

Australian Government

Australian Government response to the Senate Select Committee report:

Fourth interim report—Mental health: a consensus for action.

SEPTEMBER 2024

Response to the recommendations

Australian Government response

The Government notes this recommendation. However, given the passage of time since this report was tabled, in October 2015, a substantive Government response is no longer appropriate.