Mr Katter, by leave, addressed the House.

Mr Pyne (Leader of the House) moved—That the House take note of the document.

5 BANKING AND FINANCIAL SERVICES INDUSTRY

Mr Shorten (Leader of the Opposition), by leave, moved—That the House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) scandals in the banking and financial services industry have led to:
    - (i) retirees having their retirement savings gutted;
    - (ii) families being rorted;
    - (iii) small business owners losing everything;
    - (iv) life insurance policy holders being denied justice; and
    - (v) agricultural assets being improperly foreclosed;
  - (b) despite several inquiries, new powers, new resources, and a Financial Ombudsman Service, the rorts and the rip offs continue;
  - (c) it is clear from the breadth and scope of the allegations that the problems in this industry go beyond any one bank, type of financial institution or group of receivers; and
  - (d) Labor, Greens, crossbench, Liberal and National parliamentarians have supported a thorough investigation of the culture and practices within the financial services industry through a Royal Commission which is the only forum with the coercive powers and broad jurisdiction necessary to properly perform this investigation; and
- (2) therefore, calls on the Government to listen to the many victims of banking and financial scandals who are calling for the immediate establishment of a Royal Commission.

Debate ensuing—

Mr Christensen moved, as an amendment—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“this House:

- (1) acknowledges concerns in the community about certain practices in the banking sector;
- (2) notes that most of the notable scandals and collapses within the financial services sectors occurred under Labor’s watch, when the Leader of the Opposition was the Minister responsible for Financial Services;
- (3) notes that the Leader of the Opposition, as the then Minister responsible for Financial Services, neither initiated a royal commission into the banking sectors nor took meaningful action against the banks;
- (4) supports the Prime Minister’s actions in:
  - (a) calling on the banks to pass on interest rate cuts;
  - (b) reminding the banks that they operate in Australia under a ‘social licence’;
  - (c) his commitment to improving the culture in the banking industry; and
  - (d) his requirement that Australia’s major banks appear at least once a year before the House of Representatives Standing Committee on Economics to enable the Committee to report jointly to the Treasurer and the Parliament on Australia’s banking and financial system;
- (5) acknowledges that the Australian Government has already taken significant steps to further strengthen our banking and financial system by commissioning the Murray Financial System Inquiry and taking significant steps toward implementing the recommendations of that report;
- (6) notes that the Murray Inquiry was opposed by Labor, with the then Treasurer, the Member for McMahon, stating “The financial system is strong, well-regulated and well managed and I have not seen a case for a full blown inquiry”;
- (7) notes that the Australian Government has conducted a capability review of ASIC and has acted to strengthen the resources and capability of the regulator, which not only has the investigative and reporting powers of a Royal Commission but also strong powers to compel a person to answer questions under oath, to compel the production of documents, to seek search warrants, to conduct investigations and to then use this information in prosecutions;

- (8) notes that ASIC has commenced legal proceedings against three of the big four banks for alleged market manipulation of the bank bill swap rate, has commenced an investigation into the allegations surrounding CommInsure and the broader life insurance sector and is undertaking investigations into the conduct of the largest financial advice firms, as part of its Wealth Management Project;
- (9) notes that, at their appearance before the House of Representatives Standing Committee on Economics, the banks will be required to explain pricing decisions and discuss their progress in responding to various issues raised in previous Parliamentary inquiries;
- (10) notes that the Government is committed to ensuring that consumer complaints in the financial system don't fall through the cracks, that consumers can access justice and appropriate compensation in a timely manner, and that the Government has tasked an expert panel, led by Professor Ian Ramsay, with a comprehensive review of the External Dispute Resolution Schemes;
- (11) notes that the Australian Government, via the Ramsay Review, is looking at establishing a one-stop-shop, which could formally adjudicate on consumer complaints and award compensation to those affected by malfeasance;
- (12) notes that the Ramsay Review will produce an interim report to Government by November this year and will produce its final report no later than March 2017;
- (13) supports the Government's action in tasking the Small Business and Family Enterprise Ombudsman with a forensic review of the most egregious cases identified by the Parliamentary Joint Committee report into the Impairment of Customer Loans to determine whether the regulatory deficiencies identified by the Inquiry, and any additional deficiencies identified through the forensic examination of the cases, require further specific reforms; and
- (14) notes that if a Royal Commission was to go ahead it would simply be reviewing old ground and would delay well-developed and important reforms that will strengthen consumer protections, ensure malpractice is detected and punished, and provide a one-stop-shop for consumer complaints, in addition, a Royal Commission would send a signal internationally that there are structural problems with our banking and financial system which would have significant repercussions for confidence, international investment and for our AAA credit rating."

6 SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDERS MOVED

Mr Bowen moved—That so much of the standing orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for McMahon from moving the following motion forthwith—That the House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the Prime Minister and Treasurer have for months railed against reforms to negative gearing;
  - (b) this morning, it has been revealed that the Prime Minister and Treasurer were in fact rolled in Cabinet on reforms to negative gearing by conservative Members in their party loyal to the Member for Warringah;
  - (c) this is the first time in more than 40 years that a Prime Minister and Treasurer have been rolled on a central economic reform; and
  - (d) if the Prime Minister and Treasurer can be rolled on an economic reform by factional forces then the Member for Warringah was right that “This government has been in office — not in power”; and
- (2) condemns the Prime Minister for failing to provide the new economic leadership he promised but instead being led by conservative Members of his party.

Message No. 1, 1 September 2016, from the Senate was reported informing the House that the Senate had agreed to the following resolution:

That the Senate—

(a) notes that:

- (i) confidence and trust in the financial services industry has been shaken by ongoing revelations of scandals, which have resulted in tens of thousands of Australians being ripped off, including:
  - (A) retirees who have had their retirement savings gutted;
  - (B) families who have been rorted out of hundreds of thousands of dollars;
  - (C) small business owners who have lost everything; and
  - (D) life insurance policy holders who have been denied justice;
- (ii) it is clear from the breadth and scope of the allegations that the problems in this industry go beyond any one bank or type of financial institution;
- (iii) the Australian Labor Party, the Australian Greens, crossbench, Liberal and Nationals parliamentarians have supported a thorough investigation of the culture and practices within the financial services industry through a Royal Commission, which is the only forum with the coercive powers and broad jurisdiction necessary to properly perform this investigation; and
- (iv) Australia has one of the strongest banking systems in the world, but Australians must have confidence in their banks and financial institutions, making it necessary to sweep away doubt and uncover and deal with unethical behaviour that compromises that confidence; and

(b) calls on the Prime Minister to request His Excellency the Governor-General of the Commonwealth of Australia issue Letters Patent to establish a Royal Commission to inquire into misconduct in the banking and financial services industry, including their agents and managed investment schemes.

The Senate requests the concurrence of the House in this resolution.

THE PARLIAMENT OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 5

TUESDAY, 13 SEPTEMBER 2016

1 The House met, at 12 noon, pursuant to adjournment. The Speaker (the Honourable A. D. H. Smith) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 SEIZURE OF MATERIAL UNDER A SEARCH WARRANT—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

On 23 August 2016, in accordance with the AFP Guideline for Execution of Search Warrants where parliamentary privilege may be involved, I was notified by the Australian Federal Police that it was intending to execute a search warrant on the Department of Parliamentary Services at Parliament House on Wednesday, 24 August in relation to an investigation into the unauthorised disclosure of Commonwealth information. I attach a copy of the MOU under which the guideline was made and the guideline for the information of the House.

I understand the search warrant was executed on 24 August and, as a result, a range of material was seized. From the perspective of the House, the Member for Blaxland has made a claim that material that has been seized is protected by parliamentary privilege. As a consequence, this material is now held securely in the office of the Clerk of the House. The Member for Blaxland is seeking a ruling from the House in relation to his claim for parliamentary privilege as is provided under the Guideline.

This is the first occasion on which a ruling has been sought from the House under the Guideline. It will be a matter for the House as to how it will determine its position on the documents. I will undertake consultations to determine the way in which the matter will be dealt with.

3 MATTER OF PRIVILEGE RAISED BY MANAGER OF OPPOSITION BUSINESS—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

Yesterday, the Manager of Opposition Business raised a matter of privilege relating to an online report from The Daily Telegraph of supposed directions given by the Leader of the House.

I do not see any privilege issues are raised by the matter which the Manager of Opposition Business has put forward. I remind Members that privilege relates to the special rights and immunities of the Houses, their committees and members to ensure the Parliament is able to operate without improper interference.

4 DEVELOPMENT OF ELECTRONIC PETITIONS WEBSITE AND SYSTEM—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

In October 2015, I informed the House that the Department of the House of Representatives and the Department of Parliamentary Services were to develop an electronic petitions website and system for the House.

I now inform the House that the e-petitions system and website have been developed. The system and website have not been activated as the House will need to consider amendments to the standing orders to allow the establishment of an e-petitions system. I understand those amendments are part of a package of changes to the standing orders to be considered by the House shortly.

The system as developed will be accessible from the House of Representatives website. It will enable members of the public to enter and sign petitions online, and track the progress of any petition as it is presented, referred and responded to. This new development will update the petition system and make it easier for members of the public to petition the House.

2 Definitions

The following meanings apply throughout these standing orders.

petition is a formal request (in paper or electronic form) to the House to take action that is within its power to take. A petition for presentation to the House must comply with the standing orders. An electronic petition (e-petition) is a petition that persons may sign through the House of Representatives e-petition website (House website). A paper petition includes any petition that is not an electronic petition.

- (b) If there is a successive division, Members who wish to vote in the same way as in the previous division must remain seated until the result of the division is announced. The tellers may record each Member's vote as being the same as it was in the previous division unless a Member reports to them. A Member must report to the tellers if he or she:
  - (i) wishes to vote differently to his or her vote in the previous division; or
  - (ii) voted in the previous division and does not wish to vote in the current division; or
  - (iii) did not vote in the previous division and wishes to vote in the current division.
- (c) The vote shall be counted as in standing order 130 if:
  - (i) in the Speaker's opinion most Members wish to vote differently to their votes in the previous division; or
  - (ii) any confusion or error occurs in the count by the tellers.

132 New division in case of confusion, error or misadventure

- (a) If confusion, or error concerning the numbers reported by the tellers, occurs and cannot be corrected, the House shall divide again.
- (b) If a division has miscarried through misadventure caused by a Member being accidentally absent or some similar incident, any Member may move on the same sitting day, without notice and without the need for a seconder—

That the House divide again.

If this motion is agreed to the question shall be put again and the result of the subsequent division shall be the decision of the House.

198 Report to the House

- (a) When the Federation Chamber has fully considered a bill referred to it, a final question shall be put immediately and resolved without amendment or debate—

That this bill be reported to the House, with[out] [an] amendment[s] [and with (an) unresolved question(s)].

- (b) The Clerk of the Federation Chamber shall certify a copy of the bill or other item of business to be reported to the House, together with any schedules of amendments and unresolved questions. 2 RECORDS OF THE PARLIAMENTARY COMMISSION OF INQUIRY—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

In May 1986 the Parliament established, by legislation, a Parliamentary Commission of Inquiry to advise the Parliament whether any conduct of the Honourable Lionel Keith Murphy was such as to amount, in its opinion, to proved misbehaviour within the meaning of section 72 of the Constitution.

In August 1986, following a special report to the Presiding Officers relating to the terminal illness of the judge, the inquiry was discontinued and the Act establishing the Commission repealed. The Parliamentary Commission of Inquiry (Repeal) Act 1986 gave to the Presiding Officers exclusive possession of the documents of the Commission for 30 years from its commencement.

The repeal Act commenced on 25 September 1986 and the period of exclusive possession expired from 26 September 2016. The Presiding Officers may now grant access to documents of the Commission by written authority.

With the expiration of the period of exclusive possession, the President of the Senate and I have determined that the Clerks of the Senate and the House of Representatives and other nominees approved by us can access and examine the records of the Commission for the purposes of providing advice to assist in our responses to requests for access. The examination of the records by parliamentary officers commenced on 29 September 2016. We are awaiting advice on the contents of the records before determining any arrangements for wider access to them. It should be understood that this process may take some time as the records are extensive.

That this House:

- (1) notes that Women's Legal Services Australia and 90 other organisations concerned with family violence wrote to all political leaders in May 2016 calling on them to put safety first in family law;
- (2) recognises that:
  - (a) unrepresented litigants have been an increasing feature of the Family Court of Australia and Federal Circuit Court of Australia for many years;
  - (b) due to the cuts made to Legal Aid funding by the Government, the number of unrepresented litigants continues to increase;
  - (c) unrepresented litigants are entitled to cross-examine the other party to test their evidence in a trial; and
  - (d) where a victim of family violence is subjected to direct cross-examination by their abuser, the:
    - (i) victim can be severely traumatised;
    - (ii) quality of the evidence given to the court can be compromised;
    - (iii) perpetrator can use the court process to further abuse the victim; and

10 PENALTY RATES

Ms L. M. Chesters, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) penalty rates:
    - (i) continue to be a fundamental part of a strong safety net for Australian workers, enabling those in low income and highly casualised industries to share in the nation's economic prosperity; and
    - (ii) are not a luxury—they pay the bills and put food on the table for up to 4.5 million Australians relying on them; and
  - (b) reducing the penalty rates of low-paid workers will negatively impact the economy as a whole;
- (2) acknowledges that:
  - (a) hospitality workers are in the bottom 30 per cent of Australian income earners;
  - (b) along with hospitality and food services, retail has the largest proportion of low paid workers in Australia; and
  - (c) women comprise a disproportionate share of workers in both the retail and hospitality sectors, accounting for 55 per cent of all employed;
- (3) condemns the Government's failure to protect penalty rates, particularly given continued record low wage growth; and
- (4) calls on the Government to protect penalty rates by joining with the Opposition in making a submission to the Fair Work Commission, arguing strongly that penalty rates should not be cut.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

11 HIGHER EDUCATION

Ms Plibersek, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes the Government's abject failure in higher education policy, including:
  - (a) repeated attempts to introduce a United States style, user pays approach to tuition fees which will leave young Australians with $100,000 degrees;
  - (b) a continued policy to slash 20 per cent from Commonwealth Grants Scheme funding; and
  - (c) the short-sighted 2016-17 budget decision to remove 40 per cent of funding to the Higher Education Participation Program by 2019-20; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) recognise that two in every three jobs created in the future will require a university degree;
  - (b) acknowledge that investment in human potential is critical to boosting productivity and driving innovation; and
  - (c) immediately work to improve access to higher education and stop putting barriers around our universities through massive debt burdens.

  - (b) Mental Health Week will take place in Australia from 9 to 15 October;
- (2) seeks to encourage help-seeking behaviour, reduce the stigma associated with mental issues and foster connections through communities;
- (3) acknowledges the importance of WMHD and other campaigns including R U OK? Day in Australia, and World Suicide Prevention Day that help:
  - (a) build community awareness about mental health issues and around suicide prevention; and
  - (b) to encourage people to have regular and meaningful conversations with family, friends and colleagues;
- (4) recognises the efforts of dedicated individuals and organisations working to address mental health issues and suicide prevention;
- (5) notes with concern that suicide rates remain unacceptably too high—in Australia:
  - (a) suicide is the leading cause of death for men and women between the ages of 15 and 44;
  - (b) each day seven people die by suicide, and 30 attempt it;
  - (c) higher rates of suicide exist among vulnerable groups including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, young people and people from lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex communities;
  - (d) the annual number of deaths by suicide is around 2,500;
  - (e) each year it is estimated that 65,000 people attempt suicide; and
  - (f) the annual suicide toll is now twice the annual road toll; and
- (6) calls on the Government to show leadership around suicide prevention, including working in a bipartisan approach to adopt the National Mental Health Commission's target to reduce suicide by 50 per cent over the next 10 years.

Debate ensued.

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 9

TUESDAY, 11 OCTOBER 2016

1 The House met, at 12 noon, pursuant to adjournment. The Speaker (the Honourable A. D. H. Smith) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 SEIZURE OF MATERIAL UNDER A SEARCH WARRANT—PROCESS FOR DETERMINATION BY THE HOUSE—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

On 13 September, I made a statement to the House on the seizure of a range of material by the Australian Federal Police following the execution of a search warrant in Parliament House on 24 August 2016. The Member for Blaxland has made a claim that the material that has been seized is protected by parliamentary privilege and in accordance with the AFP Guideline for the Execution of Search Warrants where parliamentary privilege may be involved, the material is being held securely in the office of the Clerk of the House.

As the Member for Blaxland is seeking a ruling from the House in relation to his claim for parliamentary privilege as provided for under the Guideline and this is the first occasion such a ruling has been sought, I advised the House that I would undertake consultations to determine the way in which this matter will be dealt with.

I have now undertaken those consultations with the assistance of the Clerk of the House. I present for the information of Members a paper prepared by the Clerk's Office on the process to determine claims of privilege in matters such as these. As noted in the paper it is proposed that the House Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests be tasked with considering the claim made by the Member for Blaxland and making a recommendation to the House about its ruling on the claim.

With this in mind, I propose to give precedence to a motion to refer the matter of the determination of the Member for Blaxland's claim of parliamentary privilege to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests for consideration and advice to the House.

3 MATTER OF PRIVILEGE—REFERENCE TO COMMITTEE OF PRIVILEGES AND MEMBERS' INTERESTS

Mr Burke, moved—That:

- (1) the House Standing Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests consider the claim for privilege in relation to the material seized by the Australian Federal Police under a search warrant executed on the Department of Parliamentary Services at Parliament House on 24 August 2016 and which is subject of a claim of parliamentary privilege by the Member for Blaxland under paragraph 6.11 of the "AFP National Guideline for execution of search warrants where parliamentary privilege may be involved" and make a recommendation to the House about its ruling on the claim;
- (2) in considering the claim, the Committee shall have regard to the law of parliamentary privilege, including the Parliamentary Privileges Act 1987 and any case law relevant to the interpretation of the Act;
- (3) the Committee shall provide affected parties with the opportunity to make submissions on the claim of parliamentary privilege, including on the application of the law of parliamentary privilege;

- (4) if the Committee is able to determine the matter without the material being examined, it shall accordingly make a recommendation to the House about its ruling on the claim;
- (5) if the Committee is unable to determine the matter without the material being examined, it may engage expert assistance to examine the material and report to it on the claim of parliamentary privilege. The Committee shall then make a recommendation to the House about its ruling on the claim; and
- (6) if the Committee approves the engagement of expert assistance to examine the material, the Clerk of the House shall make the material available to the expert/experts so engaged only for the purpose of their examination of the material, but otherwise the material shall remain in the custody of the Clerk of the House at all times until its disposition is determined by the House, and shall not be examined by the Committee.

Question—put and passed.

26 INTERNATIONAL TAX AGREEMENTS AMENDMENT BILL 2016—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

Earlier today, the question on a second reading amendment moved by the Member for Fenner on the International Tax Agreements Amendment Bill 2016 was put to the House and, as I understand it, called for the Ayes.

As the question on the amendment was called for the ‘Ayes’ and not contested, the amendment was validly passed and proceedings on the bill should have ceased at that point. I understand that questions on the second and third readings of the bill were then put. This should not have happened and those proceedings were not valid. The Votes and Proceedings record will be corrected to show the second reading amendment being agreed to and proceedings on the bill ceasing at that point.

House of Representatives Practice discusses the possibility of a second reading amendment being agreed to and states ‘if a reasoned amendment were carried...it could be argued that the amendment would not necessarily arrest the progress of the bill, as procedural actions could be taken to restore the bill to the notice paper and have the second reading moved on another occasion’.

As the Member for Fenner’s amendment was in the form ‘whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading...’ I consider this is a reasonable course of action and I will permit that to occur.

Mr Burke, by indulgence, made a statement on the matter.

Petitions—Standing Committee—Report 3: Petitions—
Report, 7 November 2016.
Petitions.

Mr Vasta made a statement in connection with petitions.

3 DROWNING DEATHS

Dr McVeigh, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that the number of drownings in Australia increased from 267 deaths in 2014-15 to 280 in 2015-16 as stated in the Royal Life Saving's National Drowning Report (September 2016), which shows:
  - (a) a quarter of all drownings occurred in inland waterways such as rivers, creeks and dams;
  - (b) almost one fifth of all deaths occurred in people aged 25 to 35 years;
  - (c) 86 per cent of all drowning deaths were males; and
  - (d) there was a 30 per cent decrease in deaths of people aged 0 to 4 years;
- (2) acknowledges that every incidence of drowning has a wider impact including family, rescuers and communities;
- (3) recognises that the Government released the Australian Water Safety Strategy in April 2016, which aims to reduce drowning deaths by 50 per cent by 2020;
- (4) acknowledges that the Government is partnering with the peak water safety bodies such as Royal Life Saving (RLS), Surf Life Saving (SLS) and AUSTSWIM as well as Australian Water Safety Council Members and federal, state, territory and local governments, to work to prevent drowning;
- (5) recognises that the Government is providing funding of $3.6 million in 2016-17 through the National Recreation Safety Program work towards the target of reducing drowning deaths; and
- (6) congratulates RLS, SLS and other community groups for their work in educating people on the potential dangers of all our beaches and waterways.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 DEEMING RATES FOR AUSTRALIAN PENSIONERS

Ms Husar, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the Government is short changing Australian pensioners;
  - (b) despite interest rates falling from 2.25 per cent in February 2015 to 1.50 per cent today, the Government has failed to adjust deeming rates for Australian pensioners;
  - (c) currently a single pensioner's savings are deemed at 1.75 per cent on the first $49,200 and any amount over that is deemed at 3.25 per cent;
  - (d) deeming rates are supposed to reflect returns across a range of investment choices available in the market, but the Government is failing to act by lowering deeming rates; and
  - (e) Australian part-pensioners are doing it tough in a low interest rate environment and pensioners are crying out for some relief; and
- (2) calls on the Prime Minister to immediately reduce deeming rates in line with falling interest rates, so that pensioners' assets are deemed fairly and Australian pensioners finally get some relief.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 REMEMBRANCE DAY

Ms Rishworth, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) 11 November is Remembrance Day;
  - (b) on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month Australians observe one minute's silence in memory of those who died or suffered in all wars and armed conflicts;
  - (c) 2016 marks the 98th anniversary of the Armistice which ended World War I; and
  - (d) on Remembrance Day we pay our respects and honour the memory of those who have served in our country's defence forces;
- (2) encourages all Australians to attend a commemoration ceremony in their local community, and to pause for a minute of silence to remember those who have served in the Australian Defence Force and made the ultimate sacrifice;
- (3) remembers:
  - (a) those who lost their lives serving their country; and
  - (b) all who came home, wounded, or bearing the hidden scars of war; and
- (4) recognises that the return to life in Australia, the journey from battlefield to towns and suburbs, can be a difficult one for those who serve and for the people who love and care for them.

Debate ensued.

Leave granted for third reading to be moved immediately.

On the motion of Mr Fletcher (Minister representing the Minister for Communications), the bill was read a third time.

8 SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDERS MOVED

Mr Burke moved—That so much of the standing orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Watson from moving the following motion forthwith—That the House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the Senate is today sitting while it remains unclear which Senators were validly elected under the Constitution; and
  - (b) the Government has not revealed how long it has known there were questions over the validity of the composition of the Senate and why it has kept this information secret from the Australian people;
- (2) therefore, calls on the Prime Minister to immediately attend the Chamber to provide a full and honest account of the Government’s knowledge and involvement of the potential constitutional issues concerning the composition of the Senate;
- (3) notes the chaos in the Senate has today extended to the House of Representatives, when for the first time a Government MP has seconded a private Members’ motion which condemned the Government for “short changing Australian pensioners”;
- (4) congratulates the Member for Wright in joining the Minister for Revenue and the Minister for Justice in their willingness to condemn the Turnbull Government on the floor of the House; and
- (5) condemns the Government for its failure to manage the Parliament where every week there is a new stumble in the House and we now know the Senate has been sitting with a cloud over whether its composition is valid under the Australian Constitution.

No. 16

FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 7 NOVEMBER 2016

---

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 STROKE

Ms Banks, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) National Stroke Week:
    - (i) ran from 12 to 18 September 2016; and
    - (ii) is about raising awareness to prevent stroke in Australia; and
  - (b) the National Stroke Foundation encourages all Australians to:
    - (i) be aware of what stroke is, how to recognise a stroke and what to do;
    - (ii) live healthy to reduce the risk of stroke; and
    - (iii) get a regular health check;
- (2) acknowledges the:
  - (a) launch by the Minister for Health in June 2015 of the Acute Stroke Clinical Care Standard; and
  - (b) bi-partisan work done by past governments in the area of stroke; and
- (3) notes the requirement for greater awareness and promotion of the prevention of stroke within the Australian community.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 WESTERN AUSTRALIA AND COMMONWEALTH INFRASTRUCTURE FUNDING

Mr Keogh, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises the parlous state of Western Australia's finances, brought on by the economic mismanagement of the Western Australian Government and a record low share of GST revenue, which was foreseeable;
- (2) acknowledges the importance of Commonwealth infrastructure funding and state infrastructure spending for creating employment and driving economic growth;
- (3) notes that $1.54 billion of Commonwealth infrastructure funding has been allocated to the Perth Freight Link (PFL) and Oakajee Port over the forward estimates, in circumstances where:

- (a) the Western Australian Government has not committed to stage two of the PFL, a contract for which will be required before Commonwealth funding flows to Western Australia, and the Western Australian Opposition is opposed to the project; and
- (b) the Turnbull Government has kept a $339 million allocation to Oakajee Port in the federal budget for more than two years after the project was abandoned;
- (4) notes that although Western Australia takes up one third of Australia's land mass and holds 10.4 per cent of the population, the loss of Commonwealth funding for the PFL and Oakajee would cause Western Australia's share of the Commonwealth infrastructure budget to drop to just 9.5 per cent; and
- (5) calls on the Australian Government to redirect funding allocated to the PFL to the infrastructure projects that Western Australians actually want and need—the Armadale/North Lake Road Bridge, an Outer Harbour and METRONET.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 FORCED MARRIAGE

Mr Perrett, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
  - (a) some young Australians are being forced into marriage against their will;
  - (b) child marriage and forced marriage are forms of slavery; and
  - (c) the Labor Government in 2013 introduced into the Criminal Code Act 1995 specific offences for forced marriage;
- (2) notes that:
  - (a) there has been a gradual increase in people referring to community services for forced marriage since the law was introduced in 2013;
  - (b) investigations of forced marriage by the Australian Federal Police (AFP) have increased from 3 in 2012-13 to 69 in 2015-16;
  - (c) the Australian Red Cross and the AFP consider that part of the increase in identifications of forced marriage is due to better community awareness and access to help; and
  - (d) it is crucial that community awareness continues to be raised so that young people know their right to refuse to be forced into marriage;
- (3) notes that:
  - (a) the Australian Catholic Religious Against Trafficking in Humans produced curriculum materials for the Australian forced marriage Pilot Program for Australian schools;

- (b) in every school that participated in the Pilot Program, girls at risk of forced marriage were identified;
  - (c) funding for the Pilot Program ceased in 2015; and
  - (d) it is crucial that the Pilot Program is continued as teachers are often the first person a child will tell of their fear of being forced to marry; and
- (4) calls on the Government to immediately renew funding to further provide awareness of child marriage and forced marriage in Australian schools and the broader community.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

- (3) notes that:

9 ADELAIDE PLAINS FLOODS AND ASSISTANCE TO GROWERS

Mr Zappia, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

10 PALM OIL AND LABELLING LAWS

Mr Wood, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) that palm oil, because of its low cost, is a common ingredient in many packaged foods, often supplementing vegetable oil; and
  - (b) the misleading labelling of palm oil in Australian products, often labelled as vegetable oil, with 50 per cent of products sold in supermarkets containing palm oil;
- (2) further notes that palm oil has high levels of saturated fat with over 50 per cent of its composition being saturated fat, which is very dangerous to consumers with heart or other conditions;
- (3) recognises the damage to the environment and endangered animals as a result of mass deforestation in Malaysia and Indonesia which has led to the exponential threat of extinction to animals such as orangutans, tigers, elephants and rhinoceroses, all of which are already critically endangered; and
- (4) calls on the Government to change the labelling laws on products sold in Australia to require products to clearly state when they contain palm oil.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned (Mr Wood), and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

11 HOUSING

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Ms Claydon—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) having safe and affordable housing is a basic human right and the absence of which has a huge human, social and economic cost;
  - (b) housing stress and homelessness are serious issues in Australia—first-home buyers are having difficulty entering the market, rental affordability in cities is at a crisis point, waiting lists for social housing continue to grow, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Australians are disproportionately represented in homelessness and housing stress and there are rising levels of homelessness with 105,000 people designated as homeless on any given night; and
  - (c) there are often complex social, financial and medical issues that cause housing stress and homelessness that are beyond an individual's direct control; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) appoint a Minister for Housing and Homelessness to provide the necessary focus and leadership required to address the housing issues being experienced in Australia; and

Mr Wilkie, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) more than $800 million was lost by Australians on legal sports betting in 2014-15, an increase of more than 30 per cent from 2013-14;
  - (b) while some restrictions on gambling advertising exist, there is an exemption that allows gambling advertising during televised sporting events at children's viewing times; and
  - (c) research shows that children are especially susceptible to such advertising;
- (2) recognises the pressing need to act to reduce the level of gambling advertising, particularly during children's viewing times;

- (3) calls on the Government to amend the Broadcasting Services Act 1992 to ban gambling advertising during sporting broadcasts; and
- (4) further notes community concern about the recent increased level of gambling advertising on the SBS, and calls on the Minister for Communications to issue a directive under section 11 of the Special Broadcasting Service Act 1991 to limit the amount of such advertising.

Debate ensued.

GEORGE CHRISTENSEN

Chair

10 November 2016

On the motion of Mr Christensen, by leave, the report was agreed to.

10 MIGRATION LEGISLATION AMENDMENT (REGIONAL PROCESSING COHORT) BILL 2016

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—

Debate resumed.

Mr Wilkie moved, as an amendment—That all the words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give the bill a second reading and instead:

- (1) acknowledges that the global refugee crisis is for Australia a humanitarian challenge and not a border security problem;
- (2) notes that Australia's response to asylum seekers will inevitably require a genuinely regional solution involving most, if not all south-east Asian countries, as well as Australia and New Zealand, and be approved by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees;
- (3) insists that Australia's response to asylum seekers be consistent with all of our international treaty obligations including the Refugee Convention, the Rome Statute, the Convention on the Rights of the Child and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights; and

- (4) calls on the Government to develop and implement a sophisticated policy response to this challenge that as far as possible deals with the situation in source countries, countries of first asylum and transit countries”.

Debate ensuing—

Mr Perrett, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
  - (a) prior to the passage of the Parliamentary Privileges Act 1987 the Houses of the Australian Parliament had the power to expel a Senator or Member of the House of Representatives;
  - (b) the expulsion of a Member of this House is the most drastic of sanctions;

  - (d) Mr Mahon is the only Member to have ever been expelled from this House;
- (2) acknowledges that Mr Mahon was expelled:
  - (a) by a motion brought on hastily and with limited time for debate;
  - (b) by a vote of the House on party lines; and
  - (c) without the due process and procedural fairness that such an important issue deserves; and
- (3) recognises that:
  - (a) it was unjust on the limited evidence for the institution to which Mr Mahon had been democratically elected to reverse the decision of his constituents; and
  - (b) the expulsion of Mr Mahon was a misuse of the power then invested in the House.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 UNEMPLOYMENT

Dr Frelander, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) that the unemployment rate in Australia has barely fallen from immediate post Global Financial Crisis levels;
  - (b) Treasury projections that the unemployment in Australia is unlikely to improve in the next three years under current policy settings; and
  - (c) significant labour market indicators such as rate of under-employment and levels of long term and youth unemployment, are continuing concerns within the community and amongst economic commentators, as is the comparative decline in the availability of full time jobs;
- (2) further notes that:
  - (a) rates on unemployment in many Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development countries have fallen significantly since 2012 while Australia's unemployment rate has remained stagnant; and
  - (b) Reserve Bank of Australia observations about the likely limited effect on economic activity of further interest rate cuts;
- (3) recognises:
  - (a) the negative impact on the federal budget in continuing high levels of unemployment;
  - (b) the cost to individuals, the community and the economy in people not being able to find work; and
  - (c) the Government's failure to grow full-time employment opportunities; and
- (4) urges the Government to give higher priority to addressing labour market stagnation and take whatever steps it can through fiscal policy and selective initiatives to address this ongoing blight on Australian society.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

- (1) acknowledges that reducing social harm caused by welfare-fuelled alcohol, drug and gambling abuse is a key priority nationally and for local communities;
- (2) recognises that the Government is currently trialling the cashless debit card in two communities—Ceduna in South Australia, and the East Kimberley in Western Australia—in partnership with local community leaders in those communities; and
- (3) acknowledges the:
  - (a) hard work, dedication and commitment of community leaders in Ceduna and the East Kimberley in co-designing the trials with Government, and their leadership in its implementation and delivery in their communities; and
  - (b) positive initial results of the cashless debit card model in the two trial communities, including the strong positive feedback from the community on the ground.

7 417 VISA PROGRAM

Ms L. M. Chesters, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) the Fair Work Ombudsman's (FWO's) report Inquiry into the wages and conditions of people working under the 417 Working Holiday Visa Program (October 2016) found that more than one third of 417 visa holders claimed that they were paid less than the minimum wage;
  - (b) the inquiry found that the 417 visa program created an environment where unreasonable and unlawful requirements are being imposed on visa holders by unscrupulous businesses;
  - (c) the FWO, Ms Natalie James, said in a statement that the inquiry confirms that overseas workers seeking regional work to satisfy the 88 day requirement and obtain a second-year 417 visa are particularly vulnerable to exploitation;
- (2) acknowledges:
  - (a) that in 2015-16, 76 per cent of litigations filed by the FWO involved visa holder workers;
  - (b) that the inquiry found instances of employers engaging in sophisticated labour supply chains involving sham contracting, where workers were in fact employees, to exploit vulnerable 417 visa holders to gain a competitive or commercial advantage through the reduction of labour costs; and
  - (c) findings from the inquiry found that the 417 visa program has been used to source an unpaid workforce, thus facilitating an unfair commercial advantage to these employers, distorting the market place and placing pressure on the domestic employment market;
- (3) expresses its disappointment in the Government for announcing yet another taskforce, the Migrant Workers Taskforce, to look at the issue of worker exploitation, while there is still no legislation that has been presented to the Parliament that will change the law to protect exploited workers; and
- (4) calls on the Government to join the Opposition in preventing workers from being exploited by supporting its legislation before the Parliament, the Fair Work Amendment (Protecting Australian Workers) Bill 2016.

  - (a) has given greater support, funding and legislative powers to law enforcement and security agencies; and

- (1) notes with deep concern that:
  - (a) income inequality in Australia is growing such that currently the top 20 per cent of households receive half of Australia's income while the bottom 20 per cent receive just four per cent; and
  - (b) in 2013 the top 1 per cent of Australian earners received 9 per cent of Australia's income, and the top 0.1 per cent received 2.5 per cent, in both cases representing the highest proportion since the 1950s, and a proportion which continues to increase;
- (2) notes rapidly increasing executive and, in particular, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) remuneration, for example between 1971 and 2008, real CEO pay grew by nearly five times, while the real average weekly earnings grew just over one and a half times despite:
  - (a) research showing that executive pay increases are not closely related to company performance;
  - (b) the belief that large disparities between executive pay and average earnings might actually demotivate a company's employees and adversely affect priorities, as reported in the 2009 Productivity Commission inquiry into executive remuneration in Australia; and
  - (c) the belief that poor remuneration arrangements can promote inappropriate, risky short term decision making, carrying wider economic ramifications including a negative impact on productivity growth;
- (3) notes the positive effect of past legislative efforts on ensuring corporate executive remuneration is transparent, particularly the 'two strikes' legislation which came into effect in 2011, acknowledging that mandatory disclosure of CEO pay ratios, as required in the United Kingdom and more recently in the United States, would:
  - (a) provide:
    - (i) important information to shareholders voting on executive remuneration; and
    - (ii) a more accurate measure of an important aspect of income inequality in Australia; and
  - (b) improve the health of our democracy by making important information more accessible to the public; and
- (4) calls on the Government to consider following the lead of the United States in its Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act in mandating that public companies disclose the ratio of a CEO's annual total remuneration to the average annual total of all company employees.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

12 BATTLE OF LONG TAN

Mr Littleproud, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) on 8 November at Government House the Governor-General awarded ten soldiers with military awards for actions at the Battle of Long Tan; and
  - (b) these soldiers received these awards 50 years after the Battle of Long Tan:
    - (i) which was the most costly single battle fought by Australian soldiers in the Vietnam War, involving 105 Australians and three New Zealanders from D Company 6RAR and more than 2,000 enemy troops; and
    - (ii) where a total of 17 Australians were killed in action and 25 were wounded, one of whom later died from his wounds; and
- (2) acknowledges:
  - (a) the ten soldiers who received an award, some posthumously, including Lieutenant Adrian Roberts, Sergeant Frank Alcorta, Lance Corporal Barry Magnussen (deceased), Second Lieutenant Gordon Sharp (deceased), Privates Neil Bextrum, Ron Brett (deceased), Ian Campbell, William Roche, Geoffrey Peters and Noel Grimes;
  - (b) the service and sacrifice of all those who served their country in Vietnam; and
  - (c) all of Australia's service men and women who display courage, bravery and mateship above and beyond the call of duty.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

13 WHITE RIBBON DAY

Mr Watts, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that White Ribbon:
  - (a) is a male led campaign to end male violence against women;
  - (b) is now active in over 60 countries around the world; and
  - (c) has ambassadors around Australia who are working to engage men and encourage them to take a leadership role in ending violence against women;
- (2) notes that:
  - (a) in 2016 in Australia, each week approximately one woman is murdered by a partner or former partner;
  - (b) one in four Australian women has experienced physical or sexual violence by an intimate partner;
  - (c) men's violence against women is a symptom of gender inequality in our society; and
  - (d) social policy initiatives and law reform addressing gender inequality are central to reducing attitudes that support violence against women;
- (3) recognises that:
  - (a) 25 November is White Ribbon Day; and
  - (b) the white ribbon is the symbol of the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women; and
- (4) supports White Ribbon and other organisations to eliminate violence against women.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

THE PARLIAMENT OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 21

TUESDAY, 22 NOVEMBER 2016

1 The House met, at 12 noon, pursuant to adjournment. The Speaker (the Honourable A. D. H. Smith) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 SUPERANNUATION (OBJECTIVE) BILL 2016

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—

Debate resumed by Mr Bowen who moved, as an amendment—That all the words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes:

- (1) the Budget is under threat due to this Government’s poor economic leadership, which is hitting the pay packets of Australians and risking our triple-A credit rating;
- (2) the Opposition has been leading the debate on reforming superannuation tax concessions for over a year;
- (3) while the Government’s superannuation package goes some way to reforming these concessions, they could go further;
- (4) the Opposition has outlined a clear position for sustainable and fairer super tax concessions that includes:
  - (a) lowering the High Income Superannuation Contribution threshold to $200,000;
  - (b) lowering the annual non-concessional contributions cap to $75,000;
  - (c) opposing the introduction of catch-up concessional contributions; and
  - (d) opposing the changes to tax deductibility for personal superannuation contributions; and
- (5) the Opposition’s position on the super package would improve the budget by $1.4 billion over the forward estimates and $18.9 billion over the medium-term”.

Debate ensued.

It being 1.30 pm, the debate was interrupted in accordance with standing order 43 and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for a later hour this day.

4 QUESTIONS

Questions without notice being asked—

Member directed to leave

At 2.31 pm the Member for Gorton (Mr O'Connor) was directed, under standing order 94, to leave the Chamber for one hour for defying the Chair after a warning had been given by the Chair and he accordingly left the Chamber.

Questions without notice continuing—

Suspension of standing orders moved

Mr Shorten (Leader of the Opposition) moved—That so much of the standing orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Maribryong from moving the following motion forthwith—That the House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) clause 23 of the Prime Minister's own Cabinet Handbook states "Members of the Cabinet must publicly support all Government decisions made in the Cabinet, even if they do not agree with them. Cabinet ministers cannot dissociate themselves from, or repudiate the decisions of their Cabinet colleagues unless they resign from the Cabinet. It is the Prime Minister's role as Chair of the Cabinet, where necessary, to enforce Cabinet solidarity";
  - (b) for the first time in the history of the Liberal-National Coalition, three National Party Ministers in the Cabinet failed to vote for the Cabinet's position, contrary to the Prime Minister's Cabinet Handbook and Cabinet solidarity; and
  - (c) the dysfunction and division in the Government means the Prime Minister and his Ministers are spending every minute fighting for their own jobs and not the jobs of Australians; and
- (2) therefore, condemns the Prime Minister for being so weak and leading a Government that is so divided that the Prime Minister is powerless to act.

Closure of Member

MONDAY, 28 NOVEMBER 2016

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.31 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 DISMISSAL OF WHITLAM GOVERNMENT, CORRESPONDENCE

Mr Hill, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) there is a current controversy pertaining to the so called 'palace letters' between the then Governor-General Sir John Kerr and Her Majesty The Queen in the months leading up to the dismissal of the Whitlam Government; and
  - (b) this correspondence has been declared 'personal' and therefore secret at 'Her Majesty the Queen's instructions';
- (2) acknowledges that:
  - (a) these letters are a matter of our national history which should be made available to the Australian people;
  - (b) regardless of the merits or otherwise of the dismissal, Australians deserve to know the extent to which The Queen involved herself in the sacking of an elected Australian Government; and
  - (c) the very notion of 'personal' letters between the Monarch and the Governor-General offends all concepts of transparency and democracy that we hold dear; and
- (3) calls on the Australian Government to take steps to have the documents released.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 COMMONWEALTH REDRESS SCHEME

Mr Irons, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises the actions this Government has taken to establish the Commonwealth Redress Scheme (CRS) for survivors of institutional child sexual abuse;
- (2) congratulates this Government for leading by example by establishing the CRS for survivors of institutional child sexual abuse and for inviting other governments and institutions to 'opt in' to the scheme on the responsible 'entity pays basis' recommended by the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse;
- (3) acknowledges the courage of the survivors who presented evidence to the Royal Commission and that their past and continuing advocacy for redress is vital to the successful implementation of the CRS; and

- (4) recognises that this Government acknowledges that survivors of institutional child sexual abuse need and deserve equal access and treatment.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 INTERNATIONAL DAY OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITY

Ms Husar, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that:
  - (a) Saturday 3 December 2016 is International Day of People with Disability (IDPwD);
  - (b) the United Nations proclaimed IDPwD for the first time in 1992 as a way of promoting better understanding of disability issues and as a sign of support for the dignity, rights and wellbeing of people with disabilities; and
  - (c) each year, the United Nations chooses a theme for IDPwD and this year's theme is 'Achieving 17 Goals for the Future We Want', which draws attention to the 17 Sustainable Development Goals and how these goals can create a more inclusive and equitable world for people with disabilities;
- (2) encourages all Members of Parliament to support IDPwD in their electorates; and
- (3) reaffirms its commitment to:
  - (a) ensuring Australians with a disability get the support they need; and
  - (b) an adequately funded and resourced National Disability Insurance Scheme.

Debate ensued.

6 ROAD SAFETY

Ms Flint, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) urges all Australians to drive safely and with consideration for fellow road users over the upcoming summer holidays;
- (2) notes the Government has made significant investments in road safety including:
  - (a) $500 million from 2014-15 to 2018-19 in the Black Spot Program (BSP);
  - (b) an additional $200 million from 2015-16 that makes an important contribution to reducing the national road toll under the National Road Safety Strategy and Action Plan; and
  - (c) completing 977 projects under the BSP which has saved an estimated 116 lives and prevented 5,959 injuries from crashes over 10 years;
- (3) encourages all state and territory governments to address the over-representation of men in road fatalities through improved driver information and education; and
- (4) calls on all Australians to drive carefully over the summer period.

7 MARINE PARKS

Mr J. H. Wilson, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that in 2012, following a comprehensive and rigorous process, the then Labor Government declared 40 marine parks in Commonwealth waters, creating the world's first and largest comprehensive national network of marine parks;
- (2) notes with concern that there is increasing pressure on Australia's marine environment, as indicated by frequent and severe bleaching of coral reefs across Australia's northern waters, extensive and unprecedented dieback of mangroves, and the loss of large areas of kelp forests in southern Australian waters;
- (3) notes that Australia's marine environment is the most biologically diverse in the world according to the 2010 Census of Marine Life, with our oceans spanning tropical, temperate and sub-Antarctic waters, and where at least 33,000 marine species have been identified (many of which are found nowhere else on earth);
- (4) notes that Australia is a signatory to the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea and as such is required to both conserve as well as sustainably utilise its Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ);
- (5) notes the economic opportunity that marine parks bring regional communities as evidenced by long standing marine parks in Australia, including the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park which is worth over $6 billion to the Queensland economy, and others including Ningaloo Marine Park, the Great Australian Bight, Lord Howe Island, Solitary Islands Marine Park and Maria Island National Park;
- (6) notes the clear evidence that marine parks play an important economic role in accelerating the recovery of depleted fisheries, and that the long term net effect on fisheries of increased resilience and sustainability from highly protected marine reserves is positive;
- (7) notes that in the 1990s the then Coalition Government put in place a systematic approach for declaring a comprehensive, adequate, and representative network of marine parks in Australia's EEZ, and proceeded to declare 22 marine parks in Commonwealth waters;
- (8) notes with concern that:
  - (a) in December 2013 the incoming Coalition Government suspended Labor's marine parks from operation by re-declaring the parks in order to set aside their management arrangements and commencement date, pending the conduct of a politically motivated and unnecessary review; and
  - (b) after almost 3 years, these 40 marine parks have not been implemented, existing in statute only—leaving 5 of Australia's 6 marine regions with little to no protection at a time when the threats to Australia's valuable and important marine environment are increasing;
- (9) notes that in the May 2016 budget the Coalition Government committed to completing the re-development of the management plans for the new parks within 12 months;
- (10) notes that in the recent consultation by Parks Australia, over 50,000 submissions were received from around Australia, including from more than 5,000 recreational fishers, calling for the reinstatement of the marine parks and their high level marine national park zoning, without further delay or loss of protection;
- (11) notes that the Expert Science Panel of the Coalition Government's own review recognises both the extensive science that went into the development of the marine parks developed by the Labor Government and the scientifically proven benefits of marine national parks;
- (12) notes the Bioregional Advisory Panel of the Coalition Government's own review recognised the extensive consultation that has occurred in developing the marine reserves developed by the Labor Government, stating that there was in fact a considerable amount of 'consultation fatigue' expressed by many stakeholders;
- (13) notes the increasing move by other countries to put in place large and highly protected marine parks in their EEZs, including action taken by the United States, Palau, Chile, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, and, most recently, the declaration in October 2016 by 24 nations, including Australia, of the Ross Sea marine park in the Antarctic high seas; and

- (14) calls on the Coalition Government to bring the Commonwealth network of marine parks that were declared in 2012 into operation without further delay, and with no loss of marine national park protection.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for private Members' business having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

---

Suspension of meeting

At 1.31 pm, the Deputy Speaker left the Chair.

Resumption of meeting

  - (b) the Declaration has been updated from the one signed in February 2014 by Foreign Minister Bishop and the then Foreign Minister Timmermans to reflect current events and increased closeness between our two countries through our shared commitment to achieve accountability with respect to the downing of MH17; and

10 DA'ESH ATROCITIES IN SYRIA AND IRAQ

Mr Hayes, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) since 2014, Da'esh (also known as ISIL) has been carrying out terror campaigns against Christians, Assyrians, Mandaeans, Yazidis, and other ethnic and religious minorities in Iraq and Syria;
  - (b) these campaigns have taken the form of mass murders, torture, rape, kidnappings, sexual enslavement and other crimes; and
  - (c) these atrocities constitute war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide;
- (2) noting that the United Nations mandated Independent International Commission of Inquiry on Syria has declared that Da'esh's actions against the Yazidi people amount to genocide, calls on the:
  - (a) Australian Government to refer to the Da'esh atrocities as war crimes, crimes against humanity and genocide; and

- (b) United Nations and Member States to co-ordinate measures to prevent further atrocities occurring in Syria and Iraq and take all necessary action to hold those responsible to account; and
- (3) commends:
  - (a) the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, the Lebanese Republic, the Republic of Turkey and the Kurdistan Regional Government in Iraq, for their ongoing support and efforts to shelter and protect those fleeing the violence in Syria and Iraq; and
  - (b) those nations that are providing a permanent home for Syrian and Iraqi refugees who are escaping persecution and violence.

- (3) notes that the:
  - (a) Government is investing $125,286,955 in 40 projects around Queensland under 3 rounds of the NSRF; and
  - (b) NSRF is delivering infrastructure projects to create jobs in regional areas, improve community facilities and support stronger and more sustainable communities across Queensland.

12 PERFLUORINATED AND POLYFLUORINATED ALKYL SUBSTANCES CONTAMINATION

Ms Swanson, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) establish a national inter-governmental taskforce to co-ordinate the response of state/territory and federal government agencies to the perfluorinated and polyfluorinated (per- and poly-fluoro) alkyl substances contamination on and around Royal Australian Air Force (RAAF) bases at Williamtown and Oakey, and throughout Australia;
  - (b) develop a nationally consistent approach for screening and health guidelines, assessments, containment, management standards and remediation protocols for Commonwealth sites and their surroundings that are identified as being contaminated with per- and poly-fluoro alkyl substances;

- (2) while welcoming the New South Wales Environmental Protection Agency's lifting of fishing bans implemented as a result of the contamination, calls on the Government to:
  - (a) ensure income support is available to affected commercial fishers through to March 2017; and
  - (b) advocate for leniency by lending institutions with respect to business and home loan repayments and lending practices involving properties in the Williamtown investigation zone.

Debate ensued.

13 STRZELECKI TRACK

Mr Ramsey, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
  - (a) the Strzelecki Track is a vital freight and tourist route connecting Adelaide to the Moomba Gas fields in South Australia's far north-east and South East Queensland;
  - (b) the route is used extensively by pastoralists, mining vehicles and tourists and is no longer fit for purpose due to pot holes, bulldust and closures from flooding;
  - (c) it can take more than 12 hours for heavy transport to negotiate 338 kilometres from Lyndhurst to Moomba;
  - (d) the Track is used by many tourists heading into the heart of Australia and visiting some of the wonders of outback South Australia and Queensland and with a proper standard road there is great potential to grow this industry; and
  - (e) the Track is also used by heavy transport which supports the exploitation of the Moomba Gas Fields and trucks carrying supplies to, and cattle from, properties and they are totally reliant on this route;
- (2) notes that:
  - (a) the Track cuts through remote and inhospitable country where emergency services are reliant on the Royal Flying Doctor Service;
  - (b) more than 30 road trains navigate the Track each day carrying vital equipment for the gas industry and thousands of dollars of damage is done to each of these trucks on a daily basis; and
  - (c) rain can close the road for up to six weeks as it did in 2010 when large sections were washed away or left underwater and on average shuts the road for 45 days a year; and
- (3) calls on the state and federal governments to work together in an urgent manner to bring about the sealing of this vital route.

Debate ensued.

15 NBN AND RURAL AND REGIONAL AUSTRALIA

Ms McGowan, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the NBN Fair Use Policy is unfair for rural and regional Australia;
  - (b) rural NBN users have restricted data speeds, limits on capacity and have to pay more for a poorer service;
  - (c) under the NBN Interim Satellite Service, rural users had ‘off peak’ data from 11 pm to 2 pm;
  - (d) on the new NBN Sky Muster Satellite Service, the ‘off peak’ data has now changed to between 1 am and 7 am; and
  - (e) the consequence of the NBN Fair Use Policy is that businesses, students, home workers and farmers have reduced Internet access and pay comparatively more; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) implement the recommendations of the 2015 Regional Telecommunications Review and review the NBN Fair Use Policy in light of the impact on rural families and businesses;
  - (b) maximise the amount of data available under the satellite service; and
  - (c) revert the off-peak period in the NBN Fair Use Policy to 11 pm to 2 pm, to accommodate the realities of rural life.

THE PARLIAMENT OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 25

TUESDAY, 29 NOVEMBER 2016

1 The House met, at 12 noon, pursuant to adjournment. The Speaker (the Honourable A. D. H. Smith) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Message No. 65, 28 November 2016, from the Senate was reported informing the House that, from 5 December 2016, Senator Duniam is to be discharged from attendance on the Joint Committee of Public Accounts and Audit, and Senator Bernardi is to be appointed a member of the committee.

3 PASSENGER MOVEMENT CHARGE AMENDMENT BILL (NO. 2) 2016—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

When the Treasurer introduced the Passenger Movement Charge Amendment Bill (No. 2) 2016, the Member for Grayndler sought a ruling from the Chair whether the legislation could proceed when it sought to bind future Parliaments by legislating that there would not be a further increase in the charge for five years after 1 July 2017.

It is not clear what point was being raised by the Member for Grayndler. The House frequently legislates measures that will apply many years into the future. There is nothing for me to rule on, but I do of course make the point that it is open to any future Parliament to amend such legislation.

Mr Albanese, by indulgence, also made a statement on the matter.

4 INCOME TAX RATES AMENDMENT (WORKING HOLIDAY MAKER REFORM) BILL 2016 (NO. 2)

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—

Debate resumed by Mr Bowen who moved, as an amendment—That all the words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give the bill a second reading as:

- (1) after the introduction of the backpacker tax in 2015 there has been widespread damage and financial cost to the agriculture, hospitality and tourism sectors across regional Australia including Tasmania and Queensland;
- (2) the package has been criticised by no less than 15 Coalition Members of Parliament;
- (3) no consultation occurred with the agriculture sector before the tax was first introduced;
- (4) the tax rate changed from 19 per cent to 15 per cent after the Treasurer was:
  - (a) pressured by the Labor Party’s strong position in favour of a 10.5 per cent tax rate;
  - (b) pressured by the revolt from the horticulture and tourism sectors; and
  - (c) rolled on economic policy by the crossbench;
- (5) the tax rate change will cost $120 million despite the Minister for Finance saying that the Government had compromised “as far as we can sensibly compromise, given the Budget bottom line cannot afford a further tax cut beyond what it is that we have put on the table”; and

And so it was negatived.

Debate resumed by Mr Albanese who moved, as an amendment—That all the words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House:

- (1) declines to give the bill a second reading as the existence of this bill is policy-on-the-run in that:
  - (a) an increase in the Passenger Movement Charge bears no relation to the issue of the appropriate level of taxation for backpackers who work in Australia;
  - (b) an increase in the Passenger Movement Charge was not part of the original package in the May 2015 Budget;
  - (c) over sixteen months later, in September 2016, the Government announced further changes to the package and randomly added a $5 increase to the Passenger Movement Charge to fund other unrelated policy decisions;

- (d) the increase in the Passenger Movement Charge was done without any consultation with the sectors affected – including airlines, cruise ship companies, tourism operators, and tourism peak organisations;
  - (e) the Treasurer indicated in a media conference on November 8 that he would simply seek to double the $5 increase to $10 if other unrelated elements of the package failed; and
  - (f) the increase in the Passenger Movement Charge has real consequences for tourism and will have jobs impacts in the tourism industry, which employs a million Australians, is Australia’s largest services export and has been nominated as one of Australia’s five super growth sectors; and
- (2) notes further that the handling of the Passenger Movement Charge in the Parliament has been chaotic in that:
- (a) no modelling of the economic and jobs impact of this measure accompanies the bill before the Parliament;
  - (b) this increase breaks an election commitment from the Government not to increase the Charge;
  - (c) this bill directly contradicts the statement of the Minister for Tourism who told the Parliament on August 31 that previous increases in the Passenger Movement Charge would choke “the golden goose that is Australia’s tourism industry”;
  - (d) the increase failed in the Senate last week after the Government sought to bring it on for a vote; and
  - (e) the five-year freeze would extend beyond the life of this Parliament, and is a meaningless statement designed to secure support for this flawed legislation”.

Debate ensued.

  - (f) only this morning, the Minister for Finance said "The deal that is on the table for the Senate is a 15 per cent rate; if it's not 15 per cent then it will be 32.5 per cent";
- (2) calls on the Government to end the chaos and deal with the backpacker tax immediately by accepting the sensible compromise offered by the Senate; and
- (3) therefore, suspends so much of the standing and sessional orders as would prevent order of the day No. 3 relating to the Income Tax Rates Amendment (Working Holiday Maker Reform) Bill 2016 being called on immediately.

33 DOCUMENT

The Speaker presented the following document:

Committee reports—Schedule of outstanding Government responses to reports of House of Representatives and joint committees, also incorporating reports tabled and details of Government responses made in the period between 5 May 2016, the date of the last schedule, and 30 November 2016.

34 DOCUMENTS

The following documents were presented:

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social Justice Commissioner—Social Justice and Native Title—Report for 2015-16.

Aboriginal Land Commissioner—Reports to the Minister for Indigenous Affairs and to the Administrator of the Northern Territory—No. 73—Frances Well Land Claim No. 64.

National Children's Commissioner—Children's Rights—Report for 2015-16.

Social Policy and Legal Affairs—House of Representatives Standing Committee—Eyes in the sky: Inquiry into drones and the regulation of air safety and privacy—Government response, December 2016.

35 LEAVE OF ABSENCE TO ALL MEMBERS

Mr Pyne (Leader of the House), moved—That leave of absence be given to every Member of the House of Representatives from the determination of this sitting of the House to the date of its next sitting.

Question—put and passed.

36 PROTEST IN PUBLIC GALLERY ON 30 NOVEMBER—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

Yesterday, question time in the House was interrupted by a group of protesters in the public gallery.

I made the decision to suspend proceedings at the time which, as I said yesterday, was a last resort in what were clearly extraordinary circumstances. As I noted yesterday, our purpose here is to conduct the business of the House, which we were prevented from doing for a period of time while those people who were disrupting the House were removed from the gallery.

The actions yesterday of those people, who prevented the House from conducting its business, also prevented all the other visitors in the galleries from observing their parliament and their representatives at work, as well as those watching and listening to the broadcast from outside this Chamber.

We all want members of the public to be able to visit this building and observe the work of the House of Representatives in person, but there is a balance between the right of people to access the galleries and the need for the House to be able to operate and conduct its work without interruption.

Yes, we are a robust democracy but this will never give licence to a vocal minority to shout down elected representatives, damage this building, violate the democratic rights of other people wishing to view proceedings and, to be quite frank, alarm and possibly frighten the many innocent citizens and school children who I know were inside and outside the Chamber yesterday.

Yesterday I indicated that a thorough investigation would be undertaken, and I can advise the House that this investigation has commenced. Among other things, this investigation will cover:

- procedures for security screening of people attending the public galleries;
- ticketing procedures for question time; and
- procedures for non-ticketed attendees.

I have spoken with the Head of the Department of Parliamentary Services, Mr Rob Stefanic and as a consequence of these discussions we will also look into security response procedures and capacity in the building.

The President and I are currently considering all aspects in relation to cost recovery for the damage that was done to the Chamber and any possible charges.

Protest Activity this morning

In addition to the protest activity yesterday, Members would be aware that early this morning, two protesters accessed the Queens Terrace and unfurled a banner on the facade of Parliament House. A further 13 protesters entered the forecourt pond and poured red coloured dye into it.

The protesters in the pond eventually left after a request by the Australian Federal Police. The protesters that abseiled from the facade removed the banner and lowered themselves after a direction by the Australian Federal Police.

I am advised that the ACT Police are considering charges in respect of the protesters that abseiled off the facade.

As a final word I wish to thank the officers of the Parliamentary Security Service and the Australian Federal Police who removed the protesters yesterday and today in such a professional and orderly way.

I will update Members on outcomes of the investigation as appropriate. I thank the House.

37 DISCUSSION OF MATTER OF PUBLIC IMPORTANCE—GOVERNMENT’S YEAR

The House was informed that Mr Shorten (Leader of the Opposition), had proposed that a definite matter of public importance be submitted to the House for discussion, namely, “The Government’s year that has harmed Australians”.

The proposed discussion having received the necessary support—

Mr Shorten addressed the House.

Discussion ensuing—

Mr Morrison (Treasurer) moved—That the business of the day be called on.

45 MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE—FINANCIAL SERVICES INDUSTRY

Message No. 80, 1 December 2016, from the Senate was reported informing the House that the Senate had agreed to the following resolution:

That the Senate—

- (a) notes that:
  - (i) confidence and trust in the financial services industry has been shaken by ongoing revelations of scandals, which have resulted in tens of thousands of Australians being ripped off, including:
    - (A) retirees who have had their retirement savings gutted;
    - (B) families who have been rorted out of hundreds of thousands of dollars;
    - (C) small business owners who have lost everything; and
    - (D) life insurance policy holders who have been denied justice;
  - (ii) it is clear from the breadth and scope of the allegations that the problems in this industry go beyond any one bank or type of financial institution;
  - (iii) the Australian Labor Party, the Australian Greens, crossbench, Liberal and Nationals parliamentarians have supported a thorough investigation of the culture and practices within the financial services industry through a Royal Commission, which is the only forum with the coercive powers and broad jurisdiction necessary to properly perform this investigation;
  - (iv) Australia has one of the strongest banking systems in the world, but Australians must have confidence in their banks and financial institutions, making it necessary to sweep away doubt and uncover and deal with unethical behaviour that compromises that confidence; and
  - (v) the case for a Royal Commission into misconduct in the banking and financial services industry has only become stronger over time; and
- (b) the Senate calls on the Government to request His Excellency the Governor-General of the Commonwealth of Australia issue Letters Patent to establish a Royal Commission to inquire into misconduct in the banking and financial services industry, including their agents and managed investment schemes.

The Senate requests the concurrence of the House in this resolution.

Mr Pyne (Leader of the House) moved—That the message be considered at the next sitting.

Mr Burke moved, as an amendment—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the message be taken into consideration immediately.”

Closure

Mr Pyne moved—That the question be now put.

Question—That the question be now put—put and passed.

And the question—That the amendment be agreed to—being accordingly put—

2 SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDERS MOVED

Mr Wilkie moved—That so much of the standing orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Denison from moving the following motion immediately—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that Centrelink has, since late 2016, been sending out numerous incorrect notices relating to debt recovery – by its estimation, at least 4,000 of the 20,000 debt notices sent each week are incorrect;
- (2) notes the severe financial and emotional toll that the debt recovery system has had on thousands of people, including some of the most vulnerable, with some going so far as to talk of suicide;
- (3) notes the many well-documented problems with the system, including:
  - (a) incorrect debts being raised by a crude data-matching of a person's annual income as reported by the Australian Taxation Office with their fortnightly income reported to Centrelink;
  - (b) alleged debts having been referred to debt collection agencies in a short amount of time, often when the person has not even been made aware of the alleged debt because they have not received adequate notice from Centrelink;
  - (c) people being asked for payslips and other proof of income from periods or in circumstances where they could not reasonably be expected to provide such documentation; and
  - (d) the Department of Human Services often refusing to explain how an alleged debt has been calculated, and in some cases recalculating the alleged debt seemingly at random;
- (4) notes that while the Minister for Human Services has indicated that some minor changes will be made, the program remains deeply flawed and must be shut down immediately;
- (5) condemns the Minister for not only refusing to admit that there is a problem with the system, but also for insisting that the system will continue to operate despite it incorrectly targeting thousands of innocent Australians and its failure to treat people fairly and humanely; and
- (6) calls on the Minister to:
  - (a) ensure that all Centrelink debt recovery activities are timely and accurate, and are conducted in a fair and humane manner; and
  - (b) convene, as a matter of urgency, an expert stakeholder roundtable to design a fair and humane system of debt detection and recovery.

Debate ensued.

The time allowed by standing order 1 for debate on the motion having expired—

Question—That the motion for the suspension of standing orders be agreed to—put.

20 PROTESTS ON 30 NOVEMBER AND 1 DECEMBER 2016—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

Members will recall that on 30 November last year protestors disrupted proceedings in the chamber, which necessitated a suspension of proceedings, and on the following day hung a banner outside the building. At the time I advised the House that an investigation into the events would be undertaken.

At the outset, I can indicate that four briefs of evidence have been referred by ACT Policing to the Commonwealth Director of Public Prosecutions for evaluation along with the recommendation that charges be laid. The briefs relate to charges of criminal damage to the leather work in the chamber gallery and the Forecourt water feature and to trespass on the facade of the building.

The Parliamentary departments and the Australian Federal Police are finalising a report to the President of the Senate and me on the incidents and will make recommendations, including those for medium and longer term implementation.

In the interim, Members will note a more visible presence by the Parliamentary Security Service in the public galleries, particularly during Question Times. There will also be a greater presence by the Australian Federal Police outside the galleries and in Members' Hall where people obtain their tickets and queue to enter the galleries.

As presiding officers, the President of the Senate and I are responsible for security at Parliament House and for the safety of all occupants and visitors. In reality, it will be difficult to eliminate all risk of protest action in the building without much more intrusive screening measures. We need to strike a balance between welcoming the public to come and see their parliament in action and ensuring that the chambers are not interrupted by a vocal but very small minority of people. We will continue to take advice and seek the most prudent balance between ease of access to the building by visitors and the needs of security.

I will provide additional updates as appropriate.

The Speaker presented the following documents:

10 TRANSPORT SECURITY AMENDMENT (SERIOUS OR ORGANISED CRIME) BILL 2016

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—

Debate resumed by Mr Albanese who moved, as an amendment—That all the words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House:

- (1) notes that the Government failed to articulate a policy for the aviation or maritime sectors at the 2016 Federal election;
- (2) notes the Turnbull Government’s failed WorkChoices On Water legislation would have seriously undermined the Australian maritime sector;
- (3) notes in particular that the Government has:

- (a) failed to rule out further laws in coastal shipping that would aid the displacement of Australian crews on the Australian coast with foreign crews doing the same work for reduced wages and conditions;
  - (b) failed to outline its response to the High Court's decision to overturn the Government's attempt to circumvent Parliament's intention to give priority to Australian jobs in our offshore oil and gas sector;
  - (c) actively worked to facilitate the replacement of Australian maritime crews by foreign crews for permanent work in Australia, by arranging rapid visas, skills recognition and access to ports in cases such as the MV Portland in January 2016; and
  - (d) previously considered relaxing air cabotage arrangements that could have the effect of displacing Australian flight and cabin crews with foreign crews on lower wages and conditions while working in Australia;
- (4) notes that the Government and its expert agencies have repeatedly acknowledged the obvious point that criminal and security vetting of foreign aviation and maritime workers is much harder than for Australian workers; and
- (5) calls on the Federal Government to develop as a matter of urgency aviation and maritime policies, ensuring that such policies prioritise jobs and skills for Australians while also facilitating more reliable background checks".

Debate ensued.

It being 1.30 pm, the debate was interrupted in accordance with standing order 43, Mr J. H. Wilson was granted leave to continue his speech when the debate is resumed, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for a later hour this day.

  - (c) investment the Government is making in digital services such as myGov, to further improve this service which is now used by more than ten million Australians; and

8 NATIONAL SWIMMING AND WATER SAFETY FRAMEWORK

Mr Thistlethwaite, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) that Australians live by the water, and being in and around water is part of our nation's culture and our identity, but this regular exposure to water brings risks that can be fatal;
  - (b) that so far this summer in Australia, 69 people have drowned on our coastline and in our pools and waterways, and paramedics report responding to 225 drownings or near drownings in November and December 2016;
  - (c) that in 2015-16, 280 people drowned in Australia, a 5 per cent increase in drownings from 2014-15;
  - (d) with concern that there is no national approach to swimming and water safety education in Australia, and that:
    - (i) the water safety education Australian children receive depends on where they live and in some cases on their parents income level;
    - (ii) not every Australian child is receiving the necessary instruction in swimming and water safety; and
    - (iii) in some states and territories there is no swimming and water safety program at schools; and
  - (e) studies have consistently shown a concerning trend in children starting secondary school without the ability to swim and research shows that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students are less likely to achieve identified benchmarks for water safety competence compared to non-indigenous students and this is also the case for children not born in Australia; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) implement the National Swimming and Water Safety Framework (the Framework) and ensure every child has access to water safety and swimming education by the time they complete primary school with every child given access to instruction in swimming and water safety in accordance with the Framework;
  - (b) conduct a parliamentary inquiry to investigate why many Australian children are not receiving adequate swimming and water safety education consistent with the Australian Water Safety Strategy and what measures it can adopt to improve access to swimming and water safety education;

- (c) establish a national water safety education fund to provide support to the states and territories, water safety organisations and communities to ensure access to swimming pools, accredited trainers and water safety education for schools in communities which lack such facilities and services; and
- (d) provide water and surf safety messages in foreign languages via tourism operators, flights, hotels and tours across Australia highlighting the importance of swimming and water safety on beaches, rivers, lakes and swimming pools.

  - (b) a proposal to cut all federal funding from public schools; and
  - (c) tearing up agreements negotiated by the previous Labor Government, that required states and territories to:
    - (i) maintain and grow their funding for schools, in return for increased Commonwealth funding; and
    - (ii) improve teaching quality, literacy and numeracy; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) urgently share a detailed plan for future funding of our schools, including the funding each state, system and school will receive from 2018 onwards;
  - (b) reverse the cut of $30 billion from schools;
  - (c) explain why they tore up agreements that required states and territories to increase funding for schools as Commonwealth contributions increased, and improve teaching, literacy and numeracy; and

  - (c) 57 countries have already endorsed the Safe Schools Declaration to protect education in armed conflict situations; and

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) yesterday, the Government introduced legislation amending the Native Title Act;

3 INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

Ms Claydon, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that International Women's Day:
  - (a) was celebrated on Thursday 8 March, with this year's theme being Be Bold for Change; and
  - (b) is an important time to reflect on Australia's achievements in advancing gender equality, but also recommit to action to break through remaining barriers, including:
    - (i) gender pay inequity, which has remained unbalanced for two decades and currently sits at 17 per cent;
    - (ii) representation of women in leadership, with gender equality in the Federal Parliament not likely to be achieved until 2046 on the current trajectory; and
    - (iii) violence against women, which results in one Australian woman being killed by a partner or former partner on average every week; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) stand up for female workers and oppose cuts to penalty rates that will exacerbate the existing gender pay gap;
  - (b) abandon plans to cut Paid Parental Leave which will see 70,000 new mothers worse off each year;
  - (c) rule out cuts to women's refuges currently funded through the National Affordable Housing Agreement; and
  - (d) abandon cuts to community legal centres that assist women and children escaping family violence.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 COAL INDUSTRY

Ms M. L. Landry, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House notes that:

- (1) the Australian coal industry plays a vital role in the creation of jobs and investment in this country, particularly in central Queensland;
- (2) coal-fired power stations have an ongoing role in Australia in ensuring consistent, affordable and safe supply of electricity for all Australians;

- (3) while acknowledging the current and future growth of renewable energy sources in Australia, energy sourced from coal will continue to be a major contributor to our national energy output for the foreseeable future; and
- (4) major resource company directors in Australia have flagged concerns that a lack of ‘energy security’ in Australia would make major minerals and resources projects unviable, deterring future international investment and harming jobs and growth.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 RAKHINE STATE IN MYANMAR

Ms T. M. Butler, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) commends the work funded by the Australian Development Assistance program through bilateral, multilateral and non-government organisation partners like Save the Children, to strengthen governance, democracy and vulnerable communities across Myanmar;
- (2) is cognisant of and concurs with international concern about the marginalisation and displacement of Muslims in Rakhine State in Myanmar, particularly since 2012;
- (3) expresses its grave concern about the coordinated attacks on Border Guard Police posts of 9 October 2016, at three locations in northern Rakhine State, and:
  - (a) offers its condolences to the families of the nine police officers who were killed and to the Myanmar people;
  - (b) abhors the violence and the theft of guns and ammunition; and
  - (c) asserts that those responsible for such a heinous crime should be brought to justice;
- (4) observes also that in the interests of democracy, peace, security and human rights, the rule of law should be upheld in Rakhine State, and calls on security forces to conduct security operations in a manner that does not marginalise or displace people in Rakhine State;
- (5) notes:
  - (a) the very real risk that excessive use of force may have on the effect of radicalising and further marginalising the Muslim community in Rakhine State, increasing conflict and hampering efforts to achieve peaceful outcomes; and
  - (b) with deep concern, the report on 3 February 2017 from the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights on reported human rights violations occurring in northern Rakhine State;
- (6) acknowledges:
  - (a) the national-level bodies established to investigate reports of human rights abuses in northern Rakhine State and urges them to undertake credible, thorough and impartial investigations;
  - (b) the work of the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Myanmar, and commends the Myanmar State Counsellor (MSC) for meeting with the Special Rapporteur; and
  - (c) also the Advisory Commission on Rakhine State, and commends the MSC for having established that Commission; and
- (7) calls upon the civilian government, military, and parliament of Myanmar to redouble their efforts to end the marginalisation and displacement of Muslims in Rakhine State, and to seek to create conditions in which all residents of Rakhine State can live peacefully, can have access to education and healthcare, and can have freedom of movement.

Mr B. K. Mitchell, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the retail trade industry is the second largest employment category in Australia;
  - (b) one third of workers in the retail trade industry are between 15 to 24 years of age;
  - (c) the Fair Work Commission's (FWC's) decision to cut penalty rates in the retail trade will disproportionately affect young people;
  - (d) the take home pay of young retail workers will be severely hit as a result of the FWC's decision to cut Sunday and public holiday penalty rates for young retail workers;
  - (e) cutting penalty rates for young retail workers increases cost of living pressures as many are studying during the week; and
  - (f) young retail workers will have to work longer hours for the same pay, with less time to study;
- (2) condemns Government Members and Senators who called for cuts to penalty rates and their continuous pressuring of the FWC to reduce penalty rates; and

  - (a) Government Members and Senators to stand with Labor to protect low paid workers take home pay; and

  - (b) the small business sector employs almost five million Australians;
  - (c) Australia's small businesses are at their best when Australians shop locally;
  - (d) the Government has:
    - (i) a plan to cut taxes for Australia's small businesses;
    - (ii) backed small business with access to the $20,000 instant asset write-off programme;
    - (iii) a plan to increase by 90,000, the number of small businesses to which this programme applies; and
    - (iv) levelled the playing field for small businesses online through changes to GST on purchases from overseas; and

- (2) calls on all Australians to:

10 CITIZENSHIP APPLICATIONS

Mr Hill, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) that Australian citizenship is precious and the community must have confidence that the Australian Citizenship Act 2007 is administered fairly, impartially and with integrity;
  - (b) that the law provides that Australian citizenship by conferral is available to everyone who meets the legislated criteria, regardless of visa class; and
  - (c) the enormous, inexplicable and unconscionable delays by the Department of Immigration and Border Protection in processing thousands of citizenship applications;
- (2) acknowledges the devastating impact of delays and uncertainty on affected people, whose lives are in limbo, whose mental health is suffering, who are often unable to travel and who have been separated from their family for many years;
- (3) notes the Federal Court of Australia in BMF v Minister for Immigration and Border Protection [2016] case which:
  - (a) found that there had been unreasonable delays in the department's processing of citizenship applications of two men on protection visas who had been waiting 18 months and 23 months, respectively;
  - (b) received evidence from the Minister for Immigration and Border Protection that more than 10,000 applications requiring 'further assessment' were outstanding as of July 2016, yet only 12 officers in the department were even trained to assess these applications; and
  - (c) noted that the evidence provided suggested that something beyond resourcing of the citizenship program had caused very significant delays, and that the possibility of applications being ordered by reference to an 'unreasonable rationale' could not be excluded; and

- (4) calls on the Government to:
- (a) admit to and apologise for these delays;
  - (b) take immediate action to process the full backlog of citizenship applications this year; and
  - (c) publicly assure affected people and the wider community that the citizenship function will be administered fairly, impartially and expeditiously in the future.

    - (i) has savagely cut infrastructure spending in Queensland, sapping confidence and costing jobs; and
    - (ii) slashed infrastructure spending by more than $2 billion in its first year in office;
  - (b) over the next four years, infrastructure spending has been cut by almost $3 billion; and
  - (c) the Queensland Government:
    - (i) has not funded one new major infrastructure project in two years in office; and
    - (ii) is more interested in political point scoring than working collaboratively with the Australian Government on new infrastructure projects; and
- (3) calls on the Queensland Government to reverse this concerning trend and deliver infrastructure that the people of Queensland require and the Queensland economy desperately needs.

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the Australian Government is committed to providing water infrastructure to increase agricultural production and irrigation potential across Australia;

- (b) the Australian Government has committed funding to the following projects, which are examples of how the Coalition is serious about jobs and growth in this country, promising:

7 MEMBERS' STATEMENTS

Members' statements were made.

8 GLOBAL GAG RULE

Dr Leigh, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
- (a) the Global Gag Rule (GGR), as implemented by the United States, will prove detrimental to millions of women and girls around the world;
  - (b) the GGR has expanded to an unprecedented degree, applying to 15 times more funding as a consequence of its extension into all global health funding, which will result in roughly $9.5 billion dollars in global health funding being affected;
  - (c) the GGR will result in the targeting of some of the most effective health organisations in the world, operating in 60 low and middle income countries;
  - (d) a study by researchers at Stanford University found that after the GGR came into effect in 2001, the abortion rate increased sharply in sub-Saharan African countries that had been dependent on such funding;

- (e) the funding cuts will likely prevent many global health organisations from offering HIV prevention and treatment services, maternal health care and even Zika virus prevention; and
  - (f) it is possible that as many as 21,700 maternal deaths could occur in the next four years as a consequence of this executive order, which is in addition to 6.5 million unintended pregnancies and 2.1 million unsafe abortions from 2017 to 2020, according to Marie Stopes International;
- (2) recognises that:
- (a) when Labor was in government, overseas development assistance increased from 0.28 per cent of Gross National Income in 2007-08 to 0.37 per cent in 2013-14, and was on track to reach 0.50 per cent in 2017-18; and
  - (b) under the Coalition, development assistance is now just 0.23 per cent of national income, the lowest level since comparable records began in the 1970s, and well below the OECD average of 0.30 per cent; and
- (3) calls on the Australian Government to join the Dutch, Belgian, Swedish and Canadian governments in filling the gap in development assistance funding left by the United States Government's imposition of the GGR.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

9 VICTORIA AND LAW AND ORDER

Mr Crewther, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
- (a) the Victorian Labor Government was elected on 29 November 2014 and the Premier was sworn in on 4 December 2014;
  - (b) the Premier:
    - (i) in his election platform stated: 'More young people are turning to a life of crime. Crime has increased every year...Courts and prison systems are under huge pressure'; and
    - (ii) took only one promise to that election in regards to law and order—$148.6 million to free up some of the 400 officers who supervise prisoners in holding cells;
  - (c) since being elected, the Victorian Government has seen prison riots, millions of dollars in damage to prison facilities, and a total loss of control over the justice system;
  - (d) when the Premier was elected, the crime rate was 7,869 offences per 100,000 Victorians, and Victoria's crime rate two years later is now 8,975 offences per 100,000 Victorians;
  - (e) between October 2015 and September 2016 this crime rate includes 12.6 per cent more assaults, 21.5 per cent more robberies, 13.7 per cent more burglaries and break and enters, 17.5 per cent more thefts, and 75.3 per cent more justice procedures;
  - (f) the Victorian Government is unable to control the criminals in prison let alone the criminals on the streets of Victoria; and
  - (g) under the Victorian Government, Victorians are just less safe;
- (2) further notes that the Australian Government supports the fight against crime in Victoria, more broadly and specifically in the electoral division of Dunkley, through measures such as $925,150 from the Safer Streets Programme (SSP);
- (3) calls on:
- (a) the Federal Opposition to support measures that allow the Government to achieve savings to ensure even more funding for programmes like the SSP; and
  - (b) Members of the Victorian Parliament to ensure that Victoria has stronger policies on law and order including less bail and more jail for criminals who would pose a risk to the community; and
- (4) condemns the Victorian Government for a lack of action on law and order and failing to protect Victorians.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

10 PROPOSED MINISTER FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Ms Sharkie, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the first Minister for Employment and Youth Affairs was appointed by the Fraser Government in 1978;
  - (b) subsequent Labor and Coalition Australian Governments have appointed Ministers with a portfolio concerned with youth, and the Howard Government had three different Ministers who held the youth affairs portfolio;
  - (c) in 2013 the Abbott Government abolished the youth portfolio;
  - (d) in May 2014, the Government advised it was planning a ‘focused and targeted approach’ to consult with young people, yet this year is likely to have the last National Youth Week with no funding in the forward estimates;
  - (e) the Deloitte 2017 Millennial Survey suggests that young people struggle to engage with major political parties—not having a Youth Minister acts as a clear signal that engagement with young people is not a priority for this Government; and
  - (f) Australia’s youth unemployment and underemployment are an increasingly systemic concern, with the current youth unemployment rate sitting at 13.3 per cent and the youth underemployment rate sitting at 18.3 per cent; and
- (2) calls on the Government to appoint a Minister for Young People, sitting within the Cabinet, having a particular focus on youth engagement, youth employment and transition to work.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

- (2) reaffirms the strong alliance relationship between Australia and the United States;
- (3) supports continued diplomatic, military and economic cooperation between Australia and the United States; and
- (4) reaffirms the importance of a United States-Australia relationship based on mutual respect befitting a close and longstanding alliance partner crucial to the preservation of Australia’s national interests in the Asia-Pacific region and around the world.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

12 HAZELWOOD POWER STATION CLOSURE

Ms L. M. Chesters, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

  - (b) its closure will affect 750 direct jobs in Gippsland;
  - (c) unemployment is already at 8.1 per cent in the Latrobe Valley;
  - (d) the Victorian Government has created a $266 million transition package for workers affected by the Hazelwood closure; and
  - (e) the Australian Government has only contributed $43 million to this transition package;

- (2) acknowledges that government plays an important role in creating policy settings to attract new investment and jobs, both in the Latrobe Valley and across regional Australia in general;
- (3) condemns the Australian Government's:
  - (a) inaction in not meeting with affected workers; and
  - (b) failure to act in setting policies that give business the confidence to invest and create jobs; and
- (4) calls on Australian Government Ministers to meet with affected workers and their unions and to start investing in industry and jobs across regional Australia in the upcoming federal budget.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

  - (a) introduced legislation which doubles the maximum penalties for firearms trafficking offences, including mandatory minimum sentences of five years imprisonment;
  - (b) invested:
    - (i) $88 million to increase screening and examination of international mail, air and sea cargo to detect illicit firearms and firearms parts at our borders; and
    - (ii) $116 million in the National Anti-Gangs Squad which has been successful in getting illegal guns off our streets; and
  - (c) provided an additional $25.4 million to fund the expansion of the Australian Federal Police's (AFP's) National Forensics Rapid Lab to enhance the AFP's capacity to detect and seize illegal firearms and target the criminal syndicates that peddle them;
- (3) notes that the Australian Labor Party and the Australian Greens have opposed mandatory minimum sentences for illegal firearms trafficking; and

And so it was resolved in the affirmative.

Mr D. J. Chester presented reasons, which were circulated, and are as follows:

Reasons of the House of Representatives for disagreeing to the amendments of the Senate

Purpose of the Bill

The Transport Security Amendment (Serious or Organised Crime) Bill 2016 (the Bill) introduces an additional purpose to the Aviation Transport Security Act 2004 (the Aviation Act) and the Maritime Transport and Offshore Facilities Security Act 2003 (the Maritime Act) to reduce criminal influence at Australia's security controlled airports, security regulated ports, security regulated ships, and security regulated offshore facilities.

The additional purpose applies solely to the aviation and maritime security identification card (ASIC and MSIC) schemes, enabling the introduction of new eligibility criteria to better target serious criminal offences.

Senate amendments (7) and (13)

The amendments (7) and (13) passed by the Senate would seek to require that certain serious or organised crime offences only be relevant to the ASIC and MSIC schemes if the offences were connected to terrorism.

The purpose of the Bill is to strengthen the ASIC and MSIC schemes by targeting serious or organised crime, in addition to preventing unlawful interference with aviation, maritime transport and offshore facilities.

Terrorism related offences are already separately captured in the ASIC and MSIC eligibility criteria. Limiting the application of other serious offences to connection with terrorism severely restricts the ability to exclude persons convicted of other serious offences, such as offences relating to criminal organisations or gangs.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

Senate amendments (8) and (14)

The amendments (8) and (14) passed by the Senate would incorporate the ASIC and MSIC appeals mechanisms within the Aviation and Maritime Acts respectively.

The appeals process is essential to the transparency of the schemes. A comprehensive appeals process already exists in the Aviation Transport Security Regulation 2005 (Aviation Regulations) and Maritime Transport and Offshore Facilities Security Regulations 2003 (Maritime Regulations). These appeal processes have existed in the respective Aviation and Maritime Regulations since the inception of these schemes.

Should the Bill be passed, the appeals process for ASIC applicants will be expanded. This will provide ASIC applicants with the ability to apply to the Secretary of the Attorney-General's Department for reconsideration of a discretionary decision (an ability that already exists for MSIC applicants).

The Office of Parliamentary Counsel has advised that introducing ASIC and MSIC appeals mechanisms into primary legislation would not create any additional practical protection against future changes to the Aviation and Maritime Regulations.

Further, the Senate Standing Committee on Regulations and Ordinances will examine any regulatory amendment to ensure that the rights and liberties of citizens are not unduly dependent on administrative decisions, which are not subject to review of their merits by a judicial or other independent tribunal.

Accordingly, the House of Representatives does not accept these amendments.

On the motion of Mr D. J. Chester, the reasons were adopted.

Mr D. J. Chester moved—That amendments Nos (1) to (6) and (9) to (12) be disagreed to and Government amendments Nos (1) to (10) made in place thereof.

Mr D. J. Chester presented a supplementary explanatory memorandum to the bill.

40 SENATE REPORT ON A MATTER OF PRIVILEGE—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

Yesterday, the Manager of Opposition Business asked me a question in relation to a Senate Committee of Privileges report, presented in the Senate on Tuesday. The Senate report dealt with a privilege matter involving search warrants and a senator.

Overnight, I have carefully considered the Member's question to me, and in particular paragraph 3.37 of the Senate report. Given the significance of the issues raised and the overlap of the Senate report with a matter of privilege concluded by this House late last year, I will be taking further time to consider the report and any aspects of relevance for this House. I also propose to take advice on the matter before determining my view.

I will report back to the House in response to the Member's question during the Budget sittings.

41 DOCUMENTS

The following documents were presented:

Innovation Australia—Report for 2015-16.

National Health Performance Authority—Final report for the period 1 July 2015 to 31 October 2016.

42 AUDITOR-GENERAL'S REPORT

Auditor-General—Audit report No. 45 of 2016-2017—Performance audit—Replacement Antarctic vessel: Department of the Environment and Energy.

Ordered to be made a Parliamentary Paper.

43 DISCUSSION OF MATTER OF PUBLIC IMPORTANCE—AUSTRALIANS

The House was informed that Mr Shorten (Leader of the Opposition), had proposed that a definite matter of public importance be submitted to the House for discussion, namely, “The Government looking after the big end of town and hurting ordinary Australians”.

Discussion ensued.

Member directed to leave

At 4.25 pm the Member for Reid (Mr C. A. S. Laundry) was directed, under standing order 94, to leave the Chamber for one hour for continuing to interject after a warning had been given by the Chair and he accordingly left the Chamber.

Discussion continued.

Discussion concluded.

44 SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDERS MOVED

Mr Katter moved—That so much of the standing orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Kennedy from moving the following motion forthwith—

That this House:

- (1) move that a parliamentary inquiry be immediately undertaken into the Productivity Commission and its reports, questioning its wider functions as well as reviewing a series of reports that have been prima facie culpably erroneous and misleading;
- (2) move that the inquiry covers whether:
  - (a) the Productivity Commission has misled the Parliament of Australia;
  - (b) the Commission’s advice has continuously failed to achieve even the most minimal standards of objectivity;
  - (c) in fact the Commission has repeatedly worked within an ideological framework that has led to continuously and culpably biased outcomes, and that such outcomes have done serious structural damage to the Australian economy; and
  - (d) the Productivity Commission’s recommendations have resulted in serious destruction to a number of Australia’s major strategic industries, namely the motor vehicle, white goods and clothing industries;
- (3) move that the inquiry inter alia evaluates the extent of the misleading and erroneous information and the necessity for abolishing the Productivity Commission and the recommendation of parameters for instituting a new commission that is:
  - (a) non Canberra based;
  - (b) more widely representative of the Australian community; and
  - (c) made up of Commissioners that are properly qualified and with ‘hands-on’ experience in the field of production and commerce; and
- (4) note that the Commission’s:
  - (a) most recent report on agriculture prima facie contains the most patent and demonstrable errors of facts, says that Ethanol will add to the cost structures of farmers and will not reduce Co2—clearly when a hectare of sugar cane absorbs each year 73 tonnes of Co2 from the atmosphere and puts around 20 tonnes of burnt ethanol Co2 back into the atmosphere, and whereas Co2 from the burning of the residual sugar cane fibre will into the future feed ponded algae—then clearly this report is at worse erroneous, at best fatuous; and
  - (b) remarks on the sugar industry are quite extraordinary since their proposed “Free Market” regime imposes a monopoly buyer upon almost every sugar cane farmer in Australia, a recommendation that clearly could not come from anyone but the most ignorant and irresponsible of commentators.

Debate ensued.

The time allowed by standing order 1 for debate on the motion having expired—

Question—put and negatived, Mr Katter dissenting.

46 RESUMPTION OF SITTING

47 PRIVILEGE—COMPLAINT OF BREACH

Mr Giles raised a matter of privilege concerning the Joint Standing Committee on Electoral Matters and made the following statement:

Prior to the Committee's presentation out of session of its second interim report on the inquiry into the conduct of the 2016 federal election in relation to foreign donations, there is clear evidence that there had been an unauthorised disclosure of the draft conclusions of the report. This is a matter of considerable concern to the Committee.

The Committee is aware of the limitations in each of the Houses on matters of this nature being referred to the respective Committees of Privileges for further investigation as to the source of the unauthorised disclosure and the interference that such disclosures cause to the work of committees.

However, as Deputy Chair of the Committee, I have been authorised by the Committee to raise this matter with a view to the Committees of Privileges of each of the Houses considering what guidance and advice they could provide to Senators and Members about the serious nature of such disclosures, the clear provisions in the standing orders about the prohibitions on such disclosures and the potential damage that such disclosures can do to the work of individual committees and the work of the committee systems of each House more generally.

No. 47

TUESDAY, 9 MAY 2017

1 The House met, at 12 noon, pursuant to adjournment. The Speaker (the Honourable A. D. H. Smith) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 FEDERATION CHAMBER—DAY OF NEXT MEETING

The Speaker advised the House that the Deputy Speaker has fixed 10 am on Wednesday, 10 May 2017 for the next meeting of the Federation Chamber, unless an alternative day or hour is fixed.

3 RESPONSE TO QUESTION FROM THE MANAGER OF OPPOSITION BUSINESS ON ISSUE OF PRIVILEGE—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

At the end of the autumn sittings, on 29 March, the Manager of Opposition Business asked me a question in relation to a Senate Committee of Privileges report on ‘Search warrants and the Senate’. I undertook to report back to the House in response after I had time to consider the Senate report and any aspects of relevance for this House.

As the Member referred, the Senate committee considered that the execution of certain warrants may have had the effect of interfering with the duties of a senator, and with the functions of the parliament more broadly. To address this, the committee concluded that there was a requirement for remedial action in relation to the AFP national guideline for the execution of search warrants where parliamentary privilege may be involved. The committee stated further that it would be addressing this issue in its inquiry into intrusive powers.

As the AFP national guideline was developed jointly by the House and Senate committees of privileges, some years ago, I would consider that the House Committee of Privileges and Members’ Interests should also involve itself in any reconsideration of the guideline. I will leave it for the House Committee to determine how best it might involve itself in the matter.

9 DESPATCH BOXES—90TH ANNIVERSARY—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

Today marks 90 years since the Australian Parliament met here in the national capital, Canberra, for the first time, at provisional Parliament House (or Old Parliament House as we know it), on 9 May 1927.

To mark the occasion of that historic first Canberra meeting, the House of Representatives was presented with the two ornately decorated despatch boxes, which rest here on the Table of the House, as a personal gift from His Majesty King George V. They were presented to Speaker Sir Littleton Groom by the then Duke of York (later King George VI), at Parliament House in Melbourne on 26 April 1927 as the Parliament was finalising arrangements for its relocation to Canberra.

Now as then, the despatch boxes contain religious texts for use by Members when making their oath of allegiance following their election to the House.

What is perhaps not so widely known is that the despatch boxes on the Table today are exact replicas of those which lay on the Table of the United Kingdom House of Commons for many years prior to their loss when the Commons Chamber was destroyed in an air raid during the Second World War, on 10 May 1941.

For that Chamber's reopening in 1950, the Commons received replacement despatch boxes as gifts from New Zealand with a design based on the boxes here on the Table – completing a circle of parliamentary tradition.

Twenty-two Prime Ministers and twenty-seven Leaders of the Opposition are among those who have addressed the House from these despatch boxes.

In these 90 years, the despatch boxes have become an enduring symbol of our Australian system of parliamentary democracy. They also serve as a reminder of our parliamentary inheritance and of a continuing, strong link between our House of Representatives and the House of Commons at Westminster.

- (2) calls on the Government to:
  - (a) abandon its support of the Fair Work Commission decision to cut penalty rates because it will mean nearly 700,000 Australians will have their take home pay cut by up to $77 a week; and

FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 22 MAY 2017

---

---

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 VOLUNTEER MANAGEMENT SERVICES FUNDING

Mr Hill, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

(1) notes that:

- (a) pursuant to a decision of the 2016-17 federal budget, the Department of Social Services is currently undertaking a redesign of the Strengthening Communities grants program, to be known as the Strong and Resilient Communities grants program from 1 January 2018;
- (b) the Strengthening Communities grants program currently provides around $18 million per year to projects which address disadvantage and build opportunity in communities around Australia;
- (c) under the current grants program, there is a specific funding stream for volunteer management programs, which in 2017 will fund volunteer support services in local communities to a total of around $7.4 million;
- (d) the Department of Social Services has proposed that this volunteer management stream of grants funding will be abolished from 1 January 2018, meaning volunteer support services will be forced to compete with other worthwhile community services and removing any guarantee that they will be funded at all;
- (e) this is the latest reduction in funding allocated to volunteer management since the decision was made to transfer responsibility for volunteering from the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet to the Department of Social Services in 2014, a move which volunteering peak bodies and representatives opposed; and
- (f) the national peak body for volunteering, Volunteering Australia, states that this move will 'rip the heart out of local volunteer support services', which play an important role in Australian communities by leading volunteers in a wide variety of organisations and services, from the human services and the arts to environmental, animal welfare and sporting groups;

(2) acknowledges that:

- (a) approximately 5.8 million Australians, or 31 per cent of the population, volunteer, with Dr Lisel O'Dwyer of Flinders University estimating their annual contribution to Australia as $290 billion;

- (b) volunteering plays an important role in delivering the priorities of the Government, with volunteers contributing many thousands of hours per year to the aged care workforce, the disability services, schools and hospitals, art galleries, libraries and sporting clubs—bolstering economic participation, mitigating isolation and loneliness and increasing social inclusion and participation;
  - (c) while volunteering is defined as ‘time willingly given, for the common good and without financial gain’, it does not happen free, and requires the investment of resources in volunteer support services in order to maintain a professional, responsive and efficient volunteer workforce; and
  - (d) the withdrawal of funding to volunteer management services will threaten the viability of the thousands of volunteering organisations and will have a huge impact on the community; and
- (3) calls on the Government to:
- (a) congratulate community-based volunteer support services for the work that they do to support strong, healthy and resilient Australian communities through an effective and professional volunteer workforce; and
  - (b) recognise the importance of funding volunteer management services and Volunteering Australia’s campaign to retain funding for volunteer management as part of the federal budget.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 ENERGY SECURITY

Mr Littleproud, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) congratulates the Australian Government for its sensible and pragmatic approach to ensuring energy security and affordability in Australia;
- (2) acknowledges that balancing our energy supply through the use of clean-fired coal, renewable energy sources and liquefied gas will be key to the Australian Government’s approach;
- (3) notes that:
  - (a) Queensland is home to a number of coal-fired stations and is advancing a number of renewable energy projects, placing it in a prime position to become an energy hub; and
  - (b) the coal industry directly employs over 44,000 people and pays over $5.7 billion in wages and salaries; and
- (4) condemns the Federal Opposition and Queensland Government for their reckless and unrealistic renewable energy targets of 50 per cent, which only serve to threaten energy security and jobs, as well as drastically escalate the cost of electricity for individuals, businesses and industry as a whole.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 INFRASTRUCTURE

Mr Albanese, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
  - (a) Australia’s cities require investment and leadership from the Government to deal with a number of pressing challenges, especially urban congestion;
  - (b) Infrastructure Australia has estimated that urban congestion will cost $53 billion in lost productivity by 2031 if left unaddressed; and
  - (c) public transport is essential for the realisation of the vision of 30 minute cities;
- (2) notes that a number of factors contribute to the worsening of urban congestion, including:
  - (a) Australia’s transition to a knowledge intensive economy, which means employment opportunities continue to cluster in the CBDs of our cities;

- (b) high house prices that have seen key workers, single person households and families on very low and middle incomes struggle to find homes close to work, resulting in drive-in drive-out suburbs in nearly all capital cities; and
  - (c) the rapid growth of Australia's cities, which will see the four largest capitals—Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane and Perth—increase their population by 46 per cent and Adelaide, Canberra, Hobart and Darwin increase their population by nearly 30 per cent by 2031; and
- (3) calls on the Government to:
- (a) use evidence-based policy to support investment in the infrastructure that is required to reduce urban congestion in Australia's cities; and
  - (b) use the upcoming budget to provide investment for public transport projects listed by Infrastructure Australia as priorities, some of which have suffered funding cuts under the Coalition Government, including the Metro Trains Melbourne, the Cross River Rail, Western Sydney Rail, the Gawler rail line upgrade, and the AdeLINK tram network.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 VIOLENT SEXUALLY EXPLICIT MATERIAL

Mr Howarth, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) the easy access of violent sexually explicit material online poses a risk to our children's wellbeing; and
  - (b) authoritative research has linked regular consumption of pornography by adolescents depicting violence with increased degrees of sexually aggressive behaviour; and
- (2) calls on our community to work together to:
  - (a) increase awareness that exposure to graphic images can influence children's attitude towards sexual behaviour;
  - (b) encourage open discussions within families; and
  - (c) utilise the services of the eSafety Commissioner's online iparent website to increase awareness of how families can keep safe online.

Debate ensued.

Mrs Marino, by leave, again addressed the Federation Chamber.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

7 LABOUR HIRE INDUSTRY

Mr Giles, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) condemns the shocking findings uncovered by the Victorian Inquiry into the Labour Hire Industry and Insecure Work, including revelations of widespread underpayment, workplace health and safety breaches, maltreatment of workers, and tax avoidance in Victoria;
- (2) welcomes the 35 recommendations made by the inquiry in its final report (August 2016);
- (3) commends the Victorian Government for:
  - (a) establishing the inquiry; and
  - (b) committing to a labour hire licensing scheme in response to the inquiry's final report; and
- (4) calls on the Australian Government to:
  - (a) investigate the operation of the labour hire industry Australia-wide; and
  - (b) commit to developing a national response to widespread exploitation in the industry based on findings.

  - (d) provides English language training for new members of the Australian community; and
  - (e) provides essential life skills for all eligible new migrants and humanitarian entrants;
- (2) acknowledges the importance of the AMEP in delivering foundation English language skills to newly arrived migrants and humanitarian entrants to prepare them for work and participation in Australian society; and

  - (a) that last year more than 59,000 new migrants and humanitarian entrants benefited from training delivered by the AMEP; and

- (2) notes:
  - (a) that school education is an essential component in providing children with the skills and knowledge they need to reach their full potential, including academic, social and communication skills; and
  - (b) the important work that schools undertake to ensure that students are prepared for the challenges of further study and working life, especially in new emerging technological and scientific fields;
- (3) acknowledges and thanks school leaders, teachers and support staff for their dedication, commitment and professionalism in ensuring not only that every child learns, but is also nurtured and cared for; and

  - (c) Australia and Israel have a unique relationship supported by a commitment to the rights and liberty of their citizenry, the rule of law and a pluralist society underpinned by mutual respect;
  - (d) there is a concerning collapse of the traditional support among Australia's political parties for the path to a peaceful agreement between the State of Israel and the Palestinians for a two-state solution; and
  - (e) the culture within the Australian Labor Party (ALP) regarding foreign policy is deteriorating, aided by high profile party figures who perpetrate enduring myths about the causes of instability in the Middle East; and
- (2) calls on the ALP to:

12 PRIVATE SPONSORSHIP OF REFUGEE RESETTLEMENT

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) according to the UNHCR, the number of displaced people fleeing from war, conflict or persecution is the highest since World War II, and includes around half a million refugees and asylum seekers in South East Asia;
  - (b) the increase in the number of people seeking asylum in recent years and the decrease in the number of third country resettlement places being offered in 2017 means that refugees face waiting more than a decade before they are able to safely restart their lives;
  - (c) during the Leaders' Summit on Refugees and Migrants at the United Nations in New York City in 2016, the Canadian Government, the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, and the Open Society Foundations launched a joint initiative to increase the private sponsorship of refugee resettlement around the world;
  - (d) since the late 1970s, the Canadian Government has facilitated the resettlement of more than 275,000 refugees through private sponsorship by individuals, community groups and private sector organisations; and
  - (e) the previous Australian Government initiated a community sponsorship program in Australia in 2012 and the current Australian Government committed to making this program permanent during the Leaders' Summit on Refugees and Migrants; and
- (2) calls on Australian governments, businesses and community organisations to explore ways to use private sponsorship to expand the resettlement of refugees in Australia through formal channels.

Debate resumed.

Mr Christensen moved, as an amendment—That all the words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“The House is of the opinion that the bill does not fully address the issue of penalty rates, and:

(1) notes that:

(a) when the Leader of the Opposition was Secretary of the Australian Workers' Union (AWU), his union negotiated enterprise agreements that reduced or removed Sunday penalty rates, including for:

(i) around 780 workers at Big W in North Queensland, whose penalty rates were 50 per cent under the award;

(ii) around 129 workers at Target Country in North Queensland, whose penalty rates were 50 per cent under the award;

- (iii) around 119 workers at Just Jeans in Queensland, whose penalty rates were 50 per cent under the award;
  - (iv) around 101 workers at Rydges Tradewinds in Cairns, who got no penalty rates at all; and
  - (v) around 480 workers at Cleanevent, who lost all their penalty rates;
- (b) when the Labor Party was in Government, penalty rates were reduced in 2010 following its award modernisation process, including for many workers in the hospitality, restaurants, fast food and clubs sectors;
  - (c) presently, millions of workers—including staff at multinational and large businesses, such as Woolworths, Coles, Bunnings, McDonalds, KFC, Pizza Hut, Officeworks, Target, Kmart and the Langham Hotel—receive Sunday penalty rates that are below the award, thanks to enterprise agreements negotiated with large unions, including the AWU and the Shop, Distributive and Allied Employees' Association (SDA);
  - (d) the proposed Sunday rate of 150 per cent in the retail industry that has been determined by the Fair Work Commission is the same as the Sunday rate in a range of retail industry agreements negotiated by the AWU and the SDA; and
  - (e) small businesses that compete with large retail and fast food chains, and wish to employ staff on a Sunday, must currently employ them at higher rates than those large chains; and
- (2) agrees that any legislation to address cuts in penalty rates under awards must also address cuts in penalty rates under union negotiated enterprise agreements”.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 COAL

Mr Christensen, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House recognises:

- (1) the long term global demand predictions for coal in providing reliable, secure and affordable baseload power;
- (2) that power prices in Queensland have reached record highs, including up to $14,000 MW/H in January 2017;
- (3) that the high cost of electricity supply in North Queensland has been a disincentive to business investment for many years, putting a strain on Australian businesses and households;
- (4) that Australia has an abundance of high quality coal, better than in many countries around the world; and
- (5) that Australia should utilise this natural advantage by maintaining its prominent role in providing secure, reliable and affordable energy, and that in order to do this, there should be a coal fired power station built in North Queensland.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 BUSINESSES AND COMMUNICATIONS BY POST FEE

Mr Hammond, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
  - (a) the rapid increase in the use of electronic communication technology in recent decades, including in commerce;
  - (b) that access to electronic communication technology differs between Australians, and is often related to income, age, education level and remoteness;
  - (c) that not all Australians have the skills and infrastructure to communicate effectively via electronic channels;
  - (d) that many businesses, including banks, telecommunications companies and utilities, charge consumers an extra fee to receive communications via post; and
  - (e) that often the fee charged by companies to receive communications by post are intended as a disincentive, and do not represent the actual cost incurred by the company; and

- (2) calls on the Government to bring forward legislation that will give consumers the right to receive communications from companies by post for no extra fee.

- (c) presently, millions of workers—including staff at multinational and large businesses, such as Woolworths, Coles, Bunnings, McDonalds, KFC, Pizza Hut, Officeworks, Target, Kmart and the Langham Hotel—receive Sunday penalty rates that are below the award, thanks to enterprise agreements negotiated with large unions, including the AWU and the Shop, Distributive and Allied Employees' Association (SDA);

- (e) small businesses that compete with large retail and fast food chains, and wish to employ staff on a Sunday, must currently employ them at higher rates than those large chains; and

3 ILLICIT DRUGS

Mr C. Kelly, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) illicit drugs can cause untold harm in our communities and on our streets; and
  - (b) the Government:
    - (i) is committed to targeting the supply, demand, and harm caused to our communities by the scourge of illicit drugs; and
    - (ii) has made significant investments in our law enforcement agencies to do all they can to keep drugs off our streets;
- (2) acknowledges that:
  - (a) in the last two years alone, our agencies have detected and intercepted more than 12.5 tonnes of narcotics that have been attempted to be imported into Australia; and
  - (b) Australian law enforcement officers continue to confront Australia's drug market and combat the criminal syndicates that peddle illicit drugs; and
- (3) calls on all members of the House to promote greater awareness of the harmful effects of illicit drugs on individuals and communities across Australia and support our law enforcement agencies in keeping drugs off our streets.

Debate ensued.

4 LIVE MUSIC TICKETS

Mr Burke, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) music fans are missing out on tickets because bots have bought up tickets in bulk and these tickets are being on-sold at inflated prices;
  - (b) music fans are also having to endure the disappointment and the loss of missing out on seeing live music through no fault of their own but because websites like Viagogo allow the selling of fake tickets and tickets that have been sold multiple times over;
  - (c) major search engines are profiting from advertising these websites and the tickets sold on these websites at the top of search results; and
  - (d) the loss felt by many people is not simply the loss of an experience but a substantial loss of money for what can be one of their biggest discretionary purchases of the year; and

- (2) calls on the Government to explain the action being taken to ensure that if someone buys a ticket to live music, they know they can turn up and get entry to the music they love.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 ACCESS TO TIBET

Mr Entsch, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
- (a) that the Australian Government grants free access and unrestricted travel to officials, journalists and citizens from the People's Republic of China, and the same level of access and freedom to travel to Tibet is not afforded to Australian officials, journalists and citizens by the Government of the People's Republic of China;
  - (b) Australian officials, journalists and travellers wanting to visit China's Tibetan Autonomous Region and Tibetan autonomous prefectures in China's Qinghai, Gansu, Sichuan and Yunnan provinces are routinely denied access and if access is granted, are subjected to close monitoring, compelled to join government-organised tours, and/or face other restrictions;
  - (c) repeated requests since mid-2014, for the Chinese Government to respond positively to members of the relevant Australian All-Party Parliamentary Group seeking approval for a delegation to visit China's Tibetan areas, and that over the same period, delegations representing China's Tibetan Autonomous Region, Qinghai, Gansu, Sichuan and Yunnan provinces have received approval to enter Australia and travel freely within the country; and
  - (d) reciprocity is a fundamental principle of diplomatic practice that promotes mutual exchanges, mutual benefit and the development of friendly relations between countries;
- (2) expresses concern that:
- (a) China has regularly closed the Tibet Autonomous Region and other Tibetan areas in China to any entry by foreign tourists; and
  - (b) Australian officials, journalists and citizens regularly face refusals and restrictions when applying to visit Tibetan areas in China;
- (3) calls on the Australian Government to:
- (a) renew efforts to ensure reciprocal access to China for Australian officials, journalists and citizens and for travel within China—as Chinese officials, journalists and citizens have to Australia for travel within Australia; and
  - (b) ensure that visits to China by Australian officials and journalists, to a similar extent as visits to Australia by Chinese officials and journalists, are unrestricted and allow open interaction with the local population, freedom to move about and observe unhindered, and promote genuine understanding between the peoples of the two countries; and
- (4) calls on the Chinese Government to lift restrictions on access to China's Tibetan Autonomous Region and Tibetan autonomous prefectures in Qinghai, Gansu, Sichuan and Yunnan provinces for officials, journalists and citizens from Australia and respond positively to the pending request by Australian parliamentarians to visit Tibetan areas in China.

Debate adjourned, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 REPATRIATION MEDICAL FEE SCHEDULE INDEXATION FREEZE

Ms Rishworth, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that the Australian Medical Association's survey highlights that the freeze of the Repatriation Medical Fee Schedule (RMFS) is leading to some healthcare professionals no longer accepting Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA) clients;
- (2) recognises the negative impact that the DVA RMFS freeze has had on veterans accessing specialist medical care;
- (3) notes that the Australian Institute for Suicide Research Prevention, the Australian Psychological Society and the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists have raised the negative impact that the freeze is having on veterans accessing skilled clinicians;

- (4) expresses concern that some mental health and allied health services are not accepting veterans into their service as a result of the indexation freeze; and
- (5) calls on the Government to immediately drop the RMFS indexation freeze, which is significantly impacting on veterans' access to mental health and specialist medical services.

- (1) notes the growth of the craft brewing sector in recent years as a generator of employment, tourism and exports in capital cities and regional communities;
- (2) further notes:
  - (a) there is an inequity between how Commonwealth excise is calculated for small and large scale brewers which disadvantages the craft brewing sector;

  - (c) this small business sector provides local employment and is an emerging tourism attraction; and
- (3) urges:
  - (a) the Australian Government to ensure policy settings which encourage the realisation of the potential of the craft brewing sector; and

  - (c) Victorians increasingly feel unsafe in their homes and on their streets;

No. 63

WEDNESDAY, 21 JUNE 2017

1 The House met, at 9.30 am, pursuant to adjournment. The Speaker (the Honourable A. D. H. Smith) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 SUSPENSION OF STANDING ORDERS MOVED

Mr O'Connor moved—That so much of the standing orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Gorton from moving the following motion forthwith—That the House:

(1) notes:

- (a) the horrific cases of exploitation in workplaces around the country, including at 7-Eleven;
- (b) a bill to protect workers from this exploitation has passed the House and is before the Senate right now;
- (c) the Prime Minister reportedly has a financial interest in 7-Eleven;
- (d) the former Minister for Small Business, Bruce Billson, has reportedly lobbied to water down this bill;
- (e) the Government is now reportedly seeking to delay this long overdue bill until August - two years after worker exploitation at 7-Eleven was first exposed; and
- (f) any further delay to this bill would deny important protection to workers from exploitation; and

(2) therefore, calls on the Prime Minister to commit to this House that this important bill to protect workers from exploitation will be passed through both Houses of Parliament before the winter adjournment.
