for the motion for the third reading to be moved immediately, or a future sitting may be set for the motion.

The question shall be proposed on the motion—

That this bill be now read a third time.

- (b) The only amendment which may be moved to this question is by omitting 'now' in order to insert 'not', which, if carried, shall dispose of the bill.
- (c) After the third reading the bill has passed the House and no further question may be put.

183 Establishment of Federation Chamber

The Federation Chamber shall be established as a committee of the House to consider matters referred to it as follows:

197 Return of matters to the House

The Federation Chamber may return a matter to the House before its consideration is completed.

- (a) A matter may be returned to the House on a motion moved without notice at any time by a Minister—

That further proceedings be conducted in the House.

The motion shall be put without amendment or debate. If the Federation Chamber agrees to, or is unable to resolve, this question, the bill or order of the day shall be returned to the House. Consideration in the House must continue from the point reached in the Federation Chamber and the House must resolve any issues that the Federation Chamber reports.

- (b) The House may at any time require a matter to be returned for further consideration, on a motion moved without notice by a Minister. The matter must be set down for consideration at a later hour that day.
- (c) An item of government business may be returned to the House by a programming declaration made in accordance with standing order 45.

- (b) The Clerk of the Federation Chamber shall certify a copy of the bill or other matter to be reported to the House, together with any schedules of amendments and unresolved questions. Unless otherwise provided, the Speaker shall report the matter at a later hour that day when other business is not before the House.

Proposed resolution

Procedures for dealing with witnesses

That, in their dealings with witnesses, committees of the House shall observe the following procedures:

- (1) A witness shall be invited to attend a committee meeting to give evidence. A witness shall be summoned to appear (whether or not the witness was previously invited to appear) only where the committee has made a decision that the circumstances warrant the issue of a summons.
- (2) Where a committee desires that a witness produce documents or records relevant to the committee's inquiry, the witness shall be invited to do so, and an order that documents or records be produced shall be made (whether or not an invitation to produce documents or records has previously been made) only where the committee has made a decision that the circumstances warrant such an order.
- (3) A witness shall be given notice of a meeting at which he or she is to appear, and shall be supplied with a copy of the committee's terms of reference and an indication of the matters expected to be dealt with during the appearance. Where appropriate a witness may be supplied with a transcript of relevant evidence already taken in public.
- (4) A witness may be given the opportunity to make a submission in writing before appearing to give oral evidence.
- (5) A witness shall be given reasonable access to any documents or records that the witness has produced to a committee.
- (6) A witness shall be offered, before giving evidence, the opportunity to make application, before or during the hearing of the witness's evidence, for any or all of the witness's evidence to be heard in camera, and shall be invited to give reasons for any such application. The witness may give reasons in camera. If the application is not granted, the witness shall be notified of reasons for that decision.
- (7) Before giving any evidence in camera a witness shall be informed whether it is the intention of the committee to publish or present to the House all or part of that evidence, that it is within the power of the committee to do so, and that the House has the authority to order the production and publication of undisclosed evidence. Should the committee decide to publish or present to the House all or part of the evidence taken in camera, the witness shall be advised in advance. A member, in a protest or dissent added to a report, shall not disclose evidence taken in camera unless so authorised by the committee.
- (8) The Chair of a committee shall take care to ensure that all questions put to witnesses are relevant to the committee's inquiry and that the information sought by those questions is necessary for the purpose of that inquiry.

- (9) Where a witness objects to answering any question put to him or her on any ground, including the grounds that it is not relevant, or that it may tend to incriminate him or her, he or she shall be invited to state the ground upon which he or she objects to answering the question. The committee may then consider, in camera, whether it will insist upon an answer to the question, having regard to the relevance of the question to the committee's inquiry and the importance to the inquiry of the information sought by the question. If the committee determines that it requires an answer to the question, the witness shall be informed of that determination, and of the reasons for it, and shall be required to answer the question in camera, unless the committee resolves that it is essential that it be answered in public. Where a witness declines to answer a question to which a committee has required an answer, the committee may report the facts to the House.
- (10) Where a committee has reason to believe that evidence about to be given may reflect on a person, the committee shall give consideration to hearing that evidence in camera.
- (11) Where evidence is given which reflects upon a person, the committee may provide a reasonable opportunity for the person reflected upon to have access to that evidence and to respond to that evidence by written submission or appearance before the committee.
- (12) A witness may make application to be accompanied by counsel or an adviser or advisers and to consult counsel or the adviser(s) in the course of the meeting at which he or she appears. If such an application is not granted, the witness shall be notified of reasons for that decision. A witness accompanied by counsel or an adviser or advisers shall be given reasonable opportunity to consult with counsel or the adviser(s) during a meeting at which he or she appears.
- (13) A departmental officer shall not be asked to give opinions on matters of policy, and shall be given reasonable opportunity to refer questions asked of him or her to superior officers or to the appropriate Minister.
- (14) Witnesses shall be treated with respect and dignity at all times.
- (15) Reasonable opportunity shall be afforded to witnesses to request corrections in the transcript of their evidence and to put before a committee additional written material supplementary to their evidence. Witnesses may also request the opportunity to give further oral evidence.
- (16) Where a committee has any reason to believe that any person has been improperly influenced in respect of evidence which has been or may be given before the committee, or has been subjected to or threatened with any penalty or injury in respect of any evidence given or in respect of prospective evidence, the committee shall take all reasonable steps to ascertain the facts of the matter. Where the committee considers that the facts disclose that a person may have been improperly influenced or subjected to or threatened with penalty or injury in respect of evidence which may be or has been given before the committee, the committee shall report the facts and its conclusions to the House.
- (17) That the foregoing provisions of this resolution, so far as they are inconsistent with the standing orders, have effect notwithstanding anything contained in the standing orders.

Debate ensued.

And so it was resolved in the affirmative.

Mr Ciobo (Parliamentary Secretary to the Treasurer) presented reasons, which were circulated, and are as follows:

Reasons of the House of Representatives for disagreeing to the amendment of the Senate

Senate Amendment Number (1)

The former Government's Economic Statement in August 2013 and the 2013 Pre-Election and Fiscal Outlook, showed that the face value of Commonwealth Government Securities on issue which are subject to the statutory limit, is projected to continue to increase over the forward estimates and reach $370 billion by 2015-16. In addition, the Australian Office of Financial Management has advised that it is prudent to maintain a buffer of $40 to $60 billion above peak debt projected in any one year.

This amendment seeks to limit the increase in the legislative debt limit to $400 billion rather than $500 billion proposed by the bill.

The amendment passed by the Senate, limits the Commonwealth's financing capacity to be able to meet its current and future financial obligations.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept this amendment.

On the motion of Mr Ciobo, the reasons were adopted.

28 ADDRESS IN REPLY TO THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the Address in Reply to the speech of Her Excellency the Governor-General be agreed to (see item number 2, page 79)—

- (3) in particular, has regard for the:

  - (b) growing concern about the possible widespread outbreak of disease along with the lack of food, clean water and medical supplies; and

3 ECONOMIC GROWTH PLAN FOR TASMANIA

Mr Nikolic, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House notes:

- (1) with concern that Tasmania has the lowest gross state product per capita in Australia, the nation's highest unemployment rate, the lowest proportion of adults in the nation who have attained a year 12 qualification, one of the lowest retention rates to year 12, the lowest population growth, and the highest proportion of Australians without superannuation coverage;
- (2) that Tasmania has enormous potential with productive land, a skilled and willing work force and people with a strong commitment to improve the state's economy by endeavour and hard work; and
- (3) that the Federal Coalition's Economic Growth Plan for Tasmania, promised in the election campaign and reiterated in Her Excellency the Governor-General's speech opening the 44th Parliament, will provide the architecture to help turn Tasmania's economy around and encourage long term, sustainable employment.

4 URBAN PUBLIC TRANSPORT PROJECTS

Mr S. P. Jones, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House notes that:

- (1) as identified by Infrastructure Australia, we are an urban nation with four-fifths of our population and economic activity occurring in our cities;
- (2) Australia's growing cities have a strategic need for greater public transport capacity to meet the growing transport task, ease urban road congestion and ensure improved national productivity;
- (3) this urban transport task is a joint Australian and state government responsibility;
- (4) recognising this, Labor in government invested $13 billion—more Commonwealth funding for public transport than all other governments since Federation—and this investment in urban transport projects, put forward and assessed through Infrastructure Australia, resulted in a significant boost to the strategic development of Australia's public transport network; and
- (5) urban public transport projects including the Brisbane Cross River Rail project, the Perth Public Transport Package and the Tansley Park Public Transport Package in Adelaide are nationally significant projects and are not guaranteed to proceed without Australian Government funding.

- (1) celebrates the success of Rural Clinical Schools (RCS) around Australia, commenced in 1999 by the then Minister for Health, the Hon. Dr Michael Wooldridge MP, and continued by his successor, the Hon. Tony Abbott MP;
- (2) notes that:
  - (a) RCS were designed to overcome the maldistribution of all doctors including general practitioners across Australia, which left country regions short of general practitioners and other specialty doctors;
  - (b) students undertaking training in rural locations have academic results that are equal to or better than their metropolitan counterparts;
  - (c) published data from public universities show high rates of RCS graduates working in, or intending to work in rural areas; and
  - (d) the information gathered through an independent project tracking all Australian and New Zealand medical students—Medical Schools Outcomes Database—demonstrates that long term placements in a rural setting through RCS have a significant impact on the vocational choice and intention to practice in a rural or remote setting as well as future career specialty focus; and
- (3) calls on the Government to:

7 NATIONAL APOLOGY FOR FORCED ADOPTIONS AND REMOVAL POLICIES AND PRACTICES

Mr Pyne (Leader of the House), by leave, moved—That today, this Parliament, on behalf of the Australian people, takes responsibility and apologises for the policies and practices that forced the separation of mothers from their babies, which created a lifelong legacy of pain and suffering.

We acknowledge the profound effects of these policies and practices on fathers.

And we recognise the hurt these actions caused to brothers and sisters, grandparents, partners and extended family members.

We deplore the shameful practices that denied you, the mothers, your fundamental rights and responsibilities to love and care for your children. You were not legally or socially acknowledged as their mothers. And you were yourselves deprived of care and support.

To you, the mothers who were betrayed by a system that gave you no choice and subjected you to manipulation, mistreatment and malpractice, we apologise.

We say sorry to you, the mothers who were denied knowledge of your rights, which meant you could not provide informed consent. You were given false assurances. You were forced to endure the coercion and brutality of practices that were unethical, dishonest and in many cases illegal.

We know you have suffered enduring effects from these practices forced upon you by others. For the loss, the grief, the disempowerment, the stigmatisation and the guilt, we say sorry.

To each of you who were adopted or removed, who were led to believe your mother had rejected you and who were denied the opportunity to grow up with your family and community of origin and to connect with your culture, we say sorry.

We apologise to the sons and daughters who grew up not knowing how much you were wanted and loved.

We acknowledge that many of you still experience a constant struggle with identity, uncertainty and loss, and feel a persistent tension between loyalty to one family and yearning for another.

To you, the fathers, who were excluded from the lives of your children and deprived of the dignity of recognition on your children's birth records, we say sorry. We acknowledge your loss and grief.

We recognise that the consequences of forced adoption practices continue to resonate through many, many lives. To you, the siblings, grandparents, partners and other family members who have shared in the pain and suffering of your loved ones or who were unable to share their lives, we say sorry.

Many are still grieving. Some families will be lost to one another forever. To those of you who face the difficulties of reconnecting with family and establishing on-going relationships, we say sorry.

We offer this apology in the hope that it will assist your healing and in order to shine a light on a dark period of our nation's history.

To those who have fought for the truth to be heard, we hear you now. We acknowledge that many of you have suffered in silence for far too long.

We are saddened that many others are no longer here to share this moment. In particular, we remember those affected by these practices who took their own lives. Our profound sympathies go to their families.

To redress the shameful mistakes of the past, we are committed to ensuring that all those affected get the help they need, including access to specialist counselling services and support, the ability to find the truth in freely available records and assistance in reconnecting with lost family.

We resolve, as a nation, to do all in our power to make sure these practices are never repeated. In facing future challenges, we will remember the lessons of family separation. Our focus will be on protecting the fundamental rights of children and on the importance of the child's right to know and be cared for by his or her parents.

With profound sadness and remorse, we offer you all our unreserved apology.

All Members present having risen, in silence—

Question—passed.

21 PRIVILEGE—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

Earlier today the Honourable Member for Dobell raised as a matter of privilege that, in a statement to the House on 21 May 2012, the former Member for Dobell, Mr Craig Thomson, deliberately misled the House.

The Honourable Member for Dobell provided some background to this matter including that a question of privilege in relation to Mr Thomson had been referred to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests in the last Parliament.

I note that the Chair of the Committee of the time, the Member for Gellibrand Hon Nicola Roxon, advised the House on 14 February 2013 that the committee had suspended its inquiry as the laying of criminal charges against Mr Thomson raised issues in terms of the operation of the sub judice convention. Ms Roxon noted that the inquiry remained live and, at the conclusion of the judicial proceedings, the committee would consider how it should proceed with the inquiry. That inquiry lapsed with the dissolution of the House.

The Honourable Member for Dobell also makes reference to findings of guilt in relation to Mr Thomson by the Melbourne Magistrates Court on 18 February 2014.

Deliberately misleading the House is one of the matters that can be found to be a contempt.

As I noted earlier, this matter was referred to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests in the last Parliament with the unanimous agreement of the House.

I have considered the principal information provided by the Honourable Member for Dobell and the background material I have already referred to.

In light of the fact that the House had referred this matter to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests in the last Parliament and that the proceedings were suspended and the findings of guilt by the Melbourne Magistrates Court, I give precedence for this matter to be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests.

22 MATTER OF PRIVILEGE—REFERENCE TO COMMITTEE OF PRIVILEGES AND MEMBERS' INTERESTS

Mr Pyne (Leader of the House) moved—That the following matter be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests:

Whether, in the course of his statement to the House on 21 May 2012, and having regard to the findings of the Melbourne Magistrates Court on 18 February 2014 in relation to Mr Thomson, the former Member for Dobell, Mr Craig Thomson, deliberately misled the House.

Debate ensued.

Question—put and passed.

  - (2) notes that:
    - (a) investment in infrastructure is a crucial component for economic growth; and
    - (b) the Government:
      - (i) is delivering on its commitment to build the M1-M2 Link; and
      - (ii) gives credit to the New South Wales Government and Transurban for their role in this development; and
  - (3) recognises:
    - (a) that the M1-M2 Link is a greatly needed piece of infrastructure and is the missing link in Sydney's transport system;
    - (b) the benefits that the link will provide in reducing travel time, traffic congestion and pollution, and providing safer roads; and
    - (c) that this infrastructure will not only benefit the people of North-West Sydney and the central coast, but will have a flow on effect to all areas of Sydney.
- The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for a later hour this day in the Federation Chamber.

5 ABC AND SBS

Ms Parke, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) since 1 July 1932 when ABC Radio first came on air, the Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC), created by the Australian Parliament, has played an integral and essential role in serving communities from all corners of the Australian Federation;
  - (b) the ABC and more recently, the Special Broadcasting Corporation (SBS), have played a key role in facilitating the evolution of a diverse but cohesive Australian polity, contributed significantly to the creation of a distinctive Australian identity, and been a critical guarantor of the quality and strength of Australian democracy;
  - (c) the ABC's Charter states the broadcaster shall 'contribute to a sense of national identity and inform and entertain, and reflect the diversity of the Australian community';
  - (d) public broadcasting plays an irreplaceable role in delivering a range of services that have not been provided and are not likely to be provided by private media organisations, including high-quality educational children's television, comprehensive emergency services broadcasts, non-English language and multicultural programming, and comprehensive coverage of major civic and sporting events, and democratic processes;
  - (e) the news, information, entertainment, and emergency service announcements provided by the ABC are of particular importance in regional and remote communities across Australia;
  - (f) the ABC has a longstanding and established reputation, based on public opinion data and independent analysis, as the most trusted and trustworthy source of television and radio news in Australia;
  - (g) the conservative think-tank, the Institute of Public Affairs, has called for the breakup and/or privatisation of the ABC and SBS; and
  - (h) on the day before the election, on 6 September 2013, speaking live to SBS from Penrith football stadium, the Prime Minister said, 'No cuts to education, no cuts to health, no change to pensions, no change to the GST and no cuts to the ABC or SBS'; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) confirm the Prime Minister's clear and unequivocal commitment that there will be no cuts to the ABC or SBS;
  - (b) cease its unwarranted, politically motivated vilification of the ABC as a news organisation, and its baseless criticism of the ABC's organisational independence and integrity;
  - (c) respect the ABC's mandate to provide innovative and comprehensive broadcasting services, which in this digital age includes many platforms and cannot be confined to radio and television; and
  - (d) uphold the ABC and SBS Acts in respect of the arm's length, merit-based, and consultative protocols used for the appointment of ABC and SBS Board members.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 DEREGULATION

Mr Hawke, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) that in April 2007, the previous government promised to lift Australia's productivity performance by implementing a 'one regulation in, one regulation out' policy, but instead, between 2007 and 2013 it added over 21,000 new regulations and repealed 105;
  - (b) the findings of the Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry's 2012 National Red Tape Survey which showed that:

- (i) 44 per cent of businesses spend between one and five hours a week complying with government (federal, state or local) regulatory requirements (filling out forms, applying for permits, reporting business activity);
  - (ii) 72 per cent of businesses say the time they are spending on red tape has increased in the last two years; and
  - (iii) 54.3 per cent say that complying with government regulations has prevented them from making changes to grow or expand their business; and
- (c) that in 2013, Australia was ranked 128 out of 148 nations on the World Economic Forum Global Competitiveness Index in terms of its regulatory burden;
- (2) recognises:
- (a) the need for significant deregulation and the removal of burdensome red and green tape to allow businesses in the Australian economy to grow;
  - (b) that the Government has a plan to cut regulation across all areas of government, including on the Parliament's first repeal day scheduled for 26 March 2014;
  - (c) that the House Standing Committee on the Environment is currently inquiring into the impact of 'green tape' and issues related to environmental regulation and deregulation; and
  - (d) that identifying other obsolete and outdated legislative instruments and removing them from the statute books will reduce the regulatory burden on the Australian economy; and
- (3) commends the Government for undertaking this approach to deregulation to boost productivity in the Australian economy.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading the House notes that:

- (1) the former Labor Government had a strong record of deregulation reform which significantly improved the competitiveness and productivity of the Australian economy and in particular, the former Labor Government:
  - (a) repealed 16,794 acts, regulations and legislative instruments during its time in office; and

- (b) through its Seamless National Economy reforms was delivering significant cost savings to businesses whereby just 17 of these reforms were estimated by the Productivity Commission to lower business costs by $4 billion per year with the full reforms to increase Australia's productivity and deliver a $6 billion boost to GDP per year;
- (2) a vast majority of the changes in this bill have no impact in terms of costs or regulatory burden on businesses, individuals and the community sector in Australia;
- (3) the Parliament supports sensible deregulation which removes cost and regulatory burden, but does not support the removal of protections for seniors, consumers, workers and investors under the guise of cutting red tape; and

3 REGIONAL AUSTRALIA AND THE BUDGET

Ms Collins, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that the Government has turned its back on regional Australia in the budget;
- (2) acknowledges that the Government's broken promises and wrong priorities in the budget will hurt those living in regional Australia and further increase the divide between the city and the bush;
- (3) notes that this budget will hurt regional Australia by:
  - (a) slashing $1 billion in funding to local government by cutting into the Financial Assistance Grants;
  - (b) introducing co-payments to Medicare that will discourage doctors from bulk billing, meaning there will be less choice for people to access general practitioner services in regional areas;
  - (c) cutting health which will mean fewer services in regional Australia;
  - (d) cutting education which will impact on regional schools and students with less funding available;
  - (e) increasing the fuel excise which will hurt regional Australians the most who rely on being mobile and being able to travel to work;
  - (f) cutting the ABC that regional Australians rely on for information; and
  - (g) increasing university fees that will hurt regional students and regional universities; and
- (4) calls on the Government to reconsider its broken promises and wrong priorities for regional Australia in the Budget.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 INFRASTRUCTURE GROWTH PACKAGE

Mr Williams, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) commends the Government on the establishment of an Infrastructure Growth Package (IGP) that will fast track investment in critical infrastructure across the country;
- (2) notes that:
  - (a) funds will be targeted at projects that grow the economy, boost productivity and create jobs;
  - (b) the fund includes $5 billion over five years towards the Asset Recycling Initiative which will encourage the states and territories to sell assets and recycle the sale proceeds into new productivity-enhancing infrastructure; and
  - (c) the fund also includes $3.7 billion for targeted infrastructure investments to delivery priority infrastructure projects and upgrades across the country;
- (3) acknowledges the IGP builds on the Government's existing commitment, now at more than $50 billion, to fund key road, rail and intermodal projects; and
- (4) recognises the IGP as part of the Government's Economic Action Strategy to build a strong, prosperous economy for a safe and secure Australia.

Mr Albanese moved, as an amendment—

That all the words after "That this House" be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

- (1) condemns the Government for failing to fulfil its promises on infrastructure investment in its budget of broken promises;
- (2) notes the Budget:
  - (a) fails to conduct cost benefit analysis for any new project funded in the Budget greater than $100 million;
  - (b) cuts funding to projects which have been recommended by Infrastructure Australia including Brisbane's Cross River Rail and the Melbourne Metro;
  - (c) fails to provide any additional funding across the forward estimates for the Pacific Highway or the Bruce Highway;
  - (d) cuts funding for any public transport projects other than those already under construction; and
  - (e) fails to fund any new rail freight projects;
- (3) further notes the advance payment of $1.5 billion this month for the East West project in Melbourne in direct contravention of the Government's stated policy of only making milestone payments upon construction; and
- (4) condemns the Coalition for undermining the independence of Infrastructure Australia.

Debate continued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 MANDATORY RENEWABLE ENERGY TARGET

- (2) notes that:
  - (a) under the Mandatory Renewable Energy Target (MRET), around 3,500 MW of new renewable energy capacity has been commissioned since 2001, with total investment to date of $18 billion;
  - (b) the Clean Energy Council estimates that there is potential for another $18.7 billion in clean energy investment if the MRET policy was retained in its current form;
  - (c) over 24,300 people are directly employed in the renewable energy industry;
  - (d) the Australian Energy Market Commission has found that the cost of the MRET accounted for approximately three per cent of residential retail electricity prices in Australia; and
  - (e) reducing the greenhouse gas emissions intensity of our electricity generation sector is essential if we are to reduce Australia's carbon pollution; and

- (3) calls on the Government to commit to retaining the MRET at the legislated 41,000 gigawatt hours by 2020.

- (1) recognises the tragedy of the floods in May that afflicted Bosnia-Herzegovina, Serbia and Croatia, which killed more than 40 people;
- (2) notes the:
  - (a) need for evacuation of large populations from those countries; and
  - (b) risk of undiscovered land mines from the war in the 1990s, being moved by flood waters and mudslides, increasing the risk to civilian populations; and
- (3) commends the Australian Government for pre-positioning funds with the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies through the Disaster Relief Emergency Funds to assist national Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies to respond quickly to situations such as this.

7 POLIO

Ms Parke, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) commends the Government for reaffirming Australia's support for the Global Polio Eradication Initiative (the Initiative) by maintaining the $15 million commitment for 2013-14;
- (2) notes that:
  - (a) on 13 January 2014, India passed three years without reporting a single case of polio, an achievement reports say will lead to the entire South-East Asia Region of the World Health Organisation being certified as polio-free later in 2014;
  - (b) lessons learned from India's success are now part of the Polio Eradication and Endgame Strategic Plan 2013-2018 announced at the Global Vaccine Summit in Abu Dhabi in 2013;
  - (c) the Initiative should mobilise the polio eradication infrastructure for broader child survival efforts wherever possible, ensuring that the knowledge, capacities, processes and assets created by the Initiative contribute to reducing child deaths, accelerating the achievement of Millennium Development Goal 4;
  - (d) despite ongoing security challenges, in the three countries where polio remains endemic—Afghanistan, Pakistan and Nigeria—the proportion of children vaccinated during 2013 increased;
  - (e) in 2013 for the first time in the history of the Initiative, all cases of poliomyelitis caused by a wild virus were due to a single serotype, type 1; the most recent case due to wild poliovirus type 3 occurring on 10 November 2012 in Nigeria, while a case of poliovirus type 2 has not been detected since 1999;
  - (f) polio outbreaks in previously polio-free countries—Somalia, Syria, Cameroon—and the presence of the polio virus in Egypt and Israel are constant reminders of the need to ensure the polio program is fully funded and of the need for countries to take full ownership of the implementation of emergency plans; and
  - (g) the World Health Organisation, its Initiative partners and the GAVI Alliance have initiated a joint program of work to ensure polio eradication infrastructure systematically contributes to improving routine immunisation coverage; and
- (3) calls on the Government to continue to support polio eradication by reaffirming Australia's commitment to provide $80 million over four years from 2015 to 2018 to the Initiative.

  - (b) as an example of the multiplier effects of shipbuilding projects in respect of the quality and range of manufacturing it both requires and enables, at the commencement of the Collins-class submarine project there were only 35 Australian companies certified to Defence quality standards, whereas by 1998 there were more than 1,500;
  - (c) there are currently more than 7,000 people employed in shipbuilding across Australia, including more than 4,000 people employed in naval shipbuilding alone;
  - (d) the Government has identified the need for more than 80 ships over the next 30 years for service in the Royal Australian Navy, and as part of border protection, Antarctic operations and scientific research, among other roles; and
  - (e) if Australian shipbuilding is not supported through a properly planned and managed program of project and maintenance work, it is likely that shipyards will close, thousands of jobs will be lost, and the critical expertise and capacity that have been developed will be irreparably squandered; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) provide certainty to the Australian shipbuilding industry and to thousands of Australian workers by settling a short, medium and long term program of government shipbuilding projects to ensure a balanced work flow and smooth delivery of key naval assets; and
  - (b) bring forward relevant shipbuilding projects, including the Pacific patrol boat and replacement Anzac frigate projects, in a timely manner to ensure that shipyards, companies, and workers are not put at risk.

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—

Debate resumed by Mr M. C. Butler who moved, as an amendment—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading the House notes:

- (1) the Government’s poor record on environmental and climate change issues;
- (2) that payments from the Emissions Reduction Fund need to be financed from the federal budget, and paid for by taxpayers rather than big polluters;
- (3) the need to fully examine the range of changes proposed to the CFI and the impact this will have on the existing land sector projects;
- (4) the lack of robust and defensible assurance from the Government about the ability of the CFI amendment and the Emissions Reduction Fund to achieve Australia’s emissions reduction target;
- (5) that since the 2013 election Australia’s international reputation on climate change action has been damaged by becoming the first nation to move backwards on climate change while the rest of the world, including China and the US, is moving forward; and
- (6) the need for the Government to pass an Emissions Trading Scheme to place a cap on carbon pollution and drive a clean energy future for Australia.”

Debate continued.

6 FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE GRANTS TO LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Mr Albanese, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) condemns:
  - (a) the decision by the Government to freeze indexation of Financial Assistance Grants to local governments across Australia;
  - (b) the resulting cuts to local government funding of $925 million over the next four years, affecting every council in Australia; and
  - (c) the failure of the:
    - (i) Minister for Infrastructure and Regional Development to protect this critical funding to local governments across Australia; and
    - (ii) National Party to stand up against the cuts on behalf of regional and remote councils, which are affected most by the freeze;
- (2) notes:
  - (a) Financial Assistance Grants are used by every local government in Australia to maintain local roads and deliver critical community services;
  - (b) the Government's indexation freeze represents cuts of $925 million to local governments in every town and city over the next four years;
  - (c) regional and remote councils will be most affected by the cuts, with larger service areas and more kilometres of roads to maintain per ratepayer;
  - (d) the viability of some regional and remote councils may be compromised as a result of the cuts;
  - (e) the pressure now on councils to increase council rates or cut services due to the cuts; and
  - (f) within six years, the value of the cuts will be greater than the entire Roads to Recovery budget; and
- (3) calls upon the Government to:
  - (a) listen to local government concerns about the impact of freezing indexation of Financial Assistance Grants on local roads and community services; and

7 CARBON TAX

Mrs Prentice, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) understands that the carbon tax has caused a reduction in confidence and competitiveness for small business;
- (2) notes that:
  - (a) the carbon tax has seen gas and electricity prices rise by around 10 per cent;
  - (b) the former Government did not provide compensation for small businesses hit by the carbon tax;
  - (c) many small businesses are run at a very slim profit margin and are unable to pass these costs on to the consumers, forcing them to absorb the burden of the carbon tax themselves;
  - (d) with the cost of doing business increasing due to the carbon tax, small businesses lose confidence, invest less money in their business, and are forced to employ fewer staff; and
  - (e) under the former Government, too many small business jobs were lost; and
- (3) commends the Government's action to repeal the carbon tax to provide certainty to small business and restore the sector's competitiveness, viability and capacity to employ.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

(1) notes that:

- (a) the sectarian unrest in parts of Burma and also in the Mandalay, Bago, and Rangoon regions, but in Rakhine state in particular where around 140,000 people have been displaced for almost two years, is of particular concern;
- (b) Human Rights Watch released two reports on the unrest in Rakhine state and the situation of Rohingya Muslims there, which raise concerns about persecution against Rohingya and outlines the dire humanitarian situation in Rakhine state;
- (c) Rohingya in Rakhine state were unable to self-identify in the national census in Burma in April 2014;
- (d) on 27 May 2014 Burma's state-run media published a draft law on religious conversions that would impose restrictions on citizens wishing to change their religion, which would encourage further repression and violence against Muslims and other religious minorities;
- (e) the Australian Government continues to assist affected people in Rakhine state through direct humanitarian assistance, and has provided almost $10.7 million in humanitarian assistance since the violence in 2012, making Australia one of the largest humanitarian donors to Rakhine state; and
- (f) significant acts of discrimination or violence against any persons in Burma will impact on Burma's international standing and consequently harm its bilateral relationships; and

(2) calls on the Australian Government to urge the Myanmar Government to:

- (a) elevate its efforts to resolve sectarian unrest in parts of Burma and provide a safe and secure environment for aid personnel so they can continue to provide vital humanitarian assistance to people in need, including in Rakhine state;
- (b) allow the establishment of the United Nations Office of the High Commissioner of Human Rights in Burma with a full rights protection, promotion and technical assistance mandate, and permit unfettered access to all areas where sectarian violence has occurred;
- (c) permit Médecins Sans Frontières to freely enter and operate in Rakhine state, and provide humanitarian assistance to all persons needing it;

- (d) impartially investigate and bring to justice all those responsible for abuses, regardless of their status, position, or rank;
- (e) ensure the security of all persons in Rakhine state while protecting human rights, including the right to freedom of movement, maintaining proper rule of law and good governance that includes an end to all discriminatory policies against Rohingya;
- (f) take steps to remove or amend any current laws which discriminate against minority ethnic or religious groups, including Burma's 1982 Citizenship Law;
- (g) abandon the proposed law on religious conversions that would politicise religion and permit government intrusion on decisions of faith;
- (h) ensure right to fair trial to all persons held in jails in Burma;
- (i) ensure all local laws are non-discriminatory and fair to all people of Burma, and respect the rights to movement, religion, work and access to health care and education;
- (j) condemn violence and abuse inflicted on any persons, ensuring proper judicial procedures are applied;
- (k) ensure Burma security forces protect all communities equally and uphold the law of the state;
- (l) initiate appropriate investigations into incidents of violence involving minority ethnic or religious groups, such as the Du Cheer Yar Tan incident in Maungdaw township in January 2014;
- (m) support the citizenship rights of Rohingya and reconciliation of local communities;
- (n) ensure the rights of women by protecting their right to choose who they will marry without regard to religious faith, and permit persons the right to freely choose the size of their family;
- (o) provide appropriate humanitarian assistance, including adequate shelter and access by humanitarian organisations, to those affected by the unrest; and

* Tellers

And so it was resolved in the affirmative.

Mr Ciobo presented reasons, which were circulated, and are as follows:

House of Representatives statement of reasons for disagreement with certain proposed amendments

Senate Amendments (1) and (2)

The amendments passed by the Senate changes the name of the Bill to the Encouraging Privatisation (Asset Recycling Fund) Bill 2014.

The Government does not support amending the Bill title or the name of the Asset Recycling Fund. The proposed changes do not reflect the Bill's objective. Privatisation is only a means to an end where it is appropriate. Privatisation is not the primary objective of the Bill or the initiatives it support. The Government is keen for States to release capital from assets better managed by the private sector. It wants to encourage the States to use the proceeds of sales to build green field infrastructure.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

Senate Amendments (5), (6), (12), (13), (15), (33), (34) and (36)

The amendments passed by the Senate would give effect to removal of provisions to transfer of $3.5 billion from the Education Investment Fund to the Asset Recycling Fund.

Without the proposed transfer from the Education Investment Fund to the Asset Recycling Fund the Asset Recycling Fund will not be viable for the purposes for which it is to be established.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

Senate Amendments (16) and (37)

The negation of the amendments moved in the Senate has the effect of removing clauses that allow for the transfer of $3.5 billion from the Education Investment Fund to the Asset Recycling Fund.

The position adopted by the Senate prevents the transfer of necessary assets from the Education Investment Fund, without which the Asset Recycling Fund will not be viable for the purposes for which it is to be established.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

Senate Amendments (19), (23), (27) and (31)

The amendments passed by the Senate require cost benefit analysis and evaluations performed by Infrastructure Australia to be tabled in Parliament and made available to the public.

The amendments add red tape with no additional benefit, The Coalition has already committed to Infrastructure Australia undertaking an assessment of cost-benefit analysis for our major investment decisions that receive Commonwealth funding of over $100 million. State Governments will undertake their own cost-benefit assessments as part of decision-making processes to privatise assets and reinvest in new infrastructure. These are rightly matters for the States. It makes no sense to duplicate cost-benefit processes.

They risk delaying the delivery of critical infrastructure that will enhance the long-term productive capacity of the economy. The amendments would introduce duplicative and disruptive parliamentary processes that stand in the way of delivering the benefits being sought.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

Senate Amendment (20)

The amendment passed by the Senate supports the requirement that only the Infrastructure Minister may make a recommendation for the Asset Recycling Special Account to be debited for the purposes of making a grant of financial assistance to a State or Territory.

The amendment removes flexibility for a minister other than the Infrastructure Minister to recommend that a grant be made to a State or Territory under a National Partnership Agreement. The amendment fails to recognise that the nature of infrastructure being considered for support from the Asset Recycling Fund will not always be within the portfolio responsibilities of the Infrastructure Minister (for example, telecommunications infrastructure). In such cases, it is entirely appropriate the responsible minister makes the assessment and recommendation.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept this amendment.

Senate Amendments (21) and (28)

The amendments passed by the Senate require the Government to table a disallowable legislative instrument for each and every grant of financial assistance to be provided to States and Territories under the National Partnership Agreement on Asset Recycling.

The amendments would create a disruptive and unnecessary process that would mean the States would have no confidence that the Commonwealth would make payments in accordance with already signed National Partnership Agreements. The proposal to use disallowance mechanisms against payments to the States would block or delay funding from the Asset Recycling Fund for critical infrastructure.

The Government is confident that the current Bill has robust accountability and governance arrangements.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

Senate Amendment (32)

The amendment passed by the Senate prevents incentives being provided for reinvestments funded by the sale of infrastructure and services.

The decision of what assets to sell to fund new infrastructure is entirely a matter for the States. State and Territory Governments are best placed to decide which infrastructure and services are most efficiently provided by the private sector. The Australian Government does not wish to dictate this, or believe it is in a position to do so.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept this amendment.

On the motion of Mr Ciobo, the reasons were adopted.

27 MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE—ASSET RECYCLING FUND (CONSEQUENTIAL AMENDMENTS) BILL 2014

And so it was resolved in the affirmative.

Mr Ciobo presented reasons, which were circulated, and are as follows:

House of Representatives statement of reasons for disagreement with certain proposed amendments

Senate Amendments (1) and (2)

The amendments passed by the Senate changes the name of the Bill to the Encouraging Privatisation (Asset Recycling Fund) (Consequential Amendments) Bill 2014.

The Government does not support amending the Bill title or the name of the Asset Recycling Fund. The proposed changes do not reflect the Bill's objective. Privatisation is only a means to an end where it is appropriate. Privatisation is not the primary objective of the Bill or the initiatives it support. The Government is keen for States to release capital from assets better managed by the private sector. It wants to encourage the States to use the proceeds of sales to build green field infrastructure.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

On the motion of Mr Ciobo, the reasons were adopted.

30 MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE—MINERALS RESOURCE RENT TAX REPEAL AND OTHER MEASURES BILL 2013 [NO. 2]

Message No. 157, 17 July 2014, from the Senate was reported returning the Minerals Resource Rent Tax Repeal and Other Measures Bill 2013 [No. 2] with amendments.

Ordered—That the amendments be considered immediately.

On the motion of Mr Ciobo (Parliamentary Secretary to the Treasurer), the amendments were disagreed to, after debate.

Mr Ciobo presented reasons, which were circulated, and are as follows:

House of Representatives statement of reasons for disagreement with certain proposed amendments

Senate Amendments Number (1), (2), (3) and (4)

These amendments passed by the Senate remove from the Bill the Schedules 7, 8, and 9 which relate to the abolition of the Low Income Superannuation Contribution, the abolition of Income Support Bonus and the abolition of the Schoolkids Bonus.

The removal of these schedules would cost $9.6 billion over the forward estimates to 30 June 2018. The House of Representatives will not accept amendments which do not remove all elements of the mining tax package.

Accordingly the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

On the motion of Mr Ciobo, the reasons were adopted.

5 AUSTRALIAN CHARITIES AND NOT-FOR-PROFITS COMMISSION

Dr Leigh, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC) was established in 2012 after external inquiries in 1995, 2001, 2010, Parliamentary committee reviews, issues and discussion papers, exposure drafts and consultations with experts, and is operating efficiently and effectively, helping charities, donors and taxpayers;
- (2) acknowledges that:
  - (a) the vast majority of submissions to the Senate Economics Legislation Committee's inquiry into the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (Repeal) (No. 1) Bill 2014 speak positively of the ACNC's work and urge the Government to retain the charities commission as a one-stop shop;
  - (b) the evidence to this inquiry provided by eminent Australian, Mr Robert Fitzgerald AM, strongly supports the retention of the ACNC;
  - (c) in a survey, four out of five charities support keeping the ACNC, while only 6 per cent like the Government's idea of returning the regulation of charities to the Australian Taxation Office;
  - (d) in an open letter, more than 40 charities, including Lifeline, Justice Connect, ACOSS, Social Ventures Australia, Save the Children, St John Ambulance Australia, Community Colleges Australia, Sane Australia, the Sidney Myer Fund, the Myer Foundation, Danks Trust, the RSPCA, Youth Off the Streets, the Ted Noffs Foundation, Music Viva Australia, Wesley Mission Victoria, the RSPCA Australia, World Vision, the Australian Conservation Foundation, Odyssey House, the McGrath Foundation, the Australian Council for International Development, Changemakers Australia, Volunteering Australia, YWCA Australia, the Foundation for Alcohol Research and Education, the Consumer Health Forum of Australia, Hillsong Church, Churches of Christ Victoria and Tasmania and Wesley Mission Australia, called on the Government to keep the ACNC; and
  - (e) the Australian Capital Territory and South Australian governments are already working to reduce the paperwork burden on charities and not-for-profits by cooperating with the ACNC to reduce duplication in reporting;

- (3) notes that some of those whom the Minister for Social Services claims to have consulted with have written to the Government to make clear that they have never been consulted on the ACNC repeal; and

  - (b) on 3 September 1901, Lady Hopetoun, wife of the first Governor-General of the new Commonwealth of Australia, formally opened the Commonwealth Flag and Seal Exhibition and announced the names of the successful competitors;
  - (c) the winning design was a Blue Ensign including the Union Jack, along with a Southern Cross and a six pointed star;
  - (d) this latter star (the 'Commonwealth Star') was changed to the seven pointed star we are familiar with today in 1908, to signify the Territory of Papua and future Territories; and

4 SUPERANNUATION

Ms T. M. Butler, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

(1) notes that:

- (a) in the document 'Our Plan', the Liberals and Nationals promised Australians, prior to the election that: 'We will deliver greater stability and certainty on superannuation—we won't move the goalposts. ... We will ensure that no more negative unexpected changes occur to the superannuation system so that those planning for their retirement can face the future with a higher degree of predictability';
- (b) the Government has subsequently revealed, in breach of that promise, that there will be a freeze on superannuation guarantee increases until at least July 2025;
- (c) the Prime Minister has said of the changes that: 'By delaying the increase in the superannuation guarantee levy we are keeping more money in workers' pockets';
- (d) between 7 September 2013 and 2 September 2014, the Fair Work Commission received thousands of applications for approval of enterprise agreements; and
- (e) enterprise agreements' nominal expiry dates can be up to four years after the enterprise agreement is approved;

(2) recognises that:

- (a) parties negotiate the terms of enterprise agreements, including terms providing for pay increases, having regard to, among other things, the superannuation guarantee rate;
- (b) the parties who negotiated enterprise agreements for which applications for approval were made between 7 September 2013 and 2 September 2014 would have done so on the basis that the superannuation guarantee rate would increase during the life of the agreement;
- (c) employees to whom such enterprise agreements apply are generally covered by 'no further claims' provisions, so they are not at liberty to negotiate for greater pay increases; and

- (d) accordingly, any money that is not going into their superannuation fund will also not be going into their pockets, despite the Prime Minister's claim; and
- (3) accordingly, calls on the Government to:
  - (a) concede workers, whose enterprise agreements were negotiated between the election and 2 September 2014, have lost 'money in their pocket' because the negotiations were conducted on the basis there would be 'no negative change to superannuation'; and
  - (b) enable those workers to renegotiate pay increases, to compensate for the unexpected freeze on superannuation.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for a later hour this day.

5 SUICIDE

Mr Wood, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes with concern that:

  - (b) in 2012, 1,901 males and 634 females died through suicide—an average of 6.9 deaths by suicide every day;
  - (c) suicide is the leading cause of death in Australia for men under 44 and women under 34; and
  - (d) Australian Bureau of Statistics data from 2009 shows us that more people die from suicide than from road deaths;
- (2) recognises that the Government and the community must do everything they can to prevent death by suicide; and
- (3) acknowledges all Australian lives lost to suicide and the suffering felt by their friends and families.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 FAMILY DAY CARE

Mr Conroy, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises the importance of Government support for child care in order to improve workforce participation and early childhood education;
- (2) condemns the Government for its $157 million cut to Family Day Care (FDC) funding by changing the eligibility for the FDC component of the Community Support Program and forcing existing services to re-apply;
- (3) notes that:
  - (a) FDC:
    - (i) supports more than 98,000 families and 165,000 children across Australia; and
    - (ii) employs more than 25,000 educators, as well as coordination unit staff;
  - (b) Department of Education figures indicate that over 80 per cent of all FDC services will be denied essential funding due to these cuts; and
  - (c) these cuts will force FDC services to increase fees, reduce services or close; and
- (4) calls on the Government to reverse its cruel and short-sighted decision to cut FDC funding.

Debate ensued.

Mr E. T. Jones addressing the House—

The time allotted for private Members' business having expired, the debate was interrupted, Mr E. T. Jones was granted leave to continue his speech when the debate is resumed, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for a later hour this day.
