

Expiring spectrum licences timeline

Key

◇ Earliest ACMA decision point

Statutory timeframes for renewal applications and decisions under the Radiocommunications Act 1992

In Australia, spectrum licensees have the right to apply for renewal of their licences and may apply for renewal 2 years before expiry (s77A)

ACMA must make a decision in response to an application for renewal and has 6 months to respond to an application for renewal (s286)
