

-No contract prices announced yet for 2011-2012 by our marketer, DFMC, due to uncertainty about where Parmalat will source milk for their home brand supermarket contract. The price/litre may not change, but the % of milk at teir 1 price will decrease, giving the same nett effect to suppliers. No transport costs are made available, but fresh milk travels long distances instead of sufficient money being offered for it to be produced locally. Our current price / litre is equivalent to that we received in 1994. The supermarkets dropped their price by more than double what we receive.
