FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 7 AUGUST 2023

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 DIGITAL ECONOMY

Mr Fletcher, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that:
 - (a) the digital economy plays a critical role in the Australian economy, helping to drive economic growth and create new jobs;
 - (b) the Government has not:
 - (i) provided sufficient funding in the budget to help grow the digital economy; and
 - (ii) produced a digital economy strategy; and
 - (c) the Government abolished the role of the Minister for the digital economy; and
- (2) calls on the Government to prioritise the digital economy by:
 - (a) providing funding in sufficient levels to advance Australia's digital economy;
 - (b) delivering a digital economy strategy to make Australia a world-leading digital economy; and
 - (c) appointing a Minister responsible for the digital economy.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 ROBODEBT SCHEME

Ms Thwaites, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges the release of the report of the Royal Commission into the Robodebt Scheme, a 990-page report that examined the establishment of the scheme and who was responsible for it, and made 57 recommendations;
- (2) recognises that the Robodebt Scheme, which was put forward as a budget measure in 2015 and was found to be unlawful by the Federal Court in late 2019, caused great harm to vulnerable members of the Australian community;
- (3) notes that despite the mounting warnings and criticism of the scheme, in the words of the report the Government of the time “continued to illegally raise debts against some of society's most vulnerable”;
- (4) commends the courage, leadership and bravery of victims, families, advocates and whistle-blowers who continued to raise concerns about the Robodebt Scheme; and

- (5) welcomes the Government's commitment to ensuring such a tragedy never happens again, and to carefully consider the recommendations from the report and provide a response to these recommendations in due course.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 OLYMPICS INFRASTRUCTURE

Mr Chandler-Mather, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
 - (a) that the Government has committed to funding $3.4 billion of the $7 billion Olympics infrastructure, in the middle of a cost of living crisis, when it refuses to invest more than $500 million a year in social and affordable housing;
 - (b) that the average cost blowout of an Olympics since 1960 is 2.5 times the original cost, which would see the cost of the Brisbane Olympics blow out to $17.5 billion; and
 - (c) the recent decision by the Victorian Government to cancel the Commonwealth Games so as to save money for schools and hospitals; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) drop its support for the disastrous Gabba demolition and rebuild that will see the bulldozing of a local public school, East Brisbane State School, and Raymond Park, a much loved public park;
 - (b) re-negotiate a new Olympics infrastructure agreement that actually prioritises using existing infrastructure, like Carrara Stadium, and instead invests in new public transport and other long term community infrastructure; and
 - (c) commit that any infrastructure built for the Olympics remains in public hands, including retaining the athletes' village as publicly-owned housing.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 ELECTORAL ROLL

Ms Scrymgour, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges the sustained and dedicated effort by the Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) to increase the enrolment of all Australians, with a particular focus on the two cohorts of Australians who have long been under-represented on the electoral roll, being First Nations Australians and young people aged between 18 and 24 years;
- (2) recognises that as a result of the Government ensuring the AEC had the appropriate resources to improve enrolment:
 - (a) for the first time since records have existed, enrolment of Australians aged between 18 and 24 years is now over 90 per cent; and
 - (b) estimated First Nations enrolment has increased in every state and territory to the highest it has ever been so that:
 - (i) nationwide it is now at 94.1 per cent, up from 84.5 per cent just six months ago; and
 - (ii) in the Northern Territory it is now at 87.0 per cent, up from 76.7 per cent six months ago; and
- (3) condemns the former Government, for failing to appropriately resource the AEC to take action to improve enrolment of First Nations Australians, including by cutting AEC personnel in the Northern Territory who were addressing these matters.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

7 DEFENCE INDUSTRY

Mr Howarth, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) under the current Government, decisions to conduct review after review into defence and defence industry have resulted in unreasonable delays in awarding contracts; and
 - (b) these delays have led to uncertainty for small and medium enterprises, threatening many businesses, and forcing them to consider leaving the industry;
- (2) acknowledges that:
 - (a) the Government's agreed recommendation from the Defence Strategic Review, stating that Australian industry content and domestic production should be balanced against timely capability acquisition, requires financial support from the Government;
 - (b) without such support, there is a risk of losing more contracts overseas;
 - (c) the Government's agreed recommendation from the Defence Strategic Review, calling for an increase in defence funding to meet our strategic circumstances, has not been met in the 2023-2024 budget;
 - (d) the Government should legislate a minimum number of missiles stockpiled to ensure Australia's National Security; and
 - (e) the Government's disconnect with Australia's defence industry should alarm all Australians because it shows a lack of understanding of the challenges facing Australia's defence industry; and
- (3) calls on the Government to take real action in supporting and growing Australia's sovereign defence industry and boosting Australia's dwindling defence budget.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

Suspension of meeting

At 1.18 pm, the Deputy Speaker left the Chair.

9 NATIVE HARDWOOD TIMBER INDUSTRY

Mr Chester, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that:
 - (a) we have a world-class and sustainable native hardwood timber industry in Australia which delivers social, economic, cultural and environmental benefits for our nation;
 - (b) timber industry workers provide invaluable skills and practical support to their communities during times of natural disasters, particularly bushfires;
 - (c) banning native timber harvesting in Australia will result in more imported timber products, often sourced from countries with poorer environmental protocols; and
 - (d) a sustainable native hardwood timber industry is part of the answer to reducing Australia's carbon emissions as timber products sequester carbon in our floorboards, furniture and other timber products;
- (2) notes that the Victorian Government's illogical decision to ban all native hardwood timber harvesting on public land from 1 January 2024 is based on political science, not environmental science; and

- (3) urges the Government to:
 - (a) recognise the sustainable native hardwood timber industry is an issue of national importance because of supply chain considerations and community safety;
 - (b) include the future of the native hardwood timber industry as an issue for discussion at the next National Cabinet; and
 - (c) support a taxpayer-funded public information campaign to explain the importance of the native hardwood timber industry and dispel the myths perpetuated by environmental activists.

- (2) notes that Medicare Urgent Care Clinics are designed to make it easier for Australian families to see a doctor or a nurse when they have an urgent, but not life threatening, need for care that is bulk billed.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

11 NATIONAL STUDENT WELLBEING PROGRAM

Mr Broadbent, by leave, for Mr van Manen, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
 - (a) since 2007, the National Student Wellbeing Program (formerly the National School Chaplaincy Program) has been assisting Australian students in key areas, fostering student wellbeing, increasing connectedness and school and community engagement through tailored pastoral care;
 - (b) on average, chaplains have 15,724 conversations with students per week, across the country;
 - (c) every term, chaplains run 7,025 programs, supporting 313,109 students;
 - (d) the program works and is delivering measurable results for children; and
 - (e) a 2022 report from the University of Western Australia entitled An Outcome Evaluation of School Chaplaincy noted the program had a considerable impact on:
 - (i) improved attendance;
 - (ii) a focus on learning; and
 - (iii) improved behaviour;
- (2) notes that:
 - (a) since its creation, under a former Coalition Government, the Coalition has supported the work of the National Student Wellbeing Program; and
 - (b) by providing further funding of $245.7 million, the previous Government reaffirmed this commitment to the $60 million a year program, which provides $20,000 towards the cost of hiring a chaplain for over 3,000 schools; and
- (3) thanks all chaplains for their ongoing efforts in providing social, emotional and spiritual support to Australian students.

12 CASUAL WORKERS

Ms J Ryan, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes the Government's commitment to stand up for casual workers who want to become permanent employees;
- (2) recognises that this:
 - (a) will help more than 850,000 casual workers who have regular work arrangements, giving them greater access to leave entitlements and more financial security if desired;
 - (b) delivers on the Government's election commitment, ensuring that where a worker's pattern of work is no longer casual, they have the choice to move to permanent employment and gain the benefits of secure employment; and
 - (c) forms part of a broader set of reforms to be introduced into Parliament later this year aimed at closing loopholes that undermine wages and conditions; and
- (3) acknowledges this is just part of the Government's commitment to deliver a better future for Australian workers, building on the strong foundations in the Secure Jobs, Better Pay legislation passed in December 2022.

Mr Coulton seconded the amendment moved by Mr Pasin (see item No. 11, page 910), viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes that the bill is deficient in a number of respects including that:

- (1) more than 3 million Australians have a HECS debt or other type of student debt under the Higher Education Loan Program (HELP) scheme which increased by a massive 7.1 per cent on 1 June 2023, the highest indexation rate in more than 30 years, as a result of the Government’s cost of living crisis and sky-high inflation rate;
- (2) by proposing to abolish the Coalition’s 50 per cent pass rule, the Government has failed to protect students at high risk of not completing their course from accumulating debilitating HECS debts and suffering acute financial hardship;
- (3) the Government’s reliance on a ‘survey’ of 27 universities to justify the abolition of the 50 per cent pass rule indicates that the Government has not been able to access the relevant data as to how many students are impacted by this measure, reflecting a poor adherence to evidence-based policy;
- (4) in proposing to uncap Commonwealth supported places (CSPs) available to Indigenous students living in metropolitan areas which extends the Coalition’s measure to uncap CSPs for Indigenous students living in regional and remote Australia, the Government has not explained how it will hold universities to account for poor completion rates by Indigenous students which currently sees only 26 per cent of Indigenous students complete their undergraduate degree within four years, with 37 per cent of students dropping out during that period;
- (5) by reason that the Government is proposing to release a consultation paper on its proposed support-for-students policy, it is clear that the Government has not done its homework on this policy nor determined the basis on which universities would be fined as proposed by the bill;
- (6) the bill fails to impose on universities a strong accountability and transparency framework including fair and just access to student refunds and the requirement that universities must publish all relevant course information including out-of-pocket costs, total costs, completion rates, modes of course delivery, and employment outcomes;
- (7) the Government needs to be transparent with taxpayers regarding how much its changes to the higher education system will cost and how it will pay for them; and
- (8) given its deficiencies, the bill should be referred to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee for inquiry”.

Debate ensued.

13 RESPONSE ON MATTER OF PRIVILEGE RELATING TO MEMBER FOR COOK RAISED BY MEMBER FOR BRISBANE—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

On Tuesday this week, the Member for Brisbane raised as a matter of privilege whether statements made by the Member for Cook, in 2020 when he was Prime Minister, and also last week, constitute a breach of privilege or contempt of the House.

In requesting that I grant precedence to a motion to refer this matter to the Standing Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests, the Member for Brisbane provided documents in support of his request—

- (1) the responses by the then Prime Minister and Member for Cook to the questions during question time in 2020, as follows:
 - (a) a question from the Member for Grayndler on 10 June;
 - (b) a question from the Member for Maribyrnong on 11 June; and
 - (c) a question from the Member for Maribyrnong on 8 December;
- (2) the statement, made on indulgence, by the Member for Cook on 31 July 2023; and
- (3) pages 105 to 106 and 488 of the Report of the Royal Commission into the Robodebt Scheme.

I have reviewed the matter raised by the Member and the supporting information he provided. Given that the matter relies in part on the statement made by the Member for Cook last week, I accept that it was raised at the earliest opportunity.

The Member for Brisbane stated that aspects of the statements made by the Member for Cook in the House have been shown to be false by the Report of the Royal Commission into the Robodebt Scheme.

Some of the statements made by the Member for Cook, to which the Member for Brisbane refers, do appear to be at odds with findings of the Royal Commission, and on that basis may be considered to be incorrect.

However, I do not have material in front of me that demonstrates that the Member for Cook knew that any statements were false at the time he made them, and that he intended to mislead the House through his comments.

In his statement by indulgence to the House last week, the Member for Cook canvassed findings of the Royal Commission, and rejected some of the adverse findings which relate to his role and actions. The fact that the Member for Cook disagreed with these findings, and made comments to this effect in the House, does not in itself represent a misleading of the House.

The Member for Brisbane has stated that the Member for Cook misled the House and did so knowingly and deliberately.

The matter of deliberately misleading the House is a serious one and rightly there should be prima facie evidence that the House has been misled, and the misleading has been deliberate, in order for a Speaker to act under standing order 51, and allow such a matter to be referred, as of right, to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests.

On the basis of the material that was provided by the Member for Brisbane, I am not able to grant precedence for a referral on this occasion.

14 LEAVE OF ABSENCE TO ALL MEMBERS

5 HOUSING CRISIS

Ms Spender, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that Australia is facing a housing crisis, with rents and house prices surging, home ownership falling, and more than 640,000 households either homeless or under housing stress;
- (2) notes that:
 - (a) this crisis is severely affecting young people, those on lower incomes and renters, with advertised rents rising over ten per cent across capital cities and many regions; and
 - (b) the crisis is the result of decades of failed government policy, which has left Australia with one of the lowest number of homes per person in the OECD;

- (3) further acknowledges that:
 - (a) the Government has taken some positive steps but its commitment to building one million new homes by 2030 is insufficient relative to the scale of the crisis; and
 - (b) without substantial further action, the Australian dream will soon become a nightmare and a generation of young people will forever be locked out of home ownership; and
- (4) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) significantly raise its ambition on increasing housing supply;
 - (b) work with state governments and local councils to accelerate actions that increase housing and land availability, which will lead to increased home ownership and improved housing affordability; and
 - (c) provide urgent support to help young people and renters deal with the cost of living pressures created by this crisis.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 ROBODEBT SCHEME

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Ms Thwaites—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges the release of the report of the Royal Commission into the Robodebt Scheme, a 990-page report that examined the establishment of the scheme and who was responsible for it, and made 57 recommendations;
- (2) recognises that the Robodebt Scheme, which was put forward as a budget measure in 2015 and was found to be unlawful by the Federal Court in late 2019, caused great harm to vulnerable members of the Australian community;
- (3) notes that despite the mounting warnings and criticism of the scheme, in the words of the report the Government of the time ‘continued to illegally raise debts against some of society’s most vulnerable’;
- (4) commends the courage, leadership and bravery of victims, families, advocates and whistle-blowers who continued to raise concerns about the Robodebt Scheme; and
- (5) welcomes the Government’s commitment to ensuring such a tragedy never happens again, and to carefully consider the recommendations from the report and provide a response to these recommendations in due course—

Debate resumed.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

7 MISINFORMATION LAWS

Mr Coleman, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) the Government is seeking to impose new misinformation laws in Australia which are deeply flawed;
 - (b) even before submissions closed on 20 August, the Government’s exposure draft bill had already been the subject of an avalanche of criticism;
 - (c) some of the most vocal criticisms have come from leading lawyers who have clinically taken the Government’s bill apart, piece by piece; and
 - (d) the Minister appears to have had few defenders of her plan;
- (2) acknowledges that, under the Government’s exposure draft bill:
 - (a) the definition of ‘misinformation’ is so broad that it could capture many statements made by Australians in the context of political debate;
 - (b) authorised content by the Government cannot be misinformation, but criticisms of the Government by ordinary Australians can be misinformation;

- (c) nothing an academic says can be misinformation, but statements by somebody disagreeing with an academic can be misinformation;
- (d) good faith statements made by entertainers cannot be misinformation, but good faith statements made by ordinary Australians on political matters can be misinformation;
- (e) journalists commenting on their personal digital platforms could have their content removed as misinformation; and
- (f) if the Minister has a favoured digital platform, then that platform could be entirely removed from the application of the misinformation laws;
- (3) condemns the Government for delivering this appalling exposure draft of the Communications Legislation Amendment (Combating Misinformation and Disinformation) Bill 2023; and
- (4) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) admit that the Government's plan is deeply flawed; and
 - (b) bin the bill.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for private Members' business having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

11 HIGHER EDUCATION SUPPORT AMENDMENT (RESPONSE TO THE AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITIES ACCORD INTERIM REPORT) BILL 2023

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Pasin, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes that the bill is deficient in a number of respects including that:

- (1) more than three million Australians have a HECS debt or other type of student debt under the Higher Education Loan Program (HELP) scheme which increased by a massive 7.1 per cent on 1 June 2023, the highest indexation rate in more than 30 years, as a result of the Government’s cost of living crisis and sky-high inflation rate;
- (2) by proposing to abolish the Coalition’s 50 per cent pass rule, the Government has failed to protect students at high risk of not completing their course from accumulating debilitating HECS debts and suffering acute financial hardship;
- (3) the Government’s reliance on a ‘survey’ of 27 universities to justify the abolition of the 50 per cent pass rule indicates that the Government has not been able to access the relevant data as to how many students are impacted by this measure, reflecting a poor adherence to evidence-based policy;
- (4) in proposing to uncap Commonwealth Supported Places (CSPs) available to Indigenous students living in metropolitan areas which extends the Coalition’s measure to uncap CSPs for Indigenous students living in regional and remote Australia, the Government has not explained how it will hold universities to account for poor completion rates by Indigenous students which currently sees only 26 per cent of Indigenous students complete their undergraduate degree within four years, with 37 per cent of students dropping out during that period;
- (5) by reason that the Government is proposing to release a consultation paper on its proposed support-for-students policy, it is clear that the Government has not done its homework on this policy nor determined the basis on which universities would be fined as proposed by the bill;
- (6) the bill fails to impose on universities a strong accountability and transparency framework including fair and just access to student refunds and the requirement that universities must publish all relevant course information including out-of-pocket costs, total costs, completion rates, modes of course delivery, and employment outcomes;
- (7) the Government needs to be transparent with taxpayers regarding how much its changes to the higher education system will cost and how it will pay for them; and
- (8) given its deficiencies, the bill should be referred to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee for inquiry”—

Debate resumed.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SUPPLEMENT TO VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 77

FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 4 SEPTEMBER 2023

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 REGIONAL VICTORIA

Mr Birrell, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House notes that:

- (1) the Victorian Government's decision to cancel the 2026 Regional Commonwealth Games is not just a significant loss to regional communities in the state, but a body-blow to the reputation of Victoria as a centre for major sporting events;
- (2) the stated reason for the cancellation, the cost blowout to between $6 and $7 billion, demonstrates that the Victorian Government either made a serious miscalculation in its decision to host the games years earlier than originally proposed, or is incapable of managing major projects; and
- (3) given the mismanagement of this major event, the $2 billion announced to be spent in regional Victoria to compensate for the loss of the games should be determined by the impacted regional communities, not the Victorian Government.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 EUROPEAN UNION TRADE AGREEMENT

Mr Georganas, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes the mature approach which has been demonstrated by the Government in the ongoing negotiation of a trade agreement with the European Union;
- (2) congratulates the Government for its unwavering support of Australia's interests, including those of Australian farmers, businesses, and exporters during these negotiations; and
- (3) supports the Minister for Trade and Tourism in his ongoing fight for a deal that defends Australia's interests and delivers meaningful outcomes for Australia's workers, businesses, and consumers.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 NATURAL DISASTERS

Mr Gee, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that Australia has endured an unprecedented number of natural disasters in the past two years;

- (2) recognises the immense hardships faced by people across Australia in the aftermath of natural disasters;
- (3) acknowledges that the response to these natural disasters by governments and insurance companies has been, in some cases, grossly inadequate;
- (4) further recognises the invaluable work of organisations that support communities through natural disasters such as our first responders including the Rural Fire Service, State Emergency Service, Lifeline, Rapid Relief Team, Rotary and Lions; and
- (5) calls on:
 - (a) Commonwealth and state governments to activate the full suite of disaster assistance and make it available to devastated communities across Australia, including to Central West New South Wales; and
 - (b) the Commonwealth Government to pursue equality in disaster relief that ensures no Australian, regardless of their postcode or economic status, is left behind when disaster strikes.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 GENETIC TESTING AND LIFE INSURANCE

Mr Burns, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
 - (a) the field of genetics has great potential to improve medicine and public health through enabling diagnosis, prevention and early treatment of disease;
 - (b) that increasingly, genetic information is used in routine patient care to identify individuals at risk of medically actionable conditions, and early knowledge of this risk can allow at-risk individuals to take preventive steps to reduce their risk or, in some cases, avoid developing the associated disease altogether;
 - (c) the current ability of the life insurance industry to legally use genetic test results in underwriting can lead to discrimination;
 - (d) that insurance discrimination fears can also act as a barrier, by deterring people from having potentially lifesaving genetic testing that could match them to tailored interventions and treatments, as well as from participation in genetic research; and
 - (e) that numerous other countries have prohibited the use of genetic test results to discriminate against individuals in insurance underwriting;
- (2) acknowledges that:
 - (a) in 2018, the Joint Parliamentary Committee on Corporations and Financial Services' inquiry into the life insurance industry made recommendations relating to the use of genetic test results in life insurance underwriting, including consideration of a moratorium and potentially further legislative action or another form of regulation banning or limiting the use of predictive genetic information by the life insurance industry;
 - (b) in 2019, the Financial Services Council introduced a partial moratorium restricting member life insurance companies from requiring applicants to disclose or using applicants' genetic test results for policies below certain financial limits, which is self-regulation by industry with no government oversight; and
 - (c) the Australian Genetics and Life Insurance Moratorium: Monitoring the Effectiveness and Response (A-GLIMMER) Project was funded by the Government from 2020-2023 to investigate effectiveness of the moratorium as a regulatory solution to genetic discrimination in Australian life insurance, and found that discrimination fears continue to deter individuals from having genetic testing, and that the moratorium is inadequate to address and prevent genetic discrimination in life insurance;

- (3) recognises the invaluable work of Dr Jane Tiller, Project lead, Monash University, and the investigator team in preparing the comprehensive A-GLIMMER Project report, as well as the project's collaborators, patient/consumer and supporter groups, and the many individuals who participated in the research studies completed as part of the project; and
- (4) calls on the Government to consider policy changes to address and prevent genetic discrimination in life insurance and assist patients in receiving lifesaving medical care.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

7 TOURISM INDUSTRY

Mr Hogan, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges the importance of Australia's visitor economy and tourism industry;
- (2) notes that during the pandemic, international visitation fell by over 95 per cent;
- (3) further acknowledges tourism industry concerns that in the first 12 months in office, the Government has:
 - (a) cut funding to Tourism Australia by $35 million;
 - (b) increased the cost of visitor and working holiday maker visas by 20 per cent;
 - (c) increased the passenger movement charge for international tourists; and
 - (d) refused Qatar Airways' request to double their flights to Australia;
- (4) recognises the international market for the global traveller is fiercely competitive and many destinations have returned to pre-pandemic levels of international visitors;
- (5) further notes that:
 - (a) international visitor numbers to Australia for the year ending May 2023 remain down 40 per cent on the corresponding May 2019 figure; and
 - (b) of the 5.6 million international visitors in the year ending May 2023, only 32 per cent nominated holidaying as the reason for travel, with the majority of visitors nominating visiting friends and relatives as the reason; and
- (6) calls on the Government to back our tourism operators and regions reliant on international visitors by:
 - (a) reinstating funding cuts to Tourism Australia; and
 - (b) reversing its 'tourism tax' targeted at international visitors.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for private Members' business having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

At 4.24 pm, the proceedings were resumed.

9 FAR-RIGHT EXTREMISM

Mr Burnell, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes with great concern that:
 - (a) there has been a significant increase in far-right extremism and extremist activity in Australia and throughout many parts of the developed world;
 - (b) far-right extremism is often cultivated through its overlap with various conspiracy theories, which have become a common tool to radicalise individuals, especially through misinformation on social media platforms; and
 - (c) far-right extremism tears apart the social fabric of Australia's proud and diverse multicultural communities;
- (2) acknowledges the vital work undertaken by agencies within Australia's national intelligence community, in cooperation with federal, state and territory law enforcement agencies, to identify and disrupt extremist activities and to intervene and assist those who are at risk of becoming radicalised or becoming further radicalised by hateful ideologies;
- (3) condemns far-right extremist groups that presently operate within Australia that seek to promote fascism, ethnic and religious based hatred, and to recruit and radicalise others to ascribe to their malevolent systems of beliefs;
- (4) affirms that the ideologies endorsed by right-wing extremist groups have no place in the Australian community; and
- (5) commends the Government for taking the threat posed by right-wing extremism in Australia seriously.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

10 BLACK SPOT ROAD SAFETY PROGRAM

Mr Pasin, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges the importance of the Black Spot Road Safety Program, which has been delivering funding continuously since 1996 to reduce the risk of road crashes;
- (2) notes that half of all road crashes are on local government roads, and these crashes account for 52 per cent of all casualties and 40 per cent of all road deaths;
- (3) recognises that local government is responsible for around 77 per cent of the road network but only collects around 3.5 per cent of the total tax revenue raised by governments in Australia, and as such is heavily reliant on road funding from other levels of government;
- (4) further notes that:
 - (a) two-thirds of all road fatalities occur on regional roads; and
 - (b) the Black Spot Road Safety Program's intention is to allocate funding on a half-half basis between urban and rural roads;
- (5) further acknowledges that not all councils, in particular rural and regional councils with lower rate bases, have the resources necessary to make applications that meet criteria for the Black Spot Road Safety Program; and
- (6) calls on the Government to amend the Black Spot Road Safety Program guidelines to make it easier for the local government sector to access that fund.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

11 CARAVAN PARKS GRANT PROGRAM

Mrs Phillips, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that caravan parks are a popular holiday accommodation choice for Australians, particularly for families, budget-conscious travellers, and travellers who want to get off the beaten track and explore everything our country has to offer;
- (2) commends the Government and the Minister for Trade and Tourism for the successful rollout of the Caravan Parks Grant Program which is delivering much needed improvements to caravan parks in the regions all across Australia; and
- (3) encourages Australians to consider holidaying at home, all across regional Australia, and to continue to support local business owners and workers.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

12 CHILD CARE

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Ms Bell—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
 - (a) the Government's Cheaper Child Care policy has driven up the cost of early childhood education and care for families across Australia since it was implemented on 1 July 2023;
 - (b) families are reporting increases to the cost of their daily fees in excess of $20 per day;
 - (c) the Government's inability to manage the cost of living crisis in Australia is driving up the cost of rent, mortgages, groceries and everyday bills, like early childhood education and care bills, for Australian families;
 - (d) the Government's inaction to address workforce shortages is limiting access to early childhood education and care for families; and
 - (e) families continue to be unable to access early childhood education and care, particularly in regional and rural areas; and
- (2) calls on the Government to deliver:
 - (a) more access to early childhood education and care places to support Australians to return to the workforce; and
 - (b) real cost of living relief to families—

Debate resumed.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

13 EXPULSION OF HUGH MAHON FROM THE HOUSE

Mr J Wilson, by leave, for Mr Perrett, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
 - (a) prior to the passage of the Parliamentary Privileges Act 1987 the Houses of the Australian Parliament had the power to expel a Senator or Member of the House of Representatives;
 - (b) the expulsion of a Member of this House is the most drastic of sanctions;
 - (c) on 11 November 1920, the Honourable Member for Kalgoorlie Hugh Mahon was expelled from this House; and
 - (d) the Honourable Member for Kalgoorlie is the only Member to have ever been expelled from this House;
- (2) acknowledges that the Honourable Member for Kalgoorlie Hugh Mahon was expelled:
 - (a) by a motion brought on hastily and with limited time for debate;
 - (b) by a vote of the House on party lines; and
 - (c) without the due process and procedural fairness that such an important issue deserves; and

- (3) further recognises that:
- (a) it was unjust, on the limited evidence, for the institution to which Hugh Mahon had been democratically elected to reverse the decision of his constituents;
 - (b) the expulsion of the Honourable Member for Kalgoorlie Hugh Mahon was a misuse of the power then invested in the House; and
 - (c) for over a century the Mahon family has endured this injustice and it is time that the Parliament revisit the matter of the Honourable Member for Kalgoorlie, Hugh Mahon's expulsion.

Debate ensued.

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government's industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia's weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions' wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”.

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes that the bill is deficient in a number of respects including that:

- (1) more than three million Australians have a HECS debt or other type of student debt under the Higher Education Loan Program (HELP) scheme which increased by a massive 7.1 per cent on 1 June 2023, the highest indexation rate in more than 30 years, as a result of the Government's cost of living crisis and sky-high inflation rate;
- (2) by proposing to abolish the Coalition's 50 per cent pass rule, the Government has failed to protect students at high risk of not completing their course from accumulating debilitating HECS debts and suffering acute financial hardship;
- (3) the Government's reliance on a ‘survey’ of 27 universities to justify the abolition of the 50 per cent pass rule indicates that the Government has not been able to access the relevant data as to how many students are impacted by this measure, reflecting a poor adherence to evidence-based policy;
- (4) in proposing to uncap Commonwealth Supported Places (CSPs) available to Indigenous students living in metropolitan areas which extends the Coalition's measure to uncap CSPs for Indigenous students living in regional and remote Australia, the Government has not explained how it will hold universities to account for poor completion rates by Indigenous students which currently sees only 26 per cent of Indigenous students complete their undergraduate degree within four years, with 37 per cent of students dropping out during that period;
- (5) by reason that the Government is proposing to release a consultation paper on its proposed support-for-students policy, it is clear that the Government has not done its homework on this policy nor determined the basis on which universities would be fined as proposed by the bill;
- (6) the bill fails to impose on universities a strong accountability and transparency framework including fair and just access to student refunds and the requirement that universities must publish all relevant course information including out-of-pocket costs, total costs, completion rates, modes of course delivery, and employment outcomes;
- (7) the Government needs to be transparent with taxpayers regarding how much its changes to the higher education system will cost and how it will pay for them; and
- (8) given its deficiencies, the bill should be referred to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee for inquiry”—

"the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government's industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia's weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions' wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising 'carve-out' for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse"—

Debate resumed.

Mr Katter moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Mr Fletcher—That all words after "House" be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

"whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;
- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings."

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions’ wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;

- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings”—

6 ENERGY SECURITY

Mr Ramsey, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
 - (a) the Government's rush towards 82 per cent renewable energy could expose Australia to unnecessary national security risks due to a dependence on imported solar panel components from China;
 - (b) that an analysis, led by the Shadow Minister for Home Affairs and Cyber Security, Senator James Paterson, uncovered exploitable flaws and vulnerabilities in smart inverters which accompany many Australian solar photovoltaic systems;
 - (c) that almost 60 per cent of installed smart inverters are being supplied by Chinese manufacturers bound by China's national intelligence laws, which could require companies to be ordered by Beijing to sabotage, survey or disrupt power supplies to Australian homes, companies or Government;
 - (d) that energy security is national security, and the predominance of Chinese firms supplying inverters leaves Australia vulnerable to cyber attacks;
 - (e) that the Government has been aware of the concerns raised by the Opposition but continues to do nothing to alleviate the risks;
 - (f) that providing affordable and reliable energy that is free from foreign interference should be a first order priority of government, and that the Government is failing on all fronts;
 - (g) that the Opposition's concerns have been reinforced by the Cyber Security Cooperative Research Centre (CRC) which has delivered a report revealing the threat posed by solar inverters; and
 - (h) that the CRC has warned of the potential for a 'black start event', which:
 - (i) refers to a scaled, targeted and simultaneous attack on the grid resulting in a power plant being rendered incapable of turning back on without reliance on a generator or battery; and
 - (ii) could shut down the entire power grid and take a week to recover; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) stop dithering and take action to ensure Australia's energy grid is free from foreign interference;
 - (b) immediately launch a review into the national security implications of its 82 per cent renewable target; and

- (c) follow the CRC recommendation and ensure cyber security impact assessments be completed for all solar inverters being sold in Australia, and that mandatory cyber security ratings be introduced for solar inverters.

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions’ wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and

- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;
- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings”—

 - (b) this failure is particularly acute when it comes to the protection of whistleblowers;
- (2) notes that:
 - (a) whistleblowers make our democracy stronger by valuing accountability and justice, and promoting good government and good governance;

 - (e) the Attorney-General has authority under section 71(b) of the Judiciary Act 1903 to decline to proceed further with a prosecution for an indictable offence; and

 - (c) some of the most vocal criticisms have come from leading lawyers who have clinically taken the Government's bill apart, piece by piece; and
 - (d) the Minister appears to have had few defenders of her plan;
- (2) acknowledges that, under the Government's exposure draft bill:
 - (a) the definition of 'misinformation' is so broad that it could capture many statements made by Australians in the context of political debate;

 - (c) nothing an academic says can be misinformation, but statements by somebody disagreeing with an academic can be misinformation;
 - (d) good faith statements made by entertainers cannot be misinformation, but good faith statements made by ordinary Australians on political matters can be misinformation;
 - (e) journalists commenting on their personal digital platforms could have their content removed as misinformation; and

9 FAIR WORK LEGISLATION AMENDMENT (CLOSING LOOPHOLES) BILL 2023

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions’ wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”—

*And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—*That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;
- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings”—

- (1) a failure to explain to the Australian people how the members of the Voice will be appointed or elected, what the consequences will be for government decision making processes, and what the scope of the issues will be on which the Voice will have the power to make representations;
- (2) an unwillingness to consult in relation to the words of the constitutional amendment, or to consider limiting the amendment to the issue of constitutional recognition;
- (3) the arrogant assumption that the Australian people will be ready to vote in support of the Voice when they have not been given the details of how it will operate and how it will be structured; and

- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and

(10) calls on the government to:

- (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;

12 FAIR WORK LEGISLATION AMENDMENT (CLOSING LOOPHOLES) BILL 2023

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions’ wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;

- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”—

*And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—*That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;
- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings”—

7 ENERGY GENERATION

Ms Ware, by leave, for Mr Ted O'Brien, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes:
 - (a) the $60 billion black hole in the Government's energy plan, as exposed by independent analysis from a leading Australian energy economist;
 - (b) independent analysis has revealed that more than $60 billion of mega-energy projects, which the Government is seeking to build by 2030, are unaccounted for in the Government's logic despite their significant impact on the energy prices paid by households;
 - (c) the concerns raised pertain to the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation's GenCost study which evaluates the levelised cost of electricity for different energy generating technologies;
 - (d) the GenCost study provides the central justification for the Government's radical energy experiment and the repeated mantra that 'renewables are the cheapest form of energy';
 - (e) the GenCost report fails to account for the true cost of various energy generation technologies by excluding the cost of integrating them into the electricity network;
 - (f) that this includes projects such as Snowy 2.0, the Kurri Kurri gas plant, significant integrated system plan transmission projects, Tasmania Battery of the Nation, and the Illawarra gas peaking plant;
 - (g) the $60 billion price tag excludes household batteries and the distribution network;
 - (h) the Government has wilfully misrepresented the study to blind Australians to the true cost of the Government's plan; and
 - (i) the importance of a total system cost assessment for energy, including integration costs, because this will be paid for in the energy bills of Australian households and businesses; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) immediately stop misrepresenting the price of various energy generation technologies so that a complete assessment can be done to determine the true optimum investment pathway for Australia's energy market; and
 - (b) adopt an 'all of the above' approach to energy as the Opposition has done, which allows for a mix of different technologies to be considered, including renewables.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate, by leave, made an order of the day for a later hour this day.

- (11) supports the Government's ongoing efforts to provide consular assistance to affected Australians and to facilitate the departure of those who want to leave the region;
- (12) acknowledges what has unfolded is deeply distressing for many in the Australian community, close to the heart of many, and it is important that we maintain respect for each other here at home as people express their views;
- (13) condemns all forms of hate speech and violent extremist activity, including antisemitism and Islamophobia;

CLARESSA SURTEES
Clerk of the House of Representatives

2022-2023

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
SUPPLEMENT TO VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 85

FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 16 OCTOBER 2023

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 ENERGY SUPPLY

Ms Ware, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

(1) notes:

- (a) Australia's energy grid is under imminent threat of blackouts as soon as this summer, as the Government's energy plan drives the premature closure of baseload energy without any guarantee of like-for-like replacement;
- (b) that the Australian Energy Market Operator has sounded its most dire warning yet, signalling the increased likelihood of significant energy shortfalls as renewable energy investment stalls;
- (c) that the stark warning is a direct result of the Government's energy policies;
- (d) that at least 80 per cent of baseload energy will shut down by 2035 under this Government's watch;
- (e) that despite the Minister for Climate Change and Energy repeatedly claiming that he is leading an economic transformation 'bigger than the Industrial Revolution' his Government has not asked his department or Treasury to complete any modelling of the energy plan;
- (f) that Australians are already paying some of the most expensive energy bills in the world and now they have been told their lights may not turn on when they need them;
- (g) the Government's heavy-handed, big government policies continue to smother investments in gas which is vital to keeping the lights on and the prices down;
- (h) that increased demand for gas coupled with decreased investment due to the Government's anti-gas policies will exacerbate the threat to reliability and the risk that the lights will go out;
- (i) the situation will only get worse if the Government continues with its policy suite and ill-informed pathway to decarbonising the grid;
- (j) the Government's policies are driving the premature closure of baseload power generation yet is failing to replace the capacity as it has promised it would; and
- (k) the Government is setting up renewable energy for failure, not success, by demanding a renewables-only grid; and

(2) calls on the Government to:

- (a) immediately stop its ideological crusade against energy technologies it does not like despite many of these technologies having reliably kept the lights on for decades;

- (b) adopt an ‘all of the above’ approach to energy, as the Opposition has done, to ensure a balanced mix of technologies that can power our grid into the future, including renewables but not only renewables;
- (c) support any state government that seeks to avoid premature closure of coal fired power stations while like-for-like energy generating replacements are built; and
- (d) reinstate a technology-agnostic capacity mechanism as an insurance method to provide operators with the incentives they need to ensure a reliable synchronous energy supply in the grid.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 NATIONAL CULTURAL POLICY

Ms Templeman, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House notes that:

- (1) the arts and creativity make a valuable contribution to the quality of life, cultural identity and individual wellbeing in regional communities;
- (2) the arts and creativity can drive economic development by encouraging tourism, supporting small businesses, diversifying employment opportunities and providing skilled jobs;
- (3) to tell the Australian story, regional voices must be heard;
- (4) the new National Cultural Policy, ‘Revive’, commits new funding to creativity in regional Australia; and
- (5) Revive will provide new investment and new vision for the cultural sector and begin repairing the damage caused by a decade of neglect of the arts by the previous Government.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 STRONGER COMMUNITIES PROGRAMME

Mr Chester, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that the:
 - (a) Stronger Communities Programme delivered on the former Government’s commitment to deliver social benefits in communities across Australia;
 - (b) programme provided grants of between $2,500 and $20,000 to community organisations and local governments for small scale projects; and
 - (c) programme helped fund over 15,000 community-based projects across Australia; and
- (2) acknowledges that:
 - (a) the Government has failed to provide funding for future rounds of the programme, with no replacement for small scale projects; and
 - (b) community groups, already struggling with the increased cost of living, will have no other option than to fundraise for projects that otherwise could have been funded under the programme.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 MEDICARE

Ms J Ryan, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that the Government is working for Australia by delivering our commitment to strengthen Medicare and making it easier to see a doctor by:
 - (a) tripling the bulk billing incentive, the largest increase to the incentive in the 40-year history of Medicare;

- (b) delivering cheaper medicines by cutting the Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme co-payment for the first time in 75 years and allowing 60-day prescriptions, saving patients time and money due to less visits to the doctors and the chemist;
 - (c) establishing bulk-billing Medicare Urgent Care Clinics across the country where patients receive care for urgent but not life-threatening issues and freeing up overstretched GPs, taking pressure off hospitals and improving access to affordable care; and
 - (d) growing our health workforce and supporting our trusted health workers to do what they are trained to do by investing in the workforce and supporting our local GP practices through the Strengthening Medicare General Practice Grants; and
- (2) notes the mess the health system was left in after a decade of neglect, including under the stewardship of the now Leader of the Opposition who during his time as Minister:
- (a) tried to tax every single visit Australians made to their GP;
 - (b) tried to jack up the price of medicines by $5 for each and every script;
 - (c) cut $50 billion from hospitals;
 - (d) started six years of a Medicare rebate freeze; and
 - (e) was voted the worst Health Minister in 40 years by the Australian Medical Association.

Debate ensued.

7 MEMBERS' STATEMENTS

Members' statements were made.

8 COST OF LIVING

Dr Scamps, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) everyday Australians are experiencing a cost of living crisis; and
 - (b) the Government is investigating ways to respond to the United States of America's (US) Inflation Reduction Act, which is focused on demand-side solutions by the electrification of households, small businesses and transport; and
- (2) calls on the Government to urgently bring forward its plan for responding to the US Inflation Reduction Act, to rapidly decarbonise and to reduce cost of living pressures.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

9 LAPSE OF NOTICE

Upon notice No. 6, private Members' business, being called on and Dr Ananda-Rajah not being present, the notice lapsed.

At 5.01 pm, the Deputy Speaker left the Chair.

Resumption of meeting

At 5.06 pm, the Deputy Speaker resumed the Chair.

10 ILLICIT TOBACCO AND VAPES

Mr L O'Brien, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that the supply, distribution and sale of illicit tobacco and vapes:
 - (a) is a significant source of revenue for organised crime and criminal gangs connected with the production of illicit drugs, illegal prostitution, supply of illegal firearms and other unlawful activities that cause harm to Australians;
 - (b) deprives the Australian people of approximately $400 million each year that would be directed toward the national health system;
 - (c) deprives lawful retailers of tobacco products of business; and
 - (d) endangers lives, properties and communities, including the owners and staff of legitimate grocery stores that sell legal tobacco and vapes; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) properly empower, resource and fund the Illicit Tobacco Taskforce to disrupt the supply and distribution of illicit tobacco and vapes; and
 - (b) legislate tough penalties to deter both the demand and supply of illicit tobacco and vapes.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

11 INCOME SUPPORT PAYMENTS

Ms Lawrence, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that the Government is working to relieve the cost of living pressure for Australians on low and fixed incomes, with around 5.5 million Australians receiving an increase to their income support payments and pensions on 20 September, as a result of:
 - (a) indexation; and/or
 - (b) the boost to income support announced in the May budget as part of the $14.6 billion cost of living package; and
- (2) notes the changes include:
 - (a) increases to the rates of working-age and student payments, including:
 - (i) Jobseeker;
 - (ii) Youth Allowance;
 - (iii) Austudy;
 - (iv) Parenting Payment Partnered;
 - (v) Youth Disability Support Pension; and
 - (vi) ABSTUDY;
 - (b) expanded eligibility for the higher rate of Jobseeker to those aged 55 and over, who are on payment for nine continuous months or more (down from 60);
 - (c) expanded eligibility for Parenting Payment Single, to single principal carers until their youngest child turns 14 (up from eight);
 - (d) increases to the maximum rates of Commonwealth Rent Assistance, the highest in more than 30 years;
 - (e) indexation increases for recipients of the Age Pension, Disability Support Pension, Carer Payment and veterans on a service pension;
 - (f) indexation of the income limits for Commonwealth Seniors Health Card recipients; and
 - (g) other supplementary payments including Telephone Allowance and Utilities Allowance which are also being indexed.

At 5.56 pm, a division having been called in the House, the proceedings were suspended.

Resumption of meeting

At 6.07 pm, the proceedings were resumed.

Debate continued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

12 INVESTMENT IN INFRASTRUCTURE

Mr Pasin, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that it is now over 130 days since the Government announced a 90-day review into the Infrastructure Investment Pipeline;
- (2) recognises that:
 - (a) investment in infrastructure is essential to reduce congestion and improve productivity and safety; and
 - (b) delaying important infrastructure projects while we await the results of the 90-day review is holding back the productivity of our nation and putting much needed safety upgrades on hold;
- (3) acknowledges that costs continue to rise and delays to the commencement of infrastructure projects as a result of the review will result in considerably higher costs than originally estimated; and
- (4) calls on the Government to complete the review process and unlock the infrastructure investment that our nation desperately needs.

Debate ensued.

- (1) notes the Minister for the Environment may have sent a letter “in camera”, on 25 May 2023, to the Director General of UNESCO, without public scrutiny;
- (2) notes that this letter sets out in detail Reef and Gulf runoff regulatory impositions that will result in the closure of agriculture on Queensland’s Gulf and east coast;
- (3) notes that if the proposals detailed in the letter received Governor in Council assent, they would shut down the commercial fishing, severely damage tourism, much of which is based upon recreational fishing and tourist access to the reef;
- (4) notes that this mortal blow might also extend to the Northern cattle, sugar and banana industries;
- (5) notes that the 2021-2022 annual report of coral reef condition, prepared by the Australian Institute of Marine Science, demonstrated that the Northern and Central regions of the Great Barrier Reef have the highest coral cover measured in 36 years of monitoring, the Southern section only declined slightly due to crown of thorns outbreaks;
- (6) notes that given the excellent health of the reef there is no evidence that agricultural run off is affecting the reef and as such there is no justification for arbitrary regulatory impositions that will detrimentally affect the agriculture sector and broader community; and

- (7) calls on the Minister for the Environment to:
- (a) confirm the letter's authenticity;
 - (b) provide advice as to who provided the authorisation for the commitment given in the letter;
 - (c) specifically advise if the Cabinet was made aware of this letter and authorised its release;

Dr Gillespie moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Mr Bandt—That all words after “whilst” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“declining to give the bill a second reading, the House:

- (1) is concerned that the legislation represents the worst solution on national water reform;
- (2) notes that the following is needed for national water reforms in the Basin to be successful:
 - (a) a cooperative and constructive approach with all Basin State Governments to assist water reform and investment in urban and rural water infrastructure;
 - (b) bipartisan support; and
 - (c) proper face to face consultation with key stakeholders in the Murray Darling Basin, including all water users, farmers, water scientists, environment groups and the broader community to ensure the adoption of a Basin Plan which has at its heart a triple bottom line approach which optimises social, economic, and environmental outcomes; and
- (3) criticises the Government for failing to consult the Basin Communities Committee which is the legislated voice for people living in the Murray Darling Basin, on the Water Amendment (Restoring our Rivers) Bill 2023”.

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions’ wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;
- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings”—

16 FAIR WORK LEGISLATION AMENDMENT (CLOSING LOOPHOLES) BILL 2023

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;

- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions' wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising 'carve-out' for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse"—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—That all words after "House" be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

"whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;
- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings"—

FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 13 NOVEMBER 2023

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 STRONGER COMMUNITIES PROGRAMME

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Mr Chester—
That this House:

- (1) notes that the:
 - (a) Stronger Communities Programme delivered on the former Government's commitment to deliver social benefits in communities across Australia;
 - (b) programme provided grants of between $2,500 and $20,000 to community organisations and local governments for small scale projects; and
 - (c) programme helped fund over 15,000 community-based projects across Australia; and
- (2) acknowledges that:
 - (a) the Government has failed to provide funding for future rounds of the programme, with no replacement for small scale projects; and
 - (b) community groups, already struggling with the increased cost of living, will have no other option than to fundraise for projects that otherwise could have been funded under the programme—

Debate resumed.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 WAGES

Mr Rae, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that the Government was elected on the promise of getting wages moving again after a decade of deliberate wage stagnation under the previous Government;
- (2) notes that Australian Bureau of Statistics' data released in August, and new analysis, shows that:
 - (a) the average earnings of a full-time worker increased 3.9 per cent in the first year of the Government, in dollar terms, an extra $3,700 per year;
 - (b) the average worker is earning $1,400 more than they would have because of the higher rate of wages growth under the Government compared to if wages had continued to grow at the sluggish pace they did under our predecessors; and
 - (c) low paid workers are receiving the largest pay rises;
- (3) further notes that the Government's economic plan is all about getting wages moving in a sustainable way by:

- (a) securing a pay rise for minimum and award wage earners;
 - (b) funding a wage rise for aged care workers;
 - (c) changing our industrial relations laws to support secure jobs and better pay; and
 - (d) funding more TAFE and university places and investing in strategic industries to help deliver well-paid jobs into the future; and

5 COMMONWEALTH GRANTS ADMINISTRATION

Dr Haines, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that:
 - (a) Commonwealth grants are vitally important to the positive and meaningful work carried out by community organisations, local governments, businesses and not-for-profits, particularly in regional and rural areas;
 - (b) the current system of Commonwealth grants administration means grants can be awarded based on the discretion of ministers and against official departmental advice, without merit and without meeting the aim of promoting proper use and management of public resources; and
 - (c) the current system means grants awarded by ministerial discretion escape parliamentary and public scrutiny;
- (2) notes that Commonwealth grants programs administered by the former and current governments have been misused for political purposes, including the Building Better Regions Fund, the Commuter Car Parks Project, the Community Sport Infrastructure Grant Program, the Mobile Black Spot Program, and the Community Batteries for Household Solar Program; and
- (3) calls on the Government to introduce legislation to reform grants administration to ensure public money is not misused, and that this legislation must include:
 - (a) clear requirements for published Commonwealth grant guidelines and selection criteria;
 - (b) robust and public reporting requirements about how grants programs are administered, including grants that are awarded contrary to departmental advice; and

 - (a) commercial fishing in Commonwealth waters is already highly regulated to ensure sustainable resource management;
 - (b) the worldwide demand for seafood is increasing; and
 - (c) reducing the Australian wild-catch will result in the consumption of more imported seafood products; and
- (3) urges the Government to:
 - (a) recognise the:
 - (i) long-term sustainability of the commercial fishing industry is an issue of national importance because of the social, economic, environmental and cultural benefits of the industry; and
 - (ii) pressures placed on the commercial fishing industry by environmental activism and plans to lock up more productive fishing grounds in marine parks or other activities including offshore wind farms; and

In accordance with the resolution agreed to earlier this sitting—

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions’ wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;
- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;

- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings”—

Debate resumed by Ms Le who moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Mr Katter—That all words after “whilst not” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words: “declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) acknowledges there are over 14,200 small businesses trading in Fowler, which comprise 99 per cent of the local economy;
- (2) recognises one in three small businesses in Australia is run by migrants and refugees;
- (3) acknowledges small businesses often do not have the resources for legal and HR professionals to dissect complex reforms;
- (4) recognises small business owners from culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) backgrounds may require additional education and outreach on changes to regulation and compliance;
- (5) notes the bill’s regulation impact statement does not adequately address red tape and compliance costs for small businesses; and
- (6) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) conduct an in-depth analysis of the regulatory and financial impacts on small business owners before passing the bill through the House;
 - (b) ensure small business owners from CALD backgrounds have equal access to information, materials and support; and
 - (c) allow further small business consultation by respecting the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee inquiry’s reporting date of 1 February 2024”.

- (2) notes that the legislation imposes even more onerous requirements for small business employers while at the same time taking away employee rights; and
- (3) calls for the establishment of an authoritative body in order to:

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House declines to give this bill a second reading until a Senate inquiry into the bill has reported, and notes that:

- (1) the Government’s industrial relations changes will make life tougher for Australian businesses by increasing costs, complexity and red tape and as businesses say will likely lead to job losses;
- (2) the Minister has admitted in his own public comments that this bill will add complexity to an already complex workplace relations system, and increase prices for consumers for everyday services they have come to rely on;
- (3) this bill does nothing to address Australia’s weakening economy and falling productivity;
- (4) the bill does not assist Australian businesses to hire more people, and just ticks off even more items on the unions’ wish list including new right of entry laws and new union delegate rights;
- (5) despite the Minister promising ‘carve-out’ for small business, all the Government has done is add more complexity and made it harder for small and medium businesses to navigate the industrial relations system;

- (6) the Government has failed to outline how this legislation will enhance productivity, lift wages, or generate more jobs; and
- (7) at a time of a cost of living crisis, high inflation, businesses struggling with staff shortages and rapidly increasing power costs, the Government is making a bad situation worse”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Katter, viz.—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not supporting a Senate inquiry into the bill and not declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) notes that in 2001 a far North Queensland sugar mill was sold by a bank and receivers at allegedly an undervalued asset price, leaving millions owing in original farmer shareholders;
- (2) notes that despite continuous calls for an ASIC investigation, the only accountability came through civil proceedings successfully brought on by affected farmers;
- (3) notes that in 2012 a mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 450 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (4) notes that in July 2023 another mine in far North Queensland collapsed placing 250 people out of work and leaving millions owing in wages and entitlements to contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- (5) notes that both mining companies had the same Director prior to collapse and complaints made to the ATO about unpaid super for the second company date back to September 2021, nearly two years before the collapse;
- (6) notes that in March 2023 a transport/wholesale fruit company collapsed leaving millions owing to transport and farming entities across Australia;
- (7) notes that the Director of this company, who resigned days before the collapse, has approximately 285 office holdings in various other companies and is the subject of a number of ASIC complaints;
- (8) notes that workers and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers cannot be adequately protected by regulation alone and we must have improved oversight and enforcement;
- (9) notes that ASIC and the ATO either are ill-equipped or otherwise unwilling or unable to fulfill the role of a tough and accountable enforcer of companies and their officeholders; and
- (10) calls on the government to:
 - (a) remove corporate oversight from the ATO and ASIC;
 - (b) place corporate oversight with the Fair Work Commission or a similar oversight and enforcement body; and
 - (c) provide this oversight and enforcement body with the resources, accountability and powers to adequately protect employees and contractors, subcontractors and suppliers from corporate wrong doings”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Ms Le, viz.—That all words after “whilst not” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“declining to give the bill a second reading:

- (1) acknowledges there are over 14,200 small businesses trading in Fowler, which comprise 99 per cent of the local economy;
- (2) recognises one in three small businesses in Australia is run by migrants and refugees;
- (3) acknowledges small businesses often do not have the resources for legal and HR professionals to dissect complex reforms;
- (4) recognises small business owners from culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) backgrounds may require additional education and outreach on changes to regulation and compliance;
- (5) notes the bill’s regulation impact statement does not adequately address red tape and compliance costs for small businesses; and
- (6) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) conduct an in-depth analysis of the regulatory and financial impacts on small business owners before passing the bill through the House;
 - (b) ensure small business owners from CALD backgrounds have equal access to information, materials and support; and

- (c) allow further small business consultation by respecting the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee inquiry’s reporting date of 1 February 2024”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Ms Sharkie, viz.—That all words after “reading” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

- “(1) is concerned that the industrial legislative landscape is already complex and difficult for small business employers to navigate;
- (2) notes that the legislation imposes even more onerous requirements for small business employers while at the same time taking away employee rights; and
- (3) calls for the establishment of an authoritative body in order to:
- (a) provide no cost unambiguous advice to employers in relation to the interpretation of awards, enterprise agreements and the Fair Work Act; and

- (3) condemns the Prime Minister's failure to show the strong leadership required to overcome divisions within his own caucus, to stamp out antisemitism and bring our country together;
- (4) expresses its concern that community safety in this country has been further threatened by the release of more than 80 hardcore criminals from immigration detention into the Australian community;
- (5) expresses its deep concern that this cohort includes individuals who have committed acts of child rape, murder, sexual assault, and other violent crimes;
- (6) condemns the Government for catastrophically and demonstrably failing to prepare contingencies for High Court proceedings where it was fully aware of the risks;

3 FIRST RESPONDERS

Mr Thompson, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges:
 - (a) Australia's 370,000 first responders are the brave individuals on the frontline tackling compounding and cascading disasters, risking their lives to safeguard communities and property;
 - (b) the work of first responders is a service to our nation and we honour it, and that some experiences can be distressing, traumatic and dangerous;
 - (c) it is crucial to provide ongoing, comprehensive national support and enhance the resilience and capability of first responders, especially during and immediately after the current severe bushfire season; and
 - (d) Fortem Australia is the leading provider of this support for first responders nationwide, providing effective care to 15,000 unique first responders and their families across the nation, including 37,000 wellbeing activity registrations and delivery of over 6,100 clinical psychology sessions;
- (2) notes the Government's delay in confirming additional continued funding for this important work to continue beyond March 2024, resulting in significant uncertainty and a risk that Fortem Australia will need to begin to scale down its operations from November 2023; and
- (3) urgently calls upon the Government to announce continued funding for Fortem Australia prior to the commencement of the upcoming summer bushfire period, ensuring that first responders know where to turn in their time of need, and ensuring the seamless delivery of nation-leading support to these dedicated individuals.

- (b) opportunities provided by genetic research and that the findings from life-changing treatments should be regarded as ways and means to provide targeted treatments for patients suffering from disorders such as epilepsy, auto-immune diseases, cancers, heart disease and many others;
- (2) acknowledges:
 - (a) with the rush of new information and understanding of genetic treatments, comes the responsibility to protect the privacy of individuals from being exploited by third parties;
 - (b) these are imperative in protecting the field of genetics from exploitation and limiting the risk of patient records and disorders being used in discriminatory manners by third parties, such as the life insurance industry, whose current ability to use genetic test results in assessing applications and claims has led to great frustration and should be stopped; and
 - (c) this concern with privacy must not damage research in the genetics field and the benefits that advances in treatments provide, however, it is in the interest of this field that individuals are not discouraged from sharing information of their disorders; and
- (3) calls on Commonwealth, state and territory governments to work towards legislation that will restrict third party access to genetic information and ensure that the only party able to choose when and how to disclose genetic information is the individual themselves.

- (b) the former Government’s commitment to supporting women’s participation in the workforce saw women’s participation reach record highs;
- (c) at both the 2010 and 2013 federal elections, the Coalition’s paid parental leave policy sought to deliver 26 weeks’ paid parental leave based on actual wage;

- (d) both Labor and the Greens opposed the Coalition's paid parental leave policy; and
 - (e) the current paid parental leave scheme disproportionately adversely impacts smaller businesses, imposing an additional red-tape burden on small businesses by making them the pay clerk for the Government's paid parental leave scheme; and
- (2) calls on the Government to amend the Paid Parental Leave Act to require the Secretary, as defined by the Act, to pay parental leave pay instalments directly to employees of small businesses except in cases where a small business opts to pay parental leave pay instalments directly to an employee"—

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House:

(1) notes the:

- (a) Treasurer has failed to engage in negotiations with the Opposition on sensible proposals to support investment in the gas industry, which is the revenue base for this tax; and

- (b) Government still cannot answer simple questions about this tax, including whether it is new or a bring forward of revenue, its impact on investment in the industry, and its impact on energy prices, despite having had more than six months to do so;
- (2) calls on the Government to support the Opposition’s proposals to support the future of the gas industry; and
- (3) further notes that the cynical and absurd stapling of changes to the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax, to measures with cross-party support responding to the PwC and Tax Practitioners Board issue, demonstrates the lack of seriousness from the Government towards this legislation”—

- (2) acknowledges that the Australian Taxation Office has labelled the gas industry as ‘systemic non-payers of tax’;
- (3) notes that the Parliamentary Budget Office has costed the potential revenue from repairing the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax at $94.5 billion over the decade;
- (4) resolves that gas companies earning super profits from war should no longer avoid payment of super profits taxes; and

4 TREASURY LAWS AMENDMENT (TAX ACCOUNTABILITY AND FAIRNESS) BILL 2023

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Taylor, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House:

- (1) notes the:
 - (a) Treasurer has failed to engage in negotiations with the Opposition on sensible proposals to support investment in the gas industry, which is the revenue base for this tax; and
 - (b) Government still cannot answer simple questions about this tax, including whether it is new or a bring forward of revenue, its impact on investment in the industry, and its impact on energy prices, despite having had more than six months to do so;
- (2) calls on the Government to support the Opposition’s proposals to support the future of the gas industry; and
- (3) further notes that the cynical and absurd stapling of changes to the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax, to measures with cross-party support responding to the PwC and Tax Practitioners Board issue, demonstrates the lack of seriousness from the Government towards this legislation”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Bandt, viz.—That all words after “whilst” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“acknowledging 15 gas companies signed non-disclosure agreements when preparing Schedule 5 of this bill for the Government, the House:

- (1) notes the billions of dollars in climate damage that the gas industry has already inflicted through turbocharged bushfires, floods and a 23 per cent reduction in agricultural profits, representing $29,200 in losses per Australian farm;
- (2) acknowledges that the Australian Taxation Office has labelled the gas industry as ‘systemic non-payers of tax’;
- (3) notes that the Parliamentary Budget Office has costed the potential revenue from repairing the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax at $94.5 billion over the decade;
- (4) resolves that gas companies earning super profits from war should no longer avoid payment of super profits taxes; and
- (5) calls on the Government to amend the bill to ensure a minimum doubling of revenue from the Government’s proposed changes to the gas super profits tax”—

Debate resumed.

Ms Steggall moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Mr Bandt—That all words after “acknowledging” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the role of gas companies in influencing the drafting of this bill, the House declines to give the bill a second reading as it is of the opinion that:

- (1) the bill should:
 - (a) adopt an 80 per cent deductions cap for the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax, lowered from the current 90 per cent, which would double the amount of revenue subject to the 40 per cent Petroleum Resource Rent Tax for that year and remain consistent with Treasury advice provided to the Government; and

- (b) abolish the seven-year exemption to the deductions cap which supports the development of new oil and gas projects and is contrary to the Government's claim to be committed to the Paris Agreement and keeping global warming below two degrees; and
- (2) the Government must stop presenting omnibus bills of this nature to the House combining complex, disparate policy issues that require greater interrogation and consideration than is currently allowed for whilst also undermining the Government's own credibility to present a clear, coherent policy programme".

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned (Mr Rae), and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

Mr Rae moved—That the Federation Chamber do now adjourn.

1 The Federation Chamber met at 9.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 TREASURY LAWS AMENDMENT (TAX ACCOUNTABILITY AND FAIRNESS) BILL 2023

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Taylor, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House:

(1) notes the:

- (a) Treasurer has failed to engage in negotiations with the Opposition on sensible proposals to support investment in the gas industry, which is the revenue base for this tax; and
- (b) Government still cannot answer simple questions about this tax, including whether it is new or a bring forward of revenue, its impact on investment in the industry, and its impact on energy prices, despite having had more than six months to do so;

(2) calls on the Government to support the Opposition's proposals to support the future of the gas industry; and

(3) further notes that the cynical and absurd stapling of changes to the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax, to measures with cross-party support responding to the PwC and Tax Practitioners Board issue, demonstrates the lack of seriousness from the Government towards this legislation”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Bandt, viz.—That all words after “whilst” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“acknowledging 15 gas companies signed non-disclosure agreements when preparing Schedule 5 of this bill for the Government, the House:

- (1) notes the billions of dollars in climate damage that the gas industry has already inflicted through turbocharged bushfires, floods and a 23 per cent reduction in agricultural profits, representing $29,200 in losses per Australian farm;
- (2) acknowledges that the Australian Taxation Office has labelled the gas industry as ‘systemic non-payers of tax’;
- (3) notes that the Parliamentary Budget Office has costed the potential revenue from repairing the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax at $94.5 billion over the decade;
- (4) resolves that gas companies earning super profits from war should no longer avoid payment of super profits taxes; and
- (5) calls on the Government to amend the bill to ensure a minimum doubling of revenue from the Government's proposed changes to the gas super profits tax”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Ms Steggall, viz.—That all words after “acknowledging” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the role of gas companies in influencing the drafting of this bill, the House declines to give the bill a second reading as it is of the opinion that:

- (1) the bill should:*
 - (a) adopt an 80 per cent deductions cap for the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax, lowered from the current 90 per cent, which would double the amount of revenue subject to the 40 per cent Petroleum Resource Rent Tax for that year and remain consistent with Treasury advice provided to the Government; and*
 - (b) abolish the seven-year exemption to the deductions cap which supports the development of new oil and gas projects and is contrary to the Government’s claim to be committed to the Paris Agreement and keeping global warming below two degrees; and*
- (2) the Government must stop presenting omnibus bills of this nature to the House combining complex, disparate policy issues that require greater interrogation and consideration than is currently allowed for whilst also undermining the Government’s own credibility to present a clear, coherent policy programme”—*

Debate resumed.

Suspension of meeting

At 10.32 am, a division having been called in the House, the proceedings were suspended.

Resumption of meeting

At 10.50 am, the proceedings were resumed.

Debate continued.

Dr Haines moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Ms Steggall—That all words after “acknowledging the” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“House does not decline to give the bill a second reading, it:

- (1) notes that the bill has two important, and distinctly unrelated purposes, being to:*
 - (a) implement a response to the PwC tax leaks scandal, which was an outrageous breach of confidentiality by a consultancy hired by Government; and*
 - (b) reform the Petroleum Resources Rent Tax, by establishing a cap on the use of deductions by offshore gas and oil projects; and*
- (2) notes that the illogical merging of two unrelated, yet equally important issues into the same piece of legislation is not consistent with the principles of good governance; and*
- (3) calls on the Government to separate out the provisions of the Petroleum Resources Rent Tax changes from the PwC response provisions, so that they may be considered, debated and voted on in isolation on their individual merits”.*

Debate ensued.

Ms Chaney, by leave, again addressed the Federation Chamber.

20 TREASURY LAWS AMENDMENT (COST OF LIVING TAX CUTS) BILL 2024

It being 8 pm—In accordance with the resolution agreed to earlier this sitting—

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Taylor (see item No. 18)—

Debate resumed.

Mr Bates moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Mr Taylor—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“(1) notes that these revised tax cuts will still make economic inequality in Australia worse by:

- (a) giving politicians and CEOs on incomes more than $200,000 three times the value of tax cuts compared to the average worker;
- (b) only providing the poorest 20 per cent of society with 0.4 per cent of the share of tax cuts next financial year, compared to the wealthiest 20 per cent of society who will enjoy half the total value of the tax cuts;
- (c) exacerbating the gender pay gap, with 42 per cent of the tax cuts going to women and 58 per cent to men; and

- (d) starving the budget by a jaw-dropping $318 billion over the decade, removing revenue that could support people who rely on aged care services, disability support, income support and families who depend on the public education and health systems; and
- (2) calls on the government to redesign the tax cuts to not give the wealthiest in society $4,529 a year and instead redirect this largesse to expanding public services like mental health and dental into Medicare and financial support for those earning below the tax free threshold in this cost of living crisis”.

Debate ensued.

Mr Birrell addressing the House—

3 DOMESTIC AND INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE

Ms Steggall, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) domestic and intimate partner violence is a national crisis and whilst impacting all genders, the casualties are overwhelmingly women;
 - (b) on average in Australia, one woman per week is murdered by her current or former partner;
 - (c) as of 4 February 2024, six women have been allegedly murdered by their male partner in Australia;
 - (d) in the year 2021-22, 5,606 women were hospitalised due to family and domestic violence, an average of 15 women per day;
 - (e) the number of Australian women killed by their partners each year has not changed significantly in over 30 years;
 - (f) women often experience multiple incidents of violence across their lifetime; and
 - (g) the men who abuse, violate and murder women are not so-called 'good blokes' and any such notion must be called out each and every time a woman faces violence at the hands of a male partner or male they know; and
- (2) calls on the Government to urgently convene a crisis National Cabinet meeting of federal, state and territory ministers to:
 - (a) ensure the National Plan to End Violence against Women and Children 2022-2032 is bringing about the required action and policies to prevent violence against women and children across Australia;
 - (b) commission a review of all state criminal sentencing provisions and the use of character references for domestic violence and gender-based abuse to ensure they are fit-for-purpose in holding perpetrators of violence against women to account;
 - (c) increase the capacity of specialist services to assist women fleeing domestic violence to stay alive, such as crisis support, appropriate accommodation, leave advice and advocacy and income support and ensure they are properly funded;
 - (d) fully fund proven programs that save lives, such as 'Staying Home Leaving Violence', which been shown by research to be an effective contributor to the long-term safety and housing stability of women and children who have left a violent and abusive relationship; and

- (e) agree on further concrete, measurable and streamlined efforts at all levels of government based on sound evidence to bring down the horrific number of cases of domestic violence against women and children from this year.

 - (b) the Department of Education advised Government ministers time and again that it was factually incorrect to claim that figure was from May 2022;

 - (d) during the previous Government's time in office, record investments into skills and training were delivered which helped hundreds of thousands of Australians to skill-up and enter the workforce; and
- (2) calls on the:

 - (c) exacerbating the gender pay gap, with 42 per cent of the tax cuts going to women and 58 per cent to men; and
 - (d) starving the budget by a jaw-dropping $318 billion over the decade, removing revenue that could support people who rely on aged care services, disability support, income support and families who depend on the public education and health systems; and

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Taylor, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes:

- (1) this Government has mismanaged the economy and made a deliberate decision to break promises and raise taxes;
- (2) the Coalition is committed to lower, simpler and fairer taxes;
- (3) because Australians are hurting from the Government’s mismanagement of the economy, the Coalition will not oppose the reduction in the 19c tax rate to 16c;
- (4) the Coalition is committed to going to the next election with a tax reform package that is in keeping with the stage three tax cuts; and
- (5) the Coalition’s package will:
 - (a) deliver lower, simpler, and fairer taxes;
 - (b) fight bracket creep and enshrine aspiration in our tax system;

- (c) reward hard work and support a strong economy where every Australian can get ahead; and
- (d) unite, rather than pit Australians against each other”—

*And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Bates, viz.—*That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“(1) notes that these revised tax cuts will still make economic inequality in Australia worse by:

- (a) giving politicians and CEOs on incomes more than $200,000 three times the value of tax cuts compared to the average worker;
 - (b) only providing the poorest 20 per cent of society with 0.4 per cent of the share of tax cuts next financial year, compared to the wealthiest 20 per cent of society who will enjoy half the total value of the tax cuts;
 - (c) exacerbating the gender pay gap, with 42 per cent of the tax cuts going to women and 58 per cent to men; and
 - (d) starving the budget by a jaw-dropping $318 billion over the decade, removing revenue that could support people who rely on aged care services, disability support, income support and families who depend on the public education and health systems; and
- (2) calls on the government to redesign the tax cuts to not give the wealthiest in society $4,529 a year and instead redirect this largesse to expanding public services like mental health and dental into Medicare and financial support for those earning below the tax free threshold in this cost of living crisis”—

5 AIRLINE INDUSTRY

Mr Wilkie, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

(1) notes that:

- (a) the conduct of Australian airlines has recently come under fire for a variety of practices, such as sometimes only offering Frequent Flyer and discount tickets one way, meaning customers are stuck with expensive tickets the other way, increasingly frequent flight delays and cancellations, and the linkage of passenger personal profiles to the fares offered to them;

- (b) seeking refunds and other assistance for cancelled flights often leaves consumers feeling underwhelmed, with many offered little to no compensation for flight disruptions;
 - (c) the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) is concerned about the high level of complaints about airlines as well as their low reliability of services; and
 - (d) Australian airline staff are among the best in the world, yet bear the brunt of increasingly frustrated customers because of improper decisions by management within airline companies; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
- (a) accept the ACCC's recommendations made in its submission to the Australian Government's Aviation Green Paper;
 - (b) establish an independent airline ombudsman with the power to make binding decisions, to allow for fair and efficient resolution of customer complaints; and
 - (c) establish a targeted and fit-for-purpose compensation scheme for delayed and cancelled flights.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 ROAD NETWORK

Mr Pasin, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
- (a) Australia's severe and intense weather events over recent years have placed immense pressure on the nation's regional, rural, and remote road network;
 - (b) the Australian Local Government Association estimates that the cost of repairing and replacing flood impacted roads is at least $3.8 billion in New South Wales, Queensland and Victoria alone; and
 - (c) the Government has scrapped the specifically targeted Bridges Renewal Program and Heavy Vehicle Safety and Productivity Program which, when combined, were valued at $193.5 million per annum by 2026-27;
- (2) acknowledges that the federal budget saw financial assistance grants to local government cut as a percentage of tax revenue from 0.52 per cent to 0.50 per cent in stark contrast to councils' long-term aim of achieving 1.0 per cent of tax revenue; and
- (3) calls on the Government to invest in Australia's regional, rural and remote road network to support local governments, and improve road safety and freight productivity.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

- (2) tackling the teacher shortage through the National Teacher Workforce Action Plan;
- (3) delivering $275.2 million to schools to improve school infrastructure through the Schools Upgrade Fund;
- (4) providing $203.7 million in funding to support student wellbeing across every school in the country through the Student Wellbeing Boost;

- (5) working with state and territory governments to get all schools on a path to full and fair funding; and
- (6) setting the higher education system up for the future through the Universities Accord, and implementing the priority actions of the accord interim report, which delivers:
 - (a) an additional 20 new regional university study hubs and 14 suburban university study hubs;
 - (b) demand-driven places for First Nations students from metropolitan areas;

9 SUSPENSION OF STANDING AND SESSIONAL ORDERS MOVED

Mr Bandt moved—That so much of the standing and sessional orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Melbourne from moving the following motion—That the House:

- (1) notes that since the House resolution of 16 October 2023 concerning Israel and Gaza, which supported the State of Israel's looming invasion of Gaza by stating that the House 'stands with Israel', the following have occurred:

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 LOBBYISTS

Dr M Ryan, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that public perceptions of the pervasive influence that lobbyists have over political decision-making have worsened in recent years;
- (2) recognises that there is presently no consistent or visible way of knowing which corporate or stakeholder groups are meeting with Government Ministers;
- (3) commits to the:
 - (a) timely publication of ministerial diaries as a vital transparency and accountability measure;
 - (b) maintenance and publication of a searchable register that includes the names of all lobbyists accessing this building, and that those persons be identified as a professional lobbyist, an in-house lobbyist and/or a former Government representative; and
 - (c) transparency of meetings held by those individuals with Members of Parliament; and
- (4) agrees to extend the post-employment cooling-off period for former Ministers and senior government officials to three years, in keeping with international best practice.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 MULTICULTURAL COMMUNITIES

Mr Laxale, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges:
 - (a) the work the Government has undertaken to support Australia's multicultural communities, including:
 - (i) launching the Multicultural Framework Review;
 - (ii) supporting a cohesive and inclusive multicultural society;
 - (iii) investing $20 million in the Adult Migrant English Program;
 - (iv) extending the Community Language Schools grant program to pre-schoolers;
 - (v) committing $7.5 million to fund the Australian Human Rights Commission to complete its National Anti-Racism Framework;

- (vi) reducing citizenship processing times by 42 per cent to the lowest level in six years; and
- (vii) clearing the visa backlogs for nearly 1 million people left behind by the Liberal Party and slashing wait time;
- (b) that Australia is proudly one of the world's most vibrant and successful multicultural societies; and
- (c) the positive contribution that migration has made to our country, culture and economy; and
- (2) condemns the:
 - (a) Liberal and National parties for their neglect of the immigration system, as outlined in the Nixon Review; and
 - (b) comments from a former Prime Minister on 2 November 2023, when he stated that he 'always had trouble' with the concept of multiculturalism.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 PASSPORTS

Mr Caldwell, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) a report released on 7 February 2024 by the Australian National Audit Office (ANAO) on the Australian Passport Office revealed that passport applications were not being processed in a 'timely and resource efficient manner';
 - (b) since being elected, the Government has hiked up the price of Australian adult passports of 10 years by $38 and is planning for a second increase this year of $52 from 1 July 2024;
 - (c) while the Treasurer has called the price hike a 'relatively modest' change, Australians will be paying 29 per cent more to get their passports during a cost of living crunch; and
 - (d) Australians already pay more for their holiday thanks to the Government blocking airline competition and now they are paying more just to be allowed to leave the country; and
- (2) calls on the Government to reverse their big passport price hike until they comprehensively respond to the ANAO recommendations so that Australians get a fair deal on passports.

Debate ensued.

6 CUBAN EMBARGO

Ms Claydon, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) on 2 November 2023, Australia with 186 other member states again voted for the United Nations General Assembly resolution against the United States' longstanding economic, commercial and financial embargo against Cuba;
 - (b) only two member states have voted consistently against the resolution since it was first introduced in 1992, demonstrating overwhelming international support for the end of the embargo; and

- (c) the embargo has unfairly hindered the development of the Cuban economy, created decades of economic hardship and has had a negative impact on the health and wellbeing of the Cuban people;
- (2) further notes that the embargo:
 - (a) constitutes a serious and systemic violation of the norms of international law and the Charter of the United Nations;
 - (b) is not conducive to friendly relations and cooperation between nations and peoples, and it directly affects the development of the Cuban economy and its people; and
 - (c) impedes the ability of Australian citizens to trade bilaterally;
- (3) recognises that sustained international pressure will be one of the most influential methods of ending this enduring and unfair embargo; and
- (4) reaffirms Australia's support for an end to the embargo.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

- (1) acknowledges that:
 - (a) this Government spent $450 million on the divisive Voice to Parliament referendum that was rejected by each state and territory, excluding the Australian Capital Territory;
 - (b) the proposal for a Voice to Parliament was put forward as an urgent solution to help close the gap for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people;
 - (c) since the referendum this Government has been completely absent in this space and has demonstrated that they have no plan B; and
 - (d) there are proposals on the table that would make a demonstrable difference that this Government refuses to implement, including:
 - (i) announcing an audit into Commonwealth spending for Indigenous specific programs to identify waste in financial resources and programs that are making a difference;
 - (ii) establishing a royal commission into child sexual abuse in Indigenous communities; and

 - (b) Government's weak and too-little, too-late response to requests for assistance from the government of Ukraine; and

- (3) calls on the Government to demonstrate Australia's continued support for Ukraine by urgently:
 - (a) seeking advice from defence industry and NATO partners as to what support may be available to facilitate the refurbishment and operation of MRH-90 Taipan helicopters by Ukraine and reconsider the response to the government of Ukraine;
 - (b) responding affirmatively to the Ukrainian request for thermal power to assist in power generation;
 - (c) re-establishing Australia's embassy in Kyiv; and
 - (d) delivering a comprehensive strategy of support covering military, humanitarian and energy supplies.

10 INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Mr Rae—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that through the passage of its 'closing loopholes' legislation, the Government has closed loopholes used by some employers to undercut wages, conditions and safety for Australian workers, including by:
 - (a) stopping companies using labour hire as a means of underpaying their workers;

- (b) making it a criminal offence for employers to deliberately steal their workers' wages;
- (c) closing the loophole in which large businesses could claim small business exemptions during insolvency;
- (d) introducing a new criminal offence of industrial manslaughter;
- (e) ensuring better support for first responders with post-traumatic stress disorder;
- (f) protecting workers subjected to family and domestic violence from discrimination at work; and
- (g) expanding the functions of the Asbestos Safety and Eradication Agency to include silica;
- (2) recognises that many Australian families are doing it tough dealing with the cost of living, and that getting wages moving again is a key part of addressing the cost of living;
- (3) notes that the Opposition has voted against legislation to get wages moving 36 times in this term of Parliament; and
- (4) calls on the Opposition to support the remaining elements of the 'closing loopholes' legislation, including minimum standards for gig workers, reforms to the road transport industry and a better deal for casual workers who want to become permanent—

Debate resumed.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

Ms Ware, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) National Cabinet agreed to a national target to build 1.2 million new well-located homes over five years from 1 July 2024; and
 - (b) the New South Wales Government has conceded that it cannot reach its agreed housing targets of 75,000 new dwellings a year over the next five years;
- (2) expresses concern that, as a flow-on consequence, the Commonwealth Government cannot reach its target to construct 1.2 million new homes over five years;
- (3) acknowledges that:
 - (a) the Government's pipedream figure for new housing did not take into account:
 - (i) record high numbers of liquidations in the building and construction industry;
 - (ii) a shortage of available construction materials;
 - (iii) increasing construction material costs; and
 - (iv) a shortage of skilled tradespeople; and
 - (b) the Government refused to intervene in the dispute between the Maritime Union of Australia and DP World at container terminals, leading to a 50,000 container backlog and further exacerbating construction material shortages; and
- (4) further notes that the Government has:
 - (a) legislated a failed housing plan; and
 - (b) ultimately demonstrated that it cannot develop any policy to address the housing crisis, let alone deliver it.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

(1) notes:

- (a) the former Government delivered major reforms to superannuation that supported better member outcomes, better performance, and transparent governance, and that were driven by the clear understanding that superannuation is Australians’ money;
- (b) the Prime Minister and the Treasurer promised no changes to superannuation prior to the election and the Prime Minister promised ‘no major changes’ to superannuation in February 2023, but have since broken that promise by introducing a new superannuation tax on unrealised capital gains, which is a world first wealth tax that will hurt farmers and family businesses and force Australians to pay tax on money they have not earned; and
- (c) that the Government’s failure to index their new superannuation tax means up to two million young Australians earning average wages today will face a wealth tax, according to analysis of Treasury modelling published in The Australian; and

14 SUPERANNUATION (OBJECTIVE) BILL 2023

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Taylor, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House:

(1) notes:

- (a) the former Government delivered major reforms to superannuation that supported better member outcomes, better performance, and transparent governance, and that were driven by the clear understanding that superannuation is Australians’ money;
- (b) the Prime Minister and the Treasurer promised no changes to superannuation prior to the election and the Prime Minister promised ‘no major changes’ to superannuation in February 2023, but have since broken that promise by introducing a new superannuation tax on unrealised capital gains, which is a world first wealth tax that will hurt farmers and family businesses and force Australians to pay tax on money they have not earned; and
- (c) that the Government’s failure to index their new superannuation tax means up to two million young Australians earning average wages today will face a wealth tax, according to analysis of Treasury modelling published in The Australian; and

(2) calls on the Government to abandon its broken promise on taxing superannuation”—

SUPPLEMENT TO VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 110

FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 18 MARCH 2024

(Order of business for this sitting—see item No. 9, Votes and Proceedings.)

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 POWER BILLS

Ms Spender, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) expensive and unreliable fossil fuel energy has driven up power bills by over 20 per cent in eastern states;
 - (b) households can reduce their bills:
 - (i) by an average between $1,134 and $1,822 a year with rooftop solar;
 - (ii) between $514 and $1,594 with more efficient electric appliances; and
 - (iii) by even more with insulation and improved energy efficiency; and
 - (c) renters, apartment dwellers, and those on moderate and low incomes cannot get these savings, meaning over half of households are missing out on cost of living relief;
- (2) acknowledges that:
 - (a) the Government has taken significant positive steps in this area, including the Household Energy Upgrades Fund, Solar Banks Scheme, and funding for social housing; and
 - (b) despite these positive steps, no funding has yet been disbursed from the Household Energy Upgrades Fund, and the 110,000 households that will be supported through the scheme are just a small fraction of the millions which need help; and
- (3) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) accelerate disbursement of existing support via the Household Energy Upgrades Fund;
 - (b) fund a 'people power plan' to lower energy bills in the May budget, with significant additional support for renters, apartment dwellers, and those with lower incomes and savings, as well as new measures to help landlords, homebuilders, and people in regional and rural communities hosting large-scale renewable projects and transmission lines; and
 - (c) work with state governments to urgently implement promised mandatory energy performance disclosure for rental properties, and minimum energy performance standards.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 ECONOMIC MANAGEMENT

Ms J Ryan, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes the Government's economic management has:
 - (a) delivered the first budget surplus in 15 years, something the former Government promised but never delivered;
 - (b) seen inflation begin to fall in the face of global pressures, helped by the Government's cost of living policies; and
 - (c) returned real wages growth faster than expected;
- (2) further notes that the Government's cost of living tax cuts will see every Australian taxpayer receive a tax cut on 1 July, and means:
 - (a) 11.5 million taxpayers will receive a bigger tax cut than under the former Government's plan;
 - (b) Australians who earn up to $40,000 a year will receive a tax cut when they would not have under the former Government's plan; and
 - (c) these tax cuts come on top of the billions of dollars in targeted and responsible cost of living relief, much of which was opposed by the Opposition, including:
 - (i) energy bill relief;
 - (ii) cheaper medicines;
 - (iii) cheaper childcare;
 - (iv) strengthening Medicare;
 - (v) higher income support payments; and
 - (vi) the biggest boost to rent assistance in 30 years; and
- (3) acknowledges the stark contrast in policies between the Government wanting Australians to earn more and keep more of what they earn, and the Opposition wanting Australians to work longer and for less.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 VOICE TO PARLIAMENT REFERENDUM

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Ms Price—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that:
 - (a) this Government spent $450 million on the divisive Voice to Parliament referendum that was rejected by each state and territory, excluding the Australian Capital Territory;
 - (b) the proposal for a Voice to Parliament was put forward as an urgent solution to help close the gap for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people;
 - (c) since the referendum this Government has been completely absent in this space and has demonstrated that they have no plan B; and
 - (d) there are proposals on the table that would make a demonstrable difference that this Government refuses to implement, including:
 - (i) announcing an audit into Commonwealth spending for Indigenous specific programs to identify waste in financial resources and programs that are making a difference;
 - (ii) establishing a royal commission into child sexual abuse in Indigenous communities; and
 - (iii) reinstating the cashless debit card in vulnerable communities; and

(2) calls on the Government to focus on practical actions like these to assist in closing the gap—
Debate resumed.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 ENDOMETRIOSIS AWARENESS MONTH

Ms J Ryan, by leave, for Ms Chesters, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) March is Endometriosis Awareness Month;
 - (b) endometriosis is a progressive, chronic condition that can start at puberty and continue beyond menopause; and
 - (c) endometriosis affects one in nine Australian women and girls and approximately 200 million worldwide and can take an unacceptable average of seven years, often with crippling pain, before a diagnosis is made;

- (1) notes:
 - (a) the growing illicit tobacco industry is costing the country $4.2 billion in revenue each year this government fails to strengthen penalties and enforcement measures; and
 - (b) that the continued failure to seriously address the illicit tobacco trade:
 - (i) has enabled organised crime groups to fund serious criminal activity including large-scale drug importation and human trafficking;
 - (ii) has seen an increase in violence and attacks on lawful retail tobacco businesses;
 - (iii) has had a detrimental effect on the health of individuals and community safety;
 - (iv) heavily impacts on public revenue to the amount of $4.2 billion annually; and
 - (v) continues to severely impact the ordinary trade of lawful retail tobaccoists;
- (2) recognises the leadership of the previous Government on enforcement on the illicit tobacco trade by:
 - (a) establishing the Illicit Tobacco Taskforce in 2018, a multi-agency taskforce to protect Australian revenue and detect and disrupt organised crime syndicates that deal in illicit tobacco; and
 - (b) introducing amendments to the Public Health (Tobacco and Other Products) Bill 2023 for the establishment of a new Illicit Tobacco and E-cigarettes Commissioner with the Australian Border Force;
- (3) commends the valuable work of law enforcement and other agencies to detect and respond to the escalating illicit tobacco trade and related crime; and
- (4) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) increase the penalties for illicit tobacco offences;

- (c) the Government delivered on its commitment to introduce the new Regional First Home Buyer Guarantee three months ahead of schedule in October 2022, and it has assisted more than 15,000 people across regional Australia into home ownership; and
 - (d) the Government has also expanded eligibility of the Home Guarantee Scheme to help more Australians who were locked out under the previous Government into home ownership;
- (2) notes that:
- (a) the Government wants to provide even more support for people to own their home through the Help to Buy scheme, which is due to start later this year following the passage of state legislation; and
 - (b) Help to Buy will support eligible home buyers with an equity contribution of up to 40 per cent for new homes and 30 per cent for existing homes, with eligible buyers needing as little as a two per cent deposit to buy a home; and
- (3) further notes that the Home Guarantee Scheme and Help to Buy are just two parts of the Government's broad and ambitious housing agenda, with the Government committing funding of $25 billion in new housing investments over the next decade including committed funding to support thousands of new social and affordable rentals, with many already under construction.

Mr Pasin, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes the current crisis facing Australia's wine grape growers;
- (2) recognises that inland wine regions of the Riverland in South Australia, the Murray Darling and Swan Hill regions in New South Wales and Victoria, and the Riverina in New South Wales are being disproportionately impacted by the structural disequilibrium in supply of, and demand for, wine grapes;
- (3) further notes that since 2021, average revenue per hectare of vineyard in these inland regions has dropped by 52 per cent;
- (4) further recognises that many growers have been unable to cover their cost of production;
- (5) acknowledges that without government intervention to support growers to adapt in this critical period, the wine grape growing sector will experience forced exits and widespread vineyard abandonment which can lead to significant biosecurity risks, attrition of younger generations in the affected areas, and adverse mental health consequences across regional communities; and
- (6) calls on the Government to urgently support Australian wine grape growers with a targeted financial support package for eligible vineyard owners to adapt to changing market conditions.

 - (e) Government's focus on sleep health as a national priority alongside fitness and nutrition; and

- (2) notes its alarm that the proposed Biosecurity Protection Levy will push up the costs of fresh food for Australian families, at a time when they can afford it least;
- (3) expresses its profound concern that under the terms of the Biosecurity Protection Levy, Australian farmers will be forced to pay for the biosecurity risks of their international competitors to bring their products into this country;

11 SUSPENSION OF STANDING AND SESSIONAL ORDERS MOVED

Ms Tink moved—That so much of the standing and sessional orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for North Sydney moving the following motion—That this House:

(1) notes that:

- (a) the routine CPI indexation that took effect yesterday will increase JobSeeker payments by just 96 cents per day, and other income support payments including Disability Support Pension and Carer Payment by similarly nominal amounts;
- (b) indexation will lift the JobSeeker payment to just $55 a day (including the energy supplement), which equates to less than half the minimum wage full-time;
- (c) this increase is insufficient to prevent the widespread distress experienced by income support recipients due to inadequate payments alongside rising prices and rent; and
- (d) the Government's media release, announcing these changes, titled 'Indexation puts more in the pockets of millions of Australians', does not acknowledge that income support payments are not enough to cover the cost of essential goods and services including housing, food and energy; and

(2) calls on the Government to significantly increase income support payments, beyond indexation, in the upcoming May budget.

- (2) notes the Government is taking advantage of Australia's strengths and natural resources to create job opportunities across the value chain through:
 - (a) the $15 billion National Reconstruction Fund and its key priority areas, which includes a focus on value-add in resources;
 - (b) investing $840 million to help deliver Australia's first combined rare earth mine and refinery in the Northern Territory;
 - (c) expanding the Critical Minerals Facility to $6 billion to bolster the sector in Australia;
 - (d) the $392 million Industry Growth Program to support Australian small and medium enterprises that fall under the National Reconstruction Fund priority areas;
 - (e) developing Australia's first National Battery Strategy;

8 LIVE SHEEP EXPORT

Mr Ramsey, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) Australia's live sheep export industry employs more than 3,500 people in Western Australia and is worth $85 million in direct payments to producers with an assumed multiplier effect close to $300 million;
 - (b) Australia has developed world-leading animal welfare standards which are applied to animals exported by sea and the Exporter Supply Chain Assurance System ensures animal welfare right through to point of slaughter in destination markets;
 - (c) the Minister for Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry and the Government have committed to phasing out live sheep exports from Australia, but have not released a timeframe for this;
 - (d) the independent panel appointed by the Minister to consult with stakeholders and provide advice on how and when the Government will phase out exports provided its report to the Minister on 25 October 2023;

- (e) despite numerous requests, the Government and the Minister have refused to release the report to stakeholders, farmers or industry groups, claiming it is ‘cabinet-in-confidence’;
 - (f) the Coalition’s Agriculture, Water and Environment Backbench Committee met with livestock farmers in South Australia and Western Australia from 5 to 8 March to hear firsthand the concerns of those in the region most likely to be affected;
 - (g) the committee heard from farmers, industry participants and community representatives who work hard to ensure the welfare of their animals throughout the export process is maintained at the high levels Australians expect; and
 - (h) attendees at eight meetings over four days indicated that confidence in the sheep industry was at its lowest point in decades and were fearful for the industry’s future and the future of family farms and businesses and their wider rural communities;
- (2) condemns the Government for its reckless and ideological decision to forcibly shut down Australia’s live sheep export industry in order to try and hold seats in the inner cities where they are competing with the Australian Greens;
 - (3) recognises that any decisions made in respect to the trade should always be predicated on science and independent of the Government;
 - (4) calls on the Government to urgently explain what factual evidence or science its decision to ban the live sheep export industry is based on;
 - (5) demands the Government immediately release the report of the independent panel to allow proper discussion with stakeholders; and
 - (6) urges the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry to urgently re-open the inquiry into the grooming of and payments made to Faizal Ullah by Animals Australia in the light of a second statutory declaration coming forward after the closure of its initial investigation.

- (2) acknowledges that, with our abundant natural resources, Australia is well-placed to become a renewable energy superpower;
- (3) further notes that business representatives have raised concerns that Australia is lagging in the race to decarbonise, in part due to:
 - (a) unwieldy state and federal approvals processes;
 - (b) low investor confidence due to decades of climate inaction;
 - (c) the comparatively high cost of doing business; and
 - (d) competition from other countries with stronger support structures for new industries; and

 - (c) the Minister for Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry and the Government have committed to phasing out live sheep exports from Australia, but have not released a timeframe for this;
 - (d) the independent panel appointed by the Minister to consult with stakeholders and provide advice on how and when the Government will phase out exports provided its report to the Minister on 25 October 2023;
 - (e) despite numerous requests, the Government and the Minister have refused to release the report to stakeholders, farmers or industry groups, claiming it is 'cabinet-in-confidence';
 - (f) the Coalition's Agriculture, Water and Environment Backbench Committee met with livestock farmers in South Australia and Western Australia from 5 to 8 March to hear firsthand the concerns of those in the region most likely to be affected;
 - (g) the committee heard from farmers, industry participants and community representatives who work hard to ensure the welfare of their animals throughout the export process is maintained at the high levels Australians expect; and
 - (h) attendees at eight meetings over four days indicated that confidence in the sheep industry was at its lowest point in decades and were fearful for the industry's future and the future of family farms and businesses and their wider rural communities;
- (2) condemns the Government for its reckless and ideological decision to forcibly shut down Australia's live sheep export industry in order to try and hold seats in the inner cities where they are competing with the Australian Greens;
- (3) recognises that any decisions made in respect to the trade should always be predicated on science and independent of the Government;
- (4) calls on the Government to urgently explain what factual evidence or science its decision to ban the live sheep export industry is based on;

 - (c) the Government delivered on its commitment to introduce the new Regional First Home Buyer Guarantee three months ahead of schedule in October 2022, and it has assisted more than 15,000 people across regional Australia into home ownership; and
 - (d) the Government has also expanded eligibility of the Home Guarantee Scheme to help more Australians who were locked out under the previous Government into home ownership;
- (2) notes that:
- (a) the Government wants to provide even more support for people to own their home through the Help to Buy scheme, which is due to start later this year following the passage of state legislation; and
 - (b) Help to Buy will support eligible home buyers with an equity contribution of up to 40 per cent for new homes and 30 per cent for existing homes, with eligible buyers needing as little as a 2 per cent deposit to buy a home; and
- (3) further notes that the Home Guarantee Scheme and Help to Buy are just two parts of the Government's broad and ambitious housing agenda, with the Government committing funding of $25 billion in new housing investments over the next decade including committed funding to support thousands of new social and affordable rentals, with many already under construction—

“the House declines to give the bill a second reading and:

- (1) criticises the Government for attempting to impose this new tax on Australian farmers and the agriculture, fisheries and forestry sector, right in the middle of a cost of living and workforce shortage crisis;
- (2) notes its alarm that the proposed Biosecurity Protection Levy will push up the costs of fresh food for Australian families, at a time when they can afford it least;
- (3) expresses its profound concern that under the terms of the Biosecurity Protection Levy, Australian farmers will be forced to pay for the biosecurity risks of their international competitors to bring their products into this country;
- (4) further criticises the Government for the ongoing mismanagement, confusion and lack of detail which has characterised the Biosecurity Protection Levy since its initial announcement in the May 2023 Budget, and the subsequent restructure that was announced in February 2024;
- (5) recognises that the proposed Biosecurity Protection Levy is widely and strongly opposed by farmers, producers, stakeholders, and industry groups across the agriculture sector; and Unresolved question—That this bill be reported to the House without amendment—

Statement by Speaker

Under standing order 188 unresolved questions from the Federation Chamber are reported to the House for resolution.

The process of reporting the unresolved question to the House now resolves the matter. There are a number of precedents for not proceeding to deal with unresolved questions which have become redundant in such circumstances. I refer Members to page 786 of House of Representatives Practice and to the various examples where divisions on unresolved questions were not proceeded with.

I propose to follow the practice of my predecessors in not proceeding to a division on this question.

Question—That the bill be agreed to—put.

22 SUSPENSION OF STANDING AND SESSIONAL ORDERS MOVED

Mr Wilkie moved—That so much of the standing and sessional orders be suspended as would prevent the Member for Clark from moving the following motion—That the House:

(1) notes that:

- (a) last night the Member for Clark revealed deeply disturbing allegations of egregious misconduct within the AFL provided by former Melbourne Football Club President, Glen Bartlett, former Melbourne team doctor Zeeshan Arain, and Shaun Smith, father of Melbourne player and now alleged drug trafficker Joel Smith, including:
 - (i) the prevalence of drug abuse and other prohibited behaviour across the AFL;
 - (ii) in particular, the “off the books” drug testing of players at Dorevitch Pathology in Heidelberg, facilitated by the former Chief Medical Officer of the AFL, Peter Harcourt;

- (iii) the resting of players testing positive in these secret tests, ostensibly on account of injury;
- (iv) wilful inaction by AFL executives; and
- (v) the removal of Mr Bartlett as President of MFC after he suggested to current AFL Chairman, Mr Richard Goyder, and then AFL Chief Executive, Mr Gillon McLachlan, that AFL officials be regularly drug tested;
- (b) this subverts the official drug testing conducted by Sports Integrity Australia on behalf of the World Anti-Doping Authority; and
- (c) the Member for Clark was denied leave from the Government when seeking to table documents containing evidence relating to these allegations; and
- (2) therefore allows the Member for Clark to table the documents referred to in his speech.

- (1) criticises the Government for failing to control the illicit vaping market and failing to protect children against the proliferation of vaping products that have exploded in availability through a black market driven by organised crime;
- (2) expresses its alarm that the current prescription-only model is failing, with only approximately 10 per cent of vapers purchasing their product legally through prescriptions;

- (3) acknowledges the existence and strength of the $1 billion black market vape trade in Australia, which is fuelled by the importation of more than 100 million illicit disposable devices each year;
- (4) recognises that resourcing of enforcement measures at the borders and the point of sale has been grossly insufficient and that policy measures such as prohibition have historically not worked;
- (5) calls on the Government to consider all policies to prevent children from accessing and becoming addicted to vaping products; and

And so it was resolved in the affirmative.

Mr Jones presented reasons, which were circulated, and are as follows:

Reasons of the House of Representatives for disagreeing to the amendments of the Senate

The House of Representatives considers that the settings in Schedule 1 to the Bill (as transmitted to the Senate) properly implement the 2023-24 Budget measure to increase the instant asset write-off threshold to $20,000 until 30 June 2024, and provide appropriate, fiscally and economically responsible, support to small businesses. To prevent any delay in small businesses getting these promised tax benefits as part of Tax Time 2024, the House of Representatives does not agree to these amendments.

- (1) criticises the Government for failing to control the illicit vaping market and failing to protect children against the proliferation of vaping products that have exploded in availability through a black market driven by organised crime;
- (2) expresses its alarm that the current prescription-only model is failing, with only approximately 10 per cent of vapers purchasing their product legally through prescriptions;
- (3) acknowledges the existence and strength of the $1 billion black market vape trade in Australia, which is fuelled by the importation of more than 100 million illicit disposable devices each year;
- (4) recognises that resourcing of enforcement measures at the borders and the point of sale has been grossly insufficient and that policy measures such as prohibition have historically not worked;
- (5) calls on the Government to consider all policies to prevent children from accessing and becoming addicted to vaping products; and
- (6) further criticises the Government for failing to establish or fund its promised illicit tobacco and vaping commissioner”—

 - (b) the Government’s mismanagement of Australia’s immigration system has led to more than double the number of international students in Australia, from 336,845 in March 2022 to 713,144 as at February 2024;
 - (c) under Labor there are 80,000 student visa holders who are on to their third student visa or more while some are on an eighth, ninth or tenth student visa, as a backdoor way to stay in Australia to work;
 - (d) the Government’s failure to manage Australia’s international education sector is causing economic harm to Australian universities, private higher education providers, English language course providers and the vocational education sector; and

 - (b) the excessive size, and lack of proportionality, of the new penalties;
 - (c) the requirement for more regular, earlier reviews of the operation of the EPA than is mandated in this bill;
 - (d) the need for clearer limits on the range of circumstances in which environment protection orders can be applied; and
 - (e) the lack of accompanying information about the full regulatory and financial impacts of the bill, including on cost recovery; and

 - (c) the former Labor Government grossly mismanaged the establishment of the scheme, including the federal/state responsibilities;
 - (d) the former Coalition Government recognised the financial pressures facing the NDIS and was committed to working with state and territory governments to address those pressures to ensure the future of the scheme;
 - (e) ahead of the 2022 election, Labor claimed the scheme was sustainable and ran a shameful scaremongering campaign that the NDIS was at risk and plans were to be cut; and
 - (f) following the election, the Government finally acknowledged the scheme is unsustainable after opposing the Coalition’s attempts to put the scheme on a sustainable footing; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:

- (a) release the modelling that underpins the NDIS Financial Stability Framework and the cost savings to be made by this legislation; and

“the House declines to give the bill a second reading and:

- (1) criticises the Government for imposing its reckless and ideological decision to shut down Australia’s live sheep export industry by sea;
- (2) recognises that:
 - (a) Australia’s live sheep export industry employs more than 3,000 people in Western Australia, including shearers, truck drivers, fodder suppliers, livestock agents, farmers and producers;
 - (b) these workers now face the prospect of losing their job, and families that are struggling under financial stress may now face a difficult decision to leave their rural towns and communities;
 - (c) this industry has delivered comprehensive reforms which have secured exemplary animal welfare outcomes; and
 - (d) Australia has the highest standards of animal welfare in the world;
- (3) further criticises the Government for the mismanagement and lack of consultation on this policy to end live sheep exports with farmers, sheep producers, and impacted communities;
- (4) acknowledges that this policy is widely and strongly opposed across the agriculture sector;
- (5) expresses concern that if the live sheep export industry is banned, alternatives will be sourced from countries that do not share Australia’s animal welfare standards, resulting in perverse international animal welfare outcomes; and
- (6) calls on the Government to immediately reverse its policy to shut down this industry”.

“the House declines to give the bill a second reading, and notes:

- (1) Australia is in an entrenched GDP per capita recession and almost 17,000 businesses have gone insolvent since the Government came to power;
- (2) Treasury analysis confirms this bill imposes $2.3 billion in compliance costs in its first year of operation, with no productivity benefit;
- (3) ASIC and the Australian Small and Family Business Enterprise Ombudsman have confirmed to Senate estimates that this compliance cost will be passed on to small businesses;
- (4) the United States, Canada, Japan, and most of Australia’s trading partners do not require the reporting of scope 3 emissions, and the Productivity Commission has confirmed to Senate estimates that this sort of misalignment in regulation will harm investment and make Australian business less competitive; and
- (5) while the Coalition is not opposed to reasonable disclosure regimes, this legislation is a red tape bomb that will hurt Australian farmers and small businesses, and ultimately raise prices”.

Debate ensued.

Question—That the amendment be agreed to—put.

5 NATURE POSITIVE REFORMS

Dr Scamps, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that following the dire State of the Environment report released in 2021, the Government promised to act decisively to turn the tide in this country from nature destruction to nature repair;
- (2) places on record its concern that:
 - (a) in December 2023, the Government legislated an expansion of the water trigger in the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999 (EPBC Act);
 - (b) the Government now refers to that step (one part of the promised broader environment reforms) as 'Stage 1' of its nature positive reforms; and
 - (c) despite this new emphasis on the importance of the expanded water trigger, fossil fuel projects which are caught by the trigger have not been referred to or called in by the Minister for the Environment and Water for assessment;

- (3) further notes its concern that:
 - (a) the Government has now introduced ‘Stage 2’ of its nature positive reforms (being the establishment of Environment Protection Australia (EPA) and Environment Information Australia);
 - (b) to be effective, the EPA should have an independent board, clear, legislated objectives, and be properly funded from commencement;
 - (c) the Government has now resiled from its commitment to introduce ‘Stage 3’ of the nature positive reforms (comprising the substantive, urgent and significant reform of the underlying environment laws) in this term of government; and
 - (d) the Government has no current plan to implement its promise to enhance protections for critical habitat or threatened species in this term of government; and
- (4) calls on the Government, as part of its ‘Stage 2’ nature positive reforms, to:
 - (a) remove two current exemptions in the EPBC Act which are catastrophic to its stated aim of conserving critical habitat and preventing extinctions (being the Regional Forestry Agreement exemption and the continuous use exemption in the EPBC Act); and
 - (b) integrate consideration of climate change into the EPBC Act, in recognition of the threat posed by climate change to nature and to Matters of National Environmental Significance.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 ANNUAL WAGE REVIEW

Mr Burnell, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes the Fair Work Commission’s annual wage review was handed down on 3 June 2024;
- (2) acknowledges the decision means:
 - (a) 2.6 million low paid workers on awards or the minimum wage will receive a pay rise of 3.75 per cent from 1 July 2024;
 - (b) full-time workers on the minimum wage will receive an extra $33.10 per week, or $1,721 per year; and
 - (c) that since the election of the Government, the minimum wage has increased by $143.30 per week and by $7,451.60 per year;
- (3) further acknowledges the Government has delivered on its commitment for Australians to earn more and keep more of what they earn while also delivering cost of living relief without adding to inflation with measures such as:
 - (a) a tax cut for every Australian taxpayer;
 - (b) cheaper medicines;
 - (c) energy bill relief;
 - (d) cheaper childcare;
 - (e) strengthening Medicare; and
 - (f) increased support payments; and
- (4) further notes that leaked plans from the Opposition reveal they want Australians to work longer for less by:
 - (a) making it easier to sack people by removing criteria including ‘procedural fairness’ and ‘harshness’ from unfair dismissal protections;
 - (b) abolishing the better off overall test;
 - (c) forcing workers to sign away their rights as a condition of employment in ‘take it or leave it’ contracts; and
 - (d) removing award protections for thousands of workers.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

7 ROAD SAFETY DATA

Mr Pasin, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) 677 lives were lost on Australian roads in the six months to 31 December 2023; and
 - (b) the second half of 2023 was the deadliest six months on Australian roads since 2010;
- (2) recognises that the data needed to understand Australia’s worsening road toll is being collected by state and territory governments but is not consistent and not being shared;
- (3) further notes that:
 - (a) before the 2022 election, the federal Labor Party committed ‘to cooperate with the states and territories to improve the timeliness and quality of road trauma data and look for opportunities to extract better quality road safety data from states and territories in return for funding of road projects’; and
 - (b) the Government has failed to deliver on that promise; and
- (4) calls on the Government to compel the states and territories to collect and share data relating to the quality of Australian roads, the causes of crashes, and the effectiveness of road safety measures as a condition of the $50 billion in federal road funding allocated over the next five years under the National Partnership Agreement on Land Transport Infrastructure Projects.

 - (b) last week, CHOICE released a report that confirms what Australian shoppers already know, that they are being price gouged by the supermarket duopoly, and there is not enough competition in the supermarket sector;
 - (c) the Greens-led Senate inquiry into supermarket prices made a number of recommendations including making price gouging illegal, but the Government is only choosing to implement one of those recommendations, a mandatory Grocery Code of Conduct, that affects suppliers but will do nothing to bring down the cost of food for shoppers;
 - (d) the Government has failed to take any action that would bring down the cost of food and groceries; and
 - (e) the Chair of the ACCC has confirmed that if divestiture powers were introduced they could increase competition in the supermarket sector and, under economic analysis, this would bring down the cost of grocery prices; and
- (2) calls on the Government to stop offering bandaid answers to the big crises facing people, and implement all the recommendations of the Greens-led Senate inquiry into supermarket prices, including making price gouging illegal, and supporting the Australian Greens' Competition and Consumer Amendment (Divestiture Powers) Bill to introduce powers to break up the supermarket duopoly, which would lower the cost of food and groceries.

- (1) criticises the Government for imposing its reckless and ideological decision to shut down Australia’s live sheep export industry by sea;
- (2) recognises that:
 - (a) Australia’s live sheep export industry employs more than 3,000 people in Western Australia, including shearers, truck drivers, fodder suppliers, livestock agents, farmers and producers;
 - (b) these workers now face the prospect of losing their job, and families that are struggling under financial stress may now face a difficult decision to leave their rural towns and communities;
 - (c) this industry has delivered comprehensive reforms which have secured exemplary animal welfare outcomes; and
 - (d) Australia has the highest standards of animal welfare in the world;
- (3) further criticises the Government for the mismanagement and lack of consultation on this policy to end live sheep exports with farmers, sheep producers, and impacted communities;
- (4) acknowledges that this policy is widely and strongly opposed across the agriculture sector;

- (5) expresses concern that if the live sheep export industry is banned, alternatives will be sourced from countries that do not share Australia's animal welfare standards, resulting in perverse international animal welfare outcomes; and
- (6) calls on the Government to immediately reverse its policy to shut down this industry"—

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 HEALTHCARE

Ms Watson-Brown, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) too many people in Australia are not able to access essential dental healthcare, and are living with preventable diseases and oral conditions;
 - (b) additionally, Australia is experiencing a mental health crisis, and the ten psychology sessions available under the Better Access Scheme are not enough; and
 - (c) dental and mental healthcare is essential and should be accessible free of charge to everyone; and
- (2) calls on the Government to tax the big corporations and billionaires so that we can make dental and mental healthcare free under Medicare.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 RENEWABLE ENERGY

Ms Claydon, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises the investments the Government is making in cleaner, cheaper, reliable renewable energy as we undergo the transformation to net zero by 2050, including:
 - (a) supporting investment in 32 gigawatts (GW) of new renewable generation and storage across Australia through the expanded Capacity Investment Scheme;
 - (b) delivering Australian homes and businesses cheaper, cleaner energy now and into the future; and
 - (c) a $22.7 billion Future Made in Australia package which will help Australia become a renewable energy superpower;
- (2) notes the latest GenCost report prepared by the independent expert bodies, the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation and the Australian Energy Market Operator, found that:
 - (a) the cost of power from small modular nuclear reactors would be up to eight times more expensive than firmed large-scale wind and solar;
 - (b) building just one large-scale nuclear power plant would cost up to $16 billion; and

- (c) bringing nuclear online would be too slow to keep the lights on, with GenCost confirming that ‘the first full operation would be no sooner than 2040’ for small modular nuclear reactors, and years later for large-scale nuclear reactors; and
- (3) agrees that the Opposition’s risky reactor thought bubble is not a viable solution for energy shortages between now and 2040, after 24 coal plants totalling 26.7 GW announced closure dates under the former Government.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 SUPERANNUATION

Mr Hamilton, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (2) notes that, according to the Association of Superannuation Funds of Australia, in March 2023, $595,000 is the amount required to retire ‘comfortably’ in Australia;
- (3) recognises that young people are becoming increasingly disheartened at the prospect of saving for their future, given the current government-induced cost of living crisis continues to erode their disposable income;
- (4) further notes:
 - (a) that plans by the Government to impose higher taxes on superannuation earnings from 1 July 2025 will hinder the growth in retirement savings of younger Australians and is an attack on hard-working Australians; and
 - (b) comments by the Grattan Institute, that within 30 years, about one in ten workers will begin to retire with super balances that will be subject to the Government’s higher taxes on superannuation, which is 200 times more people than the Government is claiming;
- (5) further acknowledges that young people will be especially impacted by the Government’s plans to impose higher super taxes; and
- (6) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) abolish plans to introduce higher taxes on superannuation so that all Australians, particularly young Australians, are incentivised to save for a comfortable retirement;
 - (b) consider enabling young Australians to invest in their super by facilitating them to use their tax advantaged superannuation contributions to buy a first home; and
 - (c) commit to protecting all Australians, especially young Australians, from a bleak future through better economic management, lower taxes and cutting wasteful and inflationary spending in the current cost of living crisis.

- (3) calls on the Government to reinstate the original 2023-24 funding profile of $400 million back to the 2025-26 start date to ensure the much needed road upgrades can begin so the beef industry can deliver its high value product to market safely.

 - (a) the expansion of the EPA’s proposed remit well beyond the compliance and data functions promised by the ALP in 2022;
 - (b) the excessive size, and lack of proportionality, of the new penalties;
 - (c) the requirement for more regular, earlier reviews of the operation of the EPA than is mandated in this bill;
 - (d) the need for clearer limits on the range of circumstances in which environment protection orders can be applied; and
 - (e) the lack of accompanying information about the full regulatory and financial impacts of the bill, including on cost recovery; and
- (3) calls on the Government to finally honour its long-flagged promise to introduce a full package of new National Environmental Standards and an overhauled EPBC Act”—

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
SUPPLEMENT TO VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 135

FEDERATION CHAMBER

MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, 12 AUGUST 2024

1 The Federation Chamber met at 10.30 am.

2 MEMBERS' CONSTITUENCY STATEMENTS

Members' constituency statements were made.

3 TAX REFORM

Ms Tink, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) the politicisation of tax reform is holding this country and economy back; and
 - (b) this process of politicisation is frequently felt by small to medium sized businesses through their contact and engagement with the Australian Tax Office (ATO); and
- (2) calls on the Government to recognise the importance of improving productivity within the small to medium business sector and ensure the ATO is working with businesses towards this outcome.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

4 GENEVA CONVENTIONS

Mr Perrett, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises that:
 - (a) 12 August 2024 marks the 75th anniversary of the Geneva Conventions of 1949, the foundation of modern international humanitarian law; and
 - (b) they are as relevant to armed conflict today as in 1949;
- (2) acknowledges that the conventions, while universally accepted, are not being uniformly respected in times of war, underscoring the need for ongoing commitment;
- (3) recalls that the conventions and their additional protocols protect civilians, medical personnel, chaplains and humanitarians as well as non-military places such as hospitals;
- (4) emphasises that compliance with international humanitarian law during armed conflict can reduce the human, economic, social and environmental cost of war, and facilitate the return to sustainable peace;
- (5) honours the role of Australian Red Cross in:
 - (a) disseminating and ensuring respect for international humanitarian law; and
 - (b) providing education about the correct use of the emblems of the conventions and their additional protocols;

- (6) pays respect to the role of the International Committee of the Red Cross in assisting victims of armed conflict and working for the advancement of international humanitarian law; and
- (7) determines that Australia should remain a global leader in the promotion and implementation of the conventions and their additional protocols.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

5 CHEAPER CHILD CARE

Ms Bell, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) it has been over 12 months since the Government introduced its Cheaper Child Care policy, and out of pocket costs have increased by 7.2 per cent in the past six months;
 - (b) all families saw an increase to their child care fees following the introduction of this policy, with some families slugged with multiple increases over the past 12 months;
 - (c) the Government has no idea how much of the $4.7 billion that was spent on higher child care subsidies was actually eaten by inflation and increased fees; and
 - (d) the Government's policy has done nothing to increase access to early childhood education and care, particularly in regional, rural and remote communities; and
- (2) calls on the Government to deliver:
 - (a) more access to early childhood education and care places to support Australians to return to the workforce; and
 - (b) real cost of living relief to families.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

6 AFFORDABLE HOUSING

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Mr Burns—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) safe and affordable housing is central to the security and dignity of Australians;
 - (b) Australia does not have enough homes and has not for a long time; and
 - (c) the Government has committed to an ambitious housing reform agenda which will boost the supply of all housing, including more public and social housing, more affordable housing, more homes to rent, and more homes to buy;
- (2) acknowledges the $6.2 billion in new investment in the 2024-25 budget to build more homes more quickly, bringing the Government's new housing initiatives to $32 billion, which includes:
 - (a) additional funding for the new $9.3 billion National Agreement on Social Housing and Homelessness (including a doubling of Commonwealth homelessness funding to $400 million every year, matched by states and territories);
 - (b) directing $1 billion to Housing Australia towards crisis and transitional accommodation for women and children experiencing domestic violence;
 - (c) assisting nearly one million Australian households with the cost of rent by delivering $1.9 billion for the first back-to-back increase to Commonwealth Rent Assistance in more than 30 years; and
 - (d) providing up to $1.9 billion in concessional finance for community housing providers and other charities to support delivery of the 40,000 social and affordable homes under the Housing Australia Future Fund and National Housing Accord; and
- (3) further acknowledges the Government's ambitious goal of building 1.2 million homes by the end of the decade—

Debate resumed.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

7 THE INVASION OF UKRAINE

Mr Wallace, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) two and half years since the further illegal and immoral invasion of Ukraine by Russia, Ukrainian military forces continue to bravely defend their homeland;
 - (b) Australia risks, again, falling behind like-minded partners in supporting Ukraine unless the Government moves to quickly back the G7 agreement of a $50 billion USD loan for Ukraine obtained through frozen Russian assets;
 - (c) having claimed legal difficulties as justification to not use Russian assets, the Government now needs to stop finding excuses to not support Ukraine and wholeheartedly commit to doing all that Australia possibly can;
 - (d) unlike the United States of America, the United Kingdom, Canada and France, Australia has not yet made any contribution to the unfolding global debate to the transfer of funds from Russia's frozen assets to Ukraine to assist with their war effort;
 - (e) if Australia's laws need amending to better target Russian assets or make more effective sanctions on Russia, then the Opposition will support sensible amendments to facilitate this;
 - (f) the Opposition, since the beginning of Russia's abhorrent and illegal further invasion of Ukraine, has offered full bipartisan support to the Government to implement all possible mechanisms that would aid Ukraine's self-defence;
 - (g) instead of acting wherever it can to assist Ukraine, the Government has let Australia's relative support decline by:
 - (i) junking Taipan military helicopters;
 - (ii) refusing assistance by not sending Hawkeii protected mobility vehicles;
 - (iii) ignoring calls to reinstate Australia's embassy in Kyiv; and
 - (iv) turning down requests for coal; and
- (2) condemns the Government for its failure to assist Ukraine in its hour of dire need.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

- (1) notes that on Monday, 1 July 2024, every Australian taxpayer will receive a tax cut; and

Debate resumed.

10 EXCISE ON ALCOHOL

Mr Conaghan, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) successive, biannual increases in beer and spirits excise on alcohol now sees Australia having amongst the highest excises in the world;
 - (b) combined with the cost of living pressures, increased costs in energy, refrigeration, wages, raw materials and transport, the cost of alcohol products has risen substantially;
 - (c) the excise regime is now putting at risk the viability of Australian distillers, brewers, distributors, pubs, clubs and related industries; and
 - (d) this excise regime is untenable against the current global backdrop, with crucial trading partners including Japan, United Kingdom, and Canada having already moved to freeze alcohol excise duties to relieve pressure on their domestic industries; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) provide immediate cost of living measures for the domestic beer and spirits industry; and
 - (b) develop a sensible package of tax reform and policy settings that:
 - (i) balances the responsible consumption of alcohol by the majority of Australians;
 - (ii) supports industry sustainability and growth; and
 - (iii) addresses the social and health impacts of risky and excessive drinking behaviours.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

11 LOW PAID WORKERS

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Ms J Ryan—That this House:

- (1) notes that on Monday, 1 July 2024, 2.6 million low paid workers will receive a third consecutive pay rise; and
- (2) acknowledges the Government's number one priority is to tackle the cost of living pressures facing Australians by ensuring they earn more and keep more of what they earn—

Debate resumed.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

12 NATURAL GAS

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the motion of Mr R Wilson—That this House:

- (1) acknowledges that:
 - (a) natural gas is a key pillar of the Australian economy which employs 80,000 people in the industry supply chain, largely in regional areas;
 - (b) natural gas is connected to more than five million Australian homes and provided 42 per cent of the energy consumed by the Australian manufacturing sector in 2022;
 - (c) natural gas is essential to Australia achieving its net zero target by 2050;
 - (d) Australia has a critical role in providing a reliable source of natural gas to trusted trading partners which rely on our supplies for energy security; and

- (4) since the election, Australians are paying 20 per cent more income tax and the Government has banked over $60 billion in bracket creep; and

 - (c) under Labor there are 80,000 student visa holders who are on to their third student visa or more while some are on an eighth, ninth or tenth student visa, as a backdoor way to stay in Australia to work;
 - (d) the Government’s failure to manage Australia’s international education sector is causing economic harm to Australian universities, private higher education providers, English language course providers and the vocational education sector; and
 - (e) the bill reflects the lack of confidence the Government has in the Minister for Immigration and Minister for Home Affairs by giving the power to determine the number of international students who can study in Australia to the Minister for Education;
- (2) calls on the Government to rebalance Australia’s migration program and manage its impacts on housing, congestion and essential services; and

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS

No. 137

WEDNESDAY, 14 AUGUST 2024

1 The House met, at 9 am, pursuant to adjournment. The Speaker (the Honourable M. Dick) took the Chair, made an acknowledgement of country and read Prayers.

2 SELECTION COMMITTEE

The Speaker presented the following document:

Report No. 29 relating to the consideration of committee and delegation business and private Members' business on Monday, 19 August 2024.

3 MATTER OF PRIVILEGE RAISED BY THE MEMBER FOR BRUCE—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

On Monday 12 August, the honourable Member for Bruce raised a matter of privilege in connection with a concerns notice he received from lawyers acting on behalf of Mr John Margerison.

The basis of the Member's complaint is that the concerns notice foreshadows legal action for defamation based on the material contained in a number of publications, much or all of which the Member submits is likely to be covered by parliamentary privilege. The Member asks that the House express a view on this matter, and resolve to take action to assert the protection of parliamentary privilege, should court proceedings be commenced.

The Member for Bruce also submits that the threat of legal action in the concerns notice may constitute a contempt of this House by way of improper interference with the free exercise of the Joint Committee of Public Accounts and Audit's authority or functions, and the free exercise of his duties as a Member and as the Chair of the Committee.

Section 16 of the Parliamentary Privileges Act provides protections for 'proceedings in Parliament [which] means all words spoken and acts done in the course of, or for the purposes of or incidental to, the transacting of the business' of the House or a committee.

It is acknowledged that the courts have a role in interpreting what is included in 'proceedings in Parliament', in particular the scope of the term 'for purposes of or incidental to' the transacting of the business of a House.

I have considered the statement by the Member for Bruce, and the material he presented in support of it. I am satisfied that the Member has raised the matter at the earliest opportunity. While the Member for Bruce did not present the concerns notice itself, he presented what he described as 'copies of the publications referred to in the concerns notice' which include: a media release of the Joint Committee of Public Accounts and Audit; two Twitter (X) posts in the name of the Member for Bruce; four Facebook posts in the name of the Member for Bruce; and one YouTube video in the name of the Member for Bruce. Without the concerns notice itself to examine, I accept the Member's description of it as threatening legal action against him should he not retract the publications and make an apology.

The question of whether the publication of material is likely to attract parliamentary privilege is clearer in some cases than in others. Whether publications such as social media posts referring to parliamentary proceedings would attract any level of protection has not been determined. However, a properly authorised media release by a parliamentary committee could reasonably be considered to be part of the committee's business, and therefore be considered proceedings in parliament.

Any act or omission which obstructs or impedes either House of our Parliament in the performance of its functions, or which obstructs or impedes any Member or officer of a House in the discharge of his or her duty, or which has a tendency, directly or indirectly, to produce such results may be treated as a contempt. Threatening a Member with legal action, at least partly on the basis of the business of a parliamentary committee in the publishing of an authorised media release could possibly, therefore, be classified as a contempt.

Based on my careful consideration of all the information available to me, I am satisfied that where the Committee's media release is concerned a prima facie case has been made out. I am therefore willing to give precedence to a motion concerning privilege or contempt, referring the matter to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests.

As Members would be aware, and as House of Representatives Practice makes clear: 'an opinion by the Speaker that a prima facie case has been made out does not imply a conclusion that a breach of privilege or contempt has occurred.'

In giving precedence for a motion to be moved, I am simply allowing the House the opportunity to consider a motion immediately, and debate and decide on whether the matter should be referred to the Committee for inquiry and report to the House.

4 MATTER OF PRIVILEGE—REFERENCE TO COMMITTEE OF PRIVILEGES AND MEMBERS' INTERESTS

Mr Hill (Assistant Minister for Citizenship and Multicultural Affairs) moved—That the following matter be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests—Whether:

- (1) the concerns notice issued to the Member for Bruce on behalf of Mr John Margerison foreshadows court proceedings that could not be pursued without breaching parliamentary privilege, such that the House should express a view on this matter, and intervene if court proceedings are commenced, in order to protect parliamentary privilege and the ability of this House and its members to undertake their work; and
- (2) the threat of this legal action may constitute a contempt of this House by way of improper interference with the free exercise of the Joint Committee of Public Accounts and Audit's authority or functions and of the Member for Bruce's duties as a Member and as the Chair of the Committee, and may be seen to set a precedent if not addressed by the House.

Question—put and passed.

7 CLIMATE CHANGE AND INSURANCE

Ms Steggall, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) the frequency of severe weather events is the dominant reason home insurance premiums are skyrocketing, fast becoming unaffordable and, in turn, fuelling inflation;
 - (b) severe weather events are already costing the Australian economy over $38 billion a year and this cost is predicted to rise to at least $73 billion per year by 2050 if climate change continues unmitigated;
 - (c) over 12 per cent of households are facing extreme insurance stress, paying more than four weeks of gross income to home insurance premiums, risking underinsurance of their properties;
 - (d) every $1 invested in climate adaptation measures can save up to $11 in disaster recovery; and
 - (e) the Government continues to allocate significantly less funding to resilience and adaptation than to disaster response and recovery, with less than ten per cent of Australian homes being climate risk resilient; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) allocate funding to:
 - (i) the Resilient Building Council to expand the home and business resilience ratings scheme to incentivise home adaptation measures and put downward pressure on insurance; and
 - (ii) expand the Australian sustainable finance taxonomy to include adaptation, to unlock global capital for private sector led resilience;
 - (b) include climate resilience and adaptation as a matter of priority in upcoming updates to the National Construction Code and require resilience for all government investments;
 - (c) accelerate the development of a national standard for climate adapted planning controls; and
 - (d) ensure equitable access to insurance by helping lower income households and communities facing home insurance stress and underinsurance in high risk areas.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

8 EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION AND CARE EDUCATORS

Mrs Phillips, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) recognises:
 - (a) the vital role early childhood education and care (ECEC) educators and teachers play in supporting young children's early learning and development;
 - (b) properly valuing and recognising the ECEC profession, including through fair wages, is critical to reversing attrition and growing the workforce;
 - (c) paying ECEC workers fairly is a crucial step in charting the course to a truly universal ECEC system; and

- (d) the Government's historic announcement for a two-year, 15 per cent ECEC worker retention payment for ECEC workers, phased in from December 2024;
- (2) notes that:
 - (a) one year on, the Government's cheaper child care reforms are delivering real cost of living relief to household budgets;
 - (b) the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission's child care inquiry found that out-of-pocket costs dropped 11 per cent following the introduction of the Government's cheaper child care measures; and
 - (c) the Government's ECEC worker retention payment will be tied to a commitment from early learning services to limit fee increases to 4.4 per cent, an important condition that will keep downward pressure on fees for Australian families; and
- (3) acknowledges that:
 - (a) since the election, there are 860 more ECEC services, around 68,000 more children in ECEC, and around 30,000 more ECEC workers; and
 - (b) between 2018 and 2022, fees under the previous Government increased by 22.8 per cent compared to the OECD adjusted average of 6.2 per cent.

Debate ensued.

The time allotted for the debate having expired, the debate was interrupted, and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for the next sitting.

9 COMMUNITY SPORTING INFRASTRUCTURE

Ms Price, pursuant to notice, moved—That this House:

- (1) notes that the Government's Play Our Way program:
 - (a) was announced 12 months ago, as a back-foot response to the Opposition's $250 million announcement for supporting community sporting infrastructure across the country;
 - (b) has left community sporting organisations in the lurch, with program applicants still unaware if they have been successful and frustrated by funding uncertainty; and
 - (c) was just more policy on the run from the Government, which has been proven by this significant, unexplained delay; and
- (2) calls on the Government to:
 - (a) stop prioritising photo opportunities over the real action needed to support sports participation in Australia; and
 - (b) support the sporting infrastructure communities need as more young Australians are inspired to get out there and get active, and immediately provide an update on the Play Our Way program.

Debate ensued.

Debate adjourned and the resumption of the debate made an order of the day for a later hour this day.

10 PRIVILEGE—COMPLAINT OF BREACH

Mr Fletcher raised, as a matter of privilege, whether the Prime Minister deliberately misled the House in an answer given during Question Time on 15 August 2024.

The Speaker stated that he would consider the matter and report to the House at a later time.

11 SUSPENSION OF STANDING AND SESSIONAL ORDERS MOVED

Mr Dutton (Leader of the Opposition) moved—That so much of the standing and sessional orders be suspended as would prevent the Leader of the Opposition from moving the following motion forthwith—That this House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) in the course of Question Time on 15 August 2024, the Prime Minister purported to quote statements made by the Director-General of ASIO, Mr Mike Burgess, in a recent interview on Insiders;
 - (b) the Prime Minister's purported quote specifically omitted key words with the effect of changing the fundamental meaning of Mr Burgess' statement; and
 - (c) as a consequence the House was given an incorrect understanding that all visa applicants from Gaza are the subject of an ASIO assessment, whereas in fact this only occurs 'where criteria are hit';
- (2) therefore calls on the Prime Minister to immediately attend the Chamber and speak for up to 15 minutes to explain:
 - (a) which visa applicants are the subject of a security assessment by ASIO;
 - (b) what are the criteria for ASIO to carry out a security assessment in relation to visa applicants from the Gaza war zone;
 - (c) how many of the almost 3,000 visas already issued by the Government were granted without an ASIO security assessment; and
 - (d) whether the House can have any confidence that under this Government's processes, there is a proper and thorough security assessment of all visa applicants from the Gaza war zone to determine whether the applicant would present a security threat to the Australian community; and
- (3) resolves that no other business be considered until the Prime Minister undertakes the action requested in (2).

Debate ensued.

Mr Burke (Leader of the House), by leave, moved—That the debate be adjourned.

Question—put.

The House divided (the Speaker, Mr Dick, in the Chair)—

(2) calls on the Government to get Australia’s economy back on track and back to basics by fighting inflation and reducing wasteful spending, reducing complexity and red tape for business, supporting affordable, reliable energy, and delivering lower, simpler, fairer taxes”—

- (2) recognises that the Member for Indi’s Accountability of Grants, Investment Mandates and Use of Public Resources Amendment (End Pork Barrelling) Bill 2024 provides the necessary framework to help ensure the Government’s spending of taxpayer money to deliver the Future Made in Australia plan is transparent and fair; and
- (3) calls on the Government to support the Accountability of Grants, Investment Mandates and Use of Public Resources Amendment (End Pork Barrelling) Bill 2024”—

 - (b) a universal ECEC system:
 - (i) means making quality services accessible to all children and families;
 - (ii) is an opportunity to unlock productivity and growth across the workforce and allow more women into the workforce if they want to work; and
 - (iii) would address cost of living pressures, productivity, gender equality and give all children the best start in life;
- (2) notes that:
 - (a) ECEC sets children up for life;
 - (b) by the age of five, 90 per cent of a child's brain is fully developed;

 - (e) the cost of ECEC in Australia is amongst the highest in OECD countries, representing a major cost of living pressure for many households; and
 - (f) ECEC enables mothers, in particular, to maintain a connection to the labour force when children are very young and allows for increasing hours of work as children grow; and
- (3) calls on the Government to commit to, and provide, a pathway and timeline towards universal early education and care.

The proposed discussion having received the necessary support—

Mr Hogan addressed the House.

18 MATTER OF PRIVILEGE RAISED BY THE MANAGER OF OPPOSITION BUSINESS—STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The Speaker made the following statement:

On Monday, the Manager of Opposition Business raised as a matter of privilege whether the Prime Minister had deliberately misled the House such as would constitute a contempt of the House.

The claim arises from the Prime Minister's response to a question from the Leader of the Opposition during question time last Thursday, 15 August, in which the Prime Minister referred to statements of the ASIO Director-General.

Deliberately misleading the House is one of the matters that can be found to be a contempt. A claim of deliberately misleading is a very serious one, and rightly there should be prima facie evidence that the House has been misled and that the misleading has been deliberate. In addition, to amount to a contempt, the action would need to amount to, or be intended or likely to amount to, an improper interference with the free exercise by the House of its functions.

Although different in its particulars, this complaint has elements in common with other claims that have been made that a Member has deliberately misled the House.

I have examined the Hansard of the relevant period of last Thursday's question time. The essence of the relevant exchanges at that time, was that the Leader of the Opposition said the Prime Minister had misquoted the ASIO Director-General, and the Prime Minister said he read out three different quotes of the Director-General.

The Speaker's role in this matter is to determine whether priority over other business should be given to a motion for referral of a matter to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests. In order to grant precedence in such a matter, the Speaker would need to see evidence that a Member misled the House, and that they did so intentionally.

On the evidence available to me, it is not clear that a prima facie case has been made out such as would cause me to give precedence to a motion to refer the matter to the committee.

19 SUSPENSION OF STANDING AND SESSIONAL ORDERS MOVED

Mr Fletcher moved—That so much of the standing and sessional orders be suspended as would prevent the Manager of Opposition Business from moving the following motion forthwith—That the following matter be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Members' Interests:

Whether in misquoting the Director-General of ASIO while answering a question without notice from the Leader of the Opposition on 15 August 2024, the Prime Minister had deliberately misled the House, such as would constitute a contempt of the House.

Debate ensued.

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes that:

- (1) the Government’s economic mismanagement and high inflation has resulted in escalating student debt for some three million Australians with a HELP (Higher Education Loan Program) loan;

- (2) the proposal to change HELP indexation to the lower of the wage price index or the consumer price index would still result in student debts increasing by 11.1 per cent since June 2022, with no date by which student debt credits will be applied or refunds paid;
- (3) whether it is student debt, housing or paying bills, Australians continue to suffer acute cost of living pain under this Government;
- (4) the Government has failed to detail eligibility criteria for the Commonwealth Prac Payments or how students will receive those payments, noting that students studying in other areas of workforce shortage such as occupational therapy, psychology and veterinary studies have been excluded from the scheme;
- (5) the Government's decision to mandate 40 per cent of the Student Services and Amenities Fee revenue be directed to student-led organisations, including student unions, associations and guilds, lacks any transparency measures to ensure money is spent on services which support student welfare; and
- (6) the bill has been referred to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee for inquiry to report by 3 October 2024"—

Debate resumed.

Mr Bates moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Mr Fletcher—That all words after “reading” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) students are being shackled by a lifetime of debt which is making the cost of living crisis worse, locking people out of the housing market, causing people to delay having families and crushing dreams of going to university;
 - (b) the Government's plan to provide student debt relief will still see student debts rise by 11.5 per cent in their first term and arts degrees costing over $50,000;
 - (c) the student debt system cannot be fixed because student debt should not exist and higher education, like education at every level, is an essential public good that should be free, universal and provided by the government;
 - (d) mandatory unpaid placements are causing students to forego paid work, choose between groceries, rent and medicine, drop out of universities and are taking an immense toll on students' health; and
 - (e) students experiencing placement poverty need urgent relief and should be paid for every hour of work they are required to do as part of their degree, at least at minimum wage, not a lesser supplementary amount; and
- (2) calls on the Government to wipe all student debt, make university and TAFE free, and pay all students doing mandatory placements at no less than minimum wage rates”.

Debate ensued.

19 MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Message No. 351, 9 September 2024, from the Senate was reported returning the Illegal Logging Prohibition Amendment (Strengthening Measures to Prevent Illegal Timber Trade) Bill 2024 without amendment.

20 UNIVERSITIES ACCORD (STUDENT SUPPORT AND OTHER MEASURES) BILL 2024

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes that:

- (1) the Government’s economic mismanagement and high inflation has resulted in escalating student debt for some three million Australians with a HELP (Higher Education Loan Program) loan;
- (2) the proposal to change HELP indexation to the lower of the wage price index or the consumer price index would still result in student debts increasing by 11.1 per cent since June 2022, with no date by which student debt credits will be applied or refunds paid;
- (3) whether it is student debt, housing or paying bills, Australians continue to suffer acute cost of living pain under this Government;
- (4) the Government has failed to detail eligibility criteria for the Commonwealth Prac Payments or how students will receive those payments, noting that students studying in other areas of workforce shortage such as occupational therapy, psychology and veterinary studies have been excluded from the scheme;
- (5) the Government’s decision to mandate 40 per cent of the Student Services and Amenities Fee revenue be directed to student-led organisations, including student unions, associations and guilds, lacks any transparency measures to ensure money is spent on services which support student welfare; and
- (6) the bill has been referred to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee for inquiry to report by 3 October 2024”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Bates, viz.—That all words after “reading” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) students are being shackled by a lifetime of debt which is making the cost of living crisis worse, locking people out of the housing market, causing people to delay having families and crushing dreams of going to university;
 - (b) the Government’s plan to provide student debt relief will still see student debts rise by 11.5 per cent in their first term and arts degrees costing over $50,000;
 - (c) the student debt system cannot be fixed because student debt should not exist and higher education, like education at every level, is an essential public good that should be free, universal and provided by the government;
 - (d) mandatory unpaid placements are causing students to forego paid work, choose between groceries, rent and medicine, drop out of universities and are taking an immense toll on students’ health; and
 - (e) students experiencing placement poverty need urgent relief and should be paid for every hour of work they are required to do as part of their degree, at least at minimum wage, not a lesser supplementary amount; and
- (2) calls on the Government to wipe all student debt, make university and TAFE free, and pay all students doing mandatory placements at no less than minimum wage rates”—

Debate resumed.

Ms Daniel moved, as an amendment to the amendment proposed by Mr Bates—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“(1) notes that:

- (a) many degrees have increased in cost well above CPI, resulting in punitive HELP debts placing additional financial burden on Australians in the midst of a cost of living crisis;
- (b) in 2023, soaring inflation resulted in a HELP indexation rate of 7.1 per cent;
- (c) the indexation of HELP debt prior to repayment each financial year unnecessarily increases the cost of debt repayments for graduates and young Australians; and

- (d) HELP debt is considered by banks in assessing eligibility for mortgages and loans, creating additional barriers for graduates and young families as they try to buy a home; and
- (2) calls on the Government to calculate HELP debt indexation after the due date for individual tax returns each year”.

Debate ensued.

Mr Chandler-Mather addressing the House—

21 ADJOURNMENT

It being 7.30 pm—The question was proposed—That the House do now adjourn.

Debate ensued.

The House continuing to sit until 8 pm—The Speaker adjourned the House until 12 noon tomorrow.

"whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes that:

- (1) the Government's economic mismanagement and high inflation has resulted in escalating student debt for some three million Australians with a HELP (Higher Education Loan Program) loan;
- (2) the proposal to change HELP indexation to the lower of the wage price index or the consumer price index would still result in student debts increasing by 11.1 per cent since June 2022, with no date by which student debt credits will be applied or refunds paid;
- (3) whether it is student debt, housing or paying bills, Australians continue to suffer acute cost of living pain under this Government;
- (4) the Government has failed to detail eligibility criteria for the Commonwealth Prac Payments or how students will receive those payments, noting that students studying in other areas of workforce shortage such as occupational therapy, psychology and veterinary studies have been excluded from the scheme;

- (5) the Government’s decision to mandate 40 per cent of the Student Services and Amenities Fee revenue be directed to student-led organisations, including student unions, associations and guilds, lacks any transparency measures to ensure money is spent on services which support student welfare; and
- (6) the bill has been referred to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee for inquiry to report by 3 October 2024”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Bates, viz.—That all words after “reading” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) students are being shackled by a lifetime of debt which is making the cost of living crisis worse, locking people out of the housing market, causing people to delay having families and crushing dreams of going to university;
 - (b) the Government’s plan to provide student debt relief will still see student debts rise by 11.5 per cent in their first term and arts degrees costing over $50,000;
 - (c) the student debt system cannot be fixed because student debt should not exist and higher education, like education at every level, is an essential public good that should be free, universal and provided by the government;
 - (d) mandatory unpaid placements are causing students to forego paid work, choose between groceries, rent and medicine, drop out of universities and are taking an immense toll on students’ health; and
 - (e) students experiencing placement poverty need urgent relief and should be paid for every hour of work they are required to do as part of their degree, at least at minimum wage, not a lesser supplementary amount; and
- (2) calls on the Government to wipe all student debt, make university and TAFE free, and pay all students doing mandatory placements at no less than minimum wage rates”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Ms Daniel, viz.—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

- “(1) notes that:
 - (a) many degrees have increased in cost well above CPI, resulting in punitive HELP debts placing additional financial burden on Australians in the midst of a cost of living crisis;
 - (b) in 2023, soaring inflation resulted in a HELP indexation rate of 7.1 per cent;
 - (c) the indexation of HELP debt prior to repayment each financial year unnecessarily increases the cost of debt repayments for graduates and young Australians; and
 - (d) HELP debt is considered by banks in assessing eligibility for mortgages and loans, creating additional barriers for graduates and young families as they try to buy a home; and
- (2) calls on the Government to calculate HELP debt indexation after the due date for individual tax returns each year”—

Debate resumed.

20 UNIVERSITIES ACCORD (STUDENT SUPPORT AND OTHER MEASURES) BILL 2024

The order of the day having been read for the resumption of the debate on the question—That the bill be now read a second time—And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Fletcher, viz.—That all words after “That” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“whilst not declining to give the bill a second reading, the House notes that:

- (1) the Government’s economic mismanagement and high inflation has resulted in escalating student debt for some three million Australians with a HELP (Higher Education Loan Program) loan;
- (2) the proposal to change HELP indexation to the lower of the wage price index or the consumer price index would still result in student debts increasing by 11.1 per cent since June 2022, with no date by which student debt credits will be applied or refunds paid;
- (3) whether it is student debt, housing or paying bills, Australians continue to suffer acute cost of living pain under this Government;
- (4) the Government has failed to detail eligibility criteria for the Commonwealth Prac Payments or how students will receive those payments, noting that students studying in other areas of workforce shortage such as occupational therapy, psychology and veterinary studies have been excluded from the scheme;
- (5) the Government’s decision to mandate 40 per cent of the Student Services and Amenities Fee revenue be directed to student-led organisations, including student unions, associations and guilds, lacks any transparency measures to ensure money is spent on services which support student welfare; and
- (6) the bill has been referred to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee for inquiry to report by 3 October 2024”—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Mr Bates, viz.—That all words after “reading” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“the House:

- (1) notes that:
 - (a) students are being shackled by a lifetime of debt which is making the cost of living crisis worse, locking people out of the housing market, causing people to delay having families and crushing dreams of going to university;
 - (b) the Government’s plan to provide student debt relief will still see student debts rise by 11.5 per cent in their first term and arts degrees costing over $50,000;
 - (c) the student debt system cannot be fixed because student debt should not exist and higher education, like education at every level, is an essential public good that should be free, universal and provided by the government;

- (d) mandatory unpaid placements are causing students to forego paid work, choose between groceries, rent and medicine, drop out of universities and are taking an immense toll on students' health; and
- (e) students experiencing placement poverty need urgent relief and should be paid for every hour of work they are required to do as part of their degree, at least at minimum wage, not a lesser supplementary amount; and
- (2) calls on the Government to wipe all student debt, make university and TAFE free, and pay all students doing mandatory placements at no less than minimum wage rates"—

And on the amendment moved thereto by Ms Daniel, viz.—That all words after “House” be omitted with a view to substituting the following words:

“(1) notes that:

- (a) many degrees have increased in cost well above CPI, resulting in punitive HELP debts placing additional financial burden on Australians in the midst of a cost of living crisis;
- (b) in 2023, soaring inflation resulted in a HELP indexation rate of 7.1 per cent;
- (c) the indexation of HELP debt prior to repayment each financial year unnecessarily increases the cost of debt repayments for graduates and young Australians; and
- (d) HELP debt is considered by banks in assessing eligibility for mortgages and loans, creating additional barriers for graduates and young families as they try to buy a home; and
- (2) calls on the Government to calculate HELP debt indexation after the due date for individual tax returns each year”—

Debate resumed.
