

Department of the House of Representatives Alumni

All former and retired employees of the Department of the House of Representatives are invited to join the Department's alumni. The alumni offers a unique opportunity to keep in touch with the department, colleagues, events and employment opportunities. The program will help build a community of informed and interested former staff to assist the department achieve its goals and strengthen its links with the wider community.

The department has a lot to offer former employees, such as providing opportunities to:

- maintain professional knowledge;
- share expertise;
- mentor colleagues;
- maintain contact with friends and colleagues through social events and the alumni network; and
- access short-term employment opportunities.

An alumni board consisting solely of alumni members oversees the alumni program and represents the interests of former staff. The objective of the board is to provide benefits to individual alumni by fostering their continued involvement in the department and the alumni community.
