SENATE ECONOMICS REFERENCES COMMITTEE

Naval shipbuilding public hearing

SPECIFIC QUESTIONS ON NOTICE

Question 1

1. At the 20 June 2017 hearing of the Naval Shipbuilding Inquiry the CEO of DCNS Australia indicated that he had a “gentleman's agreement” with ASC in relation to “a controlled measure of transfer of personnel from one entity [ASC] to the next [DCNS]”.
 - a. Can ASC confirm that it has made such an agreement with DCNS?
 - b. On what date was the agreement made?
 - c. Please provide the status of this agreement and the force that ASC gives it?
 - d. Please provide a copy of this agreement to the Committee?

ASC Response

During meetings attended by senior representatives from ASC and Naval Group Australia (formerly DCNS Australia) on 20 and 28 April 2017, a framework for engagement was discussed with the aim of ensuring that planning in relation to the Future Submarine Program and the Collins Submarine Program did not impact adversely on either program. There is no agreement with Naval Group Australia in relation to the controlled measure of transfer of personnel from ASC.

Question 2

2. Please provide the committee with details of the following:
 - a. Dates of all meetings between ASC executives and DCNS (or subsidiary company) executives since the commencement of the Submarine Competitive Evaluations Process.
 - b. The purpose for each meeting. (please ensure this answers also indicates if the “gentleman’s agreement”, referred to in question 1, was discussed)

ASC Response

ASC lists in Annexure A all of the meetings between ASC and Naval Group (formerly DCNS) and Naval Group Australia attended by executives from the respective parties.
b. See response to Question 1.

Question 3

3. On what date did ASC become aware that they would not have any substantive involvement in the future submarine project?
 - a. Was the Shareholder Minister informed of this?
 - b. If so, on what date?

ASC Response

3. ASC is not aware that it will not have any substantive involvement in the future submarine program. ASC continues to have a role in the Future Submarine Program and currently has 24 ASC expert staff seconded to the Commonwealth's SEA1000 Project Office and one employee seconded to Naval Group Australia. Further secondments and/or other contractual arrangements are anticipated.

Question 4

4. On what date did ASC become aware that its workforce would be "absorbed" or "consumed" by DCNS?
 - a. Was the Shareholder Minister informed of this?
 - b. If so, on what date?

ASC Response

4. ASC is not aware nor has it been advised that it will be "absorbed", or "consumed", by Naval Group or Naval Group Australia.

Question 5

5. On what date does ASC anticipate its workforce being "absorbed" or "consumed" by DCNS?
 - a. Has the Shareholder Minister been informed of this date?
 - b. If so, on what date?

ASC Response

5 ASC does not anticipate its workforce being "absorbed" or "consumed" by Naval Group or Naval Group Australia.
