

Dear senate,

this email come as a result of an article in melb herald sun paper about the above named home,The person refered in that article as the cripple was employed by the salvation army named mr ferguson.My brother was molested by him contracing a VD whilst I was abused by one known as sgt villiamson.The salvation army paid us out with a silence clause .I was paid $11-000 while my brother was paid $14-000.This amount was nothing but an insult to both of us given we both got a life sentence and hardships throughout our life.I was also bashed senseless by a teacher in the boys home on a daily basis named Bradley Allen.The beatings were common pratice by staff and being locked in a tin shed for hours was another form of punishment.The whole thing has never been told for fear of reprisals and not being believed.I lost a good friend that was abused through suicide as he could no longer go on with the memories.There is much more to say about all this.

we had a motto in the boys home and pardon its crudeness but it was The salvo,s with a bible in one hand and a kids dick in the other.We often hear of the stolen generation,what about the abused generation?

regards Dave Green
