Subject: FW: Update: RE: Review of flight crew fatigue aspects AO-2009-072 VH-NGA [SEC=UNCLASSIFIED]

Hi

I could use some mentoring considering comments.

If I had more time, I would be inclined to take a closer look at the FRMS, and possibly re-interview the pilots involved....however, given that the report is at the final review stage, and for the majority of next week, I'm in two minds about what should be done as well as what's achievable at this late stage.

I think we both agree, as does , that the evidence table I created is reasonable. However, when I read comments, I'm thinking there was much more which should have been done with the FRMS side of things.

Based on review, I'm going to suggest some rapid fire changes which would tidy up my draft Evidence Table. Please see my comments in red within email.

Your thoughts?

Please note I'm out of the office tomorrow, so I would really like to get this completed today if possible.
