

Dear sir.

I came in Australia in 2006 with great hope to get good education and PR i study in cookery and finish my study in October 2009 and i applied 485 now i started to work as cook and i am also study i am working 20 hours PW now my course is not in demand and as per visa capping bill its very hard for me to apply for pr

I spend money and time for my study even i follow all the rules in Australia

So my request is that this is totally unfair for them who already finish his study so please think about that

This bill is effect Australian image in international level
Thanks

Sunny
