

To Senators and Members of Parliament

These standards represent a commitment by staff in the Department of the House of Representatives to provide high quality support services to the investigatory and scrutiny committees supported by the department.

They also represent a means by which you can assess our services. The committee support standards are a starting point for us as we strive continuously to improve our service.

We regularly review our performance, occasionally by way of survey, and would welcome any comments you may have on either our performance or our standards.

These standards complement the Department of the House of Representatives Service Charter which appears in full in the Members' Handbook.

What we do

We provide procedural and logistical advice. We also provide administrative and research-based report drafting services, to help parliamentary committees fulfil their role in the scrutiny of government activities and the consideration of legislation.

The advice and services we provide are non-partisan, focusing on the needs of the committees appointed by the Parliament rather than the political or electorate interests of members.

Our commitment

We are committed to providing you with the best level of service possible, within the limits of available resources.

We will do this in a manner consistent with the Parliamentary Service Values and the Parliamentary Service Code of Conduct.

In particular, we will show:

- integrity and impartiality — by demonstrating high ethical standards and being unbiased and non-partisan
- professionalism — by providing high quality advice and services, promptly, effectively and efficiently
- commitment to service — by striving to meet as best as we can the needs of the House, the Speaker, members, the public and others, and always seeking to improve
- mutual respect — by treating all people with fairness, respect and courtesy.

We can be contacted during business hours or after hours by arrangement with committee secretaries.
