

I would love to grow cannabis, in my backyard and learn how to make my own hemp products ie hemp hats.

One Cannabis plant provides 50x the amount of oxygen a full grown gum tree could.

When growing cannabis the roots basically filter out all the nasties left in the soil, enduring safe healthier crops.

Make natural products - less damaging to the earth.

& I'm quite certain you would be able to make a non-plastic, plastic. Which furthers helping our home.

It is also a superfood. Hemp seeds are really beneficial!

It about time we start looking after the earth we live on and off. This new earth they have found will not do, if the earth2 was capable of hosting humans, it would have already developed them.

We are the Eco beings of this planet, and it should be our responsibility to look after it proudly.
