

5 April 2013

The Great Barrier Reef is one of our greatest assets and if we are going to continue to encourage tourists from overseas to visit OZ and spend their money here then we must be responsible about taking care of our long-term assets. Trash the reef now and it will not worry you because you will go on to another job when you lose at the next election but the reef and the Australian people will suffer from this damage to the reef forever. Reconsider and maybe the people will reconsider you in September.

Kind regards
Geoff Watson