Introduction

The Senate Standing Committee for the Scrutiny of Delegated Legislation, formerly the Senate Standing Committee on Regulations and Ordinances, was established in 1932. The role of the committee is to examine the technical qualities of all legislative instruments, and to decide whether they comply with the committee's non-partisan scrutiny principles.

On 16 June 2021 the Senate adopted three recommendations of the final report of the committee's inquiry into the exemption of delegated legislation from parliamentary oversight that were directed to the Senate. As a result, from 1 July 2021, the standing orders of the Senate were amended to add two new scrutiny principles to the committee's terms of reference. In addition, the standing orders were amended to allow the committee to consider instruments which are exempt from disallowance.<sup>1</sup>

Terms of reference

The committee's scrutiny principles are set out in Senate standing order 23(3) which requires the committee to scrutinise each instrument as to whether:

- (a) it is in accordance with its enabling Act and otherwise complies with all legislative requirements;
- (b) it appears to be supported by a constitutional head of legislative power and is otherwise constitutionally valid;
- (c) it makes rights, liberties, obligations or interests unduly dependent on insufficiently defined administrative powers;
- (d) those likely to be affected by the instrument were adequately consulted in relation to it;
- (e) its drafting is defective or unclear;
- (f) it, and any document it incorporates, may be freely accessed and used;
- (g) the accompanying explanatory material provides sufficient information to gain a clear understanding of the instrument;
- (h) it trespasses unduly on personal rights and liberties;
- (i) it unduly excludes, limits or fails to provide for independent review of decisions affecting rights, liberties, obligations or interests;
- (j) it contains matters more appropriate for parliamentary enactment; and

- (k) in the case of an instrument exempt from sunseting, it is appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from sunseting;
- (l) in the case of an instrument that amends or modifies the operation of primary legislation, or exempts persons or entities from the operation of primary legislation, the instrument is in force only for as long as is strictly necessary; and
- (m) it complies with any other ground relating to the technical scrutiny of delegated legislation that the committee considers appropriate.

Senate standing order 23(4) also requires the committee to scrutinise each instrument to determine whether the attention of the Senate should be drawn to the instrument on the ground that it raises significant issues, or otherwise gives rise to issues that are likely to be of interest to the Senate.

Senate standing order 23(4A) provides that the committee may, for the purpose of reporting on its terms of reference, consider instruments made under the authority of Acts of the Parliament that are not subject to disallowance. For such instruments the committee may also consider whether it is appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from disallowance.

Nature of the committee's scrutiny

The committee's work may be broadly described as technical legislative scrutiny. In this regard, the committee does not examine the policy merits of delegated legislation. However, if the committee determines that an instrument raises significant issues, it may write to the relevant legislation committee to alert that committee to the instrument, or otherwise draw the instrument to the attention of the Senate.

Where an instrument does not appear to comply with the committee's technical scrutiny principles, the committee's usual approach is to correspond with the responsible minister or relevant agency to seek further explanation or clarification of the matter at issue. The committee may also seek an undertaking for specific action to address its scrutiny concerns.

The committee reports on instruments which are exempt from disallowance, including whether they meet the committee's expectations under standing order 23, in Part 2 of Chapter 1 and in Chapter 4 of the Delegated Legislation Monitor.

The committee's work is supported by the processes for the registration, tabling and disallowance of legislative instruments under the Legislation Act 2003.<sup>2</sup>

2 For further information on the disallowance process and the work of the committee see Odgers' Australian Senate Practice, 14th Edition (2016), Chapter 15.

Publications

The committee's usual practice is to table a report, the Delegated Legislation Monitor, each Senate sitting week. The monitor provides an overview of the committee's scrutiny of legislative instruments for the prescribed period. Legislative instruments detailed in the monitor are also listed in the 'Index of instruments' on the committee's website.<sup>3</sup>

Ministerial correspondence

The committee undertakes formal correspondence with ministers in order to resolve more significant scrutiny concerns. Ministerial correspondence is published on the committee's website.<sup>4</sup>

Agency correspondence

The committee undertakes informal correspondence with agencies via its secretariat to gather information about potential scrutiny concerns. This correspondence assists the committee in deciding whether it is necessary to seek further advice from the relevant minister about those concerns. Agency correspondence is not published; however, a record of the instrument, scrutiny issue and status of the correspondence is included in Appendix A (new matters), Appendix B (ongoing matters) and Appendix C (concluded matters) in the monitor.

Guidelines

Guidelines relating to the committee's scrutiny principles are published on the committee's website.<sup>5</sup>

General information

The Federal Register of Legislation should be consulted for the text of instruments, explanatory statements, and associated information.<sup>6</sup>

The Senate Disallowable Instruments List provides a listing of tabled instruments for which disallowance motions may be moved in the Senate.<sup>7</sup>

The Disallowance Alert records all notices of motion for the disallowance of instruments, and their progress and eventual outcome.<sup>8</sup>

Instruments considered in this monitor

The committee examined 136 legislative instruments registered on the Federal Register of Legislation between 14 August 2021 and 10 September 2021. This included 123 disallowable instruments and 13 instruments exempt from disallowance.

This monitor identifies the instruments registered in this period about which the committee has or had scrutiny concerns. It also identifies instruments registered before this period in relation to which the committee is continuing to engage with the relevant minister or agency or has concluded its examination.

Chapter 1

Instruments raising significant scrutiny concerns

1.1 This chapter details the instruments which raise significant scrutiny concerns in relation to which the committee is seeking further information from the relevant minister or of which the committee has concluded its examination.

1.2 This chapter is divided into two parts. Part 1 deals with instruments subject to disallowance and Part 2 deals with instruments which are exempt from disallowance.

Part 1

Disallowable instruments raising significant scrutiny issues

1.3 There are no disallowable instruments raising significant scrutiny issues for inclusion in this Part of the Monitor.

Part 2

Exempt instruments raising significant scrutiny issues

1.4 This Part details those instruments exempt from disallowance which raise particularly significant scrutiny concerns in relation to the appropriateness of their exemption from disallowance under Senate standing order 23(4A). Where necessary, the committee additionally raises scrutiny concerns in relation to its scrutiny principles set out in Senate standing order 23(3)(3).

Overview

1.5 The Australian Renewable Energy Agency (General Funding Strategy) Determination 2021 [F2021L01191] (the instrument) sets out the general funding strategy (GFS) for the Australian Renewable Energy Agency (the ARENA) for the 2021/22 – 2023/24 financial years.

Scrutiny concerns

Exemption from disallowance

1.6 Senate standing order 23(4A) empowers the committee to scrutinise delegated legislation that is exempt from disallowance against all scrutiny principles set out in standing order 23. For such instruments the committee may also consider whether it is appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from disallowance.

1 Accessible on the Federal Register of Legislation at <https://www.legislation.gov.au/>.

1.7 At a minimum, the committee expects all explanatory statements to exempt instruments to identify the source of the exemption and justify why the exemption is appropriate in the specific context of the instrument.

1.8 The explanatory statement to the instrument indicates that the instrument is exempt from disallowance under subsection 20(2) of the Australian Renewable Energy Agency Act 2011 (the ARENA Act). The explanatory statement further explains:

Under subsection 20(2) of the Act this instrument is not subject to disallowance. This reflects both the independence of ARENA in developing the GFS and the similarities of the GFS to government directions to statutory bodies which are also not subject to disallowance. As the provision of assistance by ARENA must be in accordance with the GFS under s 10 of the Act, disallowance of some or all of the strategy could impede the ability for ARENA to independently perform its statutory functions.<sup>2</sup>

1.9 It is the committee's view that there are limited acceptable circumstances in which delegated legislation made by the executive should be exempt from parliamentary scrutiny.

1.10 The general financial strategy guides the provision of financial assistance by the ARENA. This means that the instrument guides the way Commonwealth money will be spent. In its final report of the inquiry into the exemption of delegated legislation from parliamentary oversight (the final report), the committee highlighted specific concerns in relation to the use of framework laws which leave crucial details regarding how public money will be spent or invested to delegated legislation which is exempt from disallowance.<sup>3</sup>

1.11 Noting the above, the committee's clear view is that it is inappropriate for this instrument to be exempt from disallowance. This accords with the Senate's requirement that that exemptions should only be made in exceptional circumstances and will only be justified in rare cases.<sup>4</sup> The classification of this instrument as exempt from disallowance prevents parliamentary oversight of how public money will be invested by the ARENA.

1.12 In addition, the committee does not consider the fact that the ARENA is a statutory agency in any way means that its general financial strategy should not be subject to parliamentary scrutiny. Generally, statutory agencies are subject to parliamentary scrutiny, and it is not clear to the committee why this instance should be distinguished. The explanatory statement to the instrument does not provide any further explanation as to why this should be the case.

1.13 The committee also notes that the explanatory statement indicates that the exemption from disallowance is appropriate in this instance due to the similarities between the instrument and government directions to statutory bodies, which is a category for exemption from disallowance under table item 2 in section 9 of the Legislation (Exemptions and Other Matters) Regulation 2015. However, even if this similarity were to be accepted, the committee does not accept that directions from ministers to statutory bodies should be exempt from disallowance. In the final report of the committee's inquiry into the exemption of delegated legislation from parliamentary oversight, the committee recommended that this category of exemption from disallowance should be abolished.<sup>5</sup>

1.14 In light of the above, the committee requests the minister's more detailed advice as to why it is considered necessary and appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from disallowance.

Compliance with authorising legislation

1.15 Senate standing order 23(3)(a) requires the committee to scrutinise each instrument as to whether it is in accordance with its enabling Act.

1.16 The instrument is made under subsection 20(2) of the ARENA Act, which provides that a general funding strategy (GFS) may be made by non-disallowable legislative instrument.

1.17 Clauses 2–4 of Schedule 1 to the instrument set out the ARENA's objectives and its focus on providing financial assistance to support priority low emissions technologies. In this regard, the explanatory statement to the instrument explains:

...the GFS investment priorities have also been updated to acknowledge ARENA's functions have been expanded through the Australian Renewable Energy Agency (Implementing the Technology Investment Roadmap) Regulations 2021 (the Regulations) to enable ARENA to provide financial assistance in relation to priority low emissions technologies, with a focus on the five priority low emissions technologies and the corresponding stretch goals identified in the Government's first Low Emissions Technology Statement (LETS).<sup>6</sup>

1.18 The committee has previously raised significant scrutiny concerns about the expansion of the ARENA's remit by delegated legislation to empower the ARENA to foster low emissions technologies which go beyond the objects of the ARENA Act. This expansion was attempted in the Australian Renewable Energy Agency Amendment (2020-21 Budget Programs) Regulations 2021 [F2021L00590], which was disallowed by the Senate on 22 June 2021. Subsequently, the Australian Renewable Energy Agency (Implementing the Technology Investment Roadmap) Regulations 2021 [F2021L01043] was registered on the Federal Register of Legislation. The committee's concerns in relation to both regulations are outlined in detail in Delegated Legislation Monitor 12 of 2021 and Delegated Legislation Monitor 14 of 2021.

1.19 In summary, the committee is concerned that the instruments expand the remit of the ARENA beyond what was envisaged by Parliament when the Act was passed. The committee has similar concerns in relation to this current funding instrument, noting that all three instruments are made under the ARENA Act, the object of which is to improve the competitiveness and supply of renewable energy in Australia. As the instrument sets out funding strategies to support the development of low emissions technology, it is the committee's view that the measures in the instrument may go beyond the power of its authorising legislation.

1.20 As set out in Delegated Legislation Monitor 14 of 2021, the purpose of the ARENA Act is made clear in the title of the Act itself, and in section 3 which sets out the objects of the Act. Section 15AA of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 provides that in interpreting a provision of an Act, the interpretation that would best achieve the purpose or object of the Act (whether or not that purpose or object is expressly stated in the Act) is to be preferred to each other interpretation. In this regard, the committee's position is that the interpretation that would best achieve the purpose or object of the Act is one that limits the functions of the ARENA to investing in renewable energy technologies.

1.21 In light of the Senate's disallowance of the Australian Renewable Energy Agency Amendment (2020-21 Budget Programs) Regulations 2021 [F2021L00590], and the committee's recommendation that the subsequent Renewable Energy Agency (Implementing the Technology Investment Roadmap) Regulations 2021 [F2021L01043] also be disallowed, the committee draws its scrutiny concerns in relation to this instrument's compliance with its authorising legislation to the attention of senators.

Biosecurity (Human Biosecurity Emergency) (Human Coronavirus with Pandemic Potential) Variation (Extension No. 3) Instrument 2021

| Purpose                 | To amend the Biosecurity (Human Biosecurity Emergency) (Human Coronavirus with Pandemic Potential) Declaration 2020 to extend the human biosecurity emergency period for a further 3 months until 17 December 2021. |

| Portfolio               | Health  |
| Source of exemption     | Subsection 476(2) of the Biosecurity Act 2015  |

Overview

1.22 Sections 475 and 476 of the Biosecurity Act 2015 (Biosecurity Act) allow the Governor-General to declare that a human biosecurity emergency exists and to extend the emergency period for further three month periods if the Health Minister is satisfied of certain criteria. On 18 March 2020 the Governor-General declared that a human biosecurity emergency exists regarding COVID-19 for a period of three months until 17 June 2020. The human biosecurity emergency period has subsequently been extended five times between June 2020 and June 2021.

1.23 This instrument varies the human biosecurity emergency declaration to extend the emergency period a sixth consecutive time, for a further 3 months until 17 December 2021.

1.24 During a human biosecurity emergency period, the Health Minister may determine emergency requirements or give directions deemed necessary to prevent or control the entry, emergence, establishment or spread of the relevant disease in Australian territory.

Scrutiny concerns

Exemption from disallowance

1.25 Senate standing order 23(4A) empowers the committee to scrutinise delegated legislation that is exempt from disallowance against all scrutiny principles set out in standing order 23. For such instruments, the committee may also consider whether it is appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from disallowance.

7 Accessible on the Federal Register of Legislation at <https://www.legislation.gov.au/>.

1.26 This instrument is made under subsection 476(1) of the Biosecurity Act. Subsection 476(2) of the Biosecurity Act provides that instruments made under subsection 476(1), which extend the human biosecurity emergency period, are not subject to disallowance by the Parliament.

1.27 The explanatory statement to the instrument explains that the reason for this exemption from disallowance is to ensure that the government is able to take the urgent action necessary to manage a nationally significant threat or harm to Australia's human health. Further, it explains that the risk of disallowance would inhibit the government's ability to act urgently on public health advice to manage a human biosecurity risk as it would create uncertainty as to whether the instrument might be disallowed.<sup>8</sup>

1.28 The committee has raised significant concerns about the exemption of legislative instruments from disallowance by the Parliament, with particular regard to exempt instruments made under the Biosecurity Act. These concerns are set out in detail in the interim report of the committee's inquiry into the exemption of delegated legislation from parliamentary oversight.<sup>9</sup> In this report, the committee recommended that declarations of human biosecurity emergency periods and associated extensions made under sections 475 and 476 of the Biosecurity Act be subject to disallowance.

1.29 Noting this, and the fact that the human biosecurity emergency period for COVID-19 has now been extended on six occasions, the committee considers that the explanation in the explanatory statement is not a sufficient justification as to why this instrument is exempt from parliamentary oversight.

1.30 The exemption from disallowance in relation to this instrument is particularly concerning as it means that any determinations of emergency requirements made under section 477 of the Biosecurity Act that are still currently in effect will continue to apply for the duration of the extended human biosecurity emergency period (unless revoked earlier). Further, additional determinations may be made during the period, which are also not subject to disallowance by Parliament.

1.31 The committee notes that instruments that have previously been made under section 477 of the Biosecurity Act have had significant impacts on the personal rights and liberties of individuals, including travel restrictions impacting Australian citizens and permanent residents, which is discussed in detail in Delegated Legislation Monitor 14 of 2021.<sup>10</sup> The committee's concerns are heightened as there is no limitation on the number of times that the emergency period may be further extended without parliamentary oversight.

1.32 Emergency delegated legislation should be subject to appropriate parliamentary oversight. Continuing to make instruments under section 476 of the Biosecurity Act which are exempt from disallowance inhibits the Parliament's constitutional role as the primary institution responsible for making law and scrutinising possible encroachments on personal rights and liberties. Given the significant and ongoing impact of the human biosecurity emergency period on the personal rights and liberties of individuals, the committee considers the exemption from disallowance of instruments extending the period undermines Parliament's ability to fulfil its rights-assessing and rights-protecting responsibilities with respect to delegated legislation.

1.33 The committee is deeply concerned that the government has failed to substantively engage with the committee's significant concerns in relation to instruments made under the Biosecurity Act, in particular failing to consider the significance of its concerns in relation to the continued extension of the human biosecurity emergency period without any form of parliamentary oversight. The committee intends to rigorously pursue this matter in accordance with the mandate provided by the Senate when it agreed to amend standing order 23 to allow the committee to consider exempt instruments.

1.34 The committee also takes this opportunity to again express its significant concern that the government has not yet responded to the interim report which was tabled in the Senate on 2 December 2020.

1.35 In light of the above, the committee requests the minister's detailed advice as to why it is considered necessary and appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from disallowance. The advice should specifically address the considerations as to why it is appropriate for emergency related delegated legislation to be subject to disallowance outlined at paragraphs 4.48 to 4.54 of the committee's interim report of its inquiry into the exemption of delegated legislation from parliamentary oversight.<sup>11</sup>

1.36 The committee also reiterates its strong view, expressed in Delegated Legislation Monitor 14 of 2021, that amendments should be moved to the Biosecurity Amendment (Enhanced Risk Management) Bill 2021 to amend section 476 of the Biosecurity Act to provide that any future variations to extend a human biosecurity emergency period will be subject to disallowance.

Chapter 2

Matters of interest to the Senate

2.1 Senate standing order 23(4) requires the committee to scrutinise each instrument to determine whether the Senate's attention should be drawn to it on the ground that it raises significant issues, or otherwise gives rise to issues that are likely to be of interest to the Senate.

2.2 This chapter identifies the instruments which the committee has resolved to draw to the attention of the Senate and the relevant legislation committee under standing order 23(4), with the exception of instruments which specify significant executive expenditure, which are listed in Chapter 3.<sup>1</sup>

| Instrument   | Purpose   | Portfolio committee  |
|--|---|--|
| Aged Care Legislation Amendment (Improved Home Care Payment Administration) Instrument 2021 [F2021L01133] | To support changes to the arrangements for paying home care subsidies to approved providers, including setting out the basis on which home care subsidy is paid and the amount of the subsidy (incorporating the basic subsidy amount, viability supplement, dementia and cognition supplement, veterans' supplement and top-up supplement).  | Senate Community Affairs Legislation Committee   |
| Child Care Subsidy Amendment (Coronavirus Response Measures No. 6) Minister's Rules 2021 [F2021L01233]    | To provide for the making of business continuity payments, called COVID-19 viability support payments, to approved child care providers affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. Under the instrument, providers who meet the eligibility criteria will receive COVID-19 viability support payments at certain times. These include where the provider's service is in a COVID-19 hotspot of more than 28 days, or where the provider's service is in a COVID-19 hotspot of more than 7 days, and there are restrictions on whether children can attend care. | Senate Education and Employment Legislation CommitteeSenate Select Committee on COVID-19 |

Scrutiny of Commonwealth expenditure

3.1 The Financial Framework (Supplementary Powers) Act 1997 (FF(SP) Act) and the Industry Research and Development Act 1986 (IRD Act) authorise the Commonwealth to spend public money on grants and programs specified in instruments made under those Acts. Consequently, the specification of expenditure in an instrument made under these Acts effectively authorises the Commonwealth to spend public moneys on the relevant grant or program. The scrutiny of such instruments is a key aspect of parliamentary scrutiny and control of Commonwealth expenditure.<sup>1</sup>

3.2 To facilitate such scrutiny, this chapter draws the Senate's attention to the nature and extent of Commonwealth expenditure that is authorised by the FF(SP) Act and the IRD Act and specified in delegated legislation made under those Acts.<sup>2</sup>

3.3 The tables below outline the expenditure specified in legislative instruments registered between 14 August 2021 and 10 September 2021.

3.4 The committee has resolved to write to the relevant legislation committees to alert those committees to the expenditure listed below that falls within their area of portfolio responsibility. The committee does so under standing order 23(4) which requires the committee to scrutinise each instrument to determine whether the Senate's attention should be drawn to it on the ground that it raises significant issues, or otherwise gives rise to issues that are likely to be of interest to the Senate.

A safety net television service is a platform/service that provides commercial and national free-to-air television to viewers unable to access terrestrial television transmission. Since the switchover to digital television, the Viewer Access Satellite Television (VAST) service has provided a safety net service via direct to home satellite transmission. The provision of free-to-air television services using terrestrial transmission (broadcasting towers) is a commercial decision for the broadcasters. Due to Australia's large landmass and sparse population density, it is not economically viable to provide households in many areas of Australia with access to free-to-air television services through terrestrial | Senate Environment and Communications Legislation Committee |

Scrutiny of instruments exempt from disallowance

4.1 Senate standing order 23(4A) provides that the committee may, for the purpose of reporting on its terms of reference, consider instruments made under the authority of Acts of the Parliament that are not subject to disallowance. For such instruments the committee may also consider whether it is appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from disallowance.

4.2 This chapter identifies the instruments exempt from disallowance which the committee has resolved to draw to the attention of the Senate and the relevant minister under standing order 23(4A), in relation to the appropriateness of their exemption from disallowance.

4.3 The committee has considered all legislative instruments which are exempt from disallowance registered on the Federal Register of Legislation between 14 August 2021 and 10 September 2021. The sections below identify those instruments which meet or do not meet the committee's expectations under standing order 23(4A).

4.4 The instruments may not meet the committee's expectations because:

- the explanatory statement accompanying the instrument does not contain a sufficient explanation for why the instrument is exempt from disallowance and therefore the committee has not been able to assess whether it is appropriate for the instrument to be exempt from disallowance; or
- a substantive explanation for exemption is provided but the committee considers that the explanation does not meet the Senate's requirement that exemptions should only be made in exceptional circumstances and will only be justified in rare cases.<sup>1</sup>

Appendix D

Undertakings

8.1 From time to time, a minister or agency may make an undertaking to address the committee's scrutiny concerns. These may include, for example, an undertaking to amend a legislative instrument or an explanatory statement, or to review an Act or a departmental practice. The committee expects that, when a minister or agency has made an undertaking, it will be implemented in a timely manner. Accordingly, this appendix records outstanding ministerial and agency undertakings, and the undertakings implemented since the committee's last Delegated Legislation Monitor.
