INTRODUCTION

The Department of the Environment welcomes the opportunity to provide this submission to the House of Representatives Standing Committee on the Environment.

The role of the Department is to advise on and implement environmental policy to support the Australian Government in achieving a healthy environment, strong economy, and thriving community now and for the future.

This submission relates to the Department's management of the Register of Environmental Organisations, and addresses the terms of reference for the Inquiry through a review of the historical and operating context of the Register and its administrative framework and processes.

The Register is a long-standing part of Australia's taxation system and it is timely to review its operation to ensure that it is achieving the aims for which it was originally established. The Department welcomes any recommendations to ensure that its administration is as streamlined as possible, whilst allowing proper oversight of organisations who are receiving the benefit from being on the Register.

The Department notes that it is just one agency involved in issues related to the Register. The Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, under which the Register is established, is administered by the Department of the Treasury. The Assistant Treasurer, as the delegate of the Treasurer, is also a joint decision-maker with respect to the Register. The Australian Taxation Office and the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission have separate responsibilities for regulating charity organisations and eligibility for income-tax and other exemptions for some organisations listed on the Register.

OVERVIEW

The Register of Environmental Organisations is a Commonwealth tax deductibility scheme for environmental organisations enabled under Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. It allows eligible organisations to be endorsed as Deductible Gift Recipients by the Australian Taxation Office.

Deductible Gift Recipient status means donations made to these organisations will be tax deductible for the donor.

The Act requires that the Department of the Environment maintains the Register, and to add or remove environmental organisations and their public funds by joint direction of the Minister for the Environment and the Assistant Treasurer, acting for and on behalf of the Treasurer. To be eligible for entry to the Register, organisations must have a principal purpose of either:

- the protection and enhancement of the natural environment or of a significant aspect of the natural environment;
- or
- the provision of information or education, or the carrying on of research, about the natural environment or a significant aspect of the natural environment.

Deductible Gift Recipient status through the Register is separate from an organisation's status as a charity and eligibility for income-tax and other exemptions, which are administered by the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission and the Australian Taxation Office.

As at December 2014 there were 588 organisations listed on the Register (see Attachment A). Additionally, 13 of the 23 organisations listed by name in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (see Attachment B) are also considered in this submission as they are environmental organisations.

The remaining 10 organisations<sup>1</sup> (National Trust entities and the Mawson's Huts Foundation) are not viewed as environmental organisations equivalent to those on the Register and so do not have any requirements placed on them under the tax legislation to report to the Department. They are not discussed further in this submission.

The 13 environment organisations named in the legislation are related and relevant in that they are environmental organisations that have Deductible Gift Recipient status and up until 2013 had the same reporting requirements as those on the Register of Environmental Organisations.

BACKGROUND TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE REGISTER OF ENVIRONMENTAL ORGANISATIONS

On 26 October 1966, the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 was amended to include the Australian Conservation Foundation as an organisation which is able to receive tax deductible donations (Deductible Gift Recipient status). In 1978, the Worldwide Fund for Nature Australia was included in the legislation, and in 1982, 10 additional organisations were added. A further organisation was included in 1990, bringing the total to 13 (see Attachment B).

<sup>1</sup> National Trust of Australia (NSW), National Trust of Australia (Victoria), National Trust of Queensland, National Trust of South Australia, National Trust of Australia (WA), National Trust of Australia (Tasmania), National Trust of Australia (Northern Territory), National Trust of Australia (ACT), Australia Council of National Trusts, and Mawson's Huts Foundation Limited.

Prior to the introduction of the Register, conservation groups made representations to Government that Deductible Gift Recipient status was the preferred form of additional Commonwealth assistance to voluntary conservation organisations. As each additional organisation to receive tax deductible status required legislative amendment, this significantly constrained additional organisations from obtaining tax deductible status.

Due to this limitation, those organisations that were listed by name in legislation entered into informal arrangements with other organisations to collect donations on their behalf and therefore allow donors to claim a deduction for their donation.

To increase transparency of access to the gift provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, and enhance the fundraising ability of conservation groups, the Register of Environmental Organisations was announced in the 1992–93 Budget. It became effective from 24 December 1992 allowing the donors to claim tax deductions and removed the capacity of organisations named in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 to accept donations intended for other organisations.

ORGANISATIONS CURRENTLY LISTED BY NAME IN THE INCOME TAX ASSESSMENT ACT 1997

As stated above, there are 13 environmental organisations<sup>2</sup> of relevance included in the 23 organisations that are listed by name in section 30-55 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. These relevant listings occurred prior to the introduction of the Register of Environmental Organisations.

As these organisations are listed by name in the Act, they are not considered to be listed on the Register and are not subject to the Register provisions of Subdivision 30-E of the Act which contains the requirements on the operation of the Register. This means, for example, that they do not have to establish and maintain a public fund, do not need to meet the Register's principal purpose test and there is no requirement that the tax deductible donations be only expended for the principal purpose of the organisation.

These 13 organisations had been subject to a requirement to provide details to the Secretary of the Department about donations received each year and to have a policy of not acting as a mere conduit in the collection of donations on behalf of other organisations.<sup>3</sup> Since the introduction of the Charities Act 2013 only those of the 13 which are not Registered Charities need to provide details of donations received to the Secretary.<sup>4</sup> Of the 13, 12 are registered charities and so have not been required by law to report to the Secretary since 2013.

It should be noted that compliance options with respect to organisations named in the legislation is limited. The Department has no sanctions available, and the only way to remove Deductible Gift Recipient status is to amend the legislation.

CHARITABLE STATUS

Deductible Gift Recipient status through the Register of Environmental Organisations is separate and different to an organisation's status as a 'charity'. A registered charity is potentially eligible for income-tax exemptions, Goods and Services Tax concessions and Fringe Benefits Tax rebates. These tax concessions are administered by the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission and the Australian Taxation Office.

Being a registered charity does not give an organisation Deductible Gift Recipient status and not all organisations with Deductible Gift Recipient status are registered charities.

While these are separate classifications and provide distinct tax concessions, as of December 2014 over 75 per cent of the 588 registered environmental organisations were also registered charities, as are 12 of the 13 organisations listed by name in the tax legislation.

Under the Charities Act 2013 at section 12 the definition of charitable purpose includes:

(1) (j) the purpose of advancing the natural environment. (The term 'advancing' is further defined to include "protecting, maintaining, supporting, researching and improving"<sup>5</sup>),

(l) the purpose of promoting or opposing a change to any matter established by law, policy or practice in the Commonwealth, a State, a Territory or another country, if:

(i) in the case of promoting a change—the change is in furtherance or in aid of one or more of the purposes mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (k);

(ii) in the case of opposing a change—the change is in opposition to, or in hindrance of, one or more of the purposes mentioned in those paragraphs;

(3) For the purposes of this section, it does not matter whether a purpose is directed to something in Australia or overseas.

This is different to the requirements for listing on the Register, administered by the Department which state that organisations must have a principal purpose of either:

- the protection and enhancement of the natural environment or of a significant aspect of the natural environment; or
- the provision of information or education, or the carrying on of research, about the natural environment or a significant aspect of the natural environment.

DEDUCTIBLE GIFT RECIPIENT STATUS

The ability to receive tax-deductible donations is a long-standing source of financial support for the not-for-profit sector to further its philanthropic activities and objectives.

There are 51 Deductible Gift Recipient categories in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. Of these, 47 are administered by the Australian Tax Office. As at December 2014, almost 28,000 organisations held Deductible Gift Recipient status with the overwhelming majority (91 per cent) endorsed under categories administered by the Australian Taxation Office.

Across all categories, the number of organisations with Deductible Gift Recipient status has been growing steadily, at around 6 per cent a year.

Donations by individuals as a percentage of their income has remained fairly constant. In 1990, donations to those in all categories as a percentage of total individual income was 0.2 per cent; it rose to a peak in 2007-08 at 0.4 per cent and returned to current levels of 0.3 per cent of total income.<sup>7</sup>

The 51 categories of Deductible Gift Recipient status span a broad range of organisations with the most common including public benevolent institutions, health promotion charities, school or college building funds and public libraries.

There were 588 organisations on the Register of Environmental Organisations in December 2014, representing 2 per cent of all organisations with Deductible Gift Recipient status. The Register is one of four Deductible Gift Recipient categories not assessed through the Australian Taxation Office. The other three registers<sup>9</sup> are the:

- Register of Cultural Organisations under the Minister for the Arts - 1486 registered organisations
- Register of Harm Prevention Charities under the Minister for Social Services – 77 registered organisations, and
- Overseas Aid Gift Deduction Scheme under the Minister for Foreign Affairs – 237 registered organisations

The number of organisations on the Register has grown steadily over time, although the rate of increase has slowed over the past four years.

DONATIONS COLLECTED BY ORGANISATIONS

From the introduction of the Register in 1992-03 to 2013-14, registered organisations have reported collecting over $1.3 billion in donations. The 13 environmental tax organisations listed by name in the tax legislation have reported collecting a further $269 million between 1993-94 and 2011-12. As noted earlier, organisations named in the legislation have not been required to report to the Department since 2013.

Figures 3 and 4 show increases in both the number of registered organisations and the total reported donations to these organisations over time. The rate of increase has slowed over the past four years.

<sup>10</sup> From 2012-13 organisations named in the Act that were registered charities were no longer required to report to the Department. Refer footnote 1 for a list of organisations named in the Act.

Looking at the donations received by those registered organisations that reported, three quarters of them collected total donations of less $100 000. Just over a quarter of organisations collected less than $1000. Total reported donations for 2013-14 was $128.8 million. At the other end, just under 5 per cent of organisations received total donations valued at over $1 million.

Figure 6 looks at the 30 registered organisations reporting the largest donations collection as a percentage of the total reported donations over the past six years. In 2008-09, 30 organisations collected 90 per cent of the total reported donations. This has decreased over time with the top 30 organisations accounting for 83 per cent of total in 2013-14. This suggests some redistribution of the total donations across the 2008-09 to 2013-14 period.

DONATIONS FOR ACTIVITIES COMPLETED OUTSIDE AUSTRALIA

Current guidelines and legislation do not limit the use of funds generated through the Register to the protection of the Australian environment. For the 2013-14 reporting period, organisations were asked to report on the percentage of expenditure supporting activities conducted outside of Australia.

Of the 432 that have reported to date, 384 organisations indicated that they conducted no activities outside of Australia. Of the 48 who reported overseas activities, 16 allocated more than 75 per cent of their expenditure overseas.

IMPACTS ON GOVERNMENT REVENUE

The Tax Expenditures Statement 2014 reported total deductions of $1.2 billion in 2013-14 for gifts to organisations across all 51 categories of Deductible Gift Recipient status. As a proportion of nominal GDP, the size of the tax expenditure has remained broadly stable over recent years.

Consideration of the forgone revenue attributable to the Register shows a similarly stable pattern to that shown for all Deductible Gift Recipient categories – with an average at around 0.003 per cent of nominal GDP over the last 10 years.

Of the $128.8 million reported donations received by registered environmental organisations in 2013-14, the tax revenue foregone estimated by Treasury is $45 million. Assuming all deductions are claimed, the Register of Environmental Organisations accounts for 3.7 per cent of total reported foregone revenue from all Deductible Gift Recipient categories.

Evidence suggests that a substantial proportion of donors, particularly donors of smaller amounts and those with lower incomes, do not claim an income tax deduction for their donations.<sup>12</sup> With this in mind, $45 million is likely to be an upper estimate of foregone revenue.

OPERATION OF THE REGISTER: ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

The Minister administering the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999 is responsible for decisions relating to the Register under the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.<sup>13</sup> The Minister for the Environment, the Hon Greg Hunt MP, is currently the responsible Minister.<sup>14</sup>

An organisation can only be entered onto the Register if both the Minister for the Environment and the Treasurer (currently, the Assistant Treasurer, acting for and on behalf of the Treasurer for Register matters), issue a direction to the Environment Secretary to do so.<sup>15</sup> Under the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, this direction can only be made if the Minister for the Environment has notified the Treasurer in writing that he or she is satisfied the organisation is an environmental organisation.<sup>16</sup> The Secretary of the Department must keep a register of environmental organisations.<sup>17</sup>

For an organisation to be an 'environmental organisation', the Minister for the Environment must be satisfied that it meets the membership, structure and compliance requirements outlined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (see Attachment C) and further outlined in the following pages.

The Register's Guidelines and Application form are also at Attachments D and E for the Committee's reference. The Guidelines cannot impose additional requirements on organisations to those which are set out in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 and any ministerial rules made under section 30-265(4).

The Minister and Treasurer must "have regard to the policies and budgetary priorities of the Commonwealth Government" in deciding whether to list an organisation on the Register.<sup>18</sup> There is no definitive list or definition of applicable 'policies and budgetary priorities'.

As with any administrative decision making, the Ministers are bound by standard administrative decision making principals, including procedural fairness. Administrative decisions made in relation to the Register are subject to judicial review through the provisions of the Administrative Decisions (Judicial Review) Act 1977. There is no ability for a decision of the Minister or the Assistant Treasurer, acting on behalf of the Treasurer, to be internally reviewed and any decisions in relation to the Register are not subject to merits review by the Administrative Appeals Tribunal. The Tribunal can only review a decision if an Act or Regulation specifically provides for the Tribunal review of the decision.

There is no such provision in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (Cth) for decisions in relation to the Register, and as such, decisions made in relation to the Register are not subject to merits review.

LIAISON WITH THE AUSTRALIAN CHARITIES AND NOT-FOR-PROFITS COMMISSION

When organisations register with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission, they can indicate their interest in applying for listing on the Register of Environmental Organisations with the Department. The Department sends a follow up email to every organisation that selects this option. Each organisation needs to apply separately to the Department, as the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission does not currently collect all the information required to assess an organisation's eligibility for listing on the Register.

ABIDE BY MINISTERIAL RULES

Organisations seeking listing on the Register must agree to comply with any rules that the Minister and Treasurer make to ensure that gifts made to the fund are used only for its principal purpose.<sup>19</sup> Section 30-265(4) allows the Minister for the Environment and the Treasurer to make rules "that ensure that gifts made to the fund are used only for its principal purpose". The current ministerial rules are at Attachment F. The rule making power would not, for instance, authorise the making of rules which modify the principal purpose set out in section 30-265(1).

The Department considers that there are a number of ways to demonstrate that an organisation has agreed to comply with any rules that the Minister and Treasurer may make. The most easily recognised way of demonstrating that the organisation has agreed to do so is to state this in the organisation's constitution. The Register's Guidelines provide a model rule in this regard. Other ways this can be satisfied include providing information about its policies on the organisation's website.

In this way we are explicitly relying on governance of the institution and public accountability to enforce compliance with these rules.

PRINCIPAL PURPOSE OF THE ORGANISATION

All organisations listed on the Register of Environmental Organisations must meet the 'principal purpose' test as set out in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. An organisation's principal purpose must be either:

- a) the protection and enhancement of the natural environment or of a significant aspect of the natural environment;

OR

- b) the provision of information or education, or the carrying on of research, about the natural environment or a significant aspect of the natural environment.<sup>20</sup>

The Department primarily looks at the objects/purposes in the organisation's founding documents and the description of its activities when examining an organisation's principal purpose. Where there are concerns, the organisation's control, history and activities may also be relevant to determining what its principal purpose is. To examine these factors, the Department may undertake research, request further information from the applicant and conduct business searches (such as ASIC extracts).

The term 'principal' is not defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. The Macquarie Dictionary defines 'principal' as 'something of principal or chief importance'. It is considered that an organisation's principal purpose must be the chief or main purpose, but not necessarily the sole purpose.

The test for inclusion on the Register is in terms of "purpose". This is similar to the test for the Register of Cultural Organisations.<sup>21</sup> This contrasts with the test concerning entry on to the Register of Harm Prevention Charities which looks at the principal activity of the organisation.<sup>22</sup>

The following sections consider each limb of the principal purpose test.

A) PROTECTION AND ENHANCEMENT OF THE NATURAL ENVIRONMENT

The Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 does not define the term 'natural environment'. However, the Explanatory Memorandum to the Taxation Laws Amendment Bill (No. 5) 1992 and the Income Tax (Dividends and Interest Withholding Tax) Bill 1992 provide some guidance on the intended meaning of the term in the context of the Register, which is extracted below:

Environment in this context is the natural environment and includes all aspects of the natural surroundings of humans. The term natural to describe 'environment' is used here to make a distinction between this type of environment and other types of the environment, such as the 'built', 'cultural' and 'historic' environments.

The 'natural environment' would exclude, for example, constructions such as the retaining walls of dams; cultivated parks and gardens; zoos and wildlife parks, except those parks and zoos principally carried on for the purposes of species preservation; and heritage properties.

The 'natural environment' and concern for it would include, for example, significant natural areas such as rainforests; wildlife and their habitats; issues affecting the environment such as air and water quality, waste minimization, soil conservation, and biodiversity; and promotion of ecologically sustainable development principles.

The purpose of protecting and enhancing the natural environment, or a significant aspect of the natural environment, is very broad. This is reinforced by the Explanatory Memorandum extracted above. For example, the reference to 'promotion of ecologically sustainable development principles' suggests that a principal purpose of protection and enhancement includes activities beyond on-ground works and extends to the promotion of more general principles and policies.

B) PROVISION OF INFORMATION OR EDUCATION

The alternate limb of the principal purpose test at section 30-265(1)(b) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 requires that the provision of information or education (or carrying on of research) be about the natural environment or a significant aspect of it. There is no express limitation in the Income Tax

Assessment Act 1997 as to whether the provision of information or education (or carrying on of research) must be aimed at achieving the protection and enhancement of the natural environment.

Taking into account the broader statutory context of the Register, the Department considers that the provision of information or education, or the carrying on of research, should ultimately be directed at some positive benefit relating to the protection of the natural environment.

TYPES OF ORGANISATIONS ELIGIBLE FOR LISTING ON THE REGISTER

In order to be listed on the Register, an organisation must be:

- a) a body corporate; or
- b) a co-operative society; or
- c) a trust; or
- d) an unincorporated body established for a public purpose by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory.<sup>23</sup>

At December 2014, of the 588 Registered environmental organisations there were 511 bodies corporate, one cooperative society and 76 trusts.

While not on the Register of Environmental Organisations, of the 13 environment organisations named in the legislation, all are bodies corporate.

BODIES CORPORATE

A body corporate usually refers to an organisation that is incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth (usually under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) through the Australian Securities and Investments Commission) or under the laws of the State or Territory in which it is based (e.g. under one of the various Incorporated Associations Acts). Eighty seven per cent of organisations currently listed fall within this category.

COOPERATIVES

A co-operative society is an organisational structure where the organisation is owned, controlled and used by members. A cooperative can be either a trading or a non-trading entity and will face different legal requirements depending on type. As noted, there is one cooperative society currently listed on the Register.

TRUSTS

A trust is an obligation imposed on a person (a trustee) to hold property or assets (such as business assets) for the benefit of others (beneficiaries). There are many different types of trusts. For the purposes of the Register, the Deed of Trust must establish an organisation (i.e. the trust) which maintains a public fund; it is not sufficient for the Deed of Trust to only establish a public fund to be managed by the trustee.

Trusts are not required to meet the membership requirements set out for other organisations in the legislation.

'For-profit' entities are able to operate as Trustees for Registered Environmental Organisations and Trustees are not restricted in charging fees for the management of the Trust.

UNINCORPORATED BODY ESTABLISHED FOR A PUBLIC PURPOSE

There are no unincorporated bodies established for a public purpose by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory currently listed on the Register.

REQUIREMENTS FOR BODY CORPORATE ORGANISATIONS AND COOPERATIVE SOCIETIES

In order to be registered a body corporate (except a statutory authority) or a cooperative society the membership of the organisation must:

- a) consist principally of bodies corporate; or
- b) consist of a minimum of 50 members who are individuals that are regarded as financial members and entitled to vote at a general meeting of the organisation.<sup>24</sup>

'Financial members' means that the member has paid any membership fee that is payable upon joining the organisation and required to maintain ongoing membership. If an organisation does not have membership fees, then all members are regarded as 'financial'.

If an organisation does not meet (a) or (b) above, it will only be eligible for entry on the Register if the Minister decides that the organisation does not have to meet these minimum membership requirements due to special circumstances.<sup>25</sup> The Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 does not define 'special circumstances' so the Minister has a wide discretion in granting exemptions. Such exemptions have only been granted on one occasion in the past decade.

The choice of organisation structure can affect the ability of the organisation to meet this requirement. Take for example, an Australian Proprietary Company, Limited By Shares. Under Section 45A of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), a proprietary company must have no more than 50 non-employee shareholders. This restriction creates practical difficulties in meeting the membership requirements of Section 30–275 of the Act.

The Department assesses membership requirements based on the declaration of membership provided by the applicant. Should statistical returns not declare requisite membership numbers the Department may seek a copy of the organisation's membership register.

ESTABLISHING AND MAINTAINING A PUBLIC FUND

Organisations on the Register are required to establish and maintain a public fund in Australia<sup>26</sup> that meets the requirements of section 30-130 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, or would meet

those requirements if the environmental organisation were a fund, authority or institution.<sup>27</sup> These requirements do not apply to those organisations named in the legislation.

Taxation Ruling TR 95/27 Income tax: public funds provides more detail on what is required for a fund to be recognised as “public”:

- a) the objects of the fund must be clearly set out and reflect the purpose of the fund;
- b) gifts to the fund must be kept separate from any other funds of the organisation. A separate bank account and clear accounting procedures are required;
- c) receipts must be issued in the name of the fund;
- d) the public must be invited to contribute to the fund;
- e) the fund must operate on a non-profit basis. Moneys must not be distributed to members of the managing committee or trustees of the fund except as reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses incurred on behalf of the fund or proper remuneration for administrative services;
- f) the fund must be managed by members of a Committee, a majority of whom have a degree of responsibility to the general community (this requirement does not apply to funds established and controlled by governmental or quasi-governmental authority); and
- g) should the fund be wound-up, any surplus money or other assets must be transferred to some other fund on the Register.

The Department has prepared model rules for the management of public funds to help applicants meet these requirements. Organisations are encouraged to use these rules in their governing document.

USE AND COLLECTION OF DONATIONS

Organisations must only use the public fund for the principal purpose outlined at section 30-265(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.<sup>28</sup>

Organisations must continue to seek donations and collect from the public. The requirement to collect tax-deductible donations from the public stems from Taxation Ruling TR 95/27 Income tax: public funds which states, inter alia, for a fund to be recognised as ‘public’:

- the public must be invited to contribute to the fund; and
- the public, or a significant part of it, does in fact contribute to the fund.

NOT ACTING AS A CONDUIT

Organisations on the Register must have a policy of not acting as a mere conduit for the donation of money or property to other organisations, bodies or persons.<sup>29</sup>

Mere conduit is a concept that is not defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. The intention behind section 30-270(2) is explained in the Explanatory Memorandum to the Taxation Laws Amendment Bill (No. 5) 1992 which introduced the Register's provisions:

In other words, an organisation's policy must state that any allocation of funds or property to other organisations, bodies or persons will be made in accordance with the established objectives of the organisation and not be influenced by the expressed preference or interest of a particular donor to the organisation. Organisations cannot act as a mere collection agency for moneys intended by a donor to be transferred onto other preferred organisations, bodies or persons.

Accordingly, the Explanatory Memorandum suggests there are two parts to this test:

- whether the organisation is influenced by the preference of the donor in its application of donated funds; and
- only exists for the purpose of donating funds to another organisation.

The Department considers that there are a number of ways to demonstrate that an organisation has a policy of not acting as a mere conduit for the donation of money or property to other organisations, bodies or persons. The most easily recognised way of demonstrating that there is such a policy is to state this in the organisation's constitution in relation to how it receives and expends funds. The Register's Guidelines provide a model rule in this regard which organisations are encouraged to use. Other ways this can be satisfied include providing information about its policies on the organisation's website or making it clear to donors on donation forms about its policies in this regard.

NO PAYMENT OF PROFITS TO ITS MEMBERS

An organisation on the Register must not pay any of its profits or financial surplus, or give any of its property, to its members, beneficiaries, controllers or owners (as appropriate).<sup>30</sup>

SURPLUS ASSETS TO BE TRANSFERRED ON WINDING UP

Organisations on the Register must have rules providing that if the public fund is wound up any surplus assets of the fund are to be transferred to another fund that is on the Register.<sup>31</sup>

REPORTING

Organisations on the Register must agree to give the Secretary of the Department, within a reasonable period after the end of each financial year, statistical information about gifts made to the public fund during that financial year.<sup>32</sup>

The Department considers that there are a number of ways to demonstrate that an organisation has agreed to provide such statistical information. The most easily recognised way of demonstrating that

there is such agreement is to state this in the organisation's constitution. The Register's Guidelines provide a model rule in this regard which organisations are encouraged to use. Other ways this can be satisfied include providing information about its policies on the organisation's website.

Section 30-270(4) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 only refers to the fact that an organisation must have 'agreed' to provide statistical information, as opposed to the practical effect that it 'must provide' such statistical information. The current ministerial rule in relation to statistical returns however does ensure that organisations must not only agree, but must provide a statistical return to the Department.

Where an organisation is listed on the Register, and is also a Registered Charity with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission, they are currently required to report to both the Secretary and the Commission. Some of the reported information is duplicative; this can be addressed through collaboration between the relevant agencies.

The statistical reporting form for the Register has evolved over time. The forms from 2012, 2013 and 2014 are at Attachments G, H and I for the Committee's convenience.

- Organisations are required to declare donations received and expenditure from the Public Fund account.
- Organisations are not required to provide information on expenditure which is not related to the use of donations.
- Organisations are asked to inform the Department of any changes which may impact eligibility - such as if they have altered their founding documents (i.e. Constitution or Deed of Trust) - as part of their statistical return.
- The statistical return also asks organisations to describe the environmental outcomes they achieved in the year which also gives an insight into their continuing purpose.

In January 2013 an internal administrative decision was made to not request Audited Financial Statements on the statistical return form in order to reduce reporting burden and adopt a risk based approach to assurance. The Department currently retains the right to request an Audited Financial Statement should it be required as part of assurance processes. The Ministerial Rule which requires an Audited Financial Statement has not been amended.

It should be noted that there are various auditing requirements for organisations across the Commonwealth and State and Territories. As mentioned above those that are Registered Charities are required to provide reports to the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission.

Charities report by submitting an Annual Information Statement and an annual financial report.

The nature of financial reporting required by the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission varies according to the size of the organisation. It consists of three categories (small, medium, large) based on annual revenue:

- small charity—annual revenue is less than $250,000 and do not need to have their financial statements reviewed or audited for the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission's purposes.

- medium charity—annual revenue is $250 000 or more, but less than $1 million and need to submit a financial report that is either reviewed or audited for the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission's purposes.
- large charity—annual revenue is $1 million or more and submit an audited financial report for the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission's purposes.

This 'tiering' arrangement with differing reporting obligations is similar for Incorporated Associations across many State and Territories.

As noted, over 75 per cent of Registered Environmental Organisations are also Registered Charities and so are already reporting.

The Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission is able to make certain information on the Annual Information Statement publicly available.

The Department is unable to make information submitted on statistical returns publicly available due to the taxpayer confidentiality provisions found in Division 355 of Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953. These confidentiality provisions apply to 'protected information' obtained or generated in the process of administering the Register.

Any information obtained or generated by the Department in the process of administering the Register, which relates to the affairs of an entity and from which the entity is reasonably capable of being identified, will also be protected information. Disclosure of that information will be prohibited by section 355-25 of Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 unless an exception applies.

OPERATION OF THE REGISTER: COMPLIANCE

The Department's compliance process endeavours to be transparent and accountable, and is set out in the Register's Guidelines which are publicly available on our website.

The Department endeavours to review each statistical return received. The Department may then take action on compliance issues such as organizations no longer collecting donations from the public and failure to meet the minimum membership requirements.

The Department also takes into account a range of intelligence and information from various sources, including representations from the public about their concerns and media reports. This is added to information the Department gathers itself or obtains from other agencies.

COMPLIANCE POWERS AVAILABLE

The Department does not have the investigative or coercive powers that are available to the Australian Taxation Office or Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission. The sole sanction the Minister has in relation to the Register is removal from it, subject to general administrative law principles.

Largely, compliance action through the removal of organisation from the Registry is taken in response to disclosures made through the statistical return process. Examples include not properly maintaining a Public Fund Management Committee<sup>33</sup> and no longer meeting the minimum membership requirements.<sup>34</sup>

The Minister does not have the power to remove organisations immediately and without being subject to general administrative law principles. All removal decisions must be made by the Minister and the Assistant Treasurer, acting for and on behalf of the Treasurer. There can be a delay in the Department becoming aware of a relevant event as it is not notified by the Australian Taxation Office or the Australian Securities and Investment Commission if an organisation:

- cancels its Australian Business Number; or
- experiences an insolvency event.<sup>35</sup>

The Department can, and often does, request additional information from organisations in relation to specific concerns which may be raised. The vast majority of organisations cooperate with such requests.

Where an organisation does not respond to the Department's questions, the Minister may be entitled to make adverse findings. Alternatively where an organisation makes it clear it does not wish to cooperate with the Department, the Department may refer the matter to the Australian Taxation Office or the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission as both organisations have broad investigative powers. As previously noted, as there is no requirement for organisations listed on the Register to be Registered Charities, not all organisations will fall under the jurisdiction of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission.

The Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission can seek suspension or removal of a responsible entity<sup>36</sup> in certain circumstances.<sup>37</sup>

The Department has no powers to do so, including removing a person from a Public Fund Management Committee where, for example a person has been charged with or found guilty of a criminal offence such as trespass or a breach of environmental or planning law.

In some instances, the Department can refer such issues for consideration by the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission; however, as previously noted not all organisations on the Register are Registered Charities.

<sup>35</sup> If the organisation is an incorporated entity an 'insolvency event' could include:

- i. being insolvent;
- ii. an administrator, liquidator, provisional liquidator, receiver, manager or controller under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) being appointed to the party; or
- iii. an order being made for the winding up of the party;
- iv. If the party is a trust, an 'insolvency event' could include where the Trustee:
- v. becomes bankrupt;
- vi. entering into a scheme of arrangement with creditors;
- vii. or if the Trustee is an incorporated entity, any of the above events occurs.

COMPLIANCE ACTIVITY

The Department may investigate complaints where they relate to an organisation's compliance with the requirements of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. The Register's Guidelines state that the grounds for removing an organisation from the Register include:

- no longer meeting the requirements of the Act; or
- not collecting tax-deductible donations from the public; or
- not using donations to the public fund for the principal purposes of the environmental organisation; or
- not adhering to the model rules for public funds as set out in section 7 of the Register's Guidelines.

The removal process in the Register's Guidelines currently involves two warning letters each with three months to respond, and the submission of a recommendation for removal which is then considered by the Minister and the Assistant Treasurer (acting for and on behalf of the Treasurer).

Removal decisions made in relation to the Register are subject to judicial review through the provisions of the Administrative Decisions (Judicial Review) Act 1977. There is no ability for a removal decision of the Minister or the Assistant Treasurer to be internally reviewed, and any removal decisions in relation to the Register are not subject to merits review.

REMOVING AN ORGANISATION

Since the introduction of the Register of Environmental Organisations in 1992, 126 organisations have been removed from the Register. The majority of removals have been initiated by, and undertaken with the consent of, the organisations.

Reasons for removal	Number of organisations
Organisation sought removal from the Register	105
Failure to report	14
ABN cancellation	7

Where an organisation requests removal, it may be several months before the removal is finalised. In a number of instances, the request to remove the organisation will follow the issuing of a compliance notice. The Department will provide briefing to the Minister for consideration on a batch of organisations seeking listing or amendment to their listing. Once signed by the Minister, the instrument for removal is sent to the Assistant Treasurer. The Department provides any relevant information to the Department of the Treasury to assist their briefing. Once the instrument is signed, the Department notifies the Australian Taxation Office who updates the organisation's Australian Business Register entry.

As previously noted in this submission, having a valid Australian Business Number is not a pre-requisite for listing on the Register. However, it is required for endorsement as a Deductible Gift Recipient by the Australian Taxation Office, and the cancellation of the Australian Business Number will automatically lead to cancellation of this status of the organisation on the Australian Business Register. Cancellation of an organisation's Australian Business Number usually indicates that the organisation is no longer operating. There is currently no formal process in place for the Australian Taxation Office to advise the Department when an Australian Business Number is cancelled for an organisation on the Register. The removal process follows the process outlined above.

The failure to submit a statistical return is the most common reason for issuing a compliance notice by the Department. The Department usually waits several months after 31 October before issuing such notices as not all organisations have a financial year that runs 1 July to 30 June. In most instances, the notice is responded to promptly by organisations that rectify the breach by submitting the required return. Where no further compliance issues (such as failing to collect donations or failing to meet minimum membership requirements) are identified no further action is taken unless the organisation fails to submit a return in subsequent years. Where there is subsequent failure to report or further compliance issue identified, the Department will issue a notice of intent to remove for repeated non-compliance with requirements. The removal process follows the process outlined above.

General Information

THE OBJECTIVE OF THE REGISTER IS TO ASSIST ENVIRONMENTAL ORGANISATIONS TO OBTAIN FINANCIAL SUPPORT FROM THE COMMUNITY FOR USE IN THE CONSERVATION AND PROTECTION OF THE NATURAL ENVIRONMENT, BY PROVIDING A TAX INCENTIVE MECHANISM FOR THE COMMUNITY TO DONATE TO THOSE ORGANISATIONS.

Background

The Register of Environmental Organisations (the Register) was established in 1992 to remove the need for amendments to the Income Tax Assessment Act every time an environmental organisation was granted tax-deductible status.

The Register was given legislative effect on 24 December 1992 and now allows all approved environmental organisations to seek tax-deductible donations.

Gifts made to a public fund on the Register are made deductible by item 6.1.1 of subsection 30-55(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (ITAA) and the requirements for the admission of organisations are prescribed in Subdivision 30-E of the ITAA.

The Register is administered by the Department of the Environment (the Department) in consultation with the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Meaning of Environmental Organisation

[Section 30-260 of the ITAA]

An environmental organisation must be one of the following:

- (a) a body corporate; or
- (b) a co-operative society; or
- (c) a trust; or
- (d) an unincorporated body established for a public purpose by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory.

Under section 30-275 of the ITAA, a body corporate (except a statutory authority) or a co-operative society is an environmental organisation only if: (a) its membership consists principally of bodies corporate;

or

- (b) it has at least 50 members who are individuals that are:
  - (i) regarded as financial members; and
  - (ii) entitled to vote at a general meeting of it; or
- (c) the Minister for Environment has determined that, because of special circumstances, it does not have to meet either of the requirements in paragraph (a) or (b).

Most eligible environmental organisations fall into categories of being a body corporate or a co-operative society. This means that they are incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth in the case of a company limited by guarantee, or a State or Territory as an incorporated association, co-operative society or similar body.

The ITAA provides that, in special circumstances, the Minister for the Environment may waive the requirement for an eligible incorporated organisation to have a minimum of 50 members. However, strong and justifiable reasons would be required for the Minister to grant an exemption as it is Australian Government policy that incorporated organisations meet the minimum membership requirement.

Application Process

Under the ITAA, an environmental organisation is described as a body corporate; or a co-operative society; or a trust; or an unincorporated body established for a public purpose by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory.

Step 1

Organisations seeking entry on the Register must satisfy one of the above descriptions of environmental organisations. A State/Territory registration process is required for a body corporate, a co-operative society or a trust. A company seeking to be limited by guarantee must comply with the requirements of the Australian Securities and Investments Commission. All of the above involve a legal process.

Step 2

Your organisation must seek an Australian Business Number (ABN) from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) before submitting an application to the Department. Organisations need to have an ABN before they can be endorsed as a deductible gift recipient and/or as an income tax exempt charity.

For further detail, see Section 1.1, Australian Business Number.

Step 3

Organisations that are already incorporated or are registered, must make amendments to their constitutional documents as requested in the Guidelines, in order to meet the requirements for entry on the Register.

The Department is happy to advise organisations on amendments. To assist organisations, we will assess draft constitutions against the requirements of the Guidelines.

Step 4

Complete the attached application form for entry to the Register and for Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) status.

The application form, along with the other Register requirements, must be sent to Department.

Assessment Process

The Department carries out an initial assessment of all applications for entry onto the Register. A check is made to ensure that the organisations meet the legislative requirements of the ITAA, the requirement of ministerial rules, and the administrative requirements of the Guidelines.

Applications are then referred to the Minister for the Environment. The Minister must agree to the entries and certify that the organisations are environmental organisations to the Assistant Treasurer. After the Minister has signed the instrument for entry onto the Register, it is then passed to the Assistant Treasurer for his/her consideration.

When the Assistant Treasurer has approved the recommendation, the ATO will process each organisation's application for endorsement of its public fund as a DGR and will issue each organisation with written notification of their endorsement.

When notified of the Assistant Treasurer's approval, the Department advises each applicant in writing of their inclusion on the Register. The date of entry on the Register is the date that the Assistant Treasurer signed the instrument.

Donations of Gifts of Property over $5,000

Taxpayers are able to claim the benefits of a tax deduction for a gift over a maximum of five years. To take advantage of this concession, the gift must have been made to an organisation listed on the Register, on or after 1 July 1999, and be valued at over $5,000. In order to claim a deduction over five years, a claimant must fill out an election form and send it to the Secretary of the Department of the Environment. An election proforma is available on request from the Department—see contact details below.

Donations and Sponsorship

What is the difference between a donation and sponsorship?

A donation is made unconditionally—the donor gives of his/her free will to an organisation that is free to determine the purpose for which the donation will be used, within the confines of that organisation's objectives. The donor may state a preference as to how the gift might be used as long as the organisation has an unconditional discretion as to how it will use the gift.

The donor must not receive any pecuniary or other material benefit in return for the gift including such benefits as membership or newsletters. Details relating to tax deductions for donations are found under division 30 (the gift provisions) of the ITAA.

Corporate sponsorship is a payment made by a business in exchange for promotional or advertising services, which creates mutual benefits for both the organisation and sponsoring business. Partnerships through sponsorship arrangements are tax deductible to businesses under section 8-1 of the ITAA.

For the purposes of the ITAA, donations are gifts made unconditionally under the terms of subdivision 30-E. Therefore, corporate sponsorships are not gifts, and sponsorship monies must not be placed in the public fund account. Corporate sponsorships are payments made by a business in exchange for promotional, advertising or other services.

Bequests

Testamentary gifts (bequests) are not tax deductible (see subsection 30-15(2) of the ITAA).

The term bequest applies not only to those gifts specifically bequeathed under a will (or made by trustees as a result of a requirement placed on them by a will) but also to any gifts made by trustees out of the estate before the estate is settled. Consequently, donations by executors of deceased estates are not tax deductible.

Income Tax Exempt Charities

Organisations that meet the requirements for listing on the Register may also qualify for endorsement by the ATO as an income tax exempt charity (ITEC).

The advantages for environmental groups that are endorsed as income tax exempt charities is that they are exempt from income tax and are not required to lodge income tax returns unless directed by the ATO. In some cases, charities will also qualify for other Commonwealth, State and Territory tax concessions.

You can phone the ATO on 1300 130 248 if you represent a non-profit organisation.

COMPLETING YOUR APPLICATION

SECTION 1 Applicant Details

For your convenience, sections 1-4 are related to the application and are to be read in relation to the application form.

Section 1 asks for some basic information concerning the organisation. Sub-sections 1.4 - 1.9 of the application form are specific to the requirements of the ATO.

1.1 Australian Business Number

Organisations need to have an Australian Business Number (ABN) before they can be entered on the Register and endorsed as a Deductible Gift Recipient.

You can apply for an ABN:

- electronically, through
  - the ABR (www.abr.gov.au), if all you wish to do is apply for an ABN
  - the Business Entry Point (www.business.gov.au) where you can also attend to other government obligations, as well as apply for an ABN, or
- on a paper application, available by phoning the ATO on 13 28 66, or
- through a tax agent, who will lodge your application using the Electronic Lodgement System.

1.2 Details of the Organisation

Please include the full, legal name of your organisation. The name should be the same as that on the certificate of incorporation, certificate of registration, deed of trust or other founding document.

The contact officer's name should be a person who is able to field queries from the Department about the application. Ideally, the contact person should be a public office holder in the organisation.

1.3 Endorsement of Public Fund

All organisations seeking entry to the Register have to establish and maintain a public fund. It is the public fund that is endorsed as a Deductible Gift Recipient. Therefore, this question is already filled out on the application form.

The name of the public fund must be the same as the name that is in the establishment clause of the public fund in your constitutional document.

1.4 Relevant Item Number

This is an ATO requirement that is already filled out for you on the application form. The ATO number for the environment category is 6.1.1.

For further information, refer to the ATO's GiftPack (a taxation guide for Deductible Gift Recipients and donors).

The GiftPack is available online at <https://www.ato.gov.au/Non-profit/Guides/In-detail/Guides---booklets/Gifts---fundraising/GiftPack/>

1.5 Located in Australia

In order to be eligible for entry to the Register, organisations and their public funds have to be physically located in Australia.

1.6 Financial Statement

If you are an established organisation, then please identify the year that you last prepared an audited annual financial statement. If you have only recently been established as an organisation, and have not yet been required to prepare audited accounts, then write 'n/a' on the application form.

1.7 Statistical Information

Under this section, you are required to identify your total income for the period identified in 1.6 above and then to provide the remaining information on a percentage basis.

If you are a new organisation (ie have not been operating for more than a year), you are not required to answer this section.

1.8 Type of Organisation

You must identify the type of organisation by marking the appropriate box on the application form.

A body corporate is a generic term that covers incorporated organisations, companies that have been established by guarantee and a number of other entities. If you are in any doubt, contact the Department.

1.9 Body Corporate made up of other Bodies Corporate

If your organisation is a body corporate made up by a majority of other bodies corporate, then your organisation is not required to meet the 50 minimum membership requirement.

1.10 Minimum Membership Requirement

If your organisation is predominantly made up of individuals; or a mix of individuals (majority) and bodies corporate (minority), then you are required to meet the 50 minimum membership rule. Membership is defined as members who are financial (ie paid up) and who are entitled to vote at an annual general meeting.

1.11 Commonwealth/State/Territory Registration

Details are required about your organisation's registration as an incorporated body, a cooperative society or a trust. The process for registering or stamping trust deeds varies in the various state/territory jurisdictions. If you are not yet registered, you will need to discuss the matter with the relevant state/territory departments, generally the Department of Fair Trading.

1.12 Public Fund Account

The public fund must have its own bank account for the deposit of donated monies, and monies earned from public fund assets.

1.13 Public Fund Management Committee

The public fund must be managed by a management committee appointed by the organisation. It can be made up of members from the organisation's management committee or be a sub-committee of the organisation's management committee. It can also be a committee made up entirely of responsible persons from the community who are not members of the organisation.

To qualify as a public fund, a majority of the administrators of the fund are required to have the requisite degree of responsibility to the wider Australian community by virtue of their tenure of public office or their position in the community etc. These persons must have a wider degree of responsibility to the community as a whole than just their obligation to the organisation seeking entry to the Register. Holding office in the applicant organisation will not qualify an individual as a 'responsible person'.

The minimum requirement for the number of members appointed to the committee to manage the fund is three and the majority of the members of the committee must be deemed by the Department to be 'responsible persons'.

A public fund committee member nomination form is attached. A nomination form must be filled in for each committee member for assessment by the Department as 'responsible persons'.

The following is a guide to who may qualify as 'responsible persons':

- people with honours (OBE, KCMG, AO etc)
- clergy and church authorities
- trustees or board members of a not-for-profit school or college
- justices of the peace
- judges/magistrates
- public servants with more than five years service
- barristers/solicitors
- doctors
- accountants (must be CPA, ASA, ICA or NIA registered)
- persons holding public or elected office:
  - mayors
  - town clerks
  - councillors
  - members of parliament
- directors of large public companies (with responsibilities under the companies code)
- academics or teachers with more than five years experience
- people who hold (or have held) other public positions (eg member of the Australia Council)
- past or present office holders of other community organisations (eg President of Parent and Citizens Association, Secretary of Lions, Treasurer of Rotary)

If doubt exists in any particular case, please contact the Department for advice.

Further information on this requirement is contained in Taxation Ruling TR 95/27 Income tax: public funds (available online at <http://law.ato.gov.au/atolaw/view.htm?docid=TXR/TR9527/NAT/ATO/00001>).

SECTION 2

Mandatory Inclusions – Environmental Organisations

---

This section deals with the mandatory constitutional requirements of environmental organisations.

2.1 Principal Purpose must be the Protection of the Natural Environment

[Section 30-265(1) of the ITAA]

An environmental organisation's principal purpose must be:

“(a) the protection and enhancement of the natural environment or of a significant aspect of the natural environment; or

(b) the provision of information or education, or the carrying on of research, about the natural environment or a significant aspect of the natural environment.”

An organisation seeking registration must provide evidence of its environmental purpose or purposes by listing its formal objects as part of its constitutional documents.

The environmental purpose must be the organisation's principal purpose.

The objects of the organisation must be set in the context of the natural environment. This includes all aspects of the natural surroundings of humans, whether affecting them as individuals or in social groupings.

The term natural to describe 'environment' is used to make a distinction between the natural environment and other types of environments eg

- built;
- cultural; and
- historic environments.

The natural environment and concern for it would include, for example: significant natural areas such as rainforests; wildlife and their habitats; issues affecting the environment such as air and water quality, waste minimisation, soil conservation, and biodiversity; and promotion of ecologically sustainable development principles.

The natural environment would exclude, for example:

- constructions such as the retaining walls of dams;
- cultivated parks and gardens;
- zoos and wildlife parks (except those parks and zoos principally carried on for the purposes of species preservation); and
- cultural sites and heritage properties.

2.2 Establishing and Maintaining a Public Fund

[Section 30-265 (2) of the ITAA and Taxation Ruling 95/27]

An environmental organisation must establish and maintain a public fund:

(a) to which gifts of money or property for its principal purpose are to be made; and

(b) to which any money received because of such gifts is to be credited; and

(c) that does not receive any other money or property'. A public fund has:

- its own name;
- its own objects (in the context of the Register, the environmental purpose of the organisation);

- its own management committee;
- its own bank account (separate to the environmental organisation); and
- its own rules.

The fund is public in the sense that it is to be administered by a committee of persons of whom a majority has a degree of responsibility to the wider community in Australia. These persons must demonstrate a commitment to the community outside of the environmental organisation.

Both the public fund and the environmental organisation that sponsored it are entered on the Register. The public fund must therefore be established and maintained as an entity distinct from the environmental organisation.

The organisation must authorise the establishment of the public fund by including an establishment clause in its constitutional document. The clause must clearly establish the public fund as a distinct entity.

Organisations are encouraged to give their public funds distinctive names so as to identify the public fund from the organisation. It is preferable to keep the name of the public fund as short as possible.

It is acceptable to use the organisation's name as the foundation of the public fund's name but the words 'incorporated' and 'limited' should not be included. The word 'fund' must be used in the name of the public fund, preferably at the end of the name.

It is wise to check and see if a public fund name is recorded already on the Register by ringing the Department's contact officer on 02 6274 1467.

2.3 Agreement to Abide by Ministerial Rules

[Section 30-265 (4) of the ITAA]

An environmental organisation must agree to comply with any rules that the Assistant Treasurer and the Minister for the Environment make to ensure that gifts made to the fund are used only for its principal purpose.

Environmental organisations wanting to be on the Register must include a clause in their constitution to say that they will accept any rule the Ministers make to ensure that gifts made to public funds will only be used for the environmental purposes.

Currently, there are two ministerial rules.

Ministerial Rule 1

An organisation listed on the Register must answer all questions required by the Department stated on the annual statistical return form. It is to provide, with the statistical return, an audited financial statement for itself and its public fund. The statement is to provide information on the expenditure of public fund monies and the management of public fund assets.

Ministerial Rule 2

An organisation listed on the Register must inform the Department as soon as possible:

- if it changes its name or the name of its public fund; or
- if there is any change to the membership of the management committee of the public fund;
or
- if there has been any departure from the model rules of the public fund.

2.4 Informing the Department

Refer to Ministerial Rule 2 above. As both the name of the organisation and the name of its public fund are entered onto the Register, it is essential that the Department is informed if either the organisation and/or its public fund name are changed.

Whenever a change occurs on the management committee of the public fund, a nomination form is required to be submitted to the Department for all proposed members.

Also, the Department must be informed if there is any departure, in your constitutional document, from the model rules for public funds that are listed in the Guidelines to the Register.

2.5 Not-for-profit Organisation

[Section 30-270(1) of the ITAA]

An environmental organisation must not pay any of its profits or financial surplus, or give any of its property, to its members, beneficiaries, controllers or owners (as appropriate). The organisation must insert in its constitutional document a clause providing evidence that it will not pay any of its profit or surplus to its members, executive, trustees etc.

A statutory body will not be eligible for registration if its establishing legislation provides that one of its statutory functions is to transfer its property (its land) to the Crown; that is, where it is required that donated property be given or transferred to the Crown as the body's beneficiary or controller.

2.6 Conduit Policy

[Section 30-270 (2) of the ITAA]

The conduit policy applies to the behaviour of a potential donor to an organisation and its public fund. An organisation must not be directed by a donor to act as a conduit by passing a donation of money or property to other organisations, bodies or persons.

A registered organisation must not act as a collection agency for tax-deductible donations intended by a donor to be passed on to another organisation or person.

The conduit policy does not apply to an organisation which, within its principal objective to conserve the natural environment, decides to pass funds to another entity to do environmental projects or other nature conservation work.

2.7 Winding Up of Public Fund

[Section 30-270 (3) of the ITAA]

An environmental organisation must have a clause/rule providing that, if the public fund is wound up, any surplus assets of the fund are to be transferred to another fund that is on the Register.

2.8 Statistical Information

[Section 30-270 (4) of the ITAA]

An environmental organisation "must have agreed to give the Secretary of the Department of the Environment within a reasonable period after the end of each income year, statistical information about gifts made to the public fund during that income year".

Environmental organisations must provide the Department with statistical information about the donations and gifts made to the public fund for a financial year within four months of the end of that year.

The Minister and the Assistant Treasurer have approved a rule (refer to section 2.3) that requires registered organisations to include the following information in their annual statistical returns:

- to provide information on the expenditure of public fund monies and the management of public fund assets;
- to provide audited financial statements for the financial year for the environmental organisation; and
- to answer any questions about the public fund.

This will involve completing a statistical return form provided by the Department to organisations upon being admitted to the Register.

SECTION 3

Mandatory Inclusions – Public Funds

The public fund must have its own rules. The rules must be inserted into the organisation's constitution.

A copy of the Register's public fund model rules is included at the end of these Guidelines—the items listed below are not the model rules.

3.1 Objective of the Fund

The objective of the public fund is to support the principal objectives/purposes of the environmental organisation and which must be the conservation of the natural environment.

3.2 Seek Funds from the Public

Organisations listed on the Register must actively seek donations of money or property from the community in order to maintain their tax deductibility status.

3.3 Separate Bank Account for the Fund

Each organisation seeking entry to the Register must open a bank account for its public fund. Gifts to the public fund must be kept separate from any other funds of the organisation. Only gifts of money or property must be placed the public fund's account. Sponsorship monies or testamentary gifts must not be deposited into the fund's bank account but rather be deposited into one of the organisation's other accounts.

3.4 Public Fund Management Committee

Refer to Section 1.13.

3.5 Income

Money from interest on donations, income derived from donated property, and money from the realisation of such property is to be deposited into the fund.

The release of monies from the public fund account and the management of, and sale of, public fund assets must be authorised by the fund's management committee. Members of the public fund management committee permanently located in Australia must be the only signatories to the public fund account.

3.6 Not-for profit

It is a requirement of both the organisation and the public fund that they be operated on a not-for-profit basis.

3.7 Receipts

Receipts must be issued in the name of the public fund. Donations with a value of less than $2 are not allowable deductions.

To ensure tax deductibility of donations, receipts issued in the name of a registered organisation's public fund should contain the following elements:

- the number of the receipt
- the date the donation was received
- name of the organisation
- the organisation's Australian Business Number (ABN)
- name of the fund

- signature of a person authorised to act on behalf of the fund
- name of the donor
- an indication that the fund is listed on the Register
- that the amount is for a gift

However, the Department does not recommend you include this detail in your organisation's founding documents.

The following example contains all the elements required.

[NAME OF ORGANISATION] [ A B N N U M B E R ]
[NO]	DATE /    /
RECEIVED FROM $
REPRESENTING A DONATION TO THE [NAME OF FUND]
RECEIVED BY
The [name of fund] is a public fund listed on the Register of Environmental Organisations under item 6.1.1 of subsection 30-55(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997
DONATIONS OF $2.00 OR MORE ARE TAX DEDUCTIBLE

Questions about receipts are best answered by the ATQ. You can phone the ATQ on 1300 130 248 if you represent a non-profit organisation.

SECTION 4

Enclosures to Application

---

4.1 Essential Items

Certificate of incorporation/registration

If your organisation is a body corporate or a cooperative society then you will need to provide the Department with a copy of the certificate of incorporation/registration. The best-known examples of bodies corporate are incorporated associations and companies limited by guarantee.

Constitutional documents

An organisation's constitution or rules, or memorandum and articles of association, or deed of trust or settlement etc must be provided to the Department. The constitution must contain all the amendments required by the Guidelines to the Register. The amendments must be approved by the appropriate state authority, normally Consumer Affairs, before a formal application is submitted to this Department.

Public fund management committee member nomination forms

A nomination form for each member of the management committee of the public fund must be submitted to the Department.

Description of your organisation

A brief description of your organisation and its activities must be included with your formal application. The description will be included in a brief to the Minister for the Environment for his consideration of the application.

4.2 Additional Items that can assist assessment

- Most recent annual report
- Most recent audited annual financial statement
- Most recent publication (eg newsletter, publication, information sheet, membership information etc)

SECTION 5

Removal Process

The ITAA allows the Minister for the Environment and the Assistant Treasurer to direct the removal of an organisation from the Register.

The process of removal endeavours to be transparent, fair and accountable.

5.1 Grounds for Removal of an Organisation

The grounds for removing an organisation from the Register include:

- no longer meeting the requirements of the ITAA; or
- not collecting tax-deductible donations from the public; or
- not using donations to the public fund for the principal purposes of the environmental organisation; or
- not adhering to the model rules for public funds as set out in Section 7 of these Guidelines.

5.2 Process of Removal

The process generally involves two warning letters.

The first letter will be posted to the organisation requesting a response within three months. If a satisfactory response is not received within three months of the sending of the first letter, then a second letter will be sent.

A satisfactory response to the second letter is also required within three months. If such a response is not received within that time, then the Department will submit an instrument of removal for consideration by the Minister and the Assistant Treasurer.

SECTION 6

Model Clauses for Environmental Organisations

---

These model clauses reflect the requirements of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 and Ministerial Rules. These clauses must be included in your constitution. Ideally, the establishment of the public fund clause should be placed with the objects of the organisation.

Establishment of the Public Fund

To establish and maintain a public fund to be called the [state name of public fund] for the specific purpose of supporting the environmental objects/purposes of [state name of environmental organisation]. The Fund is established to receive all gifts of money or property for this purpose and any money received because of such gifts must be credited to its bank account. The Fund must not receive any other money or property into its account and it must comply with subdivision 30-E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

Requirements of the Public Fund

The organisation must inform the Department responsible for the environment as soon as possible if:

- it changes its name or the name of its public fund; or
- there is any change to the membership of the management committee of the public fund;

or

- there has been any departure from the model rules for public funds located in the Guidelines to the Register of Environmental Organisations.

Ministerial Rules

The organisation agrees to comply with any rules that the Treasurer and the Minister with responsibility for the environment may make to ensure that gifts made to the fund are only used for its principal purpose.

Not-for-Profit

The income and property of the organisation shall be used and applied solely in promotion of its objects and no portion shall be distributed, paid or transferred directly or indirectly by way of dividend, bonus or by way of profit to members, directors, or trustees of the organisation.

Conduit Policy

Any allocation of funds or property to other persons or organisations will be made in accordance with the established purposes of the organisation and not be influenced by the preference of the donor.

Winding-up

In case of the winding-up of the Fund, any surplus assets are to be transferred to another fund with similar objectives that is on the Register of Environmental Organisations.

Statistical Information

Statistical information requested by the Department on donations to the Public Fund will be provided within four months of the end of the financial year.

An audited financial statement for the organisation and its public fund will be supplied with the annual statistical return. The statement will provide information on the expenditure of public fund monies and the management of public fund assets.

SECTION 7

Model Clauses for Public Funds

These model rules for public funds reflect the requirements of taxation policy, especially Taxation Ruling 95/27. The rules must be inserted into your constitution.

1.	The objective of the fund is to support the organisation's environmental purposes.
2.	Members of the public are to be invited to make gifts of money or property to the fund for the environmental purposes of the organisation.
3.	Money from interest on donations, income derived from donated property, and money from the realisation of such property is to be deposited into the fund.
4.	A separate bank account is to be opened to deposit money donated to the fund, including interest accruing thereon, and gifts to it are to be kept separate from other funds of the organisation.
5.	Receipts are to be issued in the name of the fund and proper accounting records and procedures are to be kept and used for the fund.
6.	The fund will be operated on a not-for-profit basis.

7.	A committee of management of no fewer than three persons will administer the fund. The committee will be appointed by the organisation. A majority of the members of the committee are required to be 'responsible persons' as defined by the Guidelines to the Register of Environmental Organisations.
