

I wish my voice to be heard in regard to the shared parenting reforms.

I being a father and having had to fight in the family court in _____ to have equal time with my children was horrified by the treatment I and my children went through in the way the Family court managed and handle family issues. Also in the way the court had a bias against the father in these cases. In my case deigned me equal parenting.

I am totally against any reforms that reduce the right of the fit fathers and mothers to have equal time in shared parenting and I am against violence in families.

I am happy to say now my _____ are happy and well adjusted now.

I only grieve for the families that the Family Court and _____ the groups that promote hatred for fathers for the damage these people cause.

Sincerely
