Bills

15.01 Budget bills pass the House

Consideration in detail of Appropriation Bill (No. 1) 2020-2021 commenced in the Federation Chamber on Monday. The Chair first explained that, while members could use the debate as an opportunity to question the relevant minister about proposed expenditure for his or her portfolio, the normal rules for consideration in detail would apply. In particular, she advised that the call would alternate between government and non-government members and ministers would not be required to respond to questions asked.

Also on Monday, the House agreed to suspend standing orders to alter the Federation Chamber's order of business for the remainder of the week, to allow sufficient time for the debate.

Consideration in detail continued in the Federation Chamber throughout the week, with proposed expenditure for each portfolio agreed to. The debate concluded on Thursday and the bill was returned to the House without amendment. Appropriation Bill (No. 2) 2020-2021 and Appropriation (Parliamentary Departments) Bill (No. 1) 2020-2021 were also returned to the House, after being read a second time.

Later that day, each of the bills was passed by the House.

Parliamentary administration

15.09 Attendance in chamber—COVID-19

While social distancing measures were maintained in the chamber, attendance was high during the sitting week. More than 130 members attended the chamber at some time each day, and no contributions were made remotely through the official video link.

Members continued to be paired for divisions to avoid large numbers moving about the Chamber at the one time. More than 40 members were paired for each division.

15.10 Appointment of Parliamentary Budget Officer

The Speaker informed the House that Dr Stein Helgeby had been appointed the Parliamentary Budget Officer from 18 November. The Chair of the Public Accounts and Audit Committee also made a statement in connection with the appointment.

In accordance with the Parliamentary Service Act 1999, the Presiding Officers appoint the Parliamentary Budget Officer, subject to the approval of the Joint Committee of Public Accounts and Audit.

Speaker

15.13 Speaker's remarks on ministerial statements

In response to a point of order raised on 29 October (see 14.04), the Speaker made some remarks on the content of ministerial statements. He explained that ministerial statements existed to provide ministers with the opportunity to make announcements on government policy and other actions or decisions of the government and he expected them to be used specifically for that purpose. He added that there were other opportunities during the sitting day for ministers to engage in political debate about the opposition.

The Manager of Opposition Business, on indulgence, informed the House that, if the opposition received an advance copy of a ministerial statement containing ‘political abuse’, it would not grant leave for the statement to be made in the House.
