I'm extremely concerned that the lack of media diversity in Australia is having a massively negative impact on the views of Australians.

To often people are being miss-informed or deceived with skewed words designed to defame those who hold conflicting views to any given media outlet, not just the Murdoch press.

If the Australian people are continuously misinformed they will eventually lose all faith in the news media they consume and distrust the system that allowed these malicious outlets to thrive.

The abuse of media power in Australia can not be understated and must be met with swift action as soon as possible.
