Question

TEQSA - Audited course list

Does TEQSA maintain an audited list of all courses, at all levels, offered by Australian universities and does it have records for previous years? If so is this publicly available?

Answer

TEQSA has provided the following response.

TEQSA does not maintain an audited list of courses offered by Australian Universities. Universities are self-accrediting providers. TEQSA accredits courses offered by regulated entities that do not have self-accrediting authority. These courses are listed on the National Register of Higher Education Providers that is managed by TEQSA (www.teqsa.gov.au/national-register).
