

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN,

My name is Jia Huang from China. I read the news about the visa capping and I think I have to cough up my opinions.

I lodged my application (subclass 885) by myself on Aug, 2008. In that time, I was very confident on all the criteria as they are just a piece of cake for me, even the hardest part, working experience. My occupation is baker and I started my career since 2006 whilst I just stayed in this country for half year. Gradually, my competency is enhancing which can be shown on my pay rate. I used to work at Bakers Delights Camberwell as a noob, and right now I already become the production manager at Bakers Delights Clifton Hill. 4 years, I spent 2 years on learning and knowing my occupation, hardly studying all the theory at the same time. After that, I used another 2 years to perfect myself till now. However, when I am ready to contribute myself to this country, I heard about this bad news. It looks like a thunder, shock into my heart.

Well, there are a few reasons. In fact, I just get married. I and my wife love this country because we believe it is very suitable for us. And we have a two years plan to build our family in this filed, but I have to extend my dream a bit longer if that amendment is approved. I just feel unstable for everything if I commence that plan. Secondly, I am able to work; I am able to create the benefit for the business that chooses me. I don't make fake proof. Everything is real. So how come I couldn't get my PR finally? If you doubt about me, you could just call my bakery. Everyone in there could prove I am really good and nice. Last but not least, this country is awesome and comfortable because of its utmost welfare. Therefore, I don't care to pay 20% tax from my salary since I know it will be on me when I am old. Nevertheless, I feel I was dumped by government.

So, please don't let it pass. As you know, some students are well knowledge and talent. You could take some time to assess them, but please do not wipe all of them off. Please!

THANK YOU VERY MUCH!

YOURS SINCERELY
JIA HUANG
