

Section 4: Coalition – election commitments

Summary of the Coalition’s election commitments

The Coalition’s total combined election commitments are estimated to increase the underlying cash balance by $7.1 billion over the 2013-14 Budget forward estimates period. This reflects a net decrease in receipts of $7.7 billion and a net decrease in payments of $14.9 billion.

The Coalition’s total combined election commitments are estimated to increase the fiscal balance by $9.3 billion over the 2013-14 Budget forward estimates period. This reflects a net decrease in revenue of $12.3 billion and a net decrease in expenses of $21.6 billion.

The Parliamentary Budget Officer’s final list of the Coalition’s election commitments, and their total combined financial impact on the Commonwealth budget estimates is provided in table 3.

Major contributions to the budget impact

The most significant contributor to the increases in budget balances is the removal of the Minerals Resources Rent Tax (MRRT) and associated spending measures. While the revenue forgone from removing the MRRT would be $3.5 billion over the forward estimates, this is offset by abolishing associated spending measures, notably the Schoolkids Bonus and the increase to the instant asset write-off, and by returning unallocated funding in the Regional Infrastructure Fund to the budget. This results in a net increase of $13.8 billion to the underlying cash balance and a net increase of $15.5 billion to the fiscal balance. The difference between the underlying cash balance and fiscal balance amounts arises due to timing impacts of abolishing the mining tax supplementary allowance and the Schoolkids Bonus, re-phasing the Superannuation Guarantee (SG) increase and not proceeding with the low income superannuation contribution.

Other major contributions to the increases in the underlying cash and fiscal balances include the commitment to reduce the public service headcount by 12,000 through natural attrition, and the commitment to limit growth in foreign aid spending in line with inflation, which provide savings over the forward estimates of $5.2 billion and $4.5 billion respectively.

The Coalition’s package of Border Protection Policies contributes to an increase in the underlying cash and fiscal balances of $985 million over the forward estimates. This reflects gross savings of $1.4 billion from lower anticipated arrivals rates, and commitments to withdraw taxpayer funded immigration assistance to illegal boat arrivals, increase offshore processing capacity and clear 30,000 border backlog. These figures do not include any savings in 2014-15 and beyond associated with the previous Government’s policies for the processing and detention of irregular maritime arrivals on Nauru<sup>1</sup>. These savings are partially offset by costs of $441 million associated with a range of initiatives under the Coalition's policy for A Regional deterrence framework to combat people smuggling and Operation Sovereign Borders.

The Paid Parental Leave Scheme Package also contributes to an increase in the underlying cash balance by $805 million and an increase in the fiscal balance by $835 million over the forward estimates. The gross cost of the package ($9.9 billion on both an underlying cash and fiscal basis over the forward estimates) is largely offset by the 1.5 per cent levy on companies that would help fund this scheme, as well as the savings from the replacement of the previous Government's scheme and the existing Commonwealth and State public sector schemes.

These increases are substantially offset by Coalition commitments that decrease the underlying cash and fiscal balances, including the removal of the carbon tax. After taking into account the revenue impact as well as the removal of compensation and other associated carbon tax measures, the net budget impact of the removal of the carbon tax package is to decrease the underlying cash balance by $7.3 billion and the fiscal balance by $6.1 billion over the forward estimates. This difference arises primarily from the different cash and accrual accounting treatments of free carbon permits and of investments made by the Clean Energy Finance Corporation.

Other significant decreases to the underlying cash and fiscal balances over the forward estimates come from the reduction of the company tax rate to 28.5 per cent and the net impact of the Coalition's Infrastructure Package. These initiatives reduce the underlying cash and fiscal balances by $4.9 billion and $4.7 billion respectively over the forward estimates.

Variations from impacts announced by the Coalition

This report includes costings of Coalition election commitments that contain fiscal balance impacts that are different to figures announced publicly by the Coalition, including for abolishing the Schoolkids Bonus, introducing the new paid parental leave scheme, revenue forgone from the abolition of the MRRT and carbon tax<sup>2</sup> and enhancing border protection.

In the Parliamentary Budget Officer's costing the savings from abolishing the Schoolkids Bonus are $659.4 million higher on a fiscal balance basis because it recognises that two payments will no longer be accrued in 2013-14 under the Coalition's policy to cancel payments from 1 January 2014 onwards. The Coalition recognised only one of these accrual savings in its costing.

For the paid parental leave scheme, the costing of the net impact in this report is a $835 million increase to the fiscal balance, which is around $268 million lower than the Coalition's estimate<sup>3</sup>. The difference arises because the Parliamentary Budget Officer's costing uses higher estimates of the incomes of secondary carers than previously provided to the Coalition. The impact of the higher estimates of incomes of secondary carers is partly offset by higher estimated savings from the removal of existing public service maternity leave schemes, due to the PBO using a higher overall growth rate assumption to derive the estimated future utilisation of these schemes under current policy.

<sup>2</sup> The costing in this report for the revenue forgone from the removal of the carbon tax is $211 million higher than the Coalition's costing. However, this is largely offset by the report's higher estimate for the total savings from the removal of expenditure associated with the carbon tax. The difference in costing methodology consists of the use of different assumptions and parameter updates. For the carbon tax package as a whole, including both saving and revenue, the difference between the Parliamentary Budget Officer's costing and the Coalition's costing is minor.

<sup>3</sup> This difference includes a $100 million interaction impact between the Levy of 1.5% on company taxable income above $5 million and the Company Tax rate cut to 28.5 per cent that the PBO included under 'Net effect of interactions between policy proposals'. The Coalition included this amount in the impact of the Levy of 1.5% on company taxable income above $5 million.

The Parliamentary Budget Officer's costing for the revenue forgone from the removal of the MRRT is $3.5 billion which is $200 million lower than the Coalition's estimate. The Parliamentary Budget Officer's costing recognises that as the MRRT is paid quarterly, one quarter of each financial year's impact reflects mining activity from the previous financial year.

The Parliamentary Budget Officer's costings for the border protection policies package also differ from those released by the Coalition. The Parliamentary Budget Officer used the Department of Immigration and Border Protection's Demand Driven Model to estimate the cost of these policies. This model was not available to the Coalition. The Parliamentary Budget Officer's costing of the net impact of the Coalition's border protection policies is a $984.6 million increase to the fiscal balance over the forward estimates; this is around $284 million higher than the Coalition's estimate.

Interaction of election commitments

Several Coalition election commitments have interactions. Over the forward estimates, these interactions reduce the underlying cash balance by $70 million and the fiscal balance by $125 million and are included in the total combined impact of election commitments at the bottom of table 3.

The company tax cut and 1.5 per cent levy to fund paid parental leave interact with the discontinuation of measures associated with the mining tax package, including the instant asset write-off increase, the phase down of the interest withholding tax (IWT), and the abolition of the tax loss carry back and accelerated depreciation for motor vehicles. There are also interactions between the abolition of the low income super contribution, the re-phasing of the SG increase and paid parental leave.

Impacts on headline cash and net worth

The Coalition's total combined election commitments would increase the headline cash balance by $15.1 billion over the forward estimates. This represents an increase of $7.9 billion relative to the underlying cash balance impact, which reflects the reduction in loans and equity investments from abolishing the Clean Energy Finance Corporation of $5.6 billion, reduced equity investments into NBN Co of $4.2 billion, and the loans provided through Better Apprentice Support which requires additional financing of $1.9 billion.

In addition, the commitment Fair Indexation of Military Super would decrease the Commonwealth's net worth by $4.4 billion by 2016-17. This arises from a revaluation of the stock of unfunded future superannuation liabilities.

Longer term budget impacts

The overall impact of Coalition election commitments beyond 2016-17 will not necessarily reflect their impact on the underlying cash and fiscal balances over the forward estimates. This is the result of some commitments reaching their full impact outside the forward estimates and some having a limited impact beyond 2016-17.

The underlying cash balance impact of the commitment to change indexation arrangements for military superannuation<sup>4</sup> occurs when (higher) pension payments are made and is significantly larger beyond the forward estimates, increasing from $30 million in 2016-17 to peak at an estimated $460 million in 2046-47<sup>5</sup>. The fiscal balance impact of this commitment will grow in line with the

<sup>4</sup> The proposal is for pensions payable under the Defence Forces Retirement Benefit (DFRB) and Defence Force Retirement and Death Benefits (DFRDB) to be the same as the indexation method applying to the maximum basic rate of the Age Pension for superannuants aged 55 and over.

accruing superannuation entitlements of scheme members, before declining as these members reach retirement. The initiative will also continue to reduce the Government's net worth well beyond the forward estimates due to the continuing accumulation of superannuation liabilities and notional interest on accrued liabilities, with the reduction in net worth projected to peak at around $7 billion in 2035-36<sup>5</sup>.

The saving from the proposal to pause the increase in the rate of the SG by two years from 1 July 2014 will continue to grow from $875 million in 2016-17 to peak in 2019-20 at around $1.15 billion, before falling sharply as the SG rate reaches 12 per cent in 2021-22, to be around $80 million per annum from 2023-24.

The mature impact on the budget of both elements of the proposal to reduce the company tax rate to 28.5 per cent and impose a levy of 1.5 per cent on that part of company taxable income above $5 million differs from the estimate in 2016-17, due to the timing of company tax payments. Cutting the company tax rate to 28.5 per cent is estimated to have a mature cost in the order of $3.7 billion in 2018-19 ($4.2 billion in 2016-17) and the company levy is estimated to have a mature saving in the order of $3.3 billion in 2018-19 ($3.7 billion in 2016-17). The annual estimates for both proposals will grow in line with the underlying growth in the company tax base from 2018-19.

The proposed abolition of the carbon pricing mechanism and the MRRT will continue to result in reduced revenue beyond the forward estimates, although these taxes are likely to be highly volatile and the amount of revenue forgone is very difficult to estimate. Pre-Election Economic and Fiscal Outlook 2013 notes that "the carbon price path to 2020 is subject to considerable uncertainty", while MRRT estimates are highly sensitive to the assumptions regarding production volumes, capital deductions, commodity prices and the exchange rate.

Costing documentation

In cases where the Coalition has advised that the funding or funding reductions associated with a Coalition election commitment is a fixed amount, costing documentation for these election commitments is not included in this report. The same approach has been adopted in relation to election commitments which the Coalition has indicated would be implemented within existing resources and therefore have a zero financial impact over the forward estimates. For these election commitments, the Parliamentary Budget Officer has made an assessment and satisfied himself that funding is available for these commitments.

Costing documentation for all election commitments for which funding is not based on fixed amounts can be found at Attachment E.

<sup>5</sup> Considerable uncertainty is attached to long-term projections and should therefore be treated as broadly indicative only.

For the financial impact on the budget balances, a positive number indicates an improvement in the budget balance, a negative number indicates a deterioration in the budget balance.
Numbers may not add due to rounding.

<sup>1</sup> This election commitment has additional impacts on the headline cash balance (beyond the impacts on the underlying cash balance) due to the reduced cash outflows from the Clean Energy Finance Corporation's loans and equity investment. The total increase in the headline cash balance is estimated to be $630 million in 2013-14, $1.5 billion in 2014-15, $2.1 billion in 2015-16 and $2.2 billion in 2016-17.

<sup>2</sup> The Coalition has advised the funding associated with this election commitment is a fixed amount, and costing documentation for these commitments is not included in this report. The Parliamentary Budget Officer has not made an assessment on the adequacy of the funding in meeting the stated policy objectives.

<sup>3</sup> The impact of this election commitment is different to the impact reported by the Coalition in its list of election commitments (see Attachment F). The Parliamentary Budget Officer confirmed with the Coalition that the commitment will be implemented so that the January 2014 payments would be cancelled. This will have a full year effect on a fiscal balance basis as two payments are accrued each year in early January and late June. The underlying cash impact reflects the cancellation of one payment in 2013-14.

<sup>4</sup> The impact of this election commitment is different to the impact reported by the Coalition in its list of election commitments (see Attachment F). The Parliamentary Budget Officer has increased his estimates of the incomes of secondary carers from those used in the costings provided previously to the Coalition.

<sup>5</sup> The components of COA017 – Coalition’s Paid Parental Leave Scheme Package have been costed together but the costing does not include the commitment COA021 – Levy of 1.5% on company taxable income above $5 million, which was costed separately with the commitment COA021 – Company Tax rate cut to 28.5 per cent, because of interactions between the two proposals (see footnotes 7, 16).

<sup>6</sup> The impact of this election commitment is different to the impact reported by the Coalition in its list of election commitments (see Attachment F). The differences are due to the PBO using a higher overall growth rate assumption to derive the estimated future utilisation of existing public service paid maternity leave schemes under current policy.

<sup>7</sup> This commitment is costed together with COA021 – Company Tax rate cut to 28.5 per cent because of interactions between the two proposals. (see footnote 16). The costings of the two proposals are not fully additive due to rounding and interactions between the proposals. This difference is included under ‘Net effect of interactions between policy proposals’ (see footnote 20).

<sup>8</sup> The impact of this election commitment is different to the impact reported by the Coalition in its list of election commitments (see Attachment F). The Parliamentary Budget Officer has confirmed as per the 2013-14 Portfolio Budget Statement that no funding has been provided to ACARA in 2016-17.

<sup>9</sup> The impact of this election commitment is different to the impact reported by the Coalition in its list of election commitments (see Attachment F). The Parliamentary Budget Officer’s costing is based on advice from relevant Government departments.

<sup>10</sup> This election commitment has additional impacts on the headline cash balance (beyond the impacts on the underlying cash balance) because of the provision of loans. The total reduction in the headline cash balance is estimated to be $5.0 million in 2013-14, $232.2 million in 2014-15, $851.5 million in 2015-16 and $855.3 million in 2016-17.

<sup>14</sup> The impact of this election commitment is different to the impact reported by the Coalition in its list of election commitments (see Attachment F). The Parliamentary Budget Officer, after confirming with the Coalition, has more accurately reflected the fortnightly payment schedule.

<sup>15</sup> The Coalition did not include this component of the COA150 – Regional Co-operation to Combat People Smuggling commitment in its table as it was assumed to have no net impact on the budget. The Parliamentary Budget Officer has determined that the component does have a net impact on the budget and accordingly has included a line item.

<sup>16</sup> This commitment is costed together with COA021 – Levy of 1.5% on company taxable income above $5 million because of interactions between the two proposals (see footnote 7).

<sup>17</sup> This election commitment impacts the Commonwealth’s net worth as it changes unfunded superannuation liabilities. This commitment is expected to decrease net worth by around $4.4 billion by 2016-17.

<sup>19</sup> The impact of this commitment reflects not proceeding with the ALP’s proposed increase in the instant asset write-off but adopting the related offsetting savings.

<sup>20</sup> Except where otherwise indicated, policy proposals have been costed on a standalone basis. This line reflects the net effect of interactions between policy proposals. There is an interaction between the Coalition proposals in relation to superannuation (COA006 – Re-phase Superannuation Guarantee increase and COA007 – Not proceed with low income super contribution) that has the effect of reducing the combined net saving from these measures. These proposals also interact with COA017 – Coalition’s Paid Parental Leave Scheme Package, in effect reducing the net cost of this proposal. There is also an interaction between proposals that affect the company tax base (including proposals COA001 – Discontinue business compensation measures, COA010 – Discontinue instant asset write-off increase, COA012 – Discontinue tax loss carry back and COA013 – Discontinue accelerated depreciation for motor vehicles) and the proposed COA021 – Company Tax rate cut to 28.5 per cent (for companies not subject to the proposed paid parental levy), reducing the combined net revenue gain under these proposals. This line also includes the interaction between the Coalition’s Paid Parental Leave Scheme Package and the proposed reduction in the company tax rate to 28.5 per cent.

<sup>21</sup> In addition to the changes in headline cash balance from the commitments to abolish the Clean Energy Finance Corporation, and loans provided through COA032 – The Coalition’s policy for Better Apprentice Support, the commitment for reduced equity investments into NBN Co is not listed as a separate election commitment in the table above, and results in a net increase in the headline cash balance of $4.2 billion over the 2013-14 Budget forward estimates period.

Matters taken into account by the Parliamentary Budget Officer

In preparing the list of Coalition election commitments to be included in this report, as required by subsection 64MA(6) of the Act, the Parliamentary Budget Officer has had regard to the lists of policies provided by the Coalition under subsection 64MA(3) of the Act (see Attachment F), and public announcements made by the Coalition before and during the caretaker period for the 2013 general election. On this basis, the Parliamentary Budget Officer is reasonably satisfied that the Coalition election commitments that would have a material impact on the Commonwealth budget have been included in table 3 in the report.

In accordance with section 64MAA of the Act, the Parliamentary Budget Officer has decided that all election commitments in table 3 are publicly announced policies of the Coalition which the Coalition intends to seek to have implemented after the election, and a policy costing of these election commitments should be included in this report.

All of the election commitments included in table 3 were on the list of election commitments provided by the Parliamentary Budget Officer to the Coalition within three days of the end of the caretaker period (see Attachment G).

Parliamentary Budget Officer's engagement with the Coalition

1. On 6 September 2013, the Coalition provided a list of their election commitments to the Parliamentary Budget Officer, consistent with subsection 64MA(3) of the Act, which can be found at Attachment F.
2. On 20 September 2013, the Parliamentary Budget Officer provided the Coalition with a list of those policies that in his best professional judgment would have a material effect on the Budget. This can be found at Attachment G. The list provided by the Parliamentary Budget Officer was identical to the list provided by the Coalition on 6 September 2013.
3. The Coalition did not provide comments on the Parliamentary Budget Officer's list of its election commitments.
4. Prior to its public release on 18 October 2013, the Parliamentary Budget Officer provided the Coalition with a copy of that part of this report setting out the costings of the Coalition's election commitments and the total combined financial impact of those election commitments, consistent with subsection 64MC(2) of the Act. The Coalition provided no comments.
