

I have 3 turbines within 500 metres of my house and 28 more in close proximity.

Since the turbines were turned on I have suffered from headaches, sore limbs, my eyes are constantly weeping, insomnia and disrupted sleep patterns.

The total disregard of local, state and federal politicians when we raised concerns has meant that nothing happened and our problems were ignored until recently.

Empty farms around my home mean that there is an increase in feral animals, foxes, cats, rabbits, mice and rats. The cattle which I have in my care are often spooked and difficult to handle when the turbines are operating.

The state of Stud Farm Road is a disgrace. The water running down from the service roads to the towers means that the road sides have been undercut and the road is unsafe.

I have lived here for 12 years and my life has changed for the worse since the towers started operating.

Gordon Mitchell