 - ii. Where interest is being paid, what rate of interest is being paid and how is this rate determined?

Answer:

a. For the year 2010-11, 92.36 per cent of payments to contractors/consultant were made within 30 days. The late payments were due mainly to the operational focus of the Australian Electoral Commission being on the conduct of the 2010 Federal Election. The Federal Election also results in a significant increase of transactions, thereby unfortunately increasing the time taken to process some payments.

- i. No interest is being paid on amounts that were overdue.
- ii. N/A.
- b. For the FYTD 30 September 2011, 95.45 per cent of payments to contractors/consultant were made within 30 days. The small number of late payments was mainly due to delays in authorising invoices.
 - i. No interest is being paid on amounts that were overdue.
 - ii. N/A.

 - ii. Where interest is being paid, what rate of interest is being paid and how is this rate determined?

Answer:

- a) ComSuper received 337contractor and consulting invoices in the 2010-11 financial year, 30 (8.90 per cent) were not paid within 30 days. The majority of late payments were due to delayed delivery of invoices or accounts incorrectly rendered.
 - i. No.
 - ii. N/A.

b) ComSuper has received 96 contracting and consulting invoices for the FYTD, two invoices (2.08 per cent) were not paid within 30 days. Streamlining of the process has significantly reduced the late payment rate from 2010-11, however the root cause continues to be delayed delivery of invoices and invoices incorrectly rendered.
