

4 April 2013

The protection and care of the Great Barrier Reef should be of paramount consideration in making decisions on the future of development of any major changes proposed. Long term heavy traffic through and around the reef will cause only the destruction of every thing that the reef stands for. Short term gains for long term destruction should not be considered.

Kind regards
Eileen May Briggs