HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES STANDING COMMITTEE ON COMMUNICATIONS AND THE ARTS

Chair: Luke Howarth MP

Film and Television Inquiry Public Hearings: 19 and 20 July 2017

Issued: 17 July 2017

Film and television industry hearings move to Sydney

The House of Representatives Standing Committee on Communications and the Arts will conduct public hearings over 2 days in Sydney this week as part of its inquiry into factors contributing to the growth and sustainability of Australia's film and television industry.

The Chair of the committee, Mr Luke Howarth MP, stated that 'we will be hearing from some of the biggest players in the industry this week in Sydney including Australia's most well-known production companies, commercial television channels, key industry bodies and Screen Australia.'

'The Committee is looking forward to hearing from key participants in our film and television industry who make vital contributions to Australia's economy and culture' added Mr Howarth.
