Dear Sir/Madam,

I understand that my submission on behalf of all dentists is late but, hopefully, will be accepted.

Only today have I become aware of the dastardly situation in which my dentist of many years is now encumbered by yet another government created disaster. It would seem to be a most unfair application of supposed guidelines, nebulous to say the least, under which all dentists were to operate a scheme to assist those members of the populace in need of help.

This whole fiasco, for that is what it is, bodes ill for the future success of any forthcoming dental scheme.

Thank you for your attention.

Yours faithfully,

W D Spencer
