

Respected Sir/Madam,

I was an international student completed masters in IT. At the moment waiting to get placement for my internship for Professional Year Program. End of my internship, I could be eligible to work in Australian workplace culture. If Government will lodge Visa capping then at the end Australia is losing Professionals and too many professionals like me. So my advice is please do not pass visa capping 2010. We (me and my wife) have spent 4 years of my life for Australia and I want to be an Aussie.

I want you to imagine Australia without migrants (start imagination since last 50 years )

Thanks for your time and consideration
