

From:
Mrs Kristy Cockman

I believe that NAPLAN is a great assessment and it provides teachers with a lot of information about their students. However publishing the results in league tables is damaging to the school communities - teachers, parents and parents alike.