

The effectiveness of the National Assessment Program - Literacy and Numeracy.

QoN - My School website number of staff

ACTING CHAIR: Can you provide the number of staff who are employed to administer the My School website?

Mr Randall: Yes, I can. Let me just go to some of the things. But I will say—

ACTING CHAIR: I am happy for you to provide that on notice.

Mr Randall: I will take that on notice, if I can.

ACARA Response

ACTING CHAIR: Can you provide the number of staff who are employed to administer the My School website?

Mr Randall: Yes, I can. Let me just go to some of the things. But I will say—

ACTING CHAIR: I am happy for you to provide that on notice.

Mr Randall: I will take that on notice, if I can.

The number of staff who administer the My School website varies across the course of each year (with greater activity in January to March and August to December each year). The following provides an allocation of annualised full time equivalent (FTE) positions by area of work:

- I. Policy and data collection, analysis and management (but not including NAPLAN matters, such as test administration or the analysis of data arising): 5.4 x FTE
- II. IT design, development and testing framework: 1.9 x FTE
- III. Communications: 0.6 x FTE

Total FTE: 7.9

Note that in addition to internal staff effort the My School website is hosted by a third party provider under contract.

The resourcing noted above excludes effort contributed by the General Manager Assessment and Reporting, the Chief Executive Officer, Board Secretariat, and the ACARA Board in the finalisation of requirements before advising the Standing Council on School Education and Early Childhood prior to the launch of the updated My School website each year.