Business conducted in the Senate

Types of business in the Senate:

Business of the Senate includes disallowance motions, orders of the day for the presentation of committee reports, motions to refer matters to standing committees, motions for leave of absence to a senator and motions concerning the qualification of a senator. It has precedence over government business and general business for the day on which it is listed.

Government business is business initiated by a minister and includes all debate on government bills. Government business takes precedence over general business except for a period of 2½ hours on Thursdays.

General business is initiated by senators who are not ministers. It includes motions to take note of answers, most notices of motion, consideration of committee reports and government responses and matters of public interest. General business takes precedence over government business on Thursdays as described above.

Questions include question time and additional answers given by ministers at the end of question time.

Urgency motions and matters of public importance (MPIs) may be proposed by senators on any sitting day pursuant to standing order 75. At the conclusion of the debate there is no vote taken on the substantive issue of the matter or motion. However, in the case of urgency motions, a procedural vote is taken as to whether the matter is considered urgent or not.

Other business includes prayers, petitions, postponements and ceremonial business.

Adjournment: Note that the time for the adjournment debate is not included in the figures shown.

Total time, by type of business: 1 January to 31 December 2002

Second reading—Amendments moved

Second reading amendments do not affect the text of a bill. They are generally used to express an opinion about the bill, or related policy issues; to propose the reference of the bill or related matters to committees; or to postpone further consideration of the bill.

For more information on the legislative process see Brief Guide to Senate Procedure No. 9 – Consideration of Legislation.

Committee of the whole—Consideration

The committee of the whole process provides an opportunity for senators to consider bills in detail. Amendments moved in committee of the whole seek to change, delete or add words in the bill that may affect the final contents of the law. Where – under the Constitution – the Senate cannot directly amend a bill, it may instead request the House of Representatives to amend the bill before agreeing to it.

For more information on the legislative process see Brief Guide to Senate Procedure No. 9 – Consideration of Legislation.

Adoption of committee report—Amendments moved

At the conclusion of the committee of the whole stage of a bill or package of bills, the proceedings are reported to the Senate. Amendments may be moved to the motion to adopt the report from the committee. Such amendments do not affect the text of the bill or bills, but typically propose the reference of related matters to committees or orders for the production of documents, or express an opinion about the bill as it has emerged from the committee stage.

For information on the legislative process see Brief Guide to Senate Procedure No. 9 – Consideration of Legislation.

Amendments and requests—Disagreements

Before it can become a law, a bill must be agreed to by both the Senate and the House of Representatives in precisely the same form. If there is a disagreement over amendments or requests, a bill may be transmitted between the two Houses a number of times until the Houses finally agree to it in the same form or it is abandoned. These negotiations on amendments and requests are conducted by the consideration of messages between the Houses. The details of this consideration are listed below.

For more information on the legislative process, see Brief Guide to Senate Procedure No. 9 – Consideration of Legislation and No. 15 – Communication Between the Houses - Dealing with Messages.

Bills on which there were disagreements between the Houses: 12

Australian Security Intelligence Organisation Legislation Amendment (Terrorism) Bill 2002

The Senate made 58 amendments to the bill.

The House agreed to 15 amendments made by the Senate, disagreed to 35 amendments and made 14 Government amendments in place of 8 amendments made by the Senate (13 December 2002 am).

The Senate insisted on its amendments (13 December 2002 am).

The House agreed to 3 amendments insisted on the by the Senate, insisted on disagreeing to 40 amendments, and insisted on 5 replacements amendments (13 December 2002 am).

The Senate further insisted on the 40 amendments to which the House had insisted on disagreeing.

Bill laid aside by the House (13 December 2002 am).

Bankruptcy Legislation Amendment Bill 2002

The Senate made 10 amendments to the bill.

The House disagreed to the amendments made by the Senate (2 December 2002).

The Senate did not insist on its amendments—1 AD replacement amendment was moved and negatived. (9 December 2002).

Bill passed both Houses.

Family and Community Services Legislation Amendment (Australians Working Together and other 2001 Budget Measures) Bill 2002

The Senate agreed to 24 Government amendments to the bills, divided the bill by way of amendment and forwarded one of the resultant bills to the House for its consideration (15 November 2002).

The House requested that the Senate reconsider the bill as originally transmitted (3 December 2002).

The Senate did not insist on its division of the bill, agreed to the original bill with 55 Opposition amendments, 16 Australian Democrat amendments and 24 Government amendments previously agreed to, and the bill was read a third time (12 December 2002).

The House agreed to 5 amendments made by the Senate, disagreed to 42 amendments and made amendments duplicating 48 amendments (13 December 2002 am).

The Senate insisted on 20 amendments, did not insist on 21 amendments and agreed to the duplicate amendments (13 December 2002 am).

The House insisted on disagreeing to the amendments (13 December 2002 am).

Bills, or provisions of bills, referred to committees

Bills may be referred to committees at any stage for inquiry and report. The provisions of many bills are referred before the bill is received from the House of Representatives to maximise the time available for the committee inquiry.

Committees may table reports on any sitting day, or may present them when the Senate is not sitting, in which case the report is tabled on the next available sitting day.

For more information refer to Brief Guide to Senate Procedure No. 9 – Consideration of Legislation and No. 7 – Referring Matters to Committees and Senate Brief No. 4 – Senate Committees.

Notices of motion for disallowance

Many Acts of Parliament delegate to the executive government the power to make detailed rules and regulations (delegated legislation). Regulations and most other instruments made in this way are subject to the power of either House to veto or disallow them.

In most cases, within 15 sitting days after tabling a senator may give notice of a motion to disallow the regulations. If the motion is agreed to, the regulations are disallowed and cease to have effect. If a notice of motion to disallow regulations has not been resolved or withdrawn within 15 sitting days after having been given, the regulations are deemed to have been disallowed and they automatically cease to have effect.

For more information see Brief Guide to Senate Procedure No. 1 – Disallowance.

Orders for the production of documents

The power to require the production of information is one of the most significant powers available to a legislature to enable it to carry out its functions of scrutinising legislation and the performance of the executive arm of government.

Orders for the production of documents most frequently require the tabling of documents in the possession of ministers, government departments and agencies, although occasionally an order may require the creation of the document in question. The order will generally describe the documents sought and specify a date for their tabling.

For more information, see Brief Guide to Senate Procedure No. 11 – Orders for Production of Documents.

Number of orders for the production of documents agreed to:..... 36

The following list includes details of orders for the production of documents agreed to in 2002, as well as details of documents tabled pursuant to such orders, whenever agreed to.
